Student Aid Fund Set Up

Honors C. C. Ellis, Late Pres. Emeritus

The Charles C. Ellis Memorial Scholarship Fund was officially established Monday.

In memory of the president of this College from 1930 to 1943, the Fund was proposed by members of the faculty, administration and board of trustees.

Endorsed by friends of the Ellis family and the College through advance contributions, the proposal was cleared by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Assn. It also has the approval of the Ellis family.

Dr. Ellis was moderator of the Church of the Brethren 1935, 1944, and 1950; president of the Pa. Assn. of College Presidents 1936; chairman, Genl. Education Board of the Church of the Brethren 1931-41; and pastor of the First Church of the Brethren in Phila. 1919-21.

He has also been president of the Huntingdon Rotary Club 1937-38 and a member of prominent educational associations, committees and commissions, as well as a counsellor and director in many church activities.

Dr. Ellis died June 27 in Presbyterian Hospital, Phila. after an eight month bout with leukemia.

At the time of his death, he was President Emeritus of Juniata. His son, Dr. Calvert N. Ellis, has been president of the College since his father's retirement in 1943.

Degrees Awarded To Ellis, Nye

Pres. Calvert Ellis and Dr. H. H. Nye each received an honorary doctor of divinity degree this summer.

Pres. Ellis, the only theological graduate of all the Brethren college presidents, was awarded his degree at the autumn convocation of the Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago on Sept. 6. As a part of the program, Pres. Ellis delivered the convocation address on "The Seminary Professor and World Crisis."

Dr. Nye received his honorary degree at Elizabethtown College on May 29 in recognition of his contributions toward the cause of religious education in two Brethren colleges, Juniata and Elizabethtown.

In addition, Dr. Nye received a citation at the Grand Rapids Conference of the Church of the Brethren on June 16. This award was presented to him in recognition of his 34 years of teaching in the previously mentioned Brethren colleges.

Meal, Class Times Changed

Beginning Monday, Oct. 2, the noon meal in the College dining hall will be served on weekdays at 12:45 p. m. and on Saturdays at 12:15 p. m. The afternoon classes will begin at 1:45 p. m. This adjustment is made to accommodate the large majority of waitresses who, under the present schedule, must either miss part of the last period classes in the morning, or be subjected to undue haste in preparing to serve the noon meal.

J. C. Adds Twelve To Staff

Dr. C. S. Shively Vacates Position

Upperclassmen returning to Juniata College this Fall from Summer vacations found at least 12 faces had changed among the faculty and administration since June.

One new instructor, Samuel Booth, joined the economics dept. at the beginning of the Summer term. Seven were added this Fall. The remaining four newcomers fill vacancies in the administrative staffs.

Phillip Bedient of Levering, Mich., will fill the position to be vacated by Dr. Charles Shively this month.

Dr. Shively, professor of mathematics emeritus, reached the retirement age in 1942 but continued to teach. He taught at Juniata from 1920 to 1942 and from the end of World War II until this month. During the wartime emergency he served on the faculty staffs of several other colleges.

Bedient holds MA. His successor, Mr. Bedient, was graduated from Park College, Mo., in 1943 and continued with graduate work at the University of Michigan. He received his MA degree from the university in 1947 and has been a teaching fellow there for the past three years.

The appointment of Dr. Eva Hartzler of Belleville, Pa., as assistant professor of chemistry fills the vacancy left by the retirement of Dr. N. J. Brumbaugh and the subsequent promotion of Dr. Donald M. Rockwell to head the department of chemistry. An alumna of Juniata, Miss Hartzler received her Ph D degree from (See JC Adds—, page 4)

14 Men To Serve On House Committee

Fourteen men have been named to assist the chairman of men's house, it was announced Monday by Raymond Kreider.

Lodge: Bill Bolt, Joe Hulgus, Gene Sease, Fran Townsend. Cloister wing: Bob Rhodes, Walt Bandurak, George Cruser, Jack Dickey, Barney Plesenski and group chairman John Africa. Cloister Arch: Bill Lehman, Bill Korman, Frank Beyers, Don Howe, and group chairman Hilton Hines.

No Induction of College Men

Rule Applies For Length Of Term

According to Huntingdon local board number 75, selective service system, and information from President Ellis' office, no student of draft age currently enrolled at Juniata College and pursuing "satisfactorily" a full-time course can be inducted into the armed services.

Calls For Postponement

Regulation 1632.4 calls for the postponement of induction until the end of the academic year for all students who are enrolled at the College. This is provided that the draftee's draft board is assured of the student's actual enrollment and good standing in the College through letters from the registrar and dean of the College.

Students whose induction is postponed for the fall and spring terms may apply for further postponement to attend summer school provided that they are in the upper half of their classes.

These regulations do not apply to reservists who are subject to call at any time.

Reserves on Call

The local board here is presently inducting 21-year olds.

19 Prize Winners At Murphy Party

Nineteen Juniata students won prizes valued at more than $30 Tuesday evening at the Open House Party sponsored by Murphy's 5 & 10c store in Huntingdon.

Winners of the four door prizes of merchandise certificates were Jean Tait, $10; Bob Rauch, $10; Audrey Campbell, $5; and Joe Hackman, $5. Two hundred eighty-five Juniatians participated in the drawing, said Murphy Manager Paul Veon.

A treasure hunt with prizes of nylon stockings for girls and ties for boys was also held. Winners were Sara Apel, Nancy Bailey, Fritz Blets, Carol Borden, Peggy Brumbaugh, Tom Calhoun, Jack Dickey, Leslie Friedline, Carrie Lou Green, Harry Koehnlein, John Lenhardt, Art Shriver, Dott Taylor and Mary Taylor.

For laughs, a comic book "joke prize" was thrown in. It was won by John Kisel.

Entertainment was provided by The Cloistorsians, a quartette made up of Ray Siren, Galen Keeney, Fred Stauffer and Bob Frain, who also was master of ceremonies for the party.

Faculty Reception Sat.

The faculty will extend its annual welcome to new and old students at their formal reception tomorrow night at 8:30 in the gym.

The following are serving on the planning committee: Edith Spencer, chairman, Violet Bartha, Helen Kirafoe, Jane Crosby, Frances Mathias, Prof. Donald Johnson, Dean Melvin Rhodes, Mike Snider and Dr. Harold Binkley.

No program has been planned other than dancing. Decorations will follow the theme of the Juniata 75th anniversary year.

Old Student Gripes to Leave For Good If Conf. Resolutions Get OK From Faculty And Adm.

Some of the old Juniata student gripes may finally be chased, at least if resolutions passed at the 1950 Leadership Conference are carried through by the administration as proposed.

The College leaders who met at Camp Kanesatake September 15 to 17 hope to promote the social activities on campus by proposing to the administration that the old gymnasium be used for roller skating.

In the area of athletics, it was resolved that there be a system of training intramural officials in order to provide a sufficient number of referees for the intramural program. The following are the recommendations and resolutions passed at the student Leadership Conference:

General Activities

To: Chairman of General Activities; Calendar Committee.

We recommend that we leave it to the Calendar Committee to decide about the date for All-Class Night.

To: Chairman of General Activities; Director of Women's Athletics—

We recommend that the May Day Committee make every effort to obtain maximum participation in planning and staging the May Day exercises.

To: Chairman of General Activities; Calendar Committee.

Resolved that May Day breakfast be held the morning of May 3.

Social Activities

To: Chairman of Social Activities—

Resolved to investigate the possibility of roller-skating in the gymnasium; in case of favorable decision rubber-wheeled roller skates are recommended for consideration.

To: Chairman of Social Activities; Mr. Paul Friend, Business Manager—

Resolved that immediate inspection of the wiring of the gymnasium be made together with adequate renovations for present uses.

To: Chairman of Social Activities; Athletic Committee—

Resolved to obtain the room adjoining the Men's Physical Education Director's office for the purpose of storing Social Committee supplies.

To: Chairman of Social Committee; Athletic Committee—

Resolved that the Men's Physical Education Director's office be obtained for the use of the Social Committee if and when vacated by the Physical Education Department.

To: Chairman of Social Committee; Mr. Paul Friend, Business Manager—

Resolved that the record player in the gymnasium be checked and a new one purchased if necessary.

To: Chairman of Social Activities; Administration—

Resolved to urge the installation of a snack bar on campus.

To: Chairman of Social Activities—

Resolved that an inventory be taken and a catalogue be made of all properties available to the Social Committee.

The Challenge...

The 75th academic session of Juniata College has begun. This will be a very important year not only in the life and history of our College but also in the history of man. The United Nations seems at last to be on the threshold of becoming a truly effective agency for collective security. However, the seriousness of our time is reflected in the vast re-armament programs of the west versus the east and the shooting war in Korea.

This year may well decide whether man must settle his differences by war or whether he can settle them around the conference table.

So you see, in this year of fear and uncertainty it is more necessary than ever for those of us here at Juniata College to approach our quest for truth with a seriousness equal to the seriousness of the times.

The Juniata welcomes faculty and students to the Juniata family. We hope that you will make the best of this year at College.

The seriousness of the time demands it!

One of the most valuable suggestions to come out of Leadership Conference this year was that audible grace be given at the main meal of the day.

Although the plan has been in operation only a short time, it has greatly enriched our religious experience. It is to be hoped that many students will take it upon themselves to serve God and their College by offering grace sometime in the year.

Friendliness doesn't cost a thing but it pays big dividends!

This week a freshman commented, "I have never seen a friendlier place than Juniata." Another said, "I haven't met anybody that I don't like."

This is a good start—help make Juniata the friendliest College in Pennsylvania!

Resolutions Await OK

Publications

To: Chairman of Publications; Faculty Publications Committee—Resolved that the Chairman of Publications be a regular member of the Faculty Publications Committee, thereby gaining an advisory capacity in its work.
To: Chairman of Publications—Resolved that the policy of co-ordinated solicitation of advertising be continued and extended under the direction of the Chairman of Publications.

Underclassmen

To: Chairman of Underclassmen; Freshman Faculty Advisor—Resolved that the Chairman of Underclassmen draft a pamphlet concerning department and manners for use in the college orientation program.

Athletics

To: Chairman of Athletics; Faculty Athletic Committee—Resolved that the program for the better appreciation and understanding of the sport of football envisioned by the Physical Education Department be undertaken.

To: Chairman of Athletics—Resolved that printed rules for all intramural sports (men's and women's) be provided for each manager before the season for that particular sport begins.

To: Chairman of Athletics; Faculty Athletic Committee; Dean Mays—Resolved to continue tennis as an intercollegiate sport.

To: Chairman of Athletics; Faculty Athletic Committee; Dean Mays—Resolved that a system of training intramural officials be inaugurated.

Religious Activities

To: Chairman of Religious Activities; Student Senate—Resolved to initiate a period for audible grace prior to our main meals.
To: Chairman of Religious Activities; Administration; Student Senate—Resolved to support the Juniata Christian Association and endorse its program.

Special Issues

To: Faculty Committee; Dean Mays—Resolved that a faculty committee investigate the effectiveness of the English Conference Program.
To: Student Senate; Dietitian; Administration—Resolved that the Dining Room procedure be improved by:

- a. selection of table heads by an appropriate committee on a long-term basis.
- b. continuation of individual service
- c. instruction of waitresses concerning proper procedure.

To: Student Senate—Resolved that following the Presidential Election for the Senate the unsuccessful presidential candidates shall comprise a slate from which the vice president will be elected.
To: Student Senate; The Village; Administration—Resolved that a person chosen by the Village should function as a representative between the Village and the college community.

To: Dietitian; Administration—Resolved that each waitress be responsible only for her own breakage and that no overall charge be made; furthermore that the cost for unaccountable loss and breakage be secured from funds other than the waitress' deposits.

To: Student Senate—We suggest that the Senate present a policy suggesting procedures for class elections.

Senate Comm. Nominates Long Term Table Heads

A Senate committee nominated 46 long-term table heads Wednesday to serve as soon as table assignments can be made out. These persons will set the example for table manners and sociability.

Juniors Nominated

At the Senate meeting Monday Edith Roberts was named to the social committee to fill a vacancy. Also Don Robinson, Ray Siren and Walter Bandurak were selected as announcers in the dining hall. Don Robinson is to serve as head announcer.

Announcements Regulated

According to regulations passed by the Senate, dining hall announcements are to be typed or legibly printed and handed in before the meal at which they are to be read.

The Senators decided to continue last year's practice of inviting non-resident faculty to eat in the dining hall with students and suggested that resident faculty be encouraged to invite students to eat at their tables.

Also the legislators gave the embryo dance band the go-ahead to organize under the direction of Prof. Branner.

Women's House Lists Year's Plans

The Women's House Committee has planned a full program for this year. At the meeting this week, presided over by Ruth Kimble, committees were chosen and projects were planned.

Since Miss Kimble will be living in the Home Management House for six weeks, Doris Mickle was elected to be assistant chairwoman and is to be in charge during this period. The other officers are Lois Fretz, secretary-treasurer and Doris Harvey, fire chief.

The firelighting ceremony this year will be planned by a committee consisting of Eleanor Seese, Shirley Butler, Joan Weaver, Carrie Lou Green and Carol Cook. Bev Williams will handle invitations to the faculty for Sunday dinners.

Tests during exam weeks will be planned by Connie Sherman and Elinor Newcomer, while Cecilia King and Ginny Yohn will be in charge of the formal dinners. Entertainment for day students will be planned by Lois Miller and Marge Alleman. Jo Chiodi and Phyllis Link will direct club projects.

The Women's House Committee is composed of hall presidents and their assistants who were chosen by the women students last spring.

Cheer Squad Tryouts Mon.

Tryouts for the cheerleading squad will begin Monday in front of the gym. All interested students should report promptly at 4:30 in order to learn cheer motions.

The present squad includes Fred Stauffer, captain, Bob Frain, Ardelle Hemmig, Lois Miller, Lois Robinson, Marjorie Seidel and Connie Sherman.

Tommy

Greetings Juniata from your anonymous friend (?) Tommyhawk. Just as a warning to unsuspecting frosh and wayward upperclassmen, Tommy is watching you. Speaking of unsuspecting frosh, little do they know what is in store for them. But a word of advice to sophomores—the frosh number about 240. Rather uneven odds, Tommy would say.

Taking it for granted that everyone enjoyed his summer, Tommy is hard at work digging out choice bits of gossip and peering into personal life.

Marie Hazard likes studying in the library and getting acquainted with Jerry Heinicke. It seems to Tommy that Ray Siren enjoyed a movie last week with our Wind-bee beauty, Loretta Schuman.

Nancy Lee Bailey and Jack Dickey went to church Sunday evening. The next time Nancy don't forget your collection money.

Tommy is glad to see so many devoted couples still in our midst. To name a few—Nancy Shiffer and Fred Bratton, Della Fulton and Bob Volpito, Portia Baugher and Glenn Felix, Ginny Masmer and Jay Benedict, Jane Abel and "Pop" Folk, Shirley Butler and Bud Riggs, Judy Shanabrook and Shorty Isenberg and even Joe Doherty has been seen regularly with his favorite strawberry blonde.

Bob Elder's mixer on Saturday turned out to be a mix-up, but Tommy gathered by the looks on quite a few faces it must have been fun. For instance Carroll Borden seemed to fascinate Bob Smith most of the evening. Audrey Campbell, Tommy thought you were off men or were you and Art Shriver, only discussing the international situation on Saturday evening (Sunday, too)?

Tommy wants to know why Len Hickman eats his dinner so fast? Could it be Len, that you are eyeing the freshmen women.

It seems that the library induces romance. If anyone wishes to refute this fact see Claudia Otterson or Sy Doherty.

Tommy has noticed Betty Longwell gazing absently out the window lately. Grove City? The freshmen gals from Geiger House have made Chuck Knox their official sweetheart and pinned him with a nickname. Does their name fit you, Chuck?

Nancy Black actually likes to go to classes. It seems she thinks the freshmen have more than their quota of nice looking men.

Well, the gossip fairly well dispensed with. Tommy would like to give a word of advice to the frosh. Obey Chuck Allison, or else. Be sure that you know the Alma Mater, wear all your freshmen regalia and don't forget that cheery hello. Tommy has noticed that it could be a little more cheery. Oh, what lies in store for you culprits who disobey regulations.

Before ending this notorious column, Tommy wants to wish the football team a successful season. And remember, Juniata, watch your step for Tommy is watching you!

Infamously,
Thomas Hawk

Illustrated Chapel Talk Mon. By Artist

Grant Reynard, artist, will speak in Chapel on Mon. For further information on Mr. Reynard see story below concerning his evening performance.

As a phase of the 75th anniversary community week, Dr. Harvey Green renowned author and lecturer, will speak in Chapel on Wed. Dr. Green, president emeritus of the Pennington School for Boys, taught English at Juniata from 1884 to 1888.

After attending West Chester State Teachers College, Amherst College and Harvard University, he received an MA degree from Dickinson College, an LLD from Temple University and an LLD from Juniata. In 1921 he became headmaster at the Pennington School.

The speaker for Friday's Chapel service will be the Rev. John Marvin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Lewistown.

Reynard's Works Hanging Here

Grant Reynard, one of America's contemporary artists, will present an illustrated lecture in Oiler Hall, Mon. at 8:15.

Mr. Reynard visited the Juniata campus in Mar. 1948. At that time he made several paintings which now appear in the offices of Pres. Ellis, Harold Brumbaugh, Miss Spencer and others of the administration. These sketches and paintings will be exhibited in the Pa. Room of the Library sometime before Mon.

Born in Grand Island, Neb., Mr. Reynard studied piano in his childhood but soon changed to his main ambition in life—traveling. He later studied in Chicago and Europe and spent several summers painting and etching at the MacDowell Colony in N. H. He has taught art in schools all over the country.

Jackson Named As Ass't Football Coach

Cecil Jackson has been named as assistant football coach to the 1950 Indian eleven. He succeeds Bob Bayer, local businessman, who served in a similar capacity for several seasons. Jackson will help head coach Bill Smaltz with the line coaching duties.

A standout tackle and co-captain of last year's "best in history" team, Jackson is now attending Juniata as a special student. "Cece", as he is popularly known, is married and resides in Huntingdon.

Jackson transferred to Juniata from Penn State three years ago, but had to wait until his junior year to become eligible for football. In his two playing seasons, "Cece" has been named to AP all-state teams. Injuries have forced him to give up his remaining year of eligibility.

Intramural Football To Begin Mon. Afternoon

The Intramural Touch Football League is tentatively scheduled to get underway on Monday according to chairman of athletics Bob Keim. This will be the first of several sports for the fall season.

Prospective managers are asked to sign for their teams on the sheet provided on the Students Hall bulletin board. The deadline for signing is Saturday noon. If enough interest is shown, a schedule will be drawn up over the weekend with play beginning on Monday.

Tough Titans On Rebound; Lose Opener

Juniata without Mike Dzvonar plus Westminster without Dick Wharton equals a toss-up. This seems to be the consensus as the Indians head west for their opening test at New Wilmington tomorrow. Actually, Westminster is not without Wharton since he has been appointed backfield coach of the 1950 Titans.

Westminster already has one game under their belts, having dropped a 19-6 decision to Slippery Rock last Saturday. However, the mere fact that the Titans scored against the Teachers indicates strength since it marked the first time in seven meetings that they had averted a shutout. Westminster has not defeated Slippery Rock in 16 years.

Teachers Are Jinx
As Coach Bill Smaltz put it, "Slippery Rock is their jinx team. They seem to fold up at the mention of the name. But don't worry, that opening defeat will only make them stronger against us." "They have a heavy, rugged line this year," Smaltz continued, "and their backfield is very fast. It was bad breaks which led to their defeat by Slippery Rock."

Both schools lost heavily through graduation last Spring. Westminster lost 11 lettermen and 18 men in all, while 13 lettermen are missing from College Hill. Freshmen are expected to play a big part in plugging these holes both at Westminster and JC.

Use T-Formation
Coach Mel Hetzler's charges work out of a T-formation, and use the two platoon system extensively. With only seven lettermen returning, Hetzler must replace the center of his line, having lost both guards and a center from last year's squad, and must fill the fullback and quarterback slots in the backfield.

Returning lettermen for the Indians include three Bobs, Wagoner, Morrissey and Smith, at end, tackles Don Brumbaugh and Joe Thomasberger, Coy Hicks and Gene Shaffer at guard and Jerry Africa at center. Returning to the backfield are Phil Chabody at wingback, quarterback Dick Young and fullbacks Mike Mervis and Joe Dobal.

Several Injuries
Injuries may force several players into limited action only. Don Brumbaugh is still recovering from a dislocated elbow. John Thomas, freshman end, is shelved with a broken arm. Mike Mervis' back is still not what it should be. And so it goes.

As-usual, Coach Smaltz is withholding his starting lineup until game time. It is expected, however, that many players will see action in this first game.

Rhodes Plans Course To Aid Job Hunters

Plans for a course to aid seniors in securing jobs were introduced in a senior meeting yesterday by Melvin Rhodes, dean of students. By this method Dean Rhodes will do for the group what he formerly did individually: "to teach seniors to seek their own employment." This course will be entirely voluntarily, Dean Rhodes said, but those who begin it must attend regularly. It will be held Monday evenings.

Limited to seniors, the course will run 15 to 20 weeks, depending upon the amount of time students wish to devote to various topics. Topics scheduled for discussion include "The Occupational Outlook for College Graduates," "How to Write a Successful Application Letter," "Preparing for the Interview," "Making the Interview Pay Off," and "What Employers Want."

Two JC Policies To Be Stressed

Morley Mays, dean of students, has announced more strict enforcement of two College policies. These include Chapel attendance three times a week and application for excuse forms—the familiar "yellow slip."

Routine notices will be sent to a student after he has missed three unexcused Chapel services. In case of any mistake in the recording of attendance, the student should report the error to the Dean of Students office.

After six absences, the student will automatically be denied the registration privileges. The student may plead his case (telling his reasons for absence and his attitude toward future attendance) by writing to the Personnel Counseling Committee, c/o Dean of Students Office.

At a recent meeting this committee approved a new plan for securing yellow slips. The College nurses or doctors must approve the application for permission to make up assignments for those students who have been ill. Other excuses, such as illness or death in the immediate family, College approved activity or emergencies, must still be approved by the deans.

After the excuse has been presented to the teachers, it must be returned to the Dean of Students Office within one week.

Schlegel Succeeds Davis
Miriam Schlegel of Millersburg, Pa., succeeds Mrs. Raymond Davis as instructor in elementary education. A graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers College, Miss Schlegel holds an MS degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She has had 12 years of experience in teaching and as an officer in the WAVES.

Amelia Murdoch of Phila. was named instructor in English to aid in the freshman integration instruction. She received her BA degree in romance languages from the University of Pennsylvania in 1945. Since that time, Miss Murdoch has undertaken extensive graduate study in this country, Canada and France.

Lois Esaley, of Hanover, and Juniata '50, is serving as a replacement in the department of English for Miss Esther Doyle, who is now on one-year leave of absence for study at Northwestern. As an undergraduate, Miss Esaley was senate chairman of general activities and an active member of the Masque.

Samuel Booth was graduated from Syracuse University magna cum laude in 1947, received his MA degree in 1948 and his Ph D this June. He spent 1943-46 with the seabees. Last year he taught at Lafayette College.

Mrs. Thelma Alley Anderson, '50, and Huntingdon attorney I. Newton Taylor are serving as instructional assistants. Mrs. Anderson is assisting in College nursery school, while Mr. Taylor is teaching introduction to business law.

In addition to these faculty replacements and additions, the following changes were made in the administration:

Mrs. Robert Schreffler is the new secretary to Dean Morley Mays, while Mrs. Barbara Weaver has taken Cleo Etnier's place in the office. Audrey Brown, a graduate of Huntingdon High School, is doing secretarial work in Harold Brumbaugh's office.

Harry Nye, a Juniata senior, is assisting in the treasurer's office.

Juniata Graduate Receives Award In Korean War

Second Lt. Ralph Harrity, '47, Lykens, has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious achievements in combat. He was the first Juniata graduate to enter the Korean War.

The former Juniata sports figure was also the first enlisted man in the Second Army to be commissioned under a new army program designed to obtain young reserve officers. He was promoted to his present rank Nov. 16, 1948. Lt. Harrity also holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

He held the three mile record with a time of 17:05.5 until Joe Beyer, '50, set a new time of 15:38.

JCA Council Holds Conference

The Juniata Christian Association council held a conference last Saturday at Newton-Hamilton to organize its membership drive which opened last Monday and to formulate plans for its initial year.

Regular meetings of the association are scheduled for Tuesday evenings.

In addition, there will be several weekend conferences to be held throughout the coming year. They will deal with Christian Heritage, World Relatedness, Personal-Campus Affairs and Social Responsibility.

The organization, which replaces all former religious groups on campus, plans to arrange vocational guidance and marriage counselling for Juniata students. The association also hopes to establish a date bureau on College Hill.

Ten Juniata Couples Merry This Summer

"It is said that June is the month for weddings. However, several Juniata students who were married this summer gave the months of Aug. and Sept. that honor also.

June 4, Jim Moore was married to Betty Jane Curry in Johnstown.

Phil Chabody and Florence Haight were married in Huntingdon on June 10.

The same day Holmes Royer married Phyllis Delhamer in York.

June 11 was the wedding day for Jim Maury and Joyce Lose.

Aug. Had Is Shae, Fran Harmon and Bill Bateson were married in Baltimore on Aug. 26.

Aug. 27, in Alexandria, Bill Conrad married Georgia Ann Wolfhope.

That same day in the same town Gene Shaffer was married to Connie Phillips.

Gwen Nyce, '49, and Gerry Hartzel's wedding day was Sept. 2. They were married in Souderstown.

In Westminster, Md., on Sept. 10 Elsie Beard and Bob Lowry, '50, were married.

Sept. 16 was the wedding day for Bill Carpenter who married Madelyn Young in Phila.

Skinner Comedy To Be Presented Nov. 3 and 4

A nice young lady all of 19 years old decides it's time she were "emancipated." Her girl friend agrees. And so off they go to Paris for an "education."

At this point the curtain rises on the latest Masque production, the comedy Cornelia Otis Skinner wrote about herself entitled "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Climaxing the Parent's Day events, the play will be presented Nov. 3 and 4 with the following cast:

Phyllis Link as the about-to-be-emancipated traveler, Cornelia; Vera Compton in the role of her more naive friend Emily; Jack Malenke as her father, successful actor Otis Skinner; and Helen Wentzler as the only woman who can cope with Otis, his wife Maude.

Others in the cast are Wilfred Norris, who plays De La Croix; Bill Korman, Leo; Joseph Dunn, Dick; Evelyn Clarke, Harriet; Ely, Fo mwal, Winifred; Lucy Shanabrook, Therese; Betty Brumbaugh, Madame Eleze; Ray Siren, purser; Peggy Barrington, stewardess; Bob Rauch, admiral; and Homer Evitts, steward.

Students Forming J.C. Dance Band

The Juniata dance band, composed of 12 to 14 "Juniata Joes," will make its debut in the very near future. According to its advisor and director, Prof. Jack Brammer, "We will begin as soon as we learn some music and begin to play together smoothly."

Music will be furnished by the school, while instruments will be provided by band members. So far four saxophones, three trumpeters, two trombonists, a pianist, a drummer and a bass player have signed up. There are also openings for another sax and guitar.

Until a constitution is written, the band will be under the jurisdiction of its parent organization, the Senate, which resolved it into existence one year ago. Where the band's first public appearance will be has not yet been decided, but the group has already gone into rehearsal.

Ellis, Yoder At Inaugural

Pres. Calvert Ellis represented Juniata at the inauguration yesterday of Dr. Milton Eisenhower as pres. of Pa. State College. Prof. Paul Yoder, Juniata asst. prof. of physics, also attended as a representative of McPherson College, Kansas, from which he received a BA degree in 1921.

Why Paint?—'I Like It'

by Carol Cook

When Grant Reynard, who lectured here Mon., was a member of the grade school set, he studied piano and composition. But during recitals his foot jumped around on the pedal too much, so he decided that he would seek the glory of the world in a less nerve-wracking way.

So he became an artist. He started out by copying pictures from magazines and books. Then, as he said, "I became more courageous, and I began drawing characters in my town."

Became an Illustrator
Then followed a correspondence course in art, a year at the Chicago Art Institute, three years at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and several successful years

Carlos Salzedo

Harpist To Give Recital Friday

Carlos Salzedo, internationally acknowledged as "the greatest figure in the contemporary harp world," will present a free harp public recital in Oller Hall next Fri.

Mr. Salzedo is the only harp virtuoso who has appeared repeatedly as soloist with such major orchestras as the New York Philharmonic, Boston, Chicago, and Cleveland orchestras.

Began Piano at 3

Now an American citizen, Mr. Salzedo was born in France of Spanish descent. Under the influence of his father, a singer in the Paris Grand Opera, and his mother, a pianist, the child began studies when he was three years old and made his concert debut at the age of five.

Young Carlos was enrolled at the Paris Conservatory where, along with his piano lessons, he began the study of the harp. At the age of 16 he was awarded "premier prix" for both piano and harp, an unprecedented record at the French music school.

Discovered by Met

After being graduated, Mr. Salzedo began a recital tour, playing both the piano and the harp. It was then he was discovered by Gatti Casazza, then the director of the Metropolitan Opera.

Within the four years since he had become first harpist in the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra under the direction of Toscanini, the reputation of this brilliant young harpist had grown so rapidly that he was able to resign from the orchestra and devote himself to his own solo recitals and to composing new works for the harp.

(Editor's Note: Next week's issue of The Juniation will include Mr. Salzedo's program for his Oller Hall recital.)

Journalists Hear Editor

The editor of the Bedford Gazette, Hugo Frear, spoke yesterday to the advanced composition (journalism) class.

Seniors Sponsor Pep Rally, Parade Tonight At 7:15

Starting the first home football game of the year off with a bang, the senior class is sponsoring a pep rally tonight beginning at 7:15 on Founders Porch.

Team co-captains and several other campus personalities will be on hand to speak on a program with Fred Shamlian as master of ceremonies. Led by the band, JC students will then march downtown to the Huntingdon Hotel to serenade the members of the opposing football squad. Those who wish to do so may bring torches to carry in the procession.

Following this, there will be a bonfire at Round Top where an effigy will be burned and the students will be introduced to some new cheers. Refreshments will be supplied by the senior class.

Members of the class of '54 are required to be present at this rally. All other students are urged to support the evening's activities.

JCA Will Show Film At Meeting

Charles Crist, of the American Leper Mission, will be the speaker at the next JCA meeting scheduled for Tues.

Beginning at 7:15 p. m. Mr. Crist will show movies in Founders Chapel on work in leper colonies.

The JCA has also planned a candle-light vesper service to be held in Oller Hall Sun. from 6:30 to 7 p. m. A faculty member will present a short devotional message at this meeting.

Tues. the first mass meeting of the association was held. Following a short worship service at which the Rev. Marlin Bottiger of the Pa. Industrial School spoke the commission heads of the organization presented their plan of action for the coming year.

A non-student JCA advisory board was approved by the association members at this meeting. Under the chairmanship of Prof. Wayne Glick, the board consists of Pres. and Mrs. Calvert Ellis, honorary members; Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby; Dr. and Mrs. Morley Mays and Prof. and Mrs. William Engel.

Library To Hang C.C. Ellis Portrait

A portrait of the late Dr. Charles C. Ellis, President Emeritus of Juniata College, is now in the possession of the library and will be hung sometime in the near future. Painted in 1938 by E. Abeking, it was a gift from Dr. and Mrs. Charles Evans, whose three children graduated from Juniata.

First presented to the college in a ceremony in 1938, the portrait remained with Dr. Ellis until his death.

Mrs. Rowland Joins Faculty

Mrs. Luella Rowland, wife of Prof. Charles L. Rowland, has joined the Juniata faculty this fall as instructor in the fundamentals of English and English conf.

After receiving a BA degree in English from Juniata, Mrs. Rowland continued her education at Columbia University where she received an MA degree.

Mrs. Rowland has previously taught at Kutztown State Teachers College and Elizabethtown College.

75th Ann. Honored Sat. with Special Day, Dance

Community Day, the first in a series of events celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of Juniata College, will be sponsored tomorrow by the radio comm.

HomeEc Conf. Here Oct. 12

For the first time in the history of Juniata College the home economics province workshop will be held on this campus from Oct. 12 to 14.

Two invitations have been sent to home economics clubs at 61 colleges. Students from Pa., Del., Md., N. J., N. Y., Va. and W. Va. will attend the workshop to discuss plans of vitalizing college home economics club programs.

JC To Send Two
Ruth Armentrout, president of the Lambda Gamma, and Miss Gertrude Butler, home economics instructor at Juniata, and Miss Hazel Haskett, club advisor at New York University, will serve as co-advisors for the conference.

The workshop opens Thurs. night with a get together in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. The guests will spend Thurs. and Fri. nights at hotels and faculty homes.

Delegates To Eat Here

Discussions will begin in the Old Chapel Fri. morning. The girls will eat both lunch and dinner in the College Dining Hall. The advanced foods class will hold a tea in their honor Fri. afternoon, and that night they will attend the harp recital in Oller Hall.

Everything that was discussed on Fri. will be reviewed Sat. morning. In the afternoon they will travel to Big Valley for an Amish dinner. Upon returning to Huntingdon, they will take an hour and a half tour of the Swigart Museum before their departure.

Training Course to Aid Job Hunters

Dean Rhodes will begin his training course to help seniors in their task of securing positions, Mon., Oct. 9.

The course will survey job opportunities available in several professions which are of interest to Juniata graduates. After this initial survey, the class will consider the supply and demand for professionally trained people in selected fields of specialization. Also it will consider how much advanced training a college graduate needs in his field in order to be in the "wanted class of employees."

Dean Rhodes' students will also be encouraged to note "the competitiveness of job seekers, and the requirements in the way of qualification and self-presentation in obtaining employment."

In order to accomplish this, Dean Rhodes is prepared to present to the group methods and sources of information relating to this subject.

Yearbook Pictures Due Soon

The individual picture schedule for the Alfarata will be posted soon. Seniors and juniors are asked to check the bulletin board for their picture appointment.

Wed. Will Be Mountain Day

by Marj Seidel

"No more lessons; no more books"—for next Wed., that is. That day the Juniata Indians will leave their camping grounds to celebrate the annual Mountain Day.

The site for this year's outing will be Greenwood Furnace, an ideal setting beyond McAlevy's Fort and approximately 25 miles from here.

Spruce Creek Next Year

According to the four year cycle of sites chosen for Mountain Day, Spruce Creek would be the next in order for this year. However, due to the detour to Spruce Creek, the sites for this year and next year have been reversed.

All students, faculty and administration and their wives and fam-

The purpose of this special day, according to comm. chairman Betty Longwell, is to "re-emphasize the interdependence of the College and the town and county of Huntingdon."

Representatives will be chosen by Huntingdon's leading clubs to be the radio committee's guests for the entire day.

After attending morning classes, the representatives will be guests of the College at lunch. Then they will be invited to attend the Juniata-Hartwick football game.

At 8:15 p. m. the delegates will adjourn to the gym for the first College social of the year.

One feature of this party will be a quiz program designed to test of audience's knowledge of Juniata and Huntingdon. Quizmasters will be Bob Champion and Jack Ush. Prizes for winners will be donated by Huntingdon merchants.

Dancing and refreshments will follow this entertainment.

Other guests will be members of the 75th anniversary committee's sub-comm. on civic affairs.

Video Out, But Senate ok's Movies

The Senate ruled as "impractical" Monday night a suggestion that the College secure a television set. However, they made other recommendations which they felt would be of more value to all students.

They recommended that the administration purchase a new movie projector for Oller Hall. It was the opinion of the twelve that the present equipment is old and inadequate.

Also the Senators recommended that the administration investigate the fire alarm and fire-fighting equipment in the Lodge and in other campus buildings.

A third recommendation asked that the administration look into the possibility of repairing the radio in the Social Rooms.

The men's house committee and the orchestra constitution were approved by the student lawmakers.

Tues. Is Dues Day; Collections—8 to 1:30

Dues Day will hold Tues. for the purpose of collecting all class dues. Representatives from each of the four classes will be on duty at a table in front of Students Hall from 8 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. only.

The sum to be paid is decided by each class; and the four class presidents have submitted the following amounts: seniors and juniors, $1 per semester and sophomores and freshmen, $50 per semester. Students are asked to bring exact change in order to facilitate the collection.

Class dues are collected to pay for class parties and a gift to the College at the end of the senior year.

Wed. Will Be Mountain Day

by Marj Seidel

ilies are invited to attend. Buses will leave from the front of Founders at 8:30 Wed. morning. In case of rain, the outing will be postponed until Thurs.

Plan Transportation Mon.
Students should be ready by Mon. in Chapel to tell whether or not they need transportation to Greenwood. All students with cars are urged to use them and take other students needing transportation.

Activities at Greenwood will include a two hour hike, lunch and games.

The committee in charge of Mountain Day arrangements is composed of: Prof. Paul Yoder, chairman, Mike Snider, Frances Mathias, Lorena Hebrank and Bob Keim.

Danger ... Inflammable

The fire alarm system and the fire-fighting equipment in the Lodge are not in proper functioning order.

This fact was brought up in the Senate meeting Mon. and investigation bears it out as true.

The bell alarm system does not work. This is probably due to dead batteries.

Moreover, the wire which is supposed to set off the alarm when exposed to heat is completely severed in the shower room. Additional wire seems to be on hand but not in use.

Five of the six "fire extinguishers" in the building are dry. The sixth is half full.

Not "Calculated Carelessness"

Now we don't believe that this is "calculated carelessness" on the part of the administration. However, the fact remains that the administration and the business manager's office have been made well aware of the problem on several occasions.

The Lodge is constructed entirely of combustible materials and it is not pleasant to speculate on what could happen to its 84 occupants if fire should come in the middle of the night.

Incidentally, the fire prevention and control system in the Cloister seems also to need investigation. Hoses are rotten and full of holes. Also some alarm stations have no hammers with which to break the glass.

Should Investigate

These things being so, we would suggest that it might be profitable for the administration to investigate this situation.

Also we feel that the administration and student leaders should take the initiative in organizing fire drills in the mens dorms, particularly in the Lodge. Fire drills are held in the girls dorm and are evidently deemed essential.

Projector Needed! Poll Shows Film Equipment Poor

Winston's Dictionary defines as necessity "that which is indispensable, unavoidable, or obligatory." It defines luxury as "anything pleasurable but not necessary."

We realize that fifty years ago the "talking pictures" were a "pleasurable but not necessary" item. However, in this 20th century where so much more is required of us in knowledge and in understanding, motion pictures have ceased to be a luxury but are indeed a necessity.

It is in the light of the importance of motion pictures for healthful recreation and for education that we ask the administration to view the Senate recommendation that new projector equipment be purchased for use in Oller Hall.

Machines Inadequate

That the present machines are woefully inadequate for an auditorium as large as Oller Hall is demonstrated by the dark, gray appearance of all films that are shown there. It is also demonstrated by the strained and tired eyes of spectators who cannot make out what is going on and by the large numbers of students and faculty who do not take advantage of films because of the eye-strain and sight frustration involved.

The social committee has scheduled at least four feature films this year. Will those faithful movie-goers have to brave dark and indistinguishable figures again this year? Will students and faculty stay at home to avoid eyestrain and headache?

Answers Soon?

These are questions which will be answered soon. We hope that the administration will see its way clear to make some commitment on this question.

Otherwise, the great classics that can and will be brought to Juniata will go a-begging for the want of adequate projection.

In Skips, where all great problems of state are settled, I noticed the great male thinkers all conglomerated into one great mass. I call them thinkers, because, as they eyed the opposite sex, sparks of thought seemed to arise from that cranial section known as the head. These philosophers think subjectively from an objective point of view.

The young Republicans have sent Harry Martin, an immigrant from New York, to run for president of the freshman class. Campaigning is now in progress, and he is carefully studying Dewey's last victory speech.

Miss Mathias is feeding us all those carrots for the benefit of lovers who have trouble seeing their way in the dark.

Recent statistics show that the Infirmary has taken care of more men in the first two weeks of school than it did all last year. After seeing Nancy smile, I understand why. "Doc" Patterson has listed many of the high fevers as "infatuation feminis."

"Tee for Two" is fast becoming the favorite of Art Allen and Sarah Keller. Nancy Meyers and her beau "Franko" are reviving that old hit, "Slipping Around." Bill Hanson is trying to apply for license as justice of the peace. He says, "I hope to put an end to all frustration." Marriage counselors state that a fellow should date at least 50 girls or ladies before he loses his reason and marries. From the looks of things Leonard Hickman filled his quota the first two weeks of school.

The Kid from Colon should slow down to a mere Semi-Colon.

The faculty reception committee should be lauded for their fine work of decorating the gym and also for their tact. The dance floor was just slippery enough to make my girl hold on tight. Now what more could a guy ask for??? Free swimming instructions will be given to any co-ed who desires such. The location will be the site of the new gym—after the next rain.

Notice to freshmen: Juniata's dances reach the maximum of semi-formal affairs, and the music consist of a number of top-leading bands which have passed on to greater heights. And you must understand that for the convenience of their fans, their music is relayed by special wire. In times of inflation, financial considerations out-weigh all others.

That's all for now, but I'll be "Seeing You in My Schemes." With Love,
Tom

Indians Meet Hartwick Tomorrow In Home Opening Game

THREE BOBS—Morrissey, Smith and Wagone, have definite assignments in Coach Bill Smaltz' plans for 1950. All three are ends, and each won his letter last year. Morrissey is a six foot, 180 pound senior, married, a proud papa, and lives in The Village. Smith, younger brother of last year's George, is 5'11", weighs 165 pounds, and resides in Huntingdon. Wagone hails from Johnstown (Ferndale High) and is a 5'11", 160 pound sophomore.

Extra Points Defeat Indians 13-12

The Juniata Indians lost their initial game of the 1950 season to a strong Westminster eleven at New Wilmington last Saturday. After taking a convincing 12-0 lead at half-time, the charges of Coach Smaltz were baffled in the second half as Westminster scored twice to win 13-12.

The Warrior's powerful single wing formation, highlighted by the brilliant running of Joe Dohal and the passing of "Lundy" Loschiavo, continually overwhelmed the Titans during the first half. The hard charging Coy Hicks and Ron Clapper continually ran through the Titans forward wall to break up their offensive power.

Dohal Scores First

Starting with Phil Chabody's piffle of Dick Banick's pass on the Westminster 38, the Braves started to roll. On seven plays, Loschiavo and Dohal carried for two first downs to the alien 17. "Lundy" then passed to "Bucko" Morrissey on the nine and from there Dohal cracked over for the score. Segalovich missed his first try for conversion and Juniata led 6-0.

Minutes later, after the Warriors held for downs on their 45, Loschiavo again took to the air. He hit Chabody again for 28 yards to the enemy 37 and a first down. Successive passes to Dick Young, for 12 yards, and Bob Smith, for seven more, set up a first down on the Titans one-yard line. "Lundy" promptly broke off tackle for Juniata's second TD. The locals chance for an eventual tie was eliminated when Jim Cooley broke through and blocked Segalovich's try for the extra point. Juniata led, however, 12-0. Sistek and Campbell Hurt JC

The second half was in complete reverse. Westminster's two platoon system was too much for the rapidly tiring Juniata eleven. Sistek and Campbell, who had been thorns in the side of the Indians in the first half, really made things rough in the home stretch.

Westminster took the kickoff and promptly marched 69 yards to score, taking but eight plays to do it. Campbell carried for 30 and 18 yards during the advance, finally scoring from the three. Ron Clapper blocked Hoaglund's attempted drop kick for the extra point and the score read Juniata 12, Westminster 6.

Titans Score On 3 Plays

After "Reds" Orler punted beautifully to the Westminster 46, the Titans moved into high gear. Taking only three plays, the home team scored the tying touchdown. Mantz dashed 37 yards to the 20 and the pesky Mr. Campbell circled left end for the remaining 27 and his second TD of the afternoon. Sistek's placement was good and Westminster led, 13-12.

With their backs to the wall, the Indians mustered the fight they had left and put up a futile attempt for a late score. An Orler pass to Segalovich set the ball on the enemy six with the clock running out. After a five-yard penalty, Chabody made a great catch of another Orler pass, only to have the play and the TD nullified because he was out of the end zone. In the waning moments, Segalovich's try for a field goal went wide, and time ran out with Westminster the victors, 13-12.

Seek First Victory; Risk 6-Game Perfect Record With Iroquois

The Warriors of Hartwick College will provide the setting for tomorrow's College Field football opener. Both teams will enter the fray in quest of victory number one, each having lost its initial start.

Hartwick opened their season two weeks ago when they dropped a tough 18-14 decision to Kings College. The Iroquois enjoyed an open date last weekend while the Indians were losing to Westminster in their opener.

Sixth Meeting of Series

This will be the sixth meeting of the two tribes since 1937, and in each contest the tribe from College Hill has been victorious. Furthermore, Hartwick has scored a total of only 12 points in the six games, half of them coming in last year's 26-6 romp by the Indians.

But past performances mean nothing. Hartwick was plagued by serious injuries last season which removed several stars from the lineup for the entire season. This year the key men are back in the fold.

Heading the list of Hartwick's bullwark is triple-threat star Eddie Gates. Fullback and co-captain. Gates was out with injuries for most of last season, as was Rog Bauman, 9.9 second sprinting back. These two, along with Morrie Axenfeld and Fran Cardillo, six foot-200 pound end and center respectively, are expected to spearhead the Warrior's attack.

No Opening Game Injuries

Meanwhile, the Braves of Juniata are fairly well intact after their struggle with Westminster. Jerry Africa was badly shaken up during the game and was removed to a New Castle hospital. Observations showed no serious injury, however, and he is expected to start tomorrow.

Don Brumbaugh and John Thomas are still sidelined with pre-season arm injuries, though Brumbaugh may see limited action tomorrow. Mike Mervis missed the Westminster fray and probably won't see much action tomorrow. In addition, several players are nursing minor injuries and bruises of the charley horse variety, but are expected to be ready for the Hartwick battle. Hartwick football is noted for its wide open tactics. This, matched against the single wing of Juniata, should provide a most interesting contest.

Chabody and Hicks Named Co-captains

Hicks Chabody

Phil Chabody and Coy Hicks have been named co-captains of the 1950 grid team in an election conducted by their teammates. Both men have been standouts for Juniata during the past three years. They succeed Mike Dzvonar and Cece Jackson who captained the 1949 team.

Chabody will start tomorrow at wingback, the position at which he has played for the Indians since he joined the team. Phil is a 23 year old senior, is married, and hails from Johnstown.

Hicks is the vanguard of the Indians' line. He is of the "watch-charm" variety, but one of the finest for his size in the business. Coy is a 21 year old senior and resides in Huntingdon.

Chabody and Hicks both are three-time J winners, the only players on the team in that distinctive class.

Smaltz Team Adds 8th Star Tues.

A new fan was added to the Bill Smaltz household this week. Last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Smaltz presented the Indian's coach with an eight pound baby daughter. Bill spent most of the afternoon hatching out chocolate bars in place of the customary cigar, as he happily shouted, "It's a girl". This is the second child born to the Smaltzes since their arrival at Juniata. The first, Bill, Jr., is now 19 months old.

Campus Clubs Are Buzzing Despite Infancy Of School Year

By Dottie Hummer

The fall semester is only two weeks old, but campus clubs are already buzzing in every corner.

The Outing Club has held several meetings and is getting prepared for a successful year. The purpose of Wednesday's meeting was to initiate new members and acquaint them with the point system. These points are earned by working at the cabin and attending club meetings. Membership cards will be issued to new members, while permanent members who have gained their 50 points will receive sweater emblems.

At this past week's meeting the purpose of the Club was fully explained. Next Wed. the constitution will be read.

IVCF Meets

Thurs. at 7 p. m. the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship held their weekly meeting in the Women's Day Student Room. Fred Stauffer led a discussion on I John, Chapt. 2. Although next week's leader is, as yet, unannounced, thoughts will be centered around Chapt. 3.

A group of Juniata students, as well as Bucknell and Mansfield, spent a very profitable weekend at the Penn State Campus Conf. Dr. Francis Steel, archeologist at the University of Pa. was the guest speaker. The main emphasis was on "How to Study the Bible." Other discussions were centered on helping others to become Christians plus an interesting talk by Dr. Steel on his recent work at Iraq.

Parsons Speaks At Masque
The Masque extended an open invitation to new members at its meeting on Thurs. evening. Following a review of the club ideals and schedule for the year, George Parsons discussed his present work and his recent dramatic training at Penn State.

Clubs—Order Food Early Miss Mathias Suggests

Miss Frances Mathias, College dietitian, asked this week that all requests by clubs or groups for refreshments and special tables be made at least two weeks in advance.

This action is necessary because many of her food contacts are out of town and thus the kitchen cannot meet the many requests on short notice.

Also Miss Mathias requests that students and faculty contact her after the evening meal on the night the refreshments are to be used so that arrangements can be made for delivery.

In the past persons have had to wait in the kitchen all evening until someone showed up to make such arrangements.

Five From JC Announce Their Engagements

Several JC coeds have been sporting smug smiles, announcing that they have captured their respective men.

Several coeds on campus who have not yet spoken the "I do's" are now making plans to do so. Elinor Newcomer has announced her engagement to Bill Shoaf of Uniontown.

Phyl Baughman has received a ring from Bill McClell of Hanover, Pa.

Also making "I do" plans are Ronnie Gravie and Dave Kunz from Alexandria, Pa.

Lewis Whetzel, Beaver Springs, Penna. has pinned Mim Smith. The secretary for Mr. Harold Brumbaugh, Vonnice Beaver, has announced her engagement to Fitz Saunders, Huntingdon.

Webster Production Of 'St. Joan' Nixed By Money Troubles

The Margaret Webster production of "St. Joan" originally set for presentation here Oct. 2 has been cancelled.

"... inability to continue to finance the production..." from their private resources" forced Miss Webster and her group to cancel their entire tour this year. She says, however, that she "does not regard this as the end" and expects to resume the tours next season.

Last Nov. the Webster Players presented Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" here.

Reynard—

Mount Clare, N. J. Art Museum where for the past two years he has been chairman of the Art Committee.

This Was Fifth Lecture

This is Mr. Reynard's fifth lecture for the Assn. of American Colleges. He tours two months during one year, visiting two colleges each week, and spending days on each campus. He has a series of three lectures which he presents using slides of his various paintings, "Painting My Way Across the USA", "An Artist Draws N. Y.", and "Enjoyment of Art".

"I do most of my work in my car. You might say my car is my studio," Mr. Reynard said.

Works Hang In Museums

Having advanced beyond the copying-pictures-from-magazines stage, Grant Reynard is represented now in several of the leading United States museums, including the Metropolitan Museum, the Fogg Museum at Harvard University, and the Library of Congress.

He also has had several one man showings, and is a member of the American Artists Group which prints Christmas card paintings drawn by various group members. Though winner of the Carrigan prize, Mr. Reynard stated, "I do not like the idea of awarding prizes for the best painting. I do not paint for winning awards, but because I feel a desire to paint."

They are:

Sopranos—Peggy Barrington, Jane Garver, Martha Malow, Martha Petre, Kathy Plank, Judy Shanabrook, Jo Shelley, Ginny Yohn.

Altos—Jane Baker, Beverly Chamberlain, Phyllis Kulp, Jan Wenger, Helen Wentzler, Elaine Zook.

Tenors—Marcos Eddi, Len Hickman, Galen Keeney, Dwight Mishler, Clem Rosenberger, Fred Stauffer.

Basses—Don Brinton, Bob Dyer, Bob Frain, Bob Hatala, Wilfred Norris, Ray Siren.

Others who tired out have been placed on a reserve list for possible later use either in the choir or in the all-college musical scheduled for Mar. 1951.

Regular rehearsals will be Tues. and Thurs. at 10 a. m.

Love Bug Stings Alumni

Spring is for love, the poets say—but summer has its good points too. At least so believe a number of Juniata alumni, according to the records.

Sept. 18 was the wedding day for Jean Brown, '49, and Fred Phenecie, '50, who were married at Martinsburg.

Jay Fleck, Jr., '50, married Nellie Walker Sept. 2 at Mount Union.

Glenn Zug, ex '51, married Maxine Bowman June 11 in Kings Ferry, N. Y.

On June 10 Barbara Ann Smith, ex '52, was married to John Stayner, '50, in Huntingdon. The same day, Marion Fry and Marv Blaylock, both ex '52, were married near Ephrata.

Melva Fleishman, '48, became the bride of Dante Restuccia, '47, on May 27 in Nokesville, Va.

Janet Neikirch, ex '52, has announced her engagement to Stan Welsh, '50. Also announcing an engagement during the summer is Margaret Roop, '50, to Frank Mitchell, of Cal.

Frank Conly, ex '53, is now a pfc in training with 707th AAA at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Campus photographer Ed De Hart, ex '52, has signed up for "a year and a half of pilot training and two and a half years active duty" with the naval air reserve's V5 program.

617 Students Here; Man-Girl Ratio 3-2

A breakdown of the 617 students enrolled at Juniata this fall shows that 12 states and six foreign countries are represented on campus. These include Pa., N. J., Md., W. Va., Va., Del., Ohio, N. Y., Fla., Cal., Conn., Wash., D. C., Brazil, Colo, Coast of Africa, West Africa, Republic of Panama, Norway and Germany.

Statistics also show that there are approximately three men for every two women on College Hill and that 60 J. C. students are married.

Men students fall into five registration divisions: 271 full time resident; 98 full time day; five part time day; six special; and one music.

For woman students the breakdown is: 194 full time resident; 30 full time day; four part time day; four special; and four music.

36 Wins Places In A Cappella Choir

Thirty-six musicians have won places with the 1950-51 A Cappella Choir. Prof. Charles Rowland has announced.

They are:

First sopranos—Laura Hollingshead, Helen Rosengren, Joy Truxal, Joan Weaver, Lois Wible; second sopranos—Audrey Campbell, Josephine Chiodi, Audrey Weber, Janice Lehman, Jo Pentz.

First altos—Doris Orner, Edith Roberts, Carol Lowdermilk, Ruth Walker, Wilda Widdowson; second altos—Rhoda Clemmer, Barbara Lane, Doris Mickle, Joanne Siemon, Beverly Williams.

First tenors—Ben Newcomer, Charles Redenberger, Clair Schaffner; second tenors—Harold Bowser, Wesley Diemer, George Kensinger, Holmes Royer, Baritone—Fred Bratton, Gerald Hartzel, Clyde Johnson, Dan Ziegler.

Basses—Bob Landes, Ray McHenry, Don Robinson, Quayton Stottlemeyer.

Accompanist for the singers will be Jo Shelley.

Band To Make Debut Tomorrow

The 39 members of the 1950 Juniata College band will make their official debut tomorrow at the Hartwick game.

According to director Jack Brammer, they are:

Woodwinds: Joyce Bernard, Audrey Campbell, Beverly Chamberlain, Rhoda Clemmer, Abe Finton, Sarah Keller, Kathy Plank, Judy Shanabrook, Betty Smith, Mim Smith, Howard Van Sicken.

Drums: Leslie Friedline, Earl Grover, Clyde Johnson, Fred Strait, Elaine Zook.

Drum Majors: Dick Akers, Sue Harrington, Shirley Nell.

Cradle Roll Adds Members

The cradle club added at least four new members this Summer: David Culbertson was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Linton (Mary Ruth Myers) June 24.

July 18 is the birth date for "bundle of love" Kerry Lorraine, daughter of Bob and Mary Myers, ex '52, Morrissey.

Susan Jane was born to Bob and Gladys Mohr, both '50, on July 11.

And then there's Daniel William, son of Prof. and Mrs. Alfred Goetschius, who was first psychoanalyzed July 11.

'Hasty Heart' To Be Staged Here Tues.

"The Hasty Heart," the first of a series of three plays to be presented by the Allenberry Players, will come to Oller Hall stage Tuesday. Starring in the production are Jack McCarrell, "Yank"; Ann Dearing, who will play the role of the nurse; and David Brubaker as "Jigger".

The second presentation of the series is "Papa Is All," to be presented Nov. 1. "The Male Animal" will be given April 27, 1951. Plays selected for production for the fall circuit were the most popular productions presented at Allenberry, Bolling Springs, Pa.

Richard Case, Allenberry's managing director, will maintain an equity company of New York players throughout the year, sending one unit on the road with the current show while the other is rehearsing the next play at Allenberry.

Under the joint sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Huntingdon Kiwanis Club, a percentage of the proceeds of the production will go in financial aid to these service organizations for carrying on their work in the community. Tickets for the series are being sold by the sponsoring clubs to the public. However, students will be admitted on their activities cards.

Ellis Memorial Fund Now Totals $3,342

Contributions to the C. C. Ellis Memorial Scholarship Fund established two weeks ago now total $3,342, according to Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president. This has been achieved, he added, through the generosity of friends of the Ellis family and of the College. No special campaign was used to promote the fund.

Discussions Have Begun

Discussions began this morning and will be continued tomorrow morning in Founders Chapel. Miss Margaret Easley, from the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. in Pittsburgh, will be the speaker for this session to which all home economics majors are invited.

The advanced foods class will hold a tea for the guests from 3:30 to 4:30 this afternoon. They will have an Amish dinner tomorrow afternoon at Big Valley, and soon after will tour the Swigart Museum before their departure.

Officers Listed

Officers of this province II workshop are: Ruth Kimble, Juniata, president; Christine Haenn, Seton Hill, vice-president; Elinor Newcomer, Juniata, corresponding secretary; Gloria Benfer, Mansfield State Teachers College, recording secretary; Betty Anders, Penn State, treasurer; and Sally Voltz, Seton Hill, program chairman.

Martha Ann Zeigler has served as coordinator of committees on campus. Five main committees and their chairmen are: general arrangements, Esther Weaver; social, Ruth Armentrout; dinner in Big Valley, Ardell Hemmig; dinner and favors Friday evening, Trudy Griffin; and compiling envelopes, Esther Weaver and Martha Zeigler.

Under the general arrangements committee are the following subdivisions: food, Carol Custer; lodging, Cecilia King; hostess, Lois Robinson; and campus housing, Janet Carper.

Homecoming Story To Be Broadcast

The Juniata will take over the Juniata on the Air microphones Wednesday for a presentation of the Homecoming Story. The script will be written by Fred Shamlan and Dagmar Sildorff.

On the program last week, representatives who visited the campus on Community Day discussed student attitudes, activities and relations between the College and the community.

Those participating on the program were Mr. Hetrick of the Woodcock Valley Lions; Mrs. W. E. Swigart, civic sub-committee; Mrs. Paul Yoder and Mrs. Daniel Mong, Juniata Women's League; Mrs. George Taylor, Business and Professional Women; Mr. C. B. Burkholder, Associated Clubs; and Mrs. Karl Knecht, AAUW.

Grad Schools Ask Early Application

"Seniors expecting to go to graduate schools next year should apply as early as possible," Dean Morley Mays has announced.

The dean advised that there is much to be gained by applying early, especially in view of the large numbers of students in the graduate schools of the country.

Typical advice from the graduate schools is the following from the Dean of the Graduate School of Yale:

"Students should send for information and instructions concerning the procedure of application early in their senior year, preferably in October or November. They should not hesitate to ask for information even though they may not be certain about their plans for graduate study."

"Many applicants are excluded from consideration because they start their applications after the places available in a department have been filled."

2 Called To Service

Two Juniata men have been called into the armed forces.

Phil Carr is requested to report to Camp Hood, Texas; and Richard Groves to the commander of the 5th Marine Corp Reserve, Wash., D. C.

Both men were members of reserve groups.

Students To Choose Queen Monday

Juniata students will choose Miss Homecoming IV Monday in an election sponsored by The Juniata.

Nominated to vie for the royal position are six seniors and six juniors; Polly Bane, Vera Compton, Lorena Hebrank, Dottie Hummer, Dottie Humphries, Sarah Keller, Mary Lou McKee, Lois Miller, Dollie Shaffer, Connie Sherman, Ginny Tyson and Erla Mae Weist.

Election polls will be located on Founders porch and will be open from 8 a. m. until 2 p. m. All students are eligible to vote. Results will be announced in next week's Homecoming edition of The Juniata.

Halftime Coronation

The new queen will be crowned at half-time of the Homecoming Day football game between the Juniata Indians and the Hornets of Haverford, Saturday, Oct. 21. She will be the guest of The Juniata at this event.

Gladys Gehman, Miss Homecoming III, will introduce her successor and take part in the coronation ceremony.

That evening she will be the guest of honor at the J Club-sponsored Homecoming Dance.

12 Nominated

The 12 candidates were chosen by a committee of male members of the Juniata staff and the Senate. They were asked to keep in mind "personality, attractiveness, participation in extra-curricular activities, and characteristics of the typical American college girl."

Only juniors and seniors were considered by the nominating committee.

Here are brief biographies of the candidates for the convenience of voters:

Polly Bane

Polly Bane, '51, is secretary of the Masque this year. Last year she was vice-president of her class. A home economics major, she is a three year member of Lambda Gamma. She is also a member of the WAA and JCA.

Vera Compton

Vera Compton, '51, is vice-president of the Masque and has had some role in nearly every (See Twelve Vie, Page 4)

$10 Offered For Best Campus Exhibit

The Juniata and the Public Relations Office will award $10 in prizes for the most original and appropriate campus decoration for Homecoming Day.

Contest rules:
1. Exhibits may be placed in any prominent place except front campus.

2. Contestants should designate which of these residence groups they represent: Geiger House, the arch and wing of Cloisters, the east and west wings of the Lodge, the Village, I. Harvey Brumbaugh House, the Faculty Club, Founders, Brumbaugh, Oneida or the day students.

3. Contest closes at 9 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 21.
Judges for the contest who are to be chosen by Harold Brumbaugh will view the decorations on Homecoming morning from 11:30 til 12.

5 Girls Added Tues. To JV Cheer Squad

The following girls were chosen junior varsity cheerleaders Tuesday after a week of tryouts: Nancy Bailey, Peggy Brumbaugh, Ruth March, Nancy McCahan and Talbot.

The JV squad will make its first appearance on Homecoming at the Haverford game along with the regular varsity squad.

TWELVE QUEENS ARE HERE, but which one will reign? Of this group, one will be elected Miss Homecoming IV and will rule over all the events of Juniata's 75th anniversary year Homecoming Day. In the customary order, they are Lois Miller, Dottie Hummer, Erla Mae Weist, first row; Vera Compton, Ginny Tyson, second row; Lorena Hebrank, Sarah Keller, Mary Lou McKee, third row; Dottie Ann Humphries, Dollie Shaffer, Polly Bane, Connie Sherman, fourth row.

Fall Term Concessions Granted

The senate concessions committee composed of Bud Kreider, chairman, Dr. Donald Rockwell, Dean Melvin Rhodes and Ruth Kimble, has granted the following concessions for the fall term.

IRC—candy machines in Cloister, Lodge, women's dorm and men's day student room; J Club—Coke machine in Cloister and Lodge, football program (Indian), booster tags and JC mittens; FTA—Coke in men's day student room.

Lambda Gamma—corsages on Homecoming and Parent's Day; peanuts at football games, doughnuts in women's dorm, Christmas cards, and Indian novelties at football games; Alpha Beta Gamma—hotdogs and ice cream in women's dorm.

IRC To Present UN Chapel

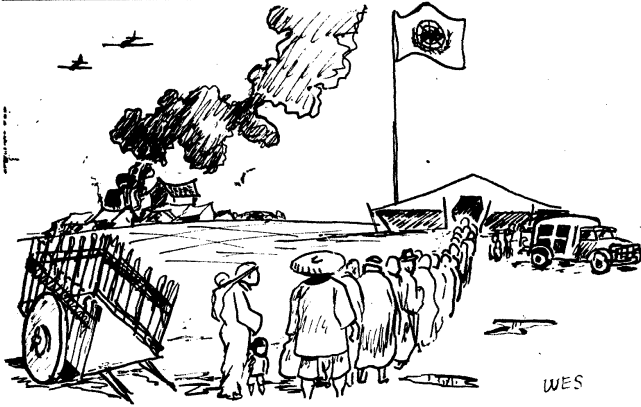

The IRC will present a program on the UN in chapel Monday. Jay Benedict, president of the club, will introduce Galen Fry-singer and Bill Bateson, who will discuss the structure of the UN and its specialized agencies.

Dr. Crosby will give the scripture reading and the prayer.

Treasure Hunt Tomorrow

The social committee is planting clues for a treasure hunt this Saturday evening, according to Bob Elder, chairman. Students, dressed informally, should meet in the Social Rooms at 8:15. Following the search for the "hidden treasure," refreshments will be served in Sherwood Forest.

U N---Policeman, Good Samaritan

U N Week - A Time To Take Stock!

Oct. 16 to Oct. 24 is United Nations Week. Tues., Oct. 24 is United Nations Day, an international holiday.

During this week it is important for us to think about the many very notable contributions that UN has made to the cause of peace and to look at the glorious future which it can hold for all mankind.

In the five years of its existence the UN has prevented or ended wars involving 500 million people in areas such as Palestine, Kashmir and Indonesia. Through the moral influence of the UN the processes of conciliation and mediation have brought peace in troubled waters.

Real Test Came This Summer

The real test of the UN came this summer when Red-inspired North Koreans attacked the Republic of South Korea. Would the UN be able to check aggression in Korea—with force if necessary?

This question was answered when on June 25, UN authorized the use of its forces in Korea. Now the UN had come of age.

Compare the decisive, penetrating policies of the UN today in Korea with the hesitant, vacillating efforts of the League in the Manchurian crisis of 1931-33.

UN Forces Cross 38th Parallel

Consider the facts that the UN has authorized its forces to cross the 38th parallel in Korea to punish the aggressor and has already voted $34 million in economic aid for that country.

Furthermore, the U. S. has suggested a plan whereby all countries would earmark fighting units to be sent into action by the General Assembly whenever the veto of the Security Council bars action against aggression.

Despite what the cynics and warmongers say, the UN has made real progress in the areas of international co-operation and collective security.

We Should Ponder These Questions

As a member nation of this world organization it might be well for us to ponder these questions:

Are our leaders sometimes not as idealistic as we in their policies and actions?

Is our nation the united, confident force it should be in world affairs.

Are we prepared to share our wealth, our resources—our country with other peoples of the world?

Should the United States work more within the framework of UN for military and economic assistance to other nations and for the building up of an international army?

Are we willing to relinquish the title "top man" and work with other nations which may surpass us in industrial and material wealth?

The purpose of the Crusade for Freedom Drive which ends Sunday is to carry the truth to the nations behind the iron curtain by means of the Freedom Bell and Scroll and Radio Free Europe.

Asked To Sign Scroll

All Americans are being asked to re-affirm their faith in freedom by signing the Scroll and perhaps making a contribution to Radio Free Europe, the American people's radio station in Western Germany.

On United Nation's Day, Oct. 24, the Freedom Bell in the Western Sector of Berlin will peal out this message inscribed upon its rim: "That this world, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom."

Millions of Americans will have their names enshrined in the base of the 10 ton bell as their testimony to the following "Declaration of Freedom."

The Declaration of Freedom
"I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual.

"I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God.

"I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth."

Will your name be on the roll-call of those who are honestly dedicated to the cause of freedom?

How To Pick Your Homecoming Queen

by Fred Shamlian

There are times that primogeniture is negative when a succession of royalty is necessary. Thus at Juniata we have our chance to elect the Queen who would reign on Homecoming Day. The election, though it does not claim any international position of significance, should be considered on the same level since the Queen will exemplify the typical co-ed.

The drawing card for any election is the list of aspirants nominated for a specific post, and here at Juniata, the wild cards are removed to make the selection as perfect as possible.

Consider All Qualities

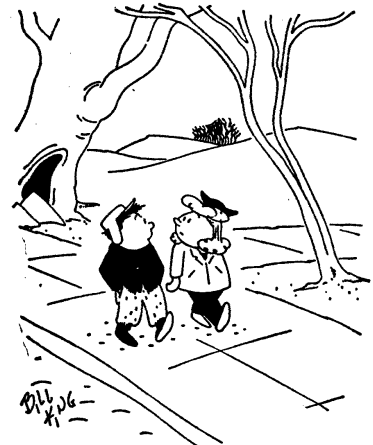

In the selection of a Queen one should not consider her physical qualities as the only royal asset. Personality, disposition and sincerity are just as important, since one is no good without the others. Personality is that something which brings out the person. It is like a mirror in which the image can be seen by everyone except the person involved. Inasmuch as many mirrors are polished for certain important occasions, the same image is still apparent. When the time arrives to cast a ballot, be sure you've taken a good look.

A queen, like any other girl, can have many moods and temperaments. But a queen, unlike many women, is one who can restrain the many moods that lower the dignity expected of one in royalty. It is apparent that the co-ed you want as a queen should be the lady who does not expect to be treated as a queen, but one who is because of her attitude.

Sincerity Is A Bubble

Sincerity is a bubble which bursts leaving little beams of warmth and friendliness that make one feel glad the other person is around. There are always sincere ones who consider sincerity as not being in existence. We, being far from sceptics, believe in that quality which we seek in all peoples, and when we find it, we raise that person to a high position in life to become our ruler—as a king or queen.

It is impossible to cover in one essay all the qualifications for a queen, but on Homecoming Day, when credit is due, you the voters can be proud that your kingdom is ruled by a co-ed fit to be a Queen.

"I won you from Bobby Stringer at marbles today, Mary Sue"

Tommy

Atomic radiation, though it seems comparatively new, has been used since the days of Adam and Eve. It is a form of an electrical radiation caused by the fluttering of the eyelashes. Its direct result is a weakening of the male's reflexes and reasoning, and thus ultimate domination by the weaker-sex.

The history of man in many instances is traced by his use of words. I wonder what the historians will think ten-thousand years from now when they uncover the ruins of a primitive colony of Baldwin, New York. The words have peculiar ending such as MarkO, BuckO, and FrankO.

Anne Webber is Cooking up something very important. "Jocko" Sikes, the unassuming character, has many star-eyed lassies grooming for swoon in. Vernon Showalter is carrying out his duties of table head as perfect as Simon Legree. Jean Link has given up dating for waiting. Nevertheless, she's still on the go. Christine, Middour, and Marshka are the big three delegates on advanced social activities.

The caliber of Juniata's waitresses advances every year. If one notices the men, their eyes are more on the waitresses than the food.

It seems in many cases, that when materialism becomes the highest good man strives to make it his king and humanism a very meek subordinate. I hope Joe's king abdicates so we can get a better cup of coffee.

Say Jairo, is that mustache the continental touch? It seems to be spreading because Bill Hanson has swapped his razor for a pair of scissors in preparation to sway the public as agent for the Martin-for-President Campaign.

It seems that with all the U. S. fan mail, the only difference between a veteran and any other guy is that the vet had his training for standing in line. What waitress is taking meat out of the mouths of hungry freshmen to feed her roommate's dog? Eh! Dagmar.

I leave you now. May your spirits be high and your marks the same.

Indians Fall To Hartwick; Face Crusaders Sat.

Dobal, Reese Score As Juniata Drops Second Straight

by Bob Myers

The Juniata Indians lost their second straight game to an underrated Hartwick team at College Field last Saturday. After leading 7-6 early in the second quarter, the Indians could not cope with the Iriquois' pass defense, and went down to defeat 20-13.

Midway in the opening period Joe Shattan, Hartwick end, took a 40 yard pass from Lew Bradley to set up Hartwick's first score with a first down on the JC 5 yard line. At this point, Rog Bauman hit the middle twice and finally went over from the two for the initial six-pointer. George Bills' placement was wide and Hartwick led 6-0.

Dobal Scores

Juniata immediately took to the offensive and scored on eight plays. Co-captain Phil Chabody ran three times on reverse plays and was good for 53 yards. "Lundy" Loschiavo completed a nine yard pass to Dick Young for a first down on the five. Seconds later, Joe Dobal scored on a plunge from the one. Tony Segalovich's placement split the up-rights and Juniata moved out in front 7-6.

From here the game see-sawed back and forth until late in the second quarter when Ken Iyenaga intercepted one of Loschiavo's passes on the Juniata 45. Bennett threw to Shattan, good for 35 yards and a first down on the ten. After Bauman ran for two yards, Bradley again hit Shattan, this time with the latter standing unmolested in the end zone. Bills' conversion attempt was good and Hartwick held a 13-7 advantage.

Chabody Scored on a reverse play. With time running out in the first half, "Reds" Orler passed to Chabody for 33 yards; then to Phil again, who lateraled to Bob Smith, for 25 more and a first down on the ten. On the next play it looked as though the Indians had tied the score as Don Patricelli took a pass from Orler. But the officials ruled that Patricelli had caught the pass out of the end zone and the score was nullified. The half ended before another play could be started.

Juniata came soaring back in the second half on a drive led through the center by Dobal. The advance was halted, however, when Bob Veitch pilfered the first of five Orler passes to be intercepted. After a series of plays put the ball in Indian territory, Eddie Gates threw a pass to Veitch on the 18 and he hurdled two would-be tacklers to score. Bill's placement gave Hartwick a 20-7 edge.

Orler To Reese For TD

The Indians covered 60 yards to paydirt in the final stanza as freshman Eddie Gould made two nice runs and took a pass from Orler, which, with the aid of a penalty, put the ball on the one yard line. After Juniata failed to cash in on three successive running plays, Orler flipped a jump pass to Bob Reese for a five yard touchdown. Segalovich's try for the extra point went wide. Two plays later the final whistle sounded with Hartwick in front 20-13.

Gym Construction To Resume With Arrival Of Steel Nov. 1

Workers will swing into action again in the construction of Juniata's memorial physical education building "on or about Nov. 1," according to Pres. C. N. Ellis.

He added that "the foundation is practically complete" but that work has been delayed by a revision in the original plans. Steel was substituted for wood in the main arches, which meant new drawings and an order for specially fabricated steel were required.

College business manager Paul Friend says that the bulk steel order has been placed "for some time" but that the order for the special steel was not processed until Aug. 1. Very little can be done until this material arrives.

Work began June 19, after the College board of trustees awarded the construction contract to Ritter Brothers of Harrisburg. An additional contract for electrical work was given to Corneilus Electric Co., Huntingdon.

It had been hoped to keep construction costs within the estimated $250,000, but no bids were submitted which made this possible. Latest estimates indicate that a budget of "nearly $300,000" will be needed.

Mid-April Dedication Planned
Present plans call for dedicating the new gym in mid-April as one of the highlights of Juniata's diamond jubilee celebration. The building is a memorial to the 675 men and women of the College who served in World War II.

According to the summer Alumni Bulletin the new memorial physical education building will be "approximately 112 by 180 feet (in area) with a ground floor level and a mezzanine level. There will be a large main gymnasium area measuring 91 by 110 feet which include a varsity playing floor of 50 by 90 feet.

Invade Selinsgrove For Grudge Battle With Unpredictable S. U.

A third bid for victory will be made by the Indians tomorrow when they invade Selinsgrove for the annual grudge battle with Susquehanna University. The razzle-dazzle Staggs have been victorious in two of their first three starts.

This will be the nineteenth meeting between the two neighboring rivals. In the long series, Juniata has won seven and lost nine, while two contests have ended in deadlocks. The locals have scored one-touchdown victories over the Crusaders in each of the past two seasons, winning 13-6 in 1948 and 21-13 in last year's thrilling battle.

Crusaders Open Strong
Susquehanna opened their season with a convincing 27-0 decision over Lycoming College three weeks ago, and followed it up with a 6-0 win over Wagner. But last week the Crusaders were humbled by a strong Johns Hopkins University eleven, 34-0 to ruin any hopes for an undefeated season.

Under the reins of the father and son Amos Alonzo Staggs, Susquehanna has an offensive attack all of its own. Relying on speed and trickery, they use a spread formation which does not conform to many of the conventional systems employed by other schools. In addition, the Staggs have a wide open passing attack and much of their offensive yardage will be made through the air. In the opening game with Lycoming, passing accounted for a net of 116 yards.

Young Is Man To Watch

The passing and running of Richie Young is the chief threat of the Staggs. In the Lycoming game, Young completed nine of 16 pass attempts, one of which set up a touchdown. The hard charging back also scored two touchdowns personally on running plays and was the afternoon's leading ground gainer.

Other backfield standouts are Ed Menapace, who has already scored two touchdowns this year, Ed Palkovich, punting specialist and Ken Lenker, defensive safety man who doubles on offense as a dependable pass receiver.

Opponents Scores

Juniata lost its second straight start last Saturday, but they were not alone in defeat. In addition to Hartwick, who beat the Indians, only Haverford and Washington were able to record victories. For Washington it was their second straight and they have yet to be scored upon.

Four opponents, Grove City, Dickinson, Susquehanna and Westminster all joined the local eleven in going down to defeat. Lycoming College was not scheduled.

The Scores:

Johns Hopkins 34, Susquehanna 0
Geneva 33, Grove City 0
Washington 32, Swarthmore 0
Haverford 20, Ursinus 12
F & M 7, Dickinson 0

mum in last week's contest. Gene Shaffer and Bob Smith were both shaken up, but returned to action later in the game. Phil Chabody, however, received injuries to his ribs which will probably force him into limited action.

Coach Bill Smaltz has been stressing pass defense in this week's drills in preparation for the fancy aerial attack of Susquehanna. It was Hartwick's passing that contributed greatly to the Indian's downfall in last Saturday's game.

Brumbaugh Returns

The starting line for the Indians will probably remain much the same as last week. However, Don Brumbaugh has notified Coach Smaltz that he is ready to return to action and may break in at the tackle slot. Brumbaugh, a returning letterman, is recovering from a dislocated elbow, incurred during pre-season training.

The backfield lineup is still a big question mark, pending the condition of Chabody. In addition, several freshmen looked promising in last week's game and will be giving lettermen a battle for starting assignments this week. Coach Smaltz probably won't decide for sure until just before game tomorrow.

At any rate, the Indians face a tough assignment. Susquehanna is not to be taken lightly at any time and if the locals are to win they will have to show much improvement over last Saturday's exhibition.

Elder Announces Social Calendar

Juniatia will be buzzing with activity every week-end this semester, according to social committee chairman, Bob Elder.

After an informal gathering tomorrow night, the social calendar will get into full swing Oct. 21 when the J Club will bring the Homecoming week-end to a climax with the annual formal.

All women can start filling their date books for the week of Oct. 22 and then escort their favorite to the Sadie Hawkins dance that Saturday, Oct. 28.

Drama and a Movie

The following two Saturday nights are planned in the dramatic vein with the Masque play "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay" on Parents Day (Nov. 4) and the movie "Up In Central Park" on Nov. 11.

Seniors will entertain on the night of Nov. 18. After Thanksgiving vacation basketball games will take the limelight with Lycoming Dec. 2, and Elizabethtown, Dec. 9.

The formal Christmas dinner and dance will be held Wednesday, Dec. 13. Freshmen will present their class party on Jan. 6 after everyone has recuperated from Christmas vacation.

Swing Your Partner

"Swing your partner" will be the motto for Jan. 13 when the gym will be the scene of a JC square dance. The next week (Jan. 20) everyone can rest up from the week before by watching the movie "A Double Life" in Oller Hall.

The social activities will draw to a close this semester with the Drexel basketball game Jan. 27.

Cabin Open House Oct. 22

Don Robinson, president of the Outing Club, has announced that open house will be held at the new Juniatia cabin the Sunday of Homecoming week-end, Oct. 22. All students and other guests are cordially invited to visit the cabin that afternoon.

Due to inclement weather, the cabin has not yet been painted. However, it is nearing completion and will be the scene of an Outing Club meeting for old and new members in the near future.

Clubs Meet, Make Plans

by Dottie Hummer
We see the Scalpel and Probe has a meeting scheduled in Science Hall Wednesday evening at 7:30. The guest speaker, Dr. Patterson, will center his thoughts on "Medical School." An invitation is extended to all freshmen.

J Club Plans For Homecoming
Homecoming plans were formulated by the J Club at their meeting Tuesday evening. With the appointment of various committees, we are hoping the pendulum will swing in the right direction toward a successful day.

The Tycoon Club held a short business meeting to organize their activities for the year. The payment of dues was discussed, after which the club held an election of officers to replace several vacancies.

IRC Hears Dolnikowski
An interesting talk on "Displaced Persons" was led by George Dolnikowski at the IRC meeting last night. After refreshments were served, a short reception was held for foreign students on the Juniatia campus.

The IVCF also met last night in the Women's Day Student Room at 7:30 p. m. An analysis of I John, Chapter 3 was led by "Whitey" Schaffner. Several groups are making tentative plans to attend a Friday night meeting at Penn State in the near future.

6 Alfarata Posts Filled By Editor

Six Alfarata posts have been filled by editor Quayton Stottlemyer. They are Jerry Hartzel, business manager; Ray Hollinger, advertising manager; and Bill Carpenter, photo editor. Claire Schaffner and Bev Williams will edit the senior news, while Dallas (Duffy) Duffield will do the photographic work.

The style of the Alfarata will be slightly different this year, says the editor. The staff plans to make the yearbook more informal, thus providing an opportunity for more unposed snapshots.

Lois Miller To Rule Homecoming Activities

Rally, Game, Show, Dance Fill Weekend Calendar

Homecoming weekend will begin to show signs of life tonight when the junior class puts on a pep rally, and will not reach a climax until the J Club dance tomorrow eve.

Between these two activities will be a program of activities which includes the traditional frosh-soph struggle for supremacy, a football game between JC and Haverford, the crowning of Miss Homecoming IV and a pre-dance variety program in Oller hall.

Pep Rally

Tonight at 7:15 p. m. a junior class promoted pep rally will get underway to help boost the Indian braves to victory over the invading Haverford Hornets. (See page 3.)

Students will meet at Founders steps for a short session of cheers led by cheerleaders and the band. Torches will then be distributed to light the cheerers way in a march about town.

The evening will close on Round-Top with a bon fire. Cider and doughnut refreshments will be served.

Morning Activities

The activities of Homecoming Day proper will get underway at 9 a. m. when the registration center for campus visitors will open.

At 9:30 the traditional hockey game between freshman and sophomore girls will begin, followed at 10 by the men's frosh-soph touch football game and the underclass tug of war at 11. Class winning best in all three contest will have the privilege of placing their numerals on Lion's Back.

Big event of the afternoon will be the varsity football game and the crowning of Miss Homecoming IV at half-time.

J. C. Announces Benefactors Of Scholarships

Each year a number of scholarships which represent the income of endowments designated for that purpose are awarded by the College. The following students are the recipients of these endowed scholarships at the present time:

Oscar R. Myers Scholarship, Margie Alleman; Prof. Jacob Brumbaugh Scholarship in Chemistry, Jack Baldrige; Ida Gray Scholarship, Jay Benedict; Kersey Mierley Scholarship, Walt Bush; Flora Kirk Scholarship, Shirley Butler; Mary Eliza Steele Buckley Fund, Lois Fretz.

Rebecca Shank Fund Scholarship, Dottie Ann Humphreys; Jo Shelly, Betty Lou Smith and Jean Bailey; Henry Gibbel Scholarship, Phyllis Kulp; David Maurice Wertz Scholarship, Phyllis Kuhn; Philip Cabot Scholarship, Howard Montgomery.

Elizabeth Fogelsanger Scholarship, Claudia Ottosen; Huntingdon High School Scholarship, John Pelan and Martha Metz; Science Scholarship, Ray Siren; Jennie and Francis Baker Scholarship, Beverly Williams.

Variety Program

Saturday evening at 8:15 the scene shifts to Oller Hall for a Home Varieties Program with alumna and students. Ray Siren will MC the attraction through these four divisions, representing four periods in Juniata's diamond jubilee history as listed in C. C. Ellis' book, "Juniata College":

1876-98—"The Humble Beginning"—The Cloistorsians. Interlude—Glenn Cave, violinist.

1894-1924—"The Normal English Period"—Varsity Quartet. Interlude—Ray McHenry, trombone.

1943—Present and Future—"The College of Arts and Sciences"; ensemble under the direction of Cassel Coffman '48.

These periods will also appear as part of the half-time coronation program.

J Club Dance

At 9:15, following the variety program, the J Club-sponsored annual Homecoming Dance will be held in the gym.

The campus dance band under the direction of Prof. Jack Brammer will make its debut at this time, according to J Club president Art Allen.

Homecoming Queen Lois Miller will be the guest of honor and will be presented with a gift sometime during the evening, he added.

Vets May Keep GI Rights

A veteran in the reserves who is recalled to active duty while studying under the G I Bill will still be eligible for the benefits of the bill if he returns to training within a reasonable length of time.

However, the termination date of all benefits, July 25, 1956, will still be in effect, according to word received by the registrar's office from the Veterans Administration.

Women On Loose Beginning Monday

by Margie Alleman

Under cover, men! Twirp week on Juniata campus is almost here but don't run too fast. Remember that "twirping" means "the lady pays" as well as "girl chases boy" (what's so new about that, anyway?).

No, this isn't just a rumor. Beginning next Monday the girls are definitely expected to give the men a rush, which includes anything from going to the movies to taking a walk.

For the benefit of would-be twirpers, the Lambda Gamma is sponsoring an informal dance in the WAA room Thursday evening.

Climaxing twirp week activities will be the Sadie Hawkins party on Saturday evening. According to Bob Elder, chairman of the social committee, an outside square dance will be the order of the evening. Jeans and plaid shirts are the appropriate garb for the festivities.

QUEEN FOR THE DAY—Lovely Lois Miller's every wish will be our command as she reigns over tomorrow's game and J Club Frolic.

Official Explains Ticket Hold Up

Holdup on student tickets to "The Hasty Heart" Tuesday evening was due to a combination of misfortune and misjudgment which could not be avoided, according to Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president.

An original estimate that 250 tickets would be needed to supply student demand was given Kiwanis and BPW club officials, sponsors of the play, when the contract was signed for the three-play series. This figure was based on student attendance at similar events in the past.

Therefore there had to be last-minute arrangements made to accommodate the 294 college residents who wanted to attend the performance Tuesday.

Senate To Hold Meeting Oct. 31

Election to fill the Senate seat of Chairman of Athletics will be held Tuesday, Oct. 31. Petitions went out Wednesday and will be collected next Wednesday.

At the open Senate meeting Monday in the Women's Day Student Room, President Showalter reported Administration views on Senate recommendations. According to the report, the College will continue to bear the expense of inviting non-resident faculty to eat in the dining hall.

Business Manager to Investigate

Also the business manager will look into the matter of the Social Rooms radio repair and the fire alarm systems. The projector question will be brought up at today's meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The Senate passed regulations to control the new dance band. They added that the dance band be available for six functions, namely, the Christmas and Spring Formals, the class parties, and at other occasions as the advisor and band see fit.

A petition from the music students that the closing hour at Swigart Hall be extended from 8 till 10 p. m. was acted upon favorably and a recommendation was sent to the President of the College.

Two Committees Appointed

Two committees were appointed by Senate Pres. Showalter—one to study the regulation of dining hall announcements, another to study the problem of class dues.

Reserves Call Keim

Bob Keim, Senate chairman of athletics, recently received Uncle Sam's regards, with an invitation to serve in the U. S. Army.

Keim, a member of the Army Reserves, is to arrive at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, on October 26.

419 Students Elect Queen

Lois Miller was elected Miss Homecoming IV in a Juniata-sponsored election Monday. Four hundred nineteen ballots were cast by 68% of the eligible voters, as compared to the record number of 513 voters who appeared at the Homecoming Queen election polls last year.

Nicknamed For Home City

The new queen, nicknamed Tuckahoe in her freshman year in reference to her home city, is the second junior to win the royal mantle. She is a JCA commissioner, cheerleader, member of the Women's House Committee, Camera Club secretary and has been a member of the hockey team for three years. Her major is sociology.

Juniata's anniversary queen (her subtitle since this is the 75th anniversary year of the college) will be given her royal crown at half-time in the Homecoming Day football game tomorrow between the Juniata Indians and the Hornets of Haverford. She will be the guest of The Juniata at this event.

Gehman To Help In Coronation

The half-time coronation ceremony will be conducted by the new queen's predecessor, Gladys Gehman. Other details of the program are being kept secret, since a departure from the custom of past years is planned.

Saturday evening Miss Homecoming IV will be guest of honor at the J Club sponsored Homecoming Dance.

'Peace Capital'

A SYMBOL of the spirit of the United Nations is its modern glass, steel and concrete permanent headquarters, pictured above, which towers over New York's East Side. Already many units of the UN staff are housed in the 39 story office building. In two years the "peace capital" will be completed with the addition of the great auditorium and meeting halls which are rising nearby. The entire six-block site will be landscaped and the buildings surrounded by parks.

A Juniata Tradition

The dictionary definition of tradition is "any belief that owes its general acceptance to habit rather than to reason."

Now, Homecoming Day at Juniata seems to fit this definition rather well. It was established in 1922 so that alumni could come back to their alma mater and re-live a few moments of their college life with old friends and classmates.

All of the Homecoming activities, the football game, the J Club Frolic, the decorations, and even the crowning of Miss Homecoming have become traditional and even habitual at JC.

A High Point Of The Year Homecoming with its many and varied activities is an established fact at Juniata—one of the high points of the year.

So we see that Homecoming satisfies one facet of our definition. The second part of the definition seems to imply a lack of reason.

The only thing non-reasonable about the affair of Homecoming will be the wistful looks and suppressed memories of youthful hope and anticipation of many of us who attended.

Brings Back Memories

For some it will bring back memories of times long past in the College history. For others it will mean the beginning of a new life out of College. For freshmen it will be the beginning of a colorful and memorable college career.

For all of us it should become a habit—a time to come back to Juniata and re-call past happiness.

Letters to the Editor:

Student Criticizes 'Hasty Heart' Ticket Policy

To the Editor:

It was certain time at 8:30 last Tuesday but more than a few students had to wait until that time before they could be seated. This was because there was an insufficient number of tickets.

These tickets could be had by presenting one's activities card on Tuesday afternoon. That was the only time these tickets were available. What should those students who are busy in labs and otherwise do to get tickets, cut classes? To accommodate those who couldn't get regular tickets, special tickets were to be distributed which would allow the holder entrance to the auditorium at 8:15. At 8:25 there was still a large group which had to wait until the curtain at 8:30 even though they had 8:15 tickets.

If tickets would be distributed throughout the day instead of just the afternoon and if a sufficient number would be available everyone would be satisfied. This would not only be a convenience to the student but would also to late coming ticket holders by overcoming the congestion.

Something should be done to make it easy, or at least not so difficult, for the student to attend such programs if he is willing to take time off from work to do so.

Respectfully,

Bob Asan

Tommy

Tommy would like to dedicate this column to all the students who cheered for our team at Susquehanna, and to the team for a fine victory.

Saturday night proved rather interesting. Elder's party turned into a pleasant interlude of card playing, dancing and entertainment. Among the celebrated guests were Coy Hicks, who made some completed passes to Janet Boland, Kathy Kuehne, who deserves an orchid for dancing with more than one anxious stag, and Charley Redenberger, whose Irish tenor melted the hearts of his many feminine admirers. Edie Talbot was there trying out some Main Line maneuvers, but the music wasn't fast enough.

With music in the McHenry style, the college dance band should be something worthwhile listening and dancing to. Let's get it on the road, for the music Saturday night was perfect. It made one feel as if he or she were back in old Vienna when it was written.

Since Twirp week is soon to make its appearance, Tommy has prepared a list of eligible men for any interested co-ed. Howard Montgomery, Ray Siren, Walt Bendurak, Bud Kreider, and Don Howe.

Fred Shamlian and Beverly Chamberlain were seen following an old custom of strolling in the rain. This is the only time a Chamberlain was without an umbrella.

Selected writings for the campus scholar are being published. The first one being a complete history of Juniata titled, "Life in a Fogbank."

Betty Longwell is still working on the first sock for her Paul Bunyan. She hopes to finish the second one early in 1952. He takes a size fifteen—on each foot.

Maryland should be proud of itself for producing such co-eds as Peg Brumbaugh, Carroll Borden, and Sarah Keller.

There were many JC students at the theater in town last week when it showed twenty-seven cartoons. It just goes to show that some college students will do anything to advance their education.

Is it the custom of the Athletic Department to send Nancy Meyers to scout Haverford? By the way Nancy, was Harry very informative.

Till the next time I fly by your way, I remain your faithful friend,
Thomas E. Hawk

A printing company accident which delayed arrival of tickets here until Tuesday noon and thus made it difficult for students with labs to obtain theirs before the 4 p. m. deadline when the supply was exhausted added to the complications.

Nothing can be done to increase the 250 tickets per performance limit, Mr. Brumbaugh says, but a you-will-be-seated-after-8:30 policy similar to that used Tuesday will continue to be used to handle overflow, if any, at the remaining two productions.

Mr. Brumbaugh also promised that henceforth distribution will begin at a time when students with labs can be accommodated.

The Juniata

An independent undergraduate newspaper published by the students of Juniata College on Friday throughout the college year except during vacations and examination periods. Entered as second class matter at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office. Subscription $1 per year. Editor — David Armacost

So Little Time

Quietly he called the men to muster and waited patiently till he had them all assembled and accounted for. An uneasy feeling came upon him as he slowly approached the first line of the soldiers who waited for him to speak. Somewhere in the distance the enemy was encamped and ready to charge at a moment's notice. Time was precious, and not one of his soldiers stirred as he gave the orders for advancement to the front. He raised his head and looked about him waiting for that voice that would be heard at any time.

The soldiers knew that in just a short while they would be fighting, but still they stood motionless, and when they were piled into the trucks, not one word was spoken among them. He stood back after the job was finished and prepared to give orders to each truck driver as to his specific duty. He listened for that voice while advancing to the front and hoped that it would wait a little longer.

Men Readied For Battle

The sun was melting into the clouds when the soldiers arrived at their designated field of encampment, and without any noise, they were hastily assigned into little groups to man the big guns or to charge upon the enemy. The uneasy feeling almost left him as he checked each group to see that they would be ready for the battle that would start any minute. He could not give up now.

He gave the orders to charge and the men opened fire with such deadly accuracy that the enemy was taken by surprise. He charged with them as they stormed across no man's land, and as quickly as they fell, he was there to see that replacements were on hand. The sky was growing darker and with each shot he knew his men would have the victory in their grasp within a short time. But it all depended on that voice.

The War Is Over

The battle lost momentum as he pushed his infantry forward to swallow up the last of the enemy, and as though a great trumpet had sounded, the fighting ceased. The war was over and he had won his battle against the enemy and time.

By now it had grown very dark and his soldiers were tired and sleepy, and he too had grown very weary. He marched his men to the trucks to be taken back to camp, and then he heard the voice and listened patiently for what it had to say. And with a smile of victory on his face, the young commander picked up each soldier tenderly, put them back on the shelf, said goodnight to his mother, and trudged happily off to bed.

Steve Suhey has returned to Penn State! But this time he is serving in an advisory capacity. The former Nittany Lion lineman and All-American is serving as freshman line coach under the system of head coach "Rip" Engle.

The 1950 season finds Bill Germann back once again as trainer for the Indian eleven, and doing a swell job too! Last year Bill used what seemingly amounted to miles of tape in "holding" the squad together, and his 1950 "yardage" is rapidly approaching those proportions.

Everyone knows of the famous Staggs, father and son coaching duo at Susquehanna University. But few people know of the third Stag on the staff, Mrs. Alonzo Staggs, Sr. Though in the vicinity of the "four score" mark in age, Mrs. Staggs is the chief scout for the Crusaders. All during last week's game the elderly woman sat quietly in the press box overlooking University Field in Selinsgrove taking notes and watching for mistakes made by the Crusader eleven. When she finished, she had quite a few sheets which her husband will, no doubt, make good use of in this week's black-board drills.

While speaking of the Staggs, one of them is no longer associated with Susquehanna, much to the dismay (or delight as the case may be) of tennis teams on the Crusader schedule. Miss Barbara Staggs, daughter of Alonzo Staggs, Jr., and first girl to play on the men's tennis team at Susquehanna in 93 years, has transferred from the Selinsgrove institution to Ursinus College in order to complete her studies in physical education.

Some teams go through a season winning most of their games; others losing most. However, the University of Rochester has presented a different angle. Three of their first four games have ended in a tie. (P. S., They lost the other one!)

And here's one for every loyal Juniata's "Dead List." Jim Cooley, former Westminster lineman, is now in the U. S. Army. He played his last game for the Titans when they defeated the Indians by one point (13-12) on September 30. The irony of the situation is that the man who blocked Tony Segalovich's second try for the extra point was, you guessed it, none other than Jim Cooley.

LITTLE LUNDY—Wearer of JC jersey number 18 that has been causing much unrest among Juniata opponents is diminutive "Lundy" Loschiavo. "Lundy" is a sophomore from Ambridge, Pa. and has been doing a great job of "carrying the mail" for the Indians this year along with his regular passing chores.

Basketball Practice To Begin Monday

Coach "Doc" Greene has made that "initial call" and varsity basketball candidates will report for opening practice Monday at 3:30 p. m. Regular practice sessions will continue until the opening game December 2.

Only two members of last year's starting team, Ray Korody and Dave Bayer, will be back this year. In all, only seven members of the '49 varsity are returning. Jayvees and freshmen are expected to bolster the ranks considerably.

This past week Coach Greene has been working out with 15 freshmen candidates and these men will continue to work out with the varsity candidates this week.

Indians Capture First Over S.U. 19-12; Homecoming Game With Fords Sat.

Defensive Play Sparkles; Mervis Returns To Action

Juniata finally hit its winning stride in their third bid for victory as they defeated Susquehanna University 19-12 at Selinsgrove last Saturday. After completely outplaying the Crusaders in the first half, the Indians staved off a second half rally by the razzle-dazzle Staggs to emerge with their first victory of the campaign.

The Crusaders started the game with an unexpected running attack that drove all the way to the JC ten yard line before the Indians held for downs. From here, the Braves took off on a ground and air attack of their own.

Smitty Scores on Pass

Every man in the backfield took a turn in bringing the ball out to the 45. From there "Lundy" Loschiavo passed to Bob Smith on the Susquehanna 40, and the latter outraced the defenders to the goal. Phil Bartola added the extra point with a perfect placement and the Indians led 7-0.

Four plays after the kickoff, Co-captain Coy Hicks broke through to block Stamfels' attempted punt and Juniata took over on the SU 24. Loschiavo gained nine yards off tackle and Mike Mervis did likewise through center to move it to the six. Two plays later, Mervis cracked over from the four for JC's second score. Bartola missed the conversion, but the Indians led 13-0.

Clapper Intercepts Pass

Ron Clapper intercepted one of Young's passes, three plays after Juniata had again kicked off, and returned it to the Susquehanna 26. Loschiavo and Mervis, making his first start of the season in the absence of injured J. Bobal, alternated carrying to the one yard line. Loschiavo then sliced off tackle for the third and final score. Bartola's placement was wide as the Indians took a 19-0 advantage.

Particelli's Catch Nullified

Juniata appeared to be on the way to a fourth TD when LeFevre recovered a fumble on the Susquehanna 40. After running plays, Don Particelli made a diving catch of Loschiavo's long pass on the five. But the officials detected an ineligible receiver down field, and penalized Juniata 15 yards.

The Crusaders took over on their own 39, and Rich Young engineered an aerial attack for 61 yards and a score. His 13 yard pass to Ken Lenker gave Susquehanna a first down on the six, and Gene Fenstermacher crashed over for the Crusader's first six-pointer. The try for the extra point was not good and the score read 19-6 at halftime.

Young Passes Well For SU

The third quarter was all Susquehanna. Young passed brilliantly in a 79 yard advance, climaxed by a 27 yard aerial to Lenker for a score. The try for the extra point was missed but the Crusaders were only one TD behind at 19-12.

The fourth quarter developed into a see-saw battle with the action confined between the 20 yard lines. The entire team, but led by Coy Hicks, adapted themselves to the wide open formation used by the Crusaders and it was mainly their defensive maneuvering that gave them their first win.

Tribe Seeks Second Win; Garrison Leads Haverford

The Indians of Juniata and the Fords of Haverford will clash tomorrow at College Field in the annual Homecoming game. This will be the fifth meeting between the two schools with each team having won twice. As an added feature, Miss Lois Miller will be crowned Miss Homecoming IV during halftime ceremonies.

Washington, Dickinson Again Win Handily; Haverford Defeated

Washington and Dickinson Colleges continued to roll toward highly successful seasons last Saturday, both scoring convincing wins over Bridgewater and Ursinus respectively. Outside of a Westminster-Bethany tie, however, the remainder of the Indians' opponents went down to defeat.

Washington, in defeating Bridgewater College 34-0, retained its unbeaten, unscored upon status. In three games the Shomans have rolled up the staggering total of 98 points while holding the opposition scoreless.

Once defeated Dickinson poured it on Ursinus to the tune of 38-6. The Red Devils also hold a convincing 25-0 victory over Grove City. Their lone defeat came at the hands of the strong Franklin and Marshall team, and it was only 7-0.

Westminster, whose lone win came at the expense of Juniata, just managed a 7-7 tie with Bethany, while Haverford, next week's opponent, took it on the chin from Rider, 28-7.

The scores:

Juniata 19, Susquehanna 12
Washington 34, Bridgewater 0
Dickinson 39, Ursinus 6
Westminster 7, Bethany 7
Rider, 28, Haverford 7
Hiram 25, Grove City 6
Upsala 13, Hartwick 7

A History

29th Homecoming To Be Celebrated Tomorrow On Juniata's Campus

by Marj Seidel

Juniata will observe its 29th annual Homecoming Day tomorrow on College Hill. Just as in 1922 when the tradition was established, alumni will return to reminisce with old friends as well as get acquainted with new students.

The Juniatian sponsored the first Homecoming queen election four years ago. It all started as a stunt for arousing pep and enthusiasm and adding color to Homecoming activities. Betty Kira-cofe was elected Miss Homecoming I to reign over the day's activities. The following two years found Mary Lou Cannon and Gladys Gehman, respectively, in the royal throne.

Sports Always Important

Sports have always played a dominant role in the week-end activities. Davis and Elkins College in Virginia was the opponent with which J. C. vied at the first traditional Homecoming football game in 1924. The Indians suffered defeat to the tune of 21-10.

As far as evening entertainment was concerned there was no definite program until several years ago when the J Club dance became traditional. Prior to this time the Homecoming calendars varied from movies to masquerade balls.

Frosh-Soph Battles

Freshmen and sophomore athletic contests have been featured as a part of the Homecoming week-end for many years. The first hockey game was played in 1930. The only difference between that event then compared to it at present was the long black stockings considered an essential part of women's athletic equipment.

A variety of sports has been recorded as Homecoming frays between the frosh and soph men. The contests have included speedball, basketball and now the annual touch football game, as well as a tug of war.

Another tradition established by the Juniatian was a decoration contest of displays on Campus made by various dorms. A prize will again be awarded this year for the best exhibit.

Bell Dedication 12 Noon Tuesday

On Tuesday, which is United Nations Day, at 12 o'clock E. S. T. the Freedom Bell will be dedicated in Berlin.

General Lucius Clay, national chairman of Crusade for Freedom, will give the dedication prayer. The prayer and the ringing of the bell two or three minutes later will be broadcast in a five-minute ceremony over all major networks except Mutual.

According to a spokesman of the IRC, Juniata College will also observe this ceremony with the ringing of the tower bell at about 12:02.

During the Freedom Crusade Drive which ended Sunday, 281 students and faculty signed the Freedom Scroll.

Pulpit Rocks Part Of J C

It's surprising how few people on campus have ever heard of Pulpit Rocks. And since it is a part of our great Juniata College domain, we should all know at least a few facts about it.

This natural curiosity is located along the old "Harrisburg, Huntingdon, and Pittsburgh turnpike", three miles west of Huntingdon. The rocks and their surrounding site of 1 1/2 acres of land were presented to the College by the late J. Murray Africa for preservation as a landmark.

The Honorable J. Simpson Africa, father of the donor and former historian of Huntingdon County, gives in his history the following description: "The elements have worn some of these (sandstone formations) into grotesque shapes, which form a fancied resemblance to that object are called Pulpit Rocks."

Dance Band Crew Listed For Debut

At last—a dance without records!

Students and returning alumni will have the honor of dancing to the music of the newly organized campus dance band at their debut tomorrow night.

Under the direction of Prof. Jack Brammer, the following students make up the personnel of the new aggregation: trumpets—Bob Brumbaugh, Dwight Mischler, Holmes Royer; saxes—Joe Dunn, Cene Markle, Len Hickman, trumones—Wesley Diemer, Raymond McHenry; piano—Whitey Schaffner; bass—Walt Bandurak; and drums—Fred Strait.

Johnson To Give Recital Sunday

Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Prof. Donald Johnson will present his seventh annual organ recital in Oller Hall. He will be assisted by Miss Marion Thomas, pianist.

Prof. Johnson will open the program with five chorale preludes by Johann Sebastian Bach. Miss Thomas will join Prof. Johnson in playing Franz Liszt's "Concerto No. 1, in E Flat Major."

For his concluding numbers Prof. Johnson has chosen American compositions: "The American Hymn" by Biggs, "Cathedral Prelude" by Clokey, Roger's "Arioso", Edmundson's "Elfin Dance", and "Toccata" by Farman.

Juniata Radio To Give Corwin Drama

"Seems Radio Is Here To Stay", a drama by Corwin, will be featured Wednesday on the Juniata on the Air program at 8 p. m. Students interested in participating should contact Betty Longwell.

This history and plans for Homecoming were presented in play form last Wednesday by the Juniatian staff. Fred Shamlian and Dagmar Sildorff wrote the script, while other staff members performed in the play.

Alumni Whereabouts Told

The most recent news of Juniata graduates shows the whereabouts of the following alumni: Jack Buckle, Syracuse University; Erni Rossi, Temple University; Gene Calderwood and Vince DeFeo, Rutgers University; Ken Wenger, NYU; Bob Mohr, Temple School of Dentistry; Bill Wright, Columbia University; Joanne Bell, child welfare in Mifflin County; Betty Ruth Hess, Katherine Gibbs School; and Betty Savine, child welfare work in Wilkes Barre.

American Chemistry Society To Meet At Juniata Wednesday

By Dottie Hummer

As Madame Zana looks into her little crystal ball, she sees an exciting day in store for all Homecoming fans. But she tells us we must all wait until tomorrow, so until then let's take a look at the club news.

Chem Society To Meet

Wednesday the central Pennsylvania section of the American Chemical Society will meet on the Juniata campus.

A lecture on "The Thermodynamics of Proteins" will be presented by Professor Julian B. Sturtevant, associate Professor of Chemistry at Yale University.

Preceding this lecture there will be a dinner meeting at 6 p. m. at the Penn Koffee Shoppe. This will be an open lecture and anyone who would like to attend should contact Dr. Rockwell or Dr. Davis today.

I John, Chapter 5 will be outlined by Gene Seese at the IVCF meeting Thursday evening. A discussion on I John, 4 was led by Portia Baugher at last evening's meeting.

Outing Planned at Cabin

The Outing Club is holding a party at the cabin Wednesday evening. This party is being held for the club members and the new adult advisors, Dr. and Mrs. Booth. Anyone desirous of becoming a member should contact Jack Baldrize or Kay Wright. An evening of entertainment and refreshments is promised for all.

The Outing Club's new point system was explained at a recent meeting. These points may be earned by working one hour on Miss Doyle Doing Work At Boston U.

Miss Esther Doyle, assistant professor of English on a one-year leave of absence from Juniata, was unable to accept the teaching fellowship offered her at North-western University. Because of the illness of her mother, she is spending the year at Boston University which is near her home.

Alfarata Photos Delayed

Henry Horton, Alfarata photographer, began taking individual photos of seniors yesterday, after several days delay caused by shortage of film and a broken shutter. He expects to begin photographing juniors Monday if additional film supplies arrive.

Senatorship Voting Tues.

The campus-wide election for chairman of athletics will be held Tuesday, weather permitting, in the front of Students Hall from 7:45 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 5:30 to 8.

Bob Jones and Jack Rothenberger, both juniors, are in the race for the chairmanship on the Senate.

Jones, from Llewellyn, Pa. is sports editor of The Juniata and editor of the Indian. Last year he was business manager of the Scout. The candidate is also active in intramural sports. He is majoring in math and science with an eye on the teaching profession.

Rothenberger comes from Boyertown, Pa. He is social responsibility chairman of the JCA, and a member of the J club and the Scalpel and Probe club. Also he is a three-year varsity track man. Rothenberger is majoring in psychology and hopes to become a clinical psychologist.

According to Hilton Hines, chairman of the elections committee of the Senate, two-thirds of the student body must vote before the election is valid.

Parking Lot Dirt To Become Gym Fill

"Two birds with one stone" is the motto of the College building contractors, as they obtain fill for the new memorial gymnasium by enlarging the parking lot near Oller Hall.

Contractor for the parking lot digging is Robert Ross. Ritter Brothers are doing the gym work.

The foreman for the latter outfit reports that a new building schedule has been set up dependent on the arrival of steel. "If the steel will get here when it gets here," he adds.

Carr Granted Deferment

Phil Carr received new orders Tuesday superseding those requiring him to report to Camp Hood, Texas. These revised orders, signed by the acting assistant adjutant of the N. J. military district, defer him until April 19, 1951. He is in the reserves.

An Interview

Director Needs Ingenuity--Esaley

by Jim Streiner

This business of directing a play "takes one's ingenuity and ability to devise," Miss Lois Esaley says she has learned from her new jobs as instructor in English and advisor to the Masque. She is directing the Masque-produced comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Miss Esaley, who graduated from here last June, says that as a student she has "tried most every phase of play production except lighting, set design and, of course, directing."

Asst. to Doyle, Johnson

Last year she served as assistant to both Miss Esther Doyle, whom she replaced this fall, and Prof. Donald Johnson. In this capacity she was able to observe and take part in additional phases of theater art, both musical and dramatic.

"However," the director says, "until now, I never had the opportunity to realize the overall aspects of directing—my work was always laid out for me by Miss Doyle. She knew all the people, the proper addresses, etc."

Sat. Classes Shortened To 40 Min. For Game

"The administration has agreed to shorten classes Saturday to 40 minutes each so that students may attend the football game at Dickinson," according to Senate president Vernon Showalter.

"This privilege will not be extended again if students cut weekend classes," Showalter added. Classes have not been reduced for an away game since the Lebanon Valley game of November, 1948. Saturday classes will run as follows:

First period—8 to 8:40.
Second period—8:45 to 9:25.
Third period—9:30 to 10:10.
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:55.
Meal—11:05.

Cherry Named Bus. Mgr. For 'Hearts'

Ronald Cherry has been appointed business manager for the Masque play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," according to the director, Miss Lois Esaley.

Miss Esaley has also announced two changes in the cast. Len Hickman will take over the part of the Purser; Jan Wenger will double in the roles of the Stewardess and the Inspector.

JCA Affair Planned Tues.

According to the JCA calendar, it's pretty near time to break off from the books for an evening of fun.

Next Tuesday evening, the JCA is sponsoring a hayride for Juniata students. Wagons will be brought to the school about 7:15 to pick up the students who plan to go.

After the ride, the route of which is still more or less of a mystery, the wagons (and exhausted horses) will end up at a near-by barn for a barn party. Square dancing and games are on the agenda for the evening along with plenty of refreshments. Music will be furnished by records, and Dr. Donald Rockwell will be caller.

Wagons will return to school about 10:30.

Gallant From Brazil Proves Chivalry Alive

by Jan Wenger

Is chivalry really dead?

Not while gallant Jairo Silva is on campus. Judging from this particular freshman, Brazil is a land of manners and mustaches.

Silva was born in Recife, Brazil. He came to New York in Feb., 1949, where he began pouring over catalogues of colleges and universities in search of a small college. In his own words, he "fell into sympathy" with JC and is now very glad that he made this college his choice.

He says, "I thoroughly enjoy Arts and Humanities and also the friendliness of the Juniata coeds." When asked about his previous education, Silva explained that his six years of grammar school, four years of high school and one year of College were all spent in a European school system where all courses are compulsory.

Now a pre-medical student, Silva is very much interested in history of civilization and languages. He speaks Spanish, French, Portuguese and English.

In the little bit of spare time that he has, Silva enjoys collecting coins as a hobby. Photography is also a favorite pastime. While he is an ardent lover of classical music, Silva is very emphatic in his denunciation of bebop. Although Silva has long since become accustomed to the scurrying ways of Americans, he says he still has difficulty keeping up with the rate at which his fellow Juniata students eat their meals!

Oller Hall Was Ten Years Old Last Week

"A big thrill is on hand for those alumni and friends of the College who have not been on the campus recently when they come to the dedication of the $130,000 Oller Auditorium on Homecoming Day, October 19."

This statement appeared in the Oct., 1940 issue of the Alumni Bulletin. And so in Juniata's 75th Anniversary year, Oller Hall celebrated its 10th birthday last Thursday.

The auditorium, with a seating capacity of 875, was dedicated by the late President Emeritus C. C. Ellis who was president of the College at that time. Keys to the new Oller Hall were turned over to Dr. Gaius Brumbaugh, chairman of the board of trustees, by Mr. John Hunter, architect.

A special dedication for the pipe organ donated by Oller of Waynesboro took place Dec. 1, 1940.

Adams, Coleman to Speak In Oller Hall Sunday

Clifford Adams

Dean William Coleman

Author To Discuss Marriage Problems

Dr. Clifford Adams, of the Pennsylvania State College, will be the speaker at the JCA Personal-Campus Affairs conference to be held Sunday evening at 8:30 in Founders Chapel. After a talk dealing with men-women relationships, a discussion will be conducted by Dr. Adams to answer questions from the students.

A professor of psychology at Penn State, Dr. Adams is also director of marriage counseling for the school of education. He is known to many students at JC as co-author of the book "How to Pick a Mate" and his latest release, "Looking Ahead To Marriage."

Receiving his AB from the University of North Carolina in 1928, Dr. Adams went on to do graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University and the Pennsylvania State College where he got his Ph D in 1940. Since that time he has done much work in the field of marriage counseling and he was director of the marriage clinic for the Women's Home Companion from 1945-47.

Dr. Adams has been on the board of directors of the National Council on Family Relations since 1946 and is a member of the American Association of Marriage Counselors. In recognition of his scholarship and research, his name appears in a volume of Who's Who in America.

Daisy Maes--

Tote Your Mate To Square Dance

by Marj Seidel

Daisy Maes on College Hill will call for their Lil Abners Sunday night to escort them to the final Twirp Week event, a square dance to be held on the lawn in front of the gym. The "festive time," according to social committee chairman Bob Elder, will begin at 8:15 but will be transferred to the gym in case of rain.

Highlighting the evening will be the unveiling of the mysterious Sadie Hawkins. The person who guesses her identity this week will receive a prize and the honor of leading a dance with her.

Corsages (dogpatch style) will be the order of the evening. Girls are to make them of anything at hand and pin on their dates' lapels. A prize will be awarded to the couple with the most original corsage.

Another event of the party will be the appearance of the girls varsity trio composed of Jo Chiodi, Doris Orner and Joan Weaver. They will sing country songs.

The history of Sadie Hawkins Day began long before its exponent, Daisy Mae. Seems there was a Dogpatch gal name of Sadie Hawkins, who liked all the Dogpatch boys. Only trouble was, they wouldn't reciprocate.

This apathy on the part of the valley's potential husband-material troubled Sadie's old man. So in a burst of genius one day, he invented the girl-chase-boy tactics we know now as Sadie Hawkins Day.

The Caste System.....

Now that the freshman initiation is over and the smoke has cleared we can view the program with the advantage of hindsight.

We would like to commend Charles Allison chairman of underclassmen, and his committee for their very fine handling of the program. Their tireless effort is reflected in the fact that there was no haircutting, painting of buildings or vandalism on campus Friday night.

The entire freshman program was carried through with an efficiency and human understanding that has not been equaled here at Juniata for several years.

This having been said, we will concern ourselves with a consideration of the merits of initiation. It is granted that the name cards, the dinks and certain restrictions such as not using the diagonal and the front steps have their value.

Freshman Should Not Be A Slave

However, we don't think that the boys should be any more the slave of the sophomore than the sophomore should be the slave of the junior and so on. The freshman has a right to be treated as a self-respecting individual.

When he comes here in September we are supposed to be friendly and helpful—giving him advice when needed. Four weeks later such antagonism has been built up between sophomore and freshman that 15-20 upperclassmen and two policemen with squad car and firearms must be stationed on the campus for a whole night.

Cold Coffee With Soap Fun

The foul-smelling acid that the boys had to put their hands in, the penny pushing with the nose, the painting of the face with vegetable dye, the cold coffee with the soap in it that the girls had to drink and the paddling were fun—for some. Requiring the girls to do exercises and getting them out of bed at 11 p. m. and keeping them up until 1 a. m. was obviously great sport.

But these activities surely left hard feelings and gave some individuals a chance to spite others and degrade them. Furthermore, these tactics could have led to mob violence and physical harm had it not been for the vigilance of Charles Allison and his militia.

Parts Of Program Have Value

Some parts of the freshman initiation that we have mentioned and others may have value in orienting the freshman and helping him to find his place here. But those activities and regulations which suppress and enslave the freshman have no business in a Christian college with mature, rational students.

Let's take that long step and rid ourselves of the caste system here at Juniata.

This week's column is dedicated to those who made Homecoming a warm one. The weather man should be blessed for showering us with his sunshine smiles.

Bill Korman is trying to find a way to spend $6 prize money on 26 men. It should be a gala affair. Peggie Barrington surprised many sophs by her lady-like actions. Nice going, Peg. Fran Townsend, Dave Hackett and Jerry Walker should make good top-kicks. If you don't think so, ask any frosh.

A lot of gals were happy with the arrival of their beaus. Among those gals were Sarah Keller, Mary McKee, May Ikeda, Carroll Borden, Lois Miller, Ginny Tyson, and Jo Ann Barksdale.

More people wrote home for money last week so they could pay for all those little items that seem necessary at a college football game. Maybe Juniata won't graduate many great scientists or philosophers, but they'll pass on to the world the greatest high pressure salesmen ever before known.

A Hawk's eye view of Campus Couples who seem to hit the Steady Sign: Bee Ann Hanks and Steve Finckel, Marj Seidel and Bill Eicher, Helen Lawson and Don Sikes.

Bob Donaghy was seen sporting around in a new Buick. Say Bob, does Betty always let you drive? Remember, you can't pay attention to the brakes when your mind is on the clutch.

The play "See How They Run" is a takeoff from Sadie Hawkins Day. After watching Judy Rohm, Dagmar Silldorf, and Dorcas Mertz start off Twirl Week, Tommy began to realize the possibilities of an All-American Girl Track Team. "Mike" Snider should take careful note.

At the J Club Frolic, Tommy was pleased with the number of faculty members who danced to the music of Prof. Brammer's Kollege K's. Among the many dignitaries were Mrs. Ellis, the Crosby's, the Friends, and the Rhodes'. It was more than a Homecoming—it was a successful college reunion.

Prediction of the Week: The records used in the dining hall won't last for more than three months. That is, if somebody doesn't change 'em.

I leave you now with this mighty phrase.

It's great to be an Indian!!!!

How Good A World Citizen Are You?

Yes today's best hope for peace is UN plus YOU. The UN's work for peace is quite an impressive record.

What about you? What is your score for peace? Here is a test you can make.

For each question: Score 10 for yes; 5 for yes with reservations; 0 for no.

Question: Have you an active member of any group promoting the United Nations?

Have you ever visited the UN? Or, would you plan to visit it if you made a New York trip?

Do you keep yourself informed on UN issues?

(Before answering, consider: Do you skip over UN news items? Do you listen to UN radio broadcasts? Do you subscribe to any UN material? Do you attend UN lectures? Do you avoid conversations centering on foreign policy issues?)

Are you aware, and making others aware, of the fact that U. S. military action in Korea is part of a United Nations police action?

Do you understand the culture and background of other peoples?

(Before answering, consider: Do you read literature of other peoples? Do you see foreign movies?)

Do you live up to the UN's Human Rights Declaration of no discrimination on the basis of "race, sex, language or religion"?

(Before answering, think of how you feel about peoples of different color, of different religion, of different nationality. Do you discriminate in your social life? In your work?)

Have you expressed any strong opinion which you may have on any UN issue to the Department of State or your representative to the UN?

Have you contributed toward any work which the UN is trying to effect?

(such as taking care of refugees, sending school supplies overseas, aid for children.)

Do you believe it is any of our business to help Europe recover? To help backward peoples advance economically?

(Score 5 for yes; 1 for each yes with reservations; and 0 for each no)

Have you ever tried to get any activity going on behalf of the UN?

(in your school, church, with your colleagues at work, among your friends?)

If your score is 50 or below, write at once to AAUN and get started on being a better world citizen. Send to:

Fords Hand Indians Homecoming Defeat; Hume Scores Twice

by Bob Myers

Playing before a near capacity Homecoming crowd, Juniata went down to defeat for the third time this season as they bowed to Haverford College 13-7 at College Field last Saturday. The Indians outpointed their opponents in every other department, but they lacked the punch to score the winning touchdowns.

Early in the second quarter, the Fords started the scoring when Lundy Loschiavo fumbled and Andy Briod recovered for Haverford on the JC 11. Hume picked up one yard and Juniata was penalized five yards for offenses to the JC five yard line. Hibberd gained three and then lost one, but on the last down, Hume took a reverse from Garrison and scored from the three. Briod's attempted conversion went wide and Haverford led 6-0.

Indians Miss First Half TD
Juniata started a rally when a Loschiavo-sparked offensive thrust marched to the Haverford 13 yard line. Briod, however, intercepted Lundy's pass in the end zone and the half ended with the Fords still on the TD ahead.

Shortly after the half-time ceremonies, co-captain Garrison engineered another scoring drive. After being set back by a holding penalty, he tossed to Dick Bourne for 19 yards, but the Fords had a last down and one situation. Garrison gambled and Briod rammed through center for a first down on the Juniata 47.

Garrison's pass to Vance was good for 11 yards and Hume followed with 21 yards on another reverse for a first down on the 15. Garrison then completed a pass to Hume on the eight and the late raced across for the score. Briod converted and the Fords led 13-0.

Mervis Scores In Final Period
Just after the beginning of the last period, the Indians carried for six first downs covering 77 yards in 16 plays with Mervis and Loschiavo carrying the burden of the attack. After Loschiavo was hurt dashing to the enemy 21, Mervis took over and carried for four plays and a touchdown. Bartola converted and Haverford's lead was cut to 13-7.

The rest of the game was featured by short gains and exchanged punts with neither team penetrating deeply into the other's territory. The contest did, however, have a dramatic finish as Gene Shaffer recovered Hume's fumble on the Haverford 14 yard line with only seconds remaining. But Don Patricelli's pass fell incomplete in the end zone as the game ended, and Haverford won.

Frosh Dinks Stay As Sophs Win 2

For the first time in two years the freshman class failed to cop the annual frosh-soph Homecoming battles. Only a victory by the fairer sex of the yearlings averted a complete whitewash.

Eleven determined freshmen girls took the field on Saturday morning and out-scored the sophomore maidens 3-1. Headed by Captain Joan Lenhardt, the girls saved the honor of their class in accounting for the lone victory. The frosh scored twice in the first half and once more in the second to accomplish their feat.

Frosh Completely Equipped
The high-classed team of '54 was as well equipped as a varsity team with warm-up suits (resembling pajamas), a water boy, a trainer and a stretcher, complete with bearers. Coach Jane McCormick would take no chances with her squad.

On the male side of the ledger it was all the sophomores. The class of '53 notched a 13-6 triumph over the frosh in football. In the tug-of-war it was the sophs again in an easy win.

The first quarter of the football game was all even with neither team making a serious threat. It was the freshmen, however, who drew first blood midway through the second stanza. On a sleeper play, Fran Zimmerman tossed to Dick Bowker for a 15-yard touchdown. Clem Rosenberg's extra point attempt was blocked.

Five Opponents Join Indians In Defeat

October 21 was a bad day for Juniata footballers and a majority of their opponents as well. In addition to Haverford, who defeated the Indians, only Westminster was able to come out on the long end of the score.

Washington College was handed some of its own medicine when a strong Randolph-Macon team shattered the Indians' undefeated, unscathed streak with a smashing 13-0 triumph. Prior to this game, Washington had rolled up 98 points in three games while holding the enemy scoreless.

Westminster won their second game of the season when they defeated Grove City, another Indian opponent 19-0. The Titans now have a record of two wins, two losses and a tie.

Dickinson, next week's opponent, was defeated by Western Maryland, 29-13. It was the second time the Red Devils have been defeated this season, having lost to F & M 7-0.

Other games saw Alfred breeze over Hartwick 31-12 and Mansfield rout Lycoming 40-0. It may be noted that Lycoming, Parents Day rival, has yet to score in four games this season.

Susquehanna was not scheduled this week.

The scores:
Haverford 13, JUNIATA 7
Randolph-Macon 13, Washington 0.
Mansfield 40, Lycoming 0
Westminster 19, Grove City 0
Alfred 31, Hartwick 12
West. Maryland 29, Dickinson 13

Walker Scores For Sophs

The sophs came right back in the same period to even matters once again. After intercepting a pass on the frosh 20, they moved the ball to the eight. From there Jerry Walker scored on an end run and Dave Hackett's placement gave the sophs a 7-6 lead.

Frank Jarrett was on the receiving end of a twenty-yard touchdown pass in the third period that increased the soph margin to 13-6. Hackett's try for extra point was blocked. No further scoring developed and the sophs walked off with their close win which kept the frosh dinks in style.

High Scoring Golbrecht Paces Dickinson; JC Injuries Mount

Juniata travels to Carlisle tomorrow where they will enter the home stretch of the 1950 season against Dickinson College. In meeting the Red Devils, the Indians will encounter their toughest opposition of the current campaign.

HEAVYWEIGHT—Gene Shaffer is the only Indian player to top the 200-pound mark. Gene teams with Coy Hicks to solve Coach Smaltz' guard problems.

Paced by halfback Wilbur Golbrecht, the Lawmen have fielded a powerhouse this season, having lost only six from last year's squad which won four and lost two. Their record this season is all even with two wins and as many losses.

However, both losses were at the hands of much stronger schools, dropping 7-0 to undefeated Franklin and Marshall and 29-13 to an equally strong Western Maryland eleven. On the other side of the ledger, the Red Devils have trounced Grove City 25-0 and two weeks ago outclassed Ursinus 39-6.

Golbrecht Leads State Scorers

In Golbrecht, the Red Devils have the Keystone State's leading scorer. Four-game totals show the Dickinson ace has tallied eight touchdowns, good for 48 points and the lead among Pennsylvania colleges. But stopping the hard-running Golbrecht will be only one of the Indians' troubles.

Other sore spots for the Tribe are to be found in the persons of Johnny Mathewson, Paul Lyter and Gene Oyler, all three backfield veterans. Returning to the line are such stalwarts as Bill Olsen and Stew Harkness, two "sixty-minute" ends, and guard Dan Dombroskie.

Coach Bill Smaltz will have to reach deep into his bag of tricks in order to find the winning combination. At that, he will be hampered, once again, by several injuries. The 1950 squad is rapidly approaching last year's record number of injuries.

Chubby Returns to Lineup

Phil Chubby has been working out this week and will be ready for tomorrow's contest. Also expected to be available are Bob Smith and Lundy Loschiavo, who were injured in the Haverford game. But Red's Orley's bruised hip and the bad ankles of Joe DeB and Bob Wagoner are still doubtful. In addition, Coy Hicks has a badly bruised right leg which may hamper him in playing his usual good game.

With all the injuries, Coach Smaltz has been able to amply test his reserve power. Freshmen Fred Hamor and Tom McNeal broke into the lineup last Saturday and teamed with classmates Ed Gould, Don Patricelli and Ron Clapper in bolstering the Indians' attack. All are expected to aid the cause against Dickinson.

Tomorrow's contest shapes up as a series of question marks for the Indians. At their best they would be rated underdog to the Red Devils. But, Indiana and Purdue were rated underdog to Notre Dame, too!

Masque Comedy Opens Tonight, 8:15 P. M.

After the shortest preparation time yet granted to a Masque play by any College calendar committee, the comedy "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" is ready for presentation. Tonight at 8:15 a cast of 15 directed by Miss Lois Esalcy and led by Phyllis Link and Vera Compton will bring to Oller Hall stage a series of amusing adventures in the lives of the Misses Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, her ever-faithful friend.

The tale is not so much one of plot as it is of events. Cornelia feels that at 19, it's time she was "emancipated." Emily quite agrees. So off they go to Paris where Cornelia, ever the actress, hopes to take lessons from the famed French actor M. de la Croix. Emily tags along for the ride, hoping to get a dancing lesson in somewhere along the line.

One Thing After Another
Once aboard ship, it's just one thing after another. First there are the two boys who live up the hall. They have to be impressed. Then there's the two English

Since most of the townspeople and Parents Day visitors will be interested in attending "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" Saturday evening, students are asked to see it tonight. Activity tickets will be honored for student admission.

Tickets for the play will be on sale in the P. R. Office until 8 o'clock and then will be on sale in the lobby of Oller Hall tonight and Saturday.

who live next door. They have to be put up with. And there are the matters of the shoes and the man who fell overboard and even a case of murder. They have to be—well, come around tonight and see for yourself.

These bring our two misadventurers to Gay Paree and the second act.

Here they seek a good night's sleep, but instead find a bedful of heretofore missing bedbugs, very historical and very hungry. Here too they meet a man who combines window-washing with awakening late-sleepers and who has thereby developed a most interesting philosophy of life. He also develops some contention in the lives of Cornelia and Emily. (See Hearts—, Page 4)

Paper Sponsors Ad Program

The business staff of The Juniatian is sponsoring a program to make its readers more aware of the many varied products and services which its advertisers offer.

According to Jay Benedict, advertising manager, "We are asking students wherever possible to patronize those stores which advertise in the College newspaper. This should prove of mutual benefit—the student helping the merchant and the merchant helping your newspaper financially through advertisements."

Accordingly all Juniatian advertisers have been asked to display the blue and gold sticker which reads "This store is a Juniatian advertiser."

Town Ministers, Glick To Speak In Chapel

Chapel speaker for Monday will be Father Edward Peddrette, Rector of the Huntingdon Episcopal Church. Wednesday the speaker is to be the Rev. Marlin Bottiger, of the Pa. Industrial School.

Friday Prof. G. Wayne Glick will conduct a worship service prepared by the Student Christian Movement. The Chapel Choir will conclude this program with a number.

Today's speaker, A. Stauffer Curry, is executive secretary for the National Service Board of Religious Objectors.

Senate Passes New Rules

The Student Senate passed new dining hall announcement rules at their biweekly meeting Monday. These rules were set up to relieve diners from having to listen to details which are not of general college interest.

They are as follows:

All announcements must be typed or neatly printed.

Only two announcements will be read for any one event and only one of these will be read in one day.

List of individual names shall be excluded from announcements.

Must Concern Six Or More
Announcements concerning less than six individuals will not be read.

Announcements must be presented within ten minutes after the meal has started.

Notices may be presented to the head waitress or assistant head waitress or, if need be, to individual table waitresses.

Generally, there shall be only one reading of announcements at each meal.

Moreover, the president of the Senate or other Senate members will review announcements and consider emergencies which necessitate an exception to the rules.

Senate Approves Constitutions
At the Monday meeting the legislators also approved the constitutions of the Sociology and Cheerleaders Clubs.

The Senate acted on a petition presented by College music students asking that Swigart Hall hours be extended to 10 p. m. so that they would have more time to practice.

They recommended to the administration that Swigart Hall be kept open until 9:30 p. m. for a trial period of six weeks.

Looky Here!

'Bedraggled' Frosh Now 'Dignified'

—by Joyce Grove

Ah! At last the day of the dink end name tag is over. No longer do we see the freshman girls running around carrying wastebags and wearing duckfeet or pajamas, nor do we see the boys with those darling little red bows tied under their chins.

Yes, 'tis sad but 'tis true, the freshmen have now breathed a sigh of relief, so happy are they in the knowledge that finally they too can be dignified instead of bedraggled.

No More Suspense Tuesdays
Just think! No more suspense every Tuesday night at 9 p. m. (Now it will be only once a month.) You freshman can go on your merry way instead of sweating it out in your room while you wait nervously for the knock on your door and that voice that says, "Come with me!" Then the zero hour is over and you could almost cry with a broken heart because your roommate has been taken to court instead of you. Lucky!

The minute the roommate returns, the questions fly fast and furious. "What did they say? What did you have to do? Were you scared?" When the questions have subsided the story of the court is told . . .

The Scene Shifts
Silence pervades. There is an air of mystery and somberness all around. In the darkness you wait . . . and wait. Finally your name is called. This is it!

You are pounced on. Questions are fired from all sides. Before you can find your breath your sentence has been imposed and the court has passed on to the next delinquent.

As you leave you are absolutely horrified at the thought of what you have to do. How are you ever going to do chores on the steps of Students Hall one hour a week? Why you've never been a cheerleader in your life! And in front of all those people! Well, that's tough kid. You do it anyway.

Court Is Teacher
Actually, court teaches you many things. For example, how to collapse in a nice neat pile when your knees are shaking so badly they can't support you anymore and how not to be frightened by strange voices calling your name in the dark.

Initiation for the first time this year was organized and the sophomores really planned a bang-up program. Shoe-shines were free, all the girls were expecting rain. (See Frosh—, Page 4)

Parents Day Plans Include Game and Play

Parents will become honored guests of the College tomorrow for the annual celebration of Parents Day. Registration will begin at 9 a. m. in the Social Rooms.

Parents who sent their reply cards back to the College will receive complimentary meal cards and tickets to the game. Additional tickets, programs and football favors will be sold at the registration desk.

$30 In Prizes For Rooms

Room judging will be conducted at 10:30 a. m. Prizes amounting to $30 will be contributed by an alumnus of the college to be awarded to resident men and women students in the open house room contest. Five dollars will be presented to each of the occupants of the winning double room and single room in both the men's and women's dorms.

In awarding the prizes, the following will be taken into consideration: originality of room plan, neatness and attractiveness, adaptability to given physical limitations, and suitability and utility of values. Condition of the walls, floors and the kind of furniture presumably available when the students entered will not detract from the occupant's score.

Open House 11:30 to 1:30

Open House will be held in the women's and men's dorms from 11:30 to 1:30. Parents are also invited to visit the following classes tomorrow morning. Classes open for visitation will be made known at registration.

The new cabin will also be open to parents and guests tomorrow from 10 to 1:30. (See story on Page 4.)

Buffet luncheon will be served in the College Dining Hall from 11:45 to 1:00.

Game, Play on Program

Parents Day activities will continue with the Lyscoming football game at 2:30 and the Masque play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" at 8:15 that night. (See stories elsewhere in this issue.) At the game half-time speeches will be delivered by Dr. Clarence Pentz, representing the parents, and Vernon Showalter, representing the student body.

Assisting Harold Brumbaugh, chairman of Parents Day planning committee, has been Frances Matthias, Deans Melvin Rhodes and Edith Spencer, Ruth Kimble Bud Kreider, Lorena Hebrank and Elaine Mock.

'Hearts' Cast, Crew On WHUN

The cast and crews of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" were featured on Wednesday's "Juniata on the Air." Phil Norris scripted the show, which is heard every Wednesday from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

Also heard on this program was mood music from the "20s—the era of flappers, racoon coats and the Charleston. This was chosen since the Masque comedy is supposed to take place in 1923.

Spinning the records on "Turntable Terrace" next week will be Peggie Barrington on Tuesday and Fred Shamlian Thursday. Shamlian has taken over the Thursday spot regularly, but Tuesday is open to interested students who want to try playing disc jockey for a day, according to Betty Longwell, chairman of the radio committee.

JC Honor Graduate Now At Stanford U.

A summa cum laude graduate of Juniata college in 1943 is now employed in the physics research department of Stanford University. He is Dr. Edwin L. Hahn.

Dr. Hahn received his doctor degree from the University of Illinois for his assistance in the betatron development at that university.

Previously he spent a year at Purdue University and two years in the Navy as a radar instructor. He has also been doing research on nuclear induction.

While at Juniata Dr. Hahn was president of the senior class, vice president of the Chemistry Club, vice president of the orchestra and a member of the Honor Society.

2 Students To Attend UN Seminar

The American Friends Service Committee is sponsoring a United Nations Seminar for college students to be held in New York City next Thursday through Sunday. Jay Benedict and David Macmurtrei were selected by the IRC to attend this conference.

These delegates will join with about 33 other students from eastern colleges and universities in a seminar on "The Student, the United Nations and Peace."

The object of the seminar is to discuss the relationship of these three subjects and to encourage the building of a more secure and prosperous world.

Delegates will attend discussions at the Manhattan Towers Hotel, hear prominent speakers and visit Lake Success and Flushing Meadows to see the UN in action.

Book Auction Set For Next Week

The Pennsylvania Room of the College library will be converted into a temporary bookstall Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when the first book auction of the year gets under way.

Approximately 200 books in all fields of knowledge will be offered for sale to the students. Bidding on the volumes will begin with a minimum of five cents, the student placing his name and bid on the little marker inside each book. Books will be given to the highest bidder when the auction closes at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday. The Library uses proceeds from these annual auctions in purchasing such items as the new display letters, microfilm for the new Recordak and pictures for the loan collection.

Panel To Discuss Dating Tues. Eve

A JCA student panel will discuss dating etiquette Tuesday evening at 7:30 in Founders Chapel. All students are invited to attend.

The panel will consist of about ten members, including married couples from the Village. A suggestion box will be put up Sunday on Founders Porch and the panel would appreciate questions from interested students.

Lois Miller Chosen Alfarata Literary Ed.

Lois Miller has been chosen to serve as literary editor of the 1950 Alfarata. This was announced by Quayton Stottlemeyer, editor.

According to Stottlemeyer, "We have contacted one engraving firm and will, in the near future, confer with others. The dummy for the 1950 edition is about complete but is of course not final."

Freshman and sophomores will be photographed in groups as in previous years. The pictures will be taken starting the middle of next week.

Jones Wins Senate Post; Cook Elected Frosh Chm.

Bob Jones, a junior from Llewellyn, Pa., is the new Senate chairman of athletics.

Although the exact number is unavailable, approximately 80% of the student body voted in Tuesday's election.

John Cook has been elected temporary chairman of the freshman class. Elected to his committee were Gene Felix, Vince Loschiavo, Ray McHenry, Bob Rauch and Dagmar Silldorff.

Dickinson Hands Indians First Shutout In Two Years, 26 - 0; Mathewson's Passes Hurt Juniata

by Bob Myers

Dickinson College had little trouble rolling over a badly ripped Juniata eleven 26-0 at Carlisle last Saturday. In blanking the Indians, Dickinson performed a feat that had not been accomplished since the opening game of the 1948 season.

With the one-two punch of halfback Wilbur Gobrecht and quarterback Johnny Mathewson, the Red Devils were just too much for the injury-riddled Indians.

Dickinson moved 82 yards for the score the very first time they gained possession of the ball. Bowers broke off tackle from the DC 29 and got into the clear until Ed Gould, brilliant freshman find, hauled him down on the Juniata 21. Gobrecht then carried to the six on running plays and scored the first touchdown when Mathewson hit him with a pass in the end zone. Lyter missed the attempted conversion and Dickinson led 6-0.

Mathewson Pass Again Scores
Juniata was held for downs on the 15 and Mervin was forced to punt. Putting the ball into play on the JC 48, the Red Devils went to score again. Gobrecht gained 27 yards in three running plays and Mathewson climaxed the drive with a 15 yard pass to Harkness for Dickinson's second TD. Lyter missed for the second time and Dickinson led 12-0.

On an exchange of punts in the second quarter, an Indian kicked traveled only 19 yards before going out of bounds. With a first down on their own 42, the Devils drove 58 yards on only seven plays. Mathewson passed to Bowers on the ten, and Jim promptly romped the remaining distance for the score. Lashley converted to give the opponents a 19-0 half-time advantage.

With Ron Clapper, Dave LeFevre, and Eddie Gould playing brilliantly on the defense, it appeared as though the Indians had solved Mathewson's tricky ball-rolling and Gobrecht's running. However, with key backs such as "Lun-y" Loschiavo and Joe Dopal injured, the Juniata eleven had little hope of making a comeback.

JC Threatens In Third Period
The Indians most promising threat came in the third period when Dick Young returned the second half kick off to the 46. Rocco Ortenzio, substitute fullback, and Co-captain Phil Chabody carried to the Dickinson 19 yard line, but Juniata was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness to blot out their only serious offensive thrust.

The Devils sewed up the game in the last quarter when Tom McNeal was tackled on his own 38 trying a desperation pass on last own. Gobrecht took over the passing chores and tossed to Wilbur on the Juniata two. Gobrecht lost three when Tony Loschiavo smeared him on an attempted sweep, but Wilbur followed with sweep around right end for the final tally. Lashley

Fords, Crusaders Win, Washington Defeated

The element of defeat was a pressing factor among Juniata opponents for the second weekend in succession. In addition to Dickinson, JC conquerors, only two elevens were able to claim victories.

Haverford, a team which wasn't supposed to do much this year, defeated Hamilton in a breeze by 32-0. The win was number three for the surprising Fords, giving them a 3-1 record on the season, tops among enemy ranks.

Susquehanna, the other victor, squeezed past CCNY 7-6. In winning, the Crusaders gained sweet revenge for the drubbings handed them by the Gothamites over the past two years.

After taking their first games by shutouts, the Shoremen of Washington College proceeded to do an about face, losing their next two and being held scoreless. Drexel Tech, who incidentally is one of the states undefeated teams, turned the trick on the Marylanders last Saturday 21-0.

Lycorning, tomorrow's opponent, lost once again, this time to Wilkes 26-14. However, the Warriors really scored a moral victory since it marked the first time they have been able to cross the enemy goal line this season.

The scores:
Dickinson 26, JUNIATA 0
Haverford 32, Hamilton 0
Susquehanna 7, CCNY 0
Allegheny 21, Grove City 0
Geneva 18, Westminster 13
Wilkes 26, Lycorning 14
Cortland STC 37, Hartwick 0

again converted, and Dickinson emerged the victors 26-0.

Juniata Opens Gridiron Relations With Lycorning College Tomorrow In Annual Parents Day Classic

The Warriors of Lycorning and the Indians of Juniata will meet on the gridiron for the first time tomorrow in the annual Parent's Day game. These two rivals have met before in both basketball and baseball, but this is the initial football contest.

A glance at the records show the Lycorning griders are having a dismal season. They have yet to win after five games and have scored only 14 points all season. However, those 14 point were scored against a strong Wilkes College team last Saturday. If this is an index to progress, the Indians may be in for a surprise.

Coach Vince Chimento, now in his first season at Williamsport, stepped into a tough assignment last September. Since Lycorning was inaugurated as a four-year college only two years ago, football is still in the infant stage of development. However, Chimento has worked wonders, and despite their record, the Warriors are steadily improving.

Both Teams Injury Riddled

To make matters worse, the Billporters have been further hampered by injuries. Mike Rippe, 6 foot-200 pound tackle, has already been lost for the season. Fullback George Bellak was kept out of last week's game because of injuries but may be ready for tomorrow. Bellak is 6 foot, weighs 190 pounds and has been the sparkplug of the Warrior offense.

Juniata has also had more than their share of injuries and the outcome of tomorrow's game may well depend on this fact. Phil Chabody made a fine showing in his return to the lineup last week and Bob Wagoner will be back in shape for tomorrow.

Mike Mervis got a nifty cut over his eye at D'son, but will probably be ready tomorrow. However, Joe Dopal, Reds' O-line, Joe Thomasberger, Lundy Loschiavo and Coy Hicks are all question marks. Hicks and Dopal were both re-injured in last week's game, while none of the others saw action.

Clapper, Gould and LeFevre Star

On the brighter side last week was the defensive showing of Ed Gould, Dave LeFevre and Ron Clapper. On numerous occasions one of the aforementioned broke through the enemy defense to trap a Red Devil behind scrimmage. It was this defensive play which kept the Indians as much in the game as they were.

Both schools are having building years this year. Both teams have been riddled by injuries. Since the won-lost records of each are similar, tomorrow's battle should be a corker.

As an added feature for tomorrow's game, Lycorning College will bring their band, under the direction of James Shaffer, to Huntingdon to entertain at the halftime.

18 Candidates Drill For Basketball Opener

Basketball candidates are drilling out their second week of drills in preparation for their December 2 opener against Lycorning College. Eighteen men have been reporting for regular practice under Doc Greene, who begins his second season at the helm of JC cagers.

Returning from last year's varsity are Ray Korody, Dave Bayer, Jack Dickey and Leo Kuhn, while Dave Hackett, George Newcombe, Fran Townsend and Jerry Walker represent last year's JV's. New faces include Karl Park and Tommy Green, transfer juniors, and the following freshmen: John Cook, Ed Feldkircher, Harry Kochlein, "Bud" Mills, Bob Rauch, Bob Simon, Ed Weirauch and Fran Zimmerman.

The end of football season will add several additional members to the squad. With the Lycorning opener only two weeks after the end of football season, Doc Greene will be forced to work overtime in preparation.

"Every position is wide open" commented Coach Greene. "We have just as tough a schedule as last year and will have to fight hard for every game."

Regular sessions will continue each afternoon, beginning at 3:30 p. m. until the close of football season. A new practice schedule will have to be arranged at that time in order to accommodate the junior varsity.

Open House Planned Tomorrow at the Cabin

BEFORE—Here is the cabin as it appeared in April from the rear. Student workers had just begun putting up the siding and applying the roofing materials. Half the flooring was installed. "The boys are still doing all the work," Dave Kennedy said, "but the girls' turn will come."

AFTER—Siding, roofing and flooring are finished and the girls have gotten their licks in with paint brushes, hammers and blooms. This front view taken Monday shows a nearly completed cabin awaiting only a fireplace, minor carpentry, and of course a pair of front steps.

"Open House will be held at the College cabin tomorrow for students, their parents and other friends of Juniata," according to Don Robinson, president of the Outing Club. This organization has sponsored the construction of the cabin and is arranging the details of the open house.

For the benefit of those unable to arrange their own transportation to the cabin, which is located 1 1/2 miles from the campus, the Outing Club has arranged for a bus to leave every 45 minutes between 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. from the front of Founders.

Route Maps Will Be Available
A starting depot for the tour will be set up on Founders' porch. Here persons with cars may obtain maps showing the route to the cabin. Here also, those without transportation may register.

Visitors to the cabin will be shown through the student-constructed building and will have a chance to see a portion of the 23 acres of land leased to the College for this purpose by Emory Zook. Jack Baldridge, Club treasurer reports, "There will also be refreshments."

The purpose of this open house says Club vice-president Art Shriver, is "to show parents and students that this thing they have been hearing about for the past six months is a real and useful possession, and not some wild dream."

College, Student Backed

He emphasizes, however, that "the cabin is not only for the Outing Club. It has been backed by the resources of Juniata College and the energies of the student body. When entirely completed, the cabin may also be used as another campus club."

Current construction plans call for the addition of a 15' by 20' kitchen in the rear "in the very near future," the addition of a fireplace built around a heater, and later, 15' by 16' dorms to the left and right.

First use of the cabin was Oct. 25 when the Club held a party there. Here the permanent name of To-Kennedy was selected. Suggested by Dean J. Melvin Rhodes, it comes from an Indian-type yell written by Juan Miranda in about 1906 and popular for many years at Juniata.

It All Began In January

According to Bob Lowry, one of the original proponents of the idea, and a report filed by Club pres. Robinson, the Cabin Story begins in January of this year. Lowry, Dave Kennedy and Rex Hershberger, all '50, had just returned from a between-semester trip to Canada. It was then they proposed to themselves—and shortly, to Pres. Calvert Ellis and his assistant, Harold Brumbaugh—the idea of building a cabin near the College.

Feb. 23, 1950 the idea was proposed to the Outing Club, then just an infant. A search for suitable land was made, culminating in the acquisition of a 99 year lease at $1 a year from Emory Zook with the possibility of it becoming College property in time.

Progress By Spring

By the end of Spring vacation last year, the cabin had progressed to the stage shown in the picture to the left above. This in large measure was due to the fact that a number of students and faculty stayed over during vacation to work on the project.

Since then, students have spent weekends and afternoons at the cabin site painting, laying flooring and putting on roofing. Principal difficulty from the beginning has been in obtaining transportation to and from the cabin site for these workers.

Frosh—

and a new style was set with the wearing of clothing inside out and backwards.

In The Gym, Action

Over in the gym on Friday night of initiation, action was the keynote. The freshman boys got into shape for their football game the next day by doing calisthenics. There were three advantages to this. They either lost weight, gained muscles or found themselves plain tired. After this, they were soundly paddled. Ouch! Home was never like this!

Now that the dinks have been worn an extra week and freshman initiation is all over for another year, we hear the ever popular "Wait 'till next year!" We're waiting.

Alarm Repair Not Needed

According to Paul Friend, business manager of the College, it is not necessary to repair the Lodge fire-alarm system since fire regulations do not require such a system in a one-story building.

However, Mr. Friend said that the fire extinguishers have been filled—"Where we could find them."

Future Teachers Invite Penn State FTA Officers To Meeting Here Fri.

by Dottie Hummer

Tomorrow our parents will be our guests for the annual Parent's Day festivities. Next week's celebration will include mid-term exams and hazy minds. Perhaps all this can account for brevity of this week's club news.

Each member is requested to bring his own prints to the Camera Club meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. These prints will be analyzed, pointing out their good and bad points. Slides will also be shown.

The WAA has scheduled a short business meeting for that same evening. A movie, originally scheduled for that date, will be shown November 16.

The first meeting of the FTA will be held next Friday at 7 p. m. An invitation has been extended to the Penn State FTA officers to attend this meeting and relate some of the important aspects of their organization. The second part of the program will feature a movie.

A discussion of III John will be led by Whitey Schaffner at the IVCF meeting Thursday night. The meeting will be held in the Women's Day Student Room at 7 p. m.

With all these activities to prepare for, do you mind if I catch a few winks of sleep while the catching is still good?

Not to be forgotten is the reason for this whole Parisian adventure, M. de la Croix, who comes into the picture about this point. His visit puts the drama-struck Cornelia so high in the clouds that she overlooks his obvious interest in her father, the famous American actor, Otis Skinner.

And so—does that villain de la Croix get his due? Will Cornelia ever become a famous actress? Were the boys impressed enough in act one to come back for act two? 12 From JC At State For Conf.

Twelve representatives from Juniata will attend a conference at State College on "Religious Ideals and Political Affairs" sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association.

Those attending the meeting are Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby, Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Jack Ulsch, Don Treese, Jack Rothenberger, Don Bracken, Lois Miller, Mary Lou McKee, Margie Allemen and two others named by Prof. Glick.

Approximately 75 delegates from the University of Pittsburgh, Bucknell University, West Virginia University, Carnegie Tech, Penn State and Juniata are expected to attend the conference.

Prominent speakers at the conference include Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of The Pennsylvania State College, Dr. Liston Pope, Dean of the Yale Divinity School and Kermit Eby, associate professor at the University of Chicago. Penn State faculty members will serve as resource leaders.

Panel Discusses Dating Problems

The JCA discussion on dating etiquette which was held Tuesday night was a success, according to Mary Lou McKee, chairman of the JCA personal campus affairs committee. "Many problems were hashed over, and helpful suggestions were made," she said.

Prof. G. Wayne Glick acted as moderator for the discussion, while Jo Ann Barksdale presented an opening poem. Panel members included the following: Sarah Keller, Lois Miller, Jo Pentz, Art Allen, Phil Norris and Jack Rothenberger.

Approximately 40 students attended the meeting. Some of the questions brought before the panel were: what boys think of as the ideal girl and vice versa, the problems of college marriages and going steady.

Winners Of Room Contest Listed

Winners in the Parents Day open house room contest were the following:

Cloister—double room, first prize, Jack Dickey and Dale Zimmerman; honorable mention, Charles Redenberger and Clair Schaffner.

Lodge—single room, first prize, Gerald Heinicke.

Women's dorm—double room, first prize, Sylvia Ann Hartman and Audrey Weber, honorable mention, Marjorie Allemen and Joan Weaver; single room, first prize, Priscilla Bartell.

Prizes amounted to $10 for each winning double room and $5 for single rooms for a total of $30 which was contributed by an alumnus of the College.

Judges were the Rev. Gilbert Bennett, Miss Betty Fleck, Mr. Bernard Snyder, Mrs. Paul Friend, Mrs. Jack Brammer, Mrs. Robert Simpson, all of Huntingdon, Mrs. Robert Litzinger, Alexandria, and Mr. W. W. Newman, Philadelphia.

It was the largest Parents Day crowd in some years, according to figures released by the Public Relations office.

Registrations lists show that 409 parents were on the campus this year, as compared to 341 last year and 354 in 1948.

Child Lit Class To Observe Book Week

National Book Week is being observed November 12 to 18. The Children's Literature class, composed of elementary education majors, are designing displays of children's literature, which will include more than $30 worth of new books.

These books will be on display in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House and the Social Rooms. Book jackets can be seen in Oller Hall, the library and Millers' Hardware Store.

Director, Cast, Crew Praised For Latest Masque Play

by Jo Pentz

All Aboard! With a background of chain clanks and fog horns, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" set sail last Friday and Saturday nights to fill many rain-chilled people with warmth and laughter.

Directed by Miss Lois Esaley, the play was excellent proof of her ability as a dramatic instructor. The leads, Phyllis Link and Vera Compton, portrayed two unique personalities who kept one jump ahead of their audience at all times.

Phyllis Link took over a very difficult part when she was cast as Miss Skinner. Acting within acting was necessary to keep the character of this unusual 19 year old always before the audience. The success with which she played this part assures the fact that she will be seen on the stage many more times before she leaves Juniata.

Kimbrough—What Next?

Vera Compton as Emily Kimbrough, excitable and fun loving, also made herself at home in the hearts of her audience. Her mad escapades kept everyone wondering what she would do next and sighing at what she had already done.

Ex-Pres. Of NEA To Speak Dec. 1

Dr. Willis Sutton

Dr. Willis Sutton, one of the nation's foremost public school educators, will address a public meeting in Oller Hall Dec. 1, under the sponsorship of the Juniata FTA and the Huntingdon county and borough branches of the Pa. State Educational Association.

His lecture will be entitled "Education—the Foundation of Business."

A former president of the National Education Association, Dr. Sutton was engaged by the Reader's Digest as guest lecturer to speak at teachers' meetings throughout the nation.

A former president of the National Education Association and superintendent of the Atlanta, Ga., public schools, he was in this area about 10 years ago to speak at the county institute.

Parking Lot Nearly Done

Enlarging of the parking lot by Oller Hall has been virtually completed. However, limestone screening will be added "maybe next month, maybe next Spring," according to College business manager Paul Friend.

Formwalt and Evelyn Clarke, bothersome though they were, won the applause of all. Wilfred Norris as M. de la Croix was a villain above all villains. He looked and played the part excellently, showing his ability to act and his fluency in the French language.

Brumbaugh's Entrance Striking
Needless to say, Betti Brumbaugh's entrance in the third act was one of the most striking of the whole play. Betti, Clair Schaffner and Judy Shanabrook should all three be congratulated for their convincing acting. They fit their parts, and gave added interest to the whole atmosphere of the play.

Too often the people behind the scenes of these productions fail to receive the praise which benefits them. The scenery showed long hard work and the properties, costumes and make-up contributed their full share to the success of the play.

To all concerned we give our highest praise and hearty thanks for an evening of complete enjoyment. Congratulations to director, cast and crew.

New Movie Projector Purchased

Juniata College has purchased a new Bell & Howell Filmoarc movie projector complete with twin speaker system.

Authorized several weeks ago by the Board of Trustees of the College, this purchase represents an expenditure of $2000.

The machine, model no. 140-R, projects 16mm film. It has a high-intensity electric arc with a motor-driven carbon feed which insures uniform illumination. The light output is approximately 1300 lumens.

Two B & H high-fidelity, heavy-duty permanent magnet, dynamic speakers are included with the equipment. They give a frequency range from 50 to 7000 cycles.

The movie equipment, which is being installed by the James Lett Co., Harrisburg, will be used in the showing of the film tomorrow night. (See story below.) Since the College could not purchase dual machinery, several repairs will be necessary in the feature film tomorrow.

However, this temporary inconvenience will be more than offset by the brilliant, sharp pictures which the new equipment will provide.

Film On Agenda For Sat. Night

The social committee will present the movie "Up in Central Park" tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall. This will initiate the newly purchased Filmoarc motion picture projector.

"Up in Central Park" is the story of Boss Tweed in a Currier and Ives setting. A colleen (Deanna Durbin), just off the boat from Ireland, flirts with a muckraker (propagandist) from the New York Times played by Dick Haymes. Her illiterate father fattens zoo pheasants for the table of Boss Tweed (Vincent Price).

When rake Tweed entices the colleen down to an intimate supper, papa tags along and spoils everything. However, it all comes out right in the end.

The movie is based on a hit Sigmund Romberg musical play which played on Broadway in 1945. Book and lyrics were written by Herbert and Dorothy Fields.

P. G. Bhagat To Speak In Chapel

An elder of the Church of the Brethren who is also a native of India will be the Chapel speaker next Friday. He is P. G. Bhagat.

Elder Bhagat will be here Wednesday through Saturday and will talk with students interested in missions. Friday evening he will meet with the Brethren Student Fellowship in the basement of the Stone Church.

He is traveling with Wendell Flory, recruiting secretary of the Foreign Missions Commission of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren.

Chapel speaker this Monday will be Dean Morley Mays. Wednesday it will be the Rev. John Martin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Belleville.

Trip To Pittsburgh For Opera Planned

Students interested in a proposed trip to Pittsburgh Saturday, Dec. 2, to witness a performance of Mozart's opera "The Marriage of Figaro" are asked by Prof. Donald Johnson to sign the paper posted on Founders bulletin board by this weekend.

Estimated expenses are bus (round trip), $4.50; opera ticket, $3.90; meal, about $1.00. If less than 25 persons sign up, the sponsors of the trip say they "may try to recruit private cars."

Tentative plans call for the bus to leave here at 12:45 p. m. and to return after the performance. Some sight-seeing will be included before supper.

Letter Is Course Topic Monday
Dean Melvin Rhodes' job course for seniors will continue Monday night with the topic, "How to Write a Successful Application Letter."

Hurray For The Projector

It's new, it's different, it's the new Juniata College Bell & Howell Filmoare movie projector with the sharpest, brightest picture ever!

Yes, we are enthusiastic about the new $2000 movie projector that the Board of Trustees has authorized for Oller Hall. This equipment which was tested here last Spring promises to put an end to our movie illumination and sound problems.

On behalf of the student body we thank the Trustees for this valuable and costly addition to the College equipment. And we thank President Ellis, Mr. Friend and Prof. Yoder for their thought and planning in this connection.

Thank you Trustees and administrators, we are sure that this equipment will prove invaluable in the educational and recreational life here at Juniata.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Anyone sitting in a public gathering, particularly in a Juniata chapel service, cannot help but be disturbed very frequently by the almost incessant coughing. But a few realize that this cough may lead to the coffin and usually for the other fellow.

2/3 of Coughing Not Needed
Doctors tell us that two-thirds of all coughing is absolutely unnecessary and that most coughing can be inhibited. Many of us cough only because we heard some one else cough; we seem to do it to be sociable.

Of course, inhibiting a cough requires self control. We are told that many soldiers when captured by an enemy have saved their lives by feigning death. To do this requires absolute immobility even with very urgent impulses which we ordinarily think we cannot inhibit.

We Don't Slap Our Neighbor
Most of us do not realize the seriousness of spreading germs by coughing and sneezing. We are too civilized to slap our neighbor in the face, yet we will spread germs all about him without any attempt to protect him from a disease that will cause him much discomfort and frequently loss of time from work.

A few suggestions: first, prevent a cough if at all possible; second, use tissues to prevent the spread of germs when we do cough or sneeze. A mucous crusted handkerchief is both foul and dangerous. Disposable tissues are far more sanitary.

Respectfully,
Charles L. Rowland

Mid Semester-- Time To Check

Here it is mid-semester and a good time to stop and take inventory.

Mid-semester grades will give us an idea of the quality and quantity of work we are doing in our courses.

These marks should be regarded as guideposts. Depending upon whether they are high or low, they may serve as a source of satisfaction or as a challenge to do better during the second half of the semester.

Our marks may indicate a trend towards high or low grades. Whatever the case, we should remember that it is up to us whether this trend shall be continued or whether it shall be reversed.

Should Evaluate Our Progress

We should evaluate our progress in light of these grades and set new goals and objectives. We should consider whether we are maintaining the proper balance of studies and extra-curricular activities. Studies should always come first. We should take on only as many extra-curricular and outside activities as we can handle well—doing full justice to our abilities as students. Extra-curricular activities should be used as a supplement to the maturing process of our studies.

Consider Personal Development

Finally, in our collegiate self-criticism we should consider our development as sympathetic, mature persons. Here we should remember that marks are not the only criterion for progress. Well chosen and carefully balanced extra-curricular activities and the associations with other students may broaden our interests and develop the mature individual.

A consideration of the significance of the mid-semester grade, the balancing of studies and extra-curricular activities with a proper emphasis and an evaluation of our personal and social development will help us to get more out of College life.

A Book Review....

The Mare's Nest

...by Jo Pentz

An unusual and intriguing story winds its way through the pages of a first novel, "The Mare's Nest," by the Huntingdon-born son of a Juniata graduate, Paul Griffith. In a small Arizona town in the middle of the "badlands," the lives and characters of several unusual people unfold.

Molly Shaver, old, but still passionate of her family and her town, is the main character. Like the other characters, she has had a frustrated love life, but unlike the others she has resolved into a rather normal, although gregarious personality.

"Fantastically Unreal" The plot of the book appears fantastically unreal in most places. Although normality need not always be present in a story, a slight resemblance to the normal is usually better understood.

In reviewing Mr. Griffith's book, the New York Times makes these two comments, one concerning plot, the other concerning the writer's ability: "In Mr. Griffith's badlands even a stone is a frustrated firecracker... In this bizarre account of painful, pathetic passions, Mr. Griffith gives vivid, sustained proof of his creative ability."

TOMMY

This week the Laurel Wreath is presented to the football team for their magnificent portrayal of sportsmanship on the mud flats at Juniata.

Naomi Kulp has been scurrying from the dining hall early to meet her beau, The Chairman of the campus Smile Department, is Betti Brumbaugh. Tommy lists Diane Bramhall and Ruth March as the leading lasses of the week.

Since every home is usually equipped with a bathtub baritone, Juniata can be proud of Charles Redenberger and Whitley Shaffner, "The Cloister Canaries."

It seems that as soon as boy catches girl, they are forgotten and placed in the hall of fame of forgotten possibilities. Here are a few couples who are still going strong, but never mentioned. Bob Folk is still Abel to pal around with Janie, "G. G." Gehman and Bob Rhodes, and Harold Bowser and Betty Hyre—this being a newly formed partnership.

In reference to the quotation in front of the Stone Church about voting: There could be a lot of 'good' votes polled if colleges would allow eligible voters time off, regardless how insignificant one vote may be.

Elsie Wilson showed Mike Pestuszek her room on Parents Day, and then escorted him to the pre-football dinner in the dining hall. It was unusual watching everyone balance the milk on one knee and the food on the other.

After seeing the dresses that were worn by Vera Compton and Phyllis Link in our recent successful comedy, I wonder if it is really worthwhile recalling the good old days. Congratulations to Miss Esley; also the play production class, which played a great part in presenting the play.

When Nancy Meyers and Dottie Humphries visited the men's room, they were overwhelmed at the cleanliness of the rooms compared to the girls' dorm. Maybe it's just one of those little items proving women to be the weaker sex.

It's high time I fly.

Juniata Meets GC Seeking Third Win; Mervis Sidelined

With a smashing Parents Day victory behind them, Juniata's rejuvenated Indians will depart for Grove City this afternoon for their final test away from College Field. The Braves will be seeking their third success of the season in this, their seventh battle.

Anyone in the dressing room after last week's battle had little trouble in recognizing the upsurge in the spirit of the Juniata team. This was their reward after a series of heartbreaking defeats. And they could not have picked a better time for their win, following as it did, the 0-26 loss to Dickinson. As Coach Bill Snaltz put it, after being carried from the field in the arms of the jubilant team, "It sure is a wonderful feeling."

Mervis Lost Via Injury

The only sad note to the whole day was the injury to Mike Mervis. The Mauler's knee was badly twisted in the second period and remains in a painful condition. Mervis will be lost to the Indians for tomorrow's contest and is a doubtful starter against Washington next week.

The remainder of the squad is slowly coming back to normal, at least as far as injuries are concerned. Red's Orler saw action in the passing and punting departments last week and may be ready for running chores tomorrow. Joe Thomasberger and Joe Dohal may also be ready, along with end John Thomas.

Grovers Have Yet To Win

Meanwhile, at Grove City, the charges of Coach Jim Loveless have yet to claim a victory. In fact, the Grovers have dented the scoring column in only one of their six defeats. The Grovers have undergone a tremendous rebuilding program this season after losing all but six from last year's squad.

Though pre-game statistics probably give Juniata the edge, the Grovers can be counted upon to put up a stiff battle. The Indians have a two-fold purpose for victory in tomorrow's game. First they will be seeking revenge for the 13-6 setback GC handed them last year, and secondly, they have their eyes set on a .500 average for 1950 and a win tomorrow will go a long way toward that goal.

DEFENSIVE HALFBACK—One of the newest additions to the Juniata defensive backfield is Herry Campbell. After playing some on offense at Dickinson he came into his own against Lycoming by intercepting a Ralph Johns' pass and slogging 57 yards for the Indians' second TD.

Les Miserables, Aces Win In I-M Bowling

The Intra-Mural Bowling League got into operation last Friday with the scheduling of two matches. Les Miserables under Jack Malenke took up where they left off last year by sweeping the No-Names of Carole Hagen 4-0 by more than 500 pins.

Bob Asan's Aces took three of the four points from Bob Muchoney's Sneaks by winning the first two games handily. The Sneaks made a strong bid to gain a split by taking the third game by 143 pins, but this still left them short of the split by 15 pins.

The high single and triple went to Ed Marschka of Les Miserables with scores of 187 and 479 respectively. Carole Hagen led the girls with scores of 110 and 310.

The whole league moves into operation tonight with the scheduled being:

6:45—Sliders vs Trojans
Strikeettes vs NoNames
8:45—Les Miserables vs Aces
Faculty vs. Sneaks

Washington Regains Winning Stride But Other Opponents Lose

Washington College of Maryland was the only Indian opponent to match the Juniata win of last Saturday. Five of the opponents went down to defeats in which the margins ranged from one point all the way up to 59.

After losing two games in which they failed to score, the Shoremen of Washington College broke loose and ran up 32 points against Hampton-Sydney. Hampton-Sydney, with 27 points, gave Washington its closest battle in which the men of Coach Dominic Menteo emerged the victors.

Grove City's Grovers are having a hard time of it this year. In five games played before they met Thiel the Grovers had scored only six points. They didn't add to their total Saturday and they certainly didn't hold Thiel down. The undefeated Tomcats really poured it on and when the smoke had cleared the score read 58-0 against Grove City.

Dickinson, victor over Juniata by 26 points, went down to a 7-6 defeat at the hands of the Gettysburg Bullets. Extra points seem hard to get for the Red Devils and this missed point cost them the tie game.

Also meeting with defeat last week were Westminster, Hartwick and Haverford. Susquehanna, resting for their Homecoming game against Haverford, did not play Saturday.

The scores:

JUNIATA 33, Lycoming 0
Washington 32, Hampton-Sydney 27
Thiel 58, Grove City 0
Washburn 12, Westminster 0
Brookport 57, Hartwick 0
Gettysburg 7, Dickinson 6

Long Runs By Phil Chabody And Harry Campbell Feature JC Win

by Bob Myers

The Juniata Indians celebrated Parents Day by sloshing their way to a 33-0 victory over Lycoming at College Field last Saturday. Before a near capacity crowd of shelter seeking fans, Juniata scored its second victory in six starts in a steady downpour that lasted the entire game and reached torrential proportions during the second quarter of play.

Juniata got its first break when Don Brumbaugh blocked Hamm's punt and Tony Segalovich recovered on the Lycoming 32. With first down on the eight yard line after several tries by Mervis and Co-captain Phil Chabody, Mervis hit for three and then the final five yards for the score. Phil Bartola's conversion went wide to the left and the Indians led 6-0.

Lycoming seemed to be trudging through the mud with considerable consistency late in the first quarter. Then Harry Campbell intercepted Foster's pass on his own 43 and ran 57 yards for a touchdown. Bartola made good the conversion and Juniata's lead grew to 13-0. Juniata's third score, in the second period of play, was just as dynamic as the second.

Chabody Runs 69 To Score

After taking the ball on their own 20 after a punt, the Indians used four downs to make it first down on the 31 yard line. From here Chabody sliced off-tackle on the 31, received a key block from Fred Hemor on his own 45 and slopped right down the middle of the field for 69 yards and six points. Bartola's conversion gave the Indians a 20-0 halftime lead.

Midway through the third period, Harry Campbell retrieved a Lycoming fumble on the LC 46. On third down Fred Hemor took off on a deep reverse, got a nice block from Co-captain Coy Hicks and galloped 21 yards to the visitor's 30 yard line. Red's Orler, whose activity had been confined to punting, passed to Bob Wagoner on the 11 yard stripe. Wagoner made a brilliant catch with defenders hanging all over him. On first down Rocco Ortenzo snatched off tackle and went over to score. Bartola's conversion was blocked, but Juniata went ahead 26-0.

Lycoming Threatens In Third

Lycoming's most serious threat came in the last quarter when George Bellak cut over left tackle, reversed his field and streaked down the sidelines. Harry Campbell made a diving try on the 25 yard line but Bellak kept his feet until he stumbled and fell on the six. Two plays netted nothing and Juniata recovered a fumble on the next play to end the threat.

The Indians last score of the game came when, with fourth down and seven on the 21 yard line, Don Patricelli took a reverse to the eight. Two penalties and a running play that failed moved the Indians back to the 20. From here, Tom McNeal pitched to Lundy Loschiavo in the left flat and the latter evaded no less than three tacklers on his jaunt into the end zone. Bartola kicked the point and Juniata won the game 33-0. It was the Indians' most one-sided victory since they beat the New York Aggies 66-0 in 1938.

Trojans Sweep I-M Football Crown

The Trojans of Ray Korody went through the second half of the Intra-Mural football schedule undefeated and thus swept both halves of the split season. The Champs, adding this half's five wins to those of the first half, ended with an overall record of 10 wins and no defeats.

With Earl Detrick, Jack Dickey and Jerry Walker doing most of the scoring, the Trojans had too much class for the rest of the league. In the last two games the scores showed the Trojans trouncing the Bruins 35-0 and the Whiz Kids 35-9. This last game was played in the rain and mud of Wednesday.

Captain Ray Korody's championship squad also included: Art Allen, Karl Christner, Jack Mid-dour, Bob Rhodes and Ray Test.

Teachers Describe Adventures Abroad Tell Of Summer Trip To Europe

by Carol Cook

It all began June 26. Miss Nory Edwards, Miss Helen Fisher and Miss Mildred Tausch carried their suitcases from the Quebec dock onto the S. S. Volendam, a student boat sponsored by the National Student Association of America and the Netherlands Students Bureau.

Ten days later their ship reached Rotterdam. The Prince Consort of Holland was on dock there to greet the seafaring trio and the American and Canadian students. They, in return, gave him a sweat shirt covered with the names of Canadian and American colleges and universities, including Juniata.

Bicycles, Flowers and Herring. "Holland," Miss Fisher remarks, "is a land of bicycles, flowers and herring (the national food). While in this bicycle-flower-herring area, the trio attended a Monte Carlo ballet in an open air theater and went swimming in the North Sea.

They also met two Dutch girls who, according to Miss Tausch, knew more popular American songs than we did. In their Dutch hit parade, top spots were "Music, Music, Music" and "Forever and Ever."

From the flat Dutch lands the three excursionists went by train to Belgium, and after four days touring there, including a visit to Ghent, they moved on to Western Germany.

In Western Germany, where 15 days were spent sightseeing, the globe-trotters sailed up the Rhine, visiting the ninth century Marksburg castle and the beautiful health resort, "Boppard" (Pearl of the Rhine.) They attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau, viewed the "badly bombed" city of Cologne, traveled by bus to the Black Forest, and visited the gaudy castle of "The Mad King" built by Louis II.

Prison An Honor Apparently While in Heidelberg they saw the prison where university students were placed in solitary confinement on a bread-and-water diet for breaking university rules. Apparently it was considered an honor to mark time in this place, for many students proudly wrote their names on the walls. Miss Tausch said they noticed a number of American names on these walls.

Switzerland was the next stop. In Zurich the three travelers attended the International Association of University Women conference at which approximately 600 women representing 20 countries were present.

While in this mountain country,

Miss Glenora Edwards

Miss Mildred Tausch

the three prospective mountain climbers purchased walking sticks, and "climbed" three mountains—by cog train.

No Popcorn At European Circus Here they saw their first European circus. "It was not like any other circus," Miss Fisher observed. No popcorn, or peanuts for the elephants, or candied apples; but beer, good ham sandwiches and hard candy.

While visiting Lucerne, a little 14th century town with covered bridges and red gabled roofs, the trio heard a concert given by Nathan Milstein. "At concerts here," Miss Tausch said, "the people stomp their feet to show their approval, rather than applauding as we do."

In Paris the voyagers went to the opera, shopped for gloves and perfume, and refrained from climbing the Eiffel Tower because of its high degree of swayability.

After a week of eye-gazing in France and a ride on a double decker train, the traveling trio crossed the English Channel to Dover and the White Cliffs. "The White Cliffs weren't as white as we expected them to be," Miss Edwards said, "but they were beautiful."

Ice Cream In Intermission The three sipped their first "real English" tea while on the train from Dover to London. In London they saw three plays and followed another English custom, that of drinking coffee, or tea, and eating ice cream served at their seats during intermission.

However, they did not care much for English food, particularly the breakfasts. They had become accustomed to the Continental breakfast of coffee, hot chocolate, or tea and hard rolls with butter and jam, and failed to appreciate a British breakfast of baked beans on toast, grilled tomatoes and fried potatoes. They had enjoyed, though, the French food, and the pastries and chocolate of Switzerland.

One of the most colorful spectacles which they saw in London was the changing of the Palace guard. Among the most impressive sights seen on the whole tour six sights seen on the whole tour illuminated at night by huge floodlights.

After seeing England "through the rain," the missus Edwards, Fisher and Tausch returned to their European starting point, Rotterdam, and then home.

Weekend Outing Begins Tomorrow; Work And Fun Promised For All

by Dottie Hummer

The Outing Club is holding their first weekend outing. Beginning tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. the group will leave for the cabin to begin a weekend of work, hikes, cook-outs and "a lot of fun". By Sunday afternoon, it is hoped that the excavating for the new cabin will be completed and a road built to the river.

ALUMNI NOTES

To Some—Rings . . .

Janie Carson, ex '52, announced her engagement to Bart Sloane Sept. 15.

Shirley Smith, '49, has announced her engagement to Don Sease, '50. Shirley is teaching second grade in Logan School, Tyrone, while Don is attending Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh.

Carolyn Hess, '49, is making plans for having here-comes-the-bride music played in the Stone Church, Huntingdon, Nov. 23, when she will be married to Harry Frye, '50.

To Others—A Mate . . .

A knot-tying JC couple were Donna Huston, ex '52, and Bill Cheslock, '50, married in Harrisburg, June 20.

Lucy Snyder, ex '52, spoke "I do" vows with Ken Stover on Oct. 5.

And Then—Offspring!

A son, Keith Richard, was born to Vera Davis, '48 and Harry Ball, '49, Oct. 26, 1950.

Another potential JC student, Steven Martin, was born Sept. 22, 1950. He is the son of alumnus "Bud" Lehner, '48.

Jean, daughter of Pat Beale, '49, and Chick Dillen, '50, was born June 11.

So Off To Work Or School

Dave Kennedy, '50, is taking graduate studies in Group Work Administration at George Williams College, Chicago.

John Henderson, '49, working at Manchester College, Manchester, Indiana, has charge of housing men students both on and off campus, along with other duties.

A member of the 1950 graduating class, Louise Cray is teaching now in the West Carroll Township schools at Bakerton and St. Benedict.

Doing graduate work in endocrinology at Ohio State University is Vince DeFeo, a JC sheepskin receiver in 1949.

Peter Mayer, '50, now in Vienna, Austria plans to enter the Vienna Institute for graduate work in chemistry.

Or A Job With Uncle Sam

Tom Hoover, ex '51, and Bob Appleby, ex '52, are with the 131st Transportation Truck Company at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Rabbi Manning Blicke of the Jewish Synagogue in Lewistown will speak on "Understanding between Christians and Jews" at the JCA meeting Tuesday evening. A discussion period will follow.

On Thursday there will be a Masque meeting in the Old Chapel. Miss Glenora Edwards and Miss Mildred Tausch will review their recent trip to Europe, placing special emphasis on the numerous plays they had the opportunity to see in London. Due to the great amount of time spent on the recent trip, this has been the first opportunity to hold a special meeting. All new and old members are urged to attend.

The Debate Club will be holding their organization meeting Monday evening. President Galen Frysinger urges all interested persons to come to Room A at 7 p. m. There will be a debate on the topic "Resolved—That We Should Establish an International Organization of Non-Communist Nations."

Wednesday the Lambda Gamma will hold their monthly meeting in the Clothing Lab. A discussion on how to make corsages, bouquets and various other floral arrangements will be conducted by a representative from the Woodruff Floral Gardens.

Dave Armstrong and Jay Benedict will relate their recent experiences at the United Nations Seminar at the IRC meeting Friday evening.

Timothy, Chapter 1 will be analyzed by Paul Carlson at the IVCF meeting Thursday evening. Mr. Carlson is the Pennsylvania representative for this state-wide club. Mrs. Van Vleck from the China Inland Mission led a very interesting talk on "How Christians are Reacting to Communism" at a special meeting Monday.

The Scapellato Probe held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening. The program featured movies of special interest to Biology majors. Refreshments were served.

John Strait, vice-president of the First National Bank of Huntingdon, was the guest speaker at the Tycoon Club meeting also held Wednesday evening.

All Class Night Chm. Appointed Korman and Wright Organize Performances

Bill Korman and Kay Wright will serve as chairman and assistant chairman respectively for this year's All Class Night. These appointments were made at the Senate meeting Monday night.

Korman, a senior from Smithville, is majoring in biology. He is active in the Scalpel and Probe Club.

Miss Wright is from Johnstown, and is a psychology major. She is a member of the Outing Club, orchestra, JCA and the freshman committee.

All Class Night April 14
All Class Night will be held April 14. This 15th annual presentation will emphasize full class participation and will be "better organized than in previous years," according to the two chairmen. Keener competition among the classes will be encouraged. Each class is urged not to let the other classes learn anything about its production.

The script committees should be organized as soon as possible since the deadline for scripts will be Dec. 9. Script writers are asked to limit their performances to 20 minutes.

Spencer, Rockwell Advise

With Dean Edith Spencer and Dr. Donald Rockwell acting as faculty advisors, a student-faculty committee will choose the most suitable scripts. After the scripts are chosen, a schedule of rehearsals will be posted. Most rehearsals will be staged in Oller Hall.

The chairman and his assistant agree that this will be "the most successful All Class Night ever staged at Juniata."

At special meetings called yesterday, the class chairmen for All Class Night were elected. They are as follows:

Senior, Phyllis Baughman; junior, Glenn Felix; sophomore, Phil Norris; and freshman, co-chairmen Bob Rauch and Joe Dunn.

Ellis Attends Policy Confab

At the invitation of the Department of State, President Calvert Ellis attended a national conference on U. S. foreign policy Wednesday and Thursday in Washington, D. C. From there he went to Harrisburg to attend a meeting today of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities. He is treasurer of this group.

Next Friday and Saturday he will be at the 64th annual convention of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which will be held in Atlantic City. Dr. Ellis is a member of the commission on institutions of higher education.

Classes Short Wednesday For Thanksgiving Vacation

The schedule of classes for Wednesday, Nov. 22 is as follows:
First period—8 to 8:40
Second period—8:45 to 9:25
Third period—9:30 to 10:10
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:55
There will be no chapel period. Lunch will be served at 11 a. m. This short schedule has been arranged "in order that students may make satisfactory arrangements for going home. Work for that day is to be regarded as normal and regular," according to the office of the President.

Asks Advance Notice On Equipment Use

According to Prof. Paul Yoder, who is in charge of the motion picture and public address equipment, slide projector and screens, all requests for the use of this equipment must be presented to him or to David Armacost at least one week prior to their use.

He commented that those who did not give this advance notice would risk disappointment in obtaining equipment or operators.

Stafford Offers Prizes For Folklore

Singer Jo Stafford is now offering for the third consecutive year cash prizes of $125, $75 and $50 to college students who compile the best collections of American folklore.

Hector Lee, folklore professor at Chico State College, Chico, Cal., is chairman of the national committee composed of professors from four universities and colleges in this country, who will judge the contest.

In publishable form, the student collection of folklore—what people do, say, sing and pass on to following generations—should be sent to Dr. Lee before Jan. 15, 1951. The judges also request that the theses and dissertations be gathered from primary sources and be submitted as original research.

Entries are to be accompanied by letters stating when, where and how the materials were collected, together with a listing of the scholarly assistance supplied by others. All papers are to be typewritten on good quality paper and double spaced.

Contest Entries Due January 15

Tomorrow Magazine has announced the fifth annual College Writer's Short Story Contest and offers a first prize of $500; second prize, $300; and third, $200. Anyone taking at least one course in any United States College or university may enter.

Manuscripts, not exceeding 5000 words, may be entered by sending them to College Contest, Tomorrow Magazine, 11 East 44th Street, New York 17, N. Y., before midnight, January 15, 1951. Students may enter any number of manuscripts that have not been published previously. Each entry must be accompanied by the student's name, home and school addresses.

The contest will be judged by the editors of Tomorrow and the editors of Creative Age Press. The Prize-winning stories will be published in the Spring and Summer of 1951 but all other manuscripts will be considered for publication as regular contributions and if accepted will be paid according to regular rates.

Asan Is New Sports Editor

Bob Asan was appointed sports editor of the Juniata by David Armacost this week. He will fill the post vacated by Bob Jones, recently elected Senate chairman of athletics.

Asan is a sophomore business major from Sewickley, Pa. He is a member of the Outing Club and was assistant baseball manager last Spring.

15th Firelighting Ceremony Plans For Sunday Eve.

The Firelighting Ceremony will be held in the Social Rooms this Sunday evening at 10. This service, an annual Fall event, is exclusively for the women students. Since 1936, when the first fire was lit in the fireplace, this ceremony has been a tradition of the College. Until a few years ago the original log was burnt each fall.

As in the past, the theme will be Indian. However, this year, to enhance the beauty of the program, new costumes are being bought and made by the House Committee.

Included in the program will be an original poem written a few years ago by one of the Juniata students. This year it will be presented by Connie Sherman. The Women's Trio—Joan Weaver, Josephine Chiodi and Doris Orner—will sing the Alfarata Song and other musical numbers adapted especially for this service.

Ruth Kimble, house committee manager, will read the kneel poem while day student president Janet Kough lights the fire. The prayer will be given by a JCA active member, Mary Lou McKee. Due to the nature of the program, both freshmen and upper-class girls should attend.

Seniors To Hold 'Turkey Ball'

A Thanksgiving atmosphere will prevail in the College gym tomorrow night when the senior class entertains at the Turkey Ball.

Beginning at 8:15 p. m., the dance will be informal. The campus dance band will provide music for the evening, and refreshments will be served.

Working with Walt Bush, senior class president, are the following committee chairmen: Charles Allison, decorations; Hilton Hines, programs; and Cecelia King, refreshments.

Benedict And Armacost Study UN In Session At N. Y. Last Week

Jay Benedict, IRC president, and David Armacost, a club member, hitch-hiked to New York City last week for a seminar sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee. The topic was "The Student-the United Nations-and Peace." Its main purpose was to present a clearer understanding on the UN.

In New York, they joined an interracial group of about 50 students from Temple, Colgate, Haverford, Swarthmore and other colleges.

At the opening session, Mrs. Laura Vitray, staff member of the UN World Magazine spoke to the group on "Your United Nations."

The delegates then met with the United States Mission to the United Nations. This is a body of 185 State Department representatives and private citizens. Charles Bolte, political adviser for the Mission, and Frank Nash, member of the commission on armaments, spoke about the purpose of the Mission and U. S. policy in regard to the UN.

Visited Quaker House

Quaker House, situated near the new UN building, was the next stop for the students. It is here that some UN officials gather in an attempt to reach agreements on world problems.

The second day the group traveled to Lake Success where the Security Council was discussing the position on the agenda of the UN.

David Brubaker

'Papa Is All' To Be Staged Tues.

The Allenberry Players, who presented "The Hasty Heart" here last month, will return to Oller Hall next Tuesday. This time they will stage a comedy based on Pennsylvania Dutch life and entitled "Papa Is All."

David Brubaker, the Jigger of last month's offering, will play the fanatical parent, Papa. The comedy, which will be given in the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, revolves around his two covered offspring's attempts to throw off his yoke. In dialect, the title indicates Papa's feeling about his own importance.

The children will be played by Hazen Gifford, the Lachie of "Hasty Heart," and Ann Dearing, who portrayed Sister Margaret.

Lorraine Bagley, who did not appear last month, will essay the part of Mrs. Yoder. This woman is a nosey neighbor who has the bad habit of walking in at the wrong moments. When not acting, Miss Bagley has charge of properties for the Players.

A ticket distribution system similar to that used last time will be employed, but details are not yet available. The sponsors of the plays emphasized that these student tickets are not transferable.

20 To Attend SCM Conference At Bridgewater

Twenty Juniata students will spend their Thanksgiving vacation at Bridgewater College in Virginia attending the Brethren Student Christian Movement Conference.

They will be participating in actual activities of the conference from registration time at 3 p. m. Nov. 3 until approximately 1:30 on the afternoon of the 26th.

The conference will be under the supervision of various resource leaders from the Church of the Brethren, including Prof. G. Wayne Glick of the Juniata faculty.

The group will be concerned mostly with the discussion of four problems which have been chosen by the BSCM Cabinet. Galen Fry, singer of the Juniata student body is an active member of the cabinet.

The questions which they have chosen are: Will we have to answer to God for every cent we spend?; Is it possible for us to imitate Jesus?; How can prayer become a dynamic force in my life?; and Is Christ the only way?

These topics will be discussed by the representatives at a series of three problem discussion sessions; also the subject of work projects will be taken up.

The students who will attend the conference are: Anna Wenger, Barbara Warner, Carmen Sollenberger, Carol Shoemaker, Don Robinson, Elaine Mock, Galen Fry, Frisyring, Galen Keeney, Janet Carper, Jo Pentz, Naomi Kulp, Phil Norris, Phil Kulp, Ronald Cherry, Vernon Showalter, Don Treese, Nina Alley, Frank Byers and Alethea Hoff. Prof. Glick will also be present at the conference.

Chapel Choir Begins Cantata Rehearsals

The Chapel choir has begun rehearsals for the annual Christmas cantata which will be presented in Oller Hall Dec. 10. This year's selection is "A Mystery for Christmas" (in the medieval manner) by Howard McKinney.

Clair Schaffner has been named student co-ordinator for the production. He will work with Prof. Donald Johnson and Miss Lois Esaley.

Elinor Newcomer Married

On Thursday evening, Nov. 9, in her home near Uniontown, JC coed Elinor Newcomer answered the "I do" questions with William Shoaf. Ben Newcomer, brother of the bride, sang for the wedding, accompanied by Doris Mickle. Two other Juniata students present were Elaine Mock and Martha Ann Ziegler. The bridegroom has since left for the Army.

We Can Be Thankful...

By David Armacost

New York City is well-known for its rushing taxis, automats, skyscrapers, nightclubs, first-run theatres and stupendous signs and displays.

What is less known or considered is the crippling effect which the hurry, the anonymity and the sensual satisfactions of the big city has on its citizens. This is not to say that New York is any worse than any other city but just that the situation is magnified here.

When I was in New York last week, I was amazed by the number of perplexed, unhappy and physically crippled persons.

There were the lonely, poorly clad, individuals who made their way into the automat and elbowed themselves a breakfast of coffee and toast...

Many Seek Satisfaction

... the men and women who roamed the streets of Times Square and of Greenwich Village. They frequented bars and nightclubs seeking a satisfaction in life that they could never seem to find.

These observations gave me a realization of many things for which all of us should be thankful to God. They made me say, "I complained because I had no shoes until I saw a man who had no feet."

On Thanksgiving Day and throughout the year we can be thankful that we are not social misfits. We can be thankful that we live in a democracy (as inefficient as it may be.)

Thankful For The UN

We can be thankful for the United Nations, for an opportunity to go to college, for pleasant surroundings and for three meals a day. We can be thankful for friends and family.

Indeed, it is trite to say that we have a great number of things for which to thank God this Thanksgiving—quite as much as, or more than, the Pilgrims at Plymouth had in 1621.

With the change of seasons, also comes the change of temperature. The blood runs thicker and the pulse runs wilder. Nancy Vaughn has her pulse running at the boiling point for "Antony" Segalovich. Lately, "Hoby" Helstand's extra-curricular activities have centered around Marilyn Eastland. Lois Bralton has been getting a Keener outlook on life.

With Christmas only a few weeks off, (Tommy you dreamer) Santa's fairies, Messrs. Witchey, Dixon, Kauffman and Crops, are working overtime to bring the spirits of yuletide to the College campus.

Here's to the chem major, who is always smelled but rarely seen. Sometimes I wonder about Ray Siren—er schlaf zu viel. Sue Harrington has turned to studying philosophy and right now she has turned her interest to Aristotle. Other industrious males have switched to studying figures. (Accounting, etc.) To Peggy Barrington, this word of prophecy—"There's a Ford in your future." (A yellow convertible with masculine trimmings.)

Monday morning's mail was crammed full of circular letters from a book company announcing a bargain sale of texts on sex and marriage. They must think the college student a rather unstable character.

Joan Weaver enjoys the chats and walks along Moore Boulevard with her favorite Irish tenor. Nancy Newman likes receiving long distance calls from her beau. The Outing Club activities are so full of fun that even the College truck is turning over with joy. Next time, make sure that Robinson, with all his advoirdupois, walks up the hill. Sometimes I wonder about Bob Frain. What's his major here at school—phys. ed., or pre-med?

The debut of the projector was successful despite intermissions. The machine is a magnificent work of art—hope that it will be used more than 4 times a year.

Indians Take Second Straight; Host To Washington This Sat.

Dobal and Chabody Run Wild As Indians Tounce Grove City 19 to 6

by Bob Myers

Continuing on their winning streak, the Juniata Indians made it two in a row by defeating Grove City 19-6 last Saturday on the latter's field. With Joe Dobal and Phil Chabody leading the way, Juniata compiled more yardage by rushing than they have been able to collect since they defeated Hartwick College in 1948.

Chabody and Dobal led the ground assault with 147 and 144 yards respectively. Joe scored twice and passed for the other touchdown, while Phil accounted for the game's longest run with a 72 yard jaunt in the second quarter.

Could Intercepts Pass
Eddie Gould, one of the outstanding defensive backs, started the touchdown parade when he intercepted Bob Koitzsch's pass on his own two and returned the ball to the Juniata 19 yard line.

On first down, Chabody sliced off tackle and tore down the middle for 72 yards, touchdown bound, but Coats caught him from behind on the Grove City nine. From here, Dobal took over and gained three yards. Then he passed to Lundy Loschiavo in the left flat. Lundy took the pass in the open and crossed the goal for the Indian's first score. Phil Bartola's attempted conversion was blocked by Spitzer, and Juniata led 6-0.

Juniata took advantage of a third period fumble as Gene Shaffer recovered the ball on his own 45. Dobal and Chabody again combined on alternate carries for two first downs.

With first down on the Grove City 27, Joe blasted for 26 yards and a first down on the one yard line. Dobal hit guard again and went over for Juniata's second touchdown. Bartola's second try for the extra point was again blocked, this time by Ralph Larsen, but the Indians led 12-0.

Dobal Scores Second TD
Sam Restivo fumbled on the following kick-off, and Joe Thomasberger recovered for the Indians.

Following the fumble, Dobal picked up 12 yards on three plays for a first down on the GC 12 yard line. Chabody got one yard and Dobal smacked through for ten more and another first down. Going through right guard, Joe went over from the one. Tony Segalovich concluded the Indian's scoring as he kicked the extra point that gave Juniata a 19-0 lead.

Juniata's first punt led to Grove City's only score. Reds Orler was forced to kick from his own 48 yard line in the fourth period. Receiving the punt on the 12, Ralph Christy eluded three tacklers and raced 78 yards before Chabody finally caught him on the JC 10.

Two plays later Dave Winland scored as he outreached two Juniata defenders to catch Walt Kelly's pass in the end zone. The try for the extra point was fumbled and Juniata came out on top 19-6.

TEAMWORK—as Coy Hicks leads the way Phil Chabody reels off a nice gain against Grove City. Both Hicks and Chabody will be ending their collegiate careers tomorrow. (See story below.)

Washington Came To Be Last In Careers Of Hicks and Chabody

by Bob Asan

When Coy Hicks and Phil Chabody take the field tomorrow it will mark the end of two brilliant gridiron careers. Both have won three letters and at the start of the season were named to co-captain this year's squad.

Hicks is majoring in history in preparation for graduate work at Dickinson Law School. He will still root for the Indians when they play Dickinson, however.

Chabody, a sociology major, intends to go into juvenile recreation work. "Work on the nature of a Boys' Club Athletic Director would be okay," he says.

Both Play Football As Freshmen
Chay broke into football as a freshman in Juniata's backfield and has been carrying the ball ever since. He believes that the best game of the year was the one against Lycoming. Chabody's biggest football thrill came in the game against Susquehanna at Selinsgrove in 1948. In this game he took the second half kickoff and raced 85 yards for the touchdown that insured an Indian win, the first away win since 1942.

As a junior in high school Hicks was given a line assignment, which came as quite a surprise as he was only about five feet one and weighed 110 pounds. It must have been the right spot for him though, because that is where he has been ever since. Except for time out due to injuries Hicks has been in the Juniata line-up since he was a freshman and he was named Co-captain of this year's eleven.

Indians Seek 3rd Over Shoremen

An attempt will be made, as the Indians meet the Shoremen of Washington College, to even two Juniata records. A win will not only bring the season log up to a four and four mark but it will also tie the series with the Shoremen, who have won three of the five games played between the two schools, the last game being played in 1941.

This promises to be one of the best battles of the year as it will be the last game on the schedule of both schools and both teams would like to have it in their win column, number six for Washington and number four for the Indians.

Bill Campbell Bucko Morrissey

Co-captains Coy Hicks and Phil Chabody will be leading six seniors into their last collegiate game. On the offensive platoon with Hicks and Chabody will be Jerry Africa at center and Bucko Morrissey at end. Gene Shaffer joins Hicks and Morrissey on the defense, while Bill Campbell adds reserve strength to the guard position.

Jerry Africa Gene Shaffer

The Indian attack will be spearheaded by Phil Chabody and Joe Dobal, who between them ground out 291 yards against Grove City. It will be matched against the Split T employed by Washington.

Running the Washington team from quarterback will be sophomore John Wilson, who has the reputation of being a better than average passer. To supplement his passing game Wilson calls on Bill Miller, who operates from a halfback position. Miller is a hard runner and in the Swarthmore game he racked up three touchdowns.

The Shoremen have rolled up 155 points in winning five of the seven games they have played. They have limited the opposition to 68 points.

Frosh Takes Track Medal

Bill Blakeley, freshman from Haddonfield, New Jersey, copped the fifth place medal in the Middle-Atlantic Track and Field Association Cross-Country run held recently. Participating in the race were 49 freshmen from the various schools of the Conference. Also representing Juniata were Bob Flory, Bob Fahrney and Wilfred Norris. Flory finished eighth while Fahrney and Norris finished among the first 20.

Bhagat Here Until Tomorrow

Today's Chapel speaker, the elder P. G. Bhagat of the Church of the Brethren, will be on campus until tomorrow afternoon to talk with students interested in missions. Last evening he met with the Brethren Student Fellowship in the Stone Church basement.

Traveling with P. G. Bhagat Elder Bhagat is the recruiting secretary of the Foreign Missions Commission of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren, Wendell Floy.

Monday the Chapel speaker will be President Calvert Ellis. There will be no chapel Wednesday due to shortened classes for Thanksgiving vacation.

Back In The Good Old Days

The following is from the "First Catalogue of the Brethren's Normal School and Collegiate Institute of Huntingdon, Pa., published 1878:

"Tuition, Fall term of 15 weeks—$12.00; room, per week—$.25 to $.75; board, per week—$1.50 to $2.00; light and fuel extra; total expenses for year of 42 weeks should not exceed $150."

Clubs: Report Meetings

All clubs are reported that meeting times should be reported to Miss Edith Spencer as far in advance as possible. By doing this, the clubs will receive publicity in the Juniata Campus Calendar prior to the time of meeting.

by "D D" Silldorf

The Wilkes College Cue 'N' Curtain is using a new twist in presentation of their dramatic productions. On three consecutive nights the club presented three different one-act plays directed by three different student directors. The plays presented were "A Night At An Inn", "Submerged" and "No Orchids". The productions were given in the college gym and were followed by dancing to "canned music."

Soaking of gyms, and who isn't now that the Juniata gym is well on its way, it seems that this building of physical education plants has been taken up on a grand scale. Lebanon Valley College has nearly completed a new gym, and Albright College, at Reading, broke ground for theirs Nov. 2, Albright's Charter Day.

From the Yale Record:
The doctors came out of the bedroom to the anxious wife. "Frankly," he said, "I don't like the way your husband looks at all."
"I don't either, Doc," the wife replied, "but he's nice to the kids."

The Playshop at Allegheny College, a J C basketball rival, has presented their second play of the season, "Playboy Of The Western World." The play is an Irish comedy which was written in 1907 by John Synge and recently revived on Broadway with Burgess Meredith in the lead.

Haverford College has had to restrict the use of their Record Library to the record rooms. Formerly the students were allowed to borrow them from the collection but a startling loss of records put an end to it.

McPherson College, way out in Kansas, staged their thirtieth pajama parade and snake dance in the streets of McPherson recently. The affair is put on every year on the eve of the first home football game in cooperation with the McPherson police force and the college cheerleaders.

A freshmen revolt at the University of Pittsburgh fizzled this year when the frosh got cold feet. There were rumors that the freshmen body was planning a mass dink cremation of the front walk but the plot collapsed because of a lack of leaders.

This little gem of humor, or whatever you may want to call it, was gleaned from the pages of the Missouri Show Me.
"Too bad my hen got loose and scratched up your lawn."
"That's O. K., my dog just ate your hen."
"Great! I just ran over your dog."

Rhodes Reports Employer Query

"How can I secure a good job when I am through college? In what manner should I conduct myself during an interview?"
Answers to these and other questions can be found in a report distributed to the students of Dean Rhodes' vocational guidance class. The report was prepared through the co-operation of 156 companies.

Interests, Activities Count
The companies report that they are interested in a person's activities and interests as well as his college courses and work experiences. Most employers want a person who not only has a good scholastic record, but also has participated actively in school activities and community affairs.

Experience in part-time jobs, in work during the summer months, or in military service is taken into consideration by the employing company.

Make Hand Shake Firm
Preparation for the interview and conduct during the interview are of prime importance. In preparation for the interview, the person should make a study of the company and its product. A well-groomed, clean-cut appearance and a firm handshake give the feeling of vitality and are much to be desired.

During the actual interview, the job-applicant should be poised and attentive. In a pleasing voice, he should give honest, straightforward answers to all questions. Interest in the company, enthusiasm for the job, and a willingness to start at the bottom are also considered important by the companies surveyed.

Puppets To Be First On Agenda At French Club Meeting Nov. 29

by Dottie Hummer

Although Mr. Gobbler can hardly wait to share that Thanksgiving dinner with you, could you find a few minutes to review the club calendar with us?

It looks like the French Club has an interesting program scheduled for November 29. A few faculty members—Miss Margaret McCrimmon, Dr. George Clemens and Prof. Jack Oller—will help in the presentation of a French puppet show. A second one will be conducted by Joyce Snyder, Virginia Masemer and Roger Wiley.

Miss Hummer

Pa. Sociologists Here

Juniata College was host to the Central Pennsylvania Sociological Society at its fall meeting last Saturday.

Forty-two teachers of sociology in central and eastern Pennsylvania attended, according to Dr. Tobias F. Henry, assistant professor of sociology here.

At 1 p. m. in the Faculty Club, Dr. L. L. Bernard, an extensive writer and authority on the history of sociology in the United States spoke on "American Sociology Today: An Evaluation." He is professor of sociology at the Pennsylvania State College.

A Capella Choir To Start Trip To West Jan. 26

The Juniata College A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Prof. Charles Rowland, will begin their annual trip Jan. 26.

This year the choir is traveling west and will sing at Youngstown and Canton, Ohio, Uniontown, Greensburg, Johnstown, Everett, Somerset and other smaller towns in Pennsylvania. They will return to school Sunday, Feb. 4.

Rowland To Retire
Since this is to be Prof. Rowland's last year at Juniata, the choir's program is expected to be a tribute to his long and devoted service to Juniata. The selections will consist mostly of the best numbers of former years.

Mainly sacred music, the program will open with "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord" and "The Lord's Prayer." The men's choir will do "Angus Dei," and the women's choir will sing "Setting of the Sun."

Sacred, Secular Music
Some of the other numbers are "Oh, Sacred Head," "In the Night Christ Came Walking," and several spirituals, including "There is a Balm in Gilead."

Secular numbers will be on the program, especially for the high schools. These will include "I Am Music," "The Italian Street Song" and the Fred Waring arrangements of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." The women's trio and the men's quartet will also present several selections.

Cho's Began 28 Years Ago
The Juniata A Cappella Choir was originated 28 years ago. Men's and women's glee clubs were organized prior to this time and worked separately until 1932 when the combined choir was formed under the supervision and direction of Prof. Rowland.

Singing primarily a cappella, the mixed choir remained intact until wartime shortages of manpower caused its abandonment in 1943. For two years an all-girl choir was substituted, but the return of veterans in 1946 resulted in the reorganization of the mixed voice choir.

Judy Nicely Joins Light Co.

Judy Nicely, '49, has been appointed as a home economist for The Manufacturers' Light and Heat Company. In this position she will conduct home service programs in Ohio and W. Va.

Reserve Book Lowdown Offered

"Is South Pacific showing in Huntingdon?" asked one confused "J. C." to another, as they watched a long, slow-moving line which was headed in the direction of the Library.

"No," replied the smarter of the two, "those are just freshmen waiting to reserve a book for Nature of Science."

It seems that a recent Nature of Science assignment required over 200 students to use a reserve book from the library—all 23 of them. The results were confusion, late papers and questions as to the Library's policy concerning reserve books. Here are the answers.

Day students may take books on reserve in multiple copies when they leave campus to be returned the following morning, unless these books are in great demand (for example, the Nature of Science, assignment). At such times, the day student must have permission from the professors to take the reserve book.

Freshmen reserve their books for overnight use on the green

Mata and Hari

Dance Troupe To Be Here Mon.

The first Community Concert of the season will be presented in Oller Hall Monday, Dec. 4, at 8:30 p. m. Featured will be a six-member dancing troupe headed by Mata and Hari.

These dancers, who have performed in New York, Chicago and Hollywood, as well as in Europe, are not to be confused with the notorious World War I spy of a similar name.

Born in the same town, instructed in the same dancing school, Mata and Hari never met until they joined the troupe of Truett Schoop in Paris. While touring the US with Miss Schoop's group, they were married.

When the others returned to Europe in 1939, they remained here to dance on their own. Since then they have appeared in such varied entertainment spots as the Diamond Horseshoe and Carnegie Hall, as well as Olson and Johnson's hit show "Laughing Room Only" and an MGM movie.

The success of their "Dance Theater" and entire play interpreted through dancing, led to a contract with Columbia Concerts for a cross-country tour, of which Monday night's performance is a part.

5 J C Alumni At Ft. Bliss

Juniata is well represented at Fort Bliss, Texas, according to Kenneth Sheetz, ex'53. Mervin Metz, Thomas Hooper, Robert Giffin, Robert Appleby and he are stationed there. However, Sheetz expects to be overseas in the Far East Command within a few short weeks.

cards the particular day that they wish to use the books. Only one book per course can be reserved a given day; but if at 9:30 p. m. extra copies of other books are available, the student may take them. Freshmen resident students may use a book in their rooms for two-hour periods any time during the day.

Upperclassmen reserve their books in the same manner but they do not have the two-hour room privilege that the freshmen do. Upperclass day students can take books out during the day if there is more than one copy of the book on reserve or if the book is not in great demand.

Another tip from the Library for more effective study is to help maintain silence. Concentration, and thus better work in a shorter amount of time, is aided by the lack of noise. "Maintaining silence in the library is a co-operative affair," the Library staff states. "It demands co-operation not only from the students at the desk or in the lobby, but also from each reading table."

Senate Selects Benedict Head Of JWSF Drive

Jay Benedict has been chosen by the Senate to head the Juniata World Service Fund Drive. He is a senior from Waynesboro.

This campaign has been scheduled for February. It is the only such fund raising campaign on campus which has Senate approval.

The money raised will be distributed among various worthy agencies which will be announced later by the Senate.

Benedict, a history major, hopes to enter Dickinson Law School next year. He is the president of the IRC and advertising manager of the Juniata. In addition he is a member of the Tycoon Club and the JCA.

Senators Ban Gambling Pools

At their meeting on Monday, Nov. 20, the Senate ruled that gambling pools should not be permitted on Juniata campus.

Also the Senators recommended to the administration that the Christmas holiday be extended to January 2 so that students would not need to travel on New Year's Day.

In considering days off for winning football games, it was pointed out that in communications to the Senate by President Ellis that this only happens occasionally and should not be considered the rule.

JCA To Hold Christmas Party

The JCA is planning a full calendar of activities for next week. Sponsored by the Social Responsibility Commission is a Christmas party for Juniata students and the children of Huntingdon.

Following the tradition started by the YWCA, many children of the community accompanied by their college "parents for the night" will attend the affair scheduled for next Friday from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Entertainment for the evening will consist of a program given by the Masque members, and games which will be directed by Beanie Roberts and Galen Keeney.

A sheet will be posted on Founders bulletin board and Students Hall bulletin board for individuals and couples interested in taking children to the party.

The Social Responsibility Commission is also sponsoring a conference this Sunday evening at 9 in Founders Chapel. Luther Harshbarger, secretary of the Penn State Christian Association, will discuss the social responsibility of the Christian.

Tuesday evening, the JCA will hold its bi-monthly business meeting at 7 in Founders Chapel. Preceding the business meeting which will be led by President Don Treese, Lois Miller will conduct a candle-light worship service. Refreshments will be served.

Allen, Volpito To Assist With 'Scout'

Margie Allenman, new Scout editor, has named Art Allen and Bob Volpito to aid her. Allen is business manager and Volpito, advertising manager.

Allen, a business major, was business manager of the Indian. He is also president of the junior class and of the J Club.

Volpito, also a business major, served on The Juniata staff for two years.

9 Juniata Seniors Elected To Latest 'Who's Who'

Charles Allison, Walter Bush, Gerald Hartzel, Lorena Hebrank, Hilton Hines, Donald Howe, Dorothy Ann Humphreys, Ruth Kimble and Vernon Showalter have been selected for inclusion in the 1951 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Nominations to "Who's Who" were made by a faculty and administration committee. Selection was based on student's scholarship, his leadership and co-operation in educational and extracurricular activities, his general citizenship and his promise of future usefulness.

The Tuscaloosa, Ala., institution offers the student a certificate of recognition, publication of his picture and personal record in the yearbook and the use of student placement service.

Juniata's nationally-recognized student leaders are all seniors. Seven of them are members of the student Senate.

Senate chairman of underclassmen Charles Allison played varsity football in his first two years here, and has been a member of the Masque for three years.

Miss Hebrank Bush

His major is sociology and he expects to work in a Y. M. C. A.

Walter Bush, a married student, has been class president in his junior and senior years. He has twice been a delegate to Leadership Conference and is a member of the Chemistry Club.

His major is chemistry with an eye for teaching or sales work.

Hartzel Honored
Another married student, Gerald Hartzel, is a member of the Juniata Honor Society. He is also president of the A Cappella Choir and a member of the Varsity Male Quartet.

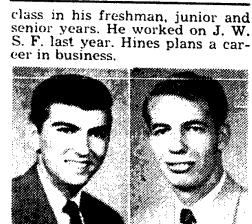

Hartzel is majoring in business administration.

Lorena Hebrank, Senate chairman of general activities, worked on the Juniata for three years and was society editor last year. In her junior year she was also literary editor of the Alfarata.

This Senator Miss Humphreys was a delegate to two Leadership Conferences and member of the FTA for four years.

Miss Hebrank's major is English with a view to teaching in the secondary school.

Senate vice-president Hilton Hines has been treasurer of his

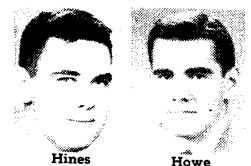

Showalter Hartzel

Howe in "Who's Who"
Donald Howe, Senate central treasurer is also a business major. He is vice-president of the Tycoon Club and a member of the men's house committee. Last year he sat on the freshman court.

Another Senator is secretary Dorothy Ann Humphreys. Miss Humphreys was a member of the Honor Society in her junior year. She is a twice delegate to leadership conference, and has served as J. W. S. F. secretary.

Her major is public school music and she hopes to be a music supervisor.

Senator Ruth Kimble, chairman of women's house, was president of the home economics workshop II held here in the Fall. In her junior year she was president of Lambda Gamma. Also she is a member of the W. A. A. and served as treasurer of this organization in her sophomore year.

Miss Kimble expects to become a home economist.

Senate president Vernon Showalter, a Masque member for four years. He has worked as chairman or crew member on at least six plays and musicals. He is a member of the Tycoon club and was business manager of The Juniata last year.

Showalter is majoring in business and hopes to go into personnel management.

Cast, Crew Of Pageant Listed

"A Mystery for Christmas (in the Medieval Manner)," arranged and composed by Howard D. McKinney will be presented by the Chapel Choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald S. Johnson, organist and choirmaster. This pageant, which is the fifth of its kind presented at Juniata, will be staged in Oller Hall on Dec. 10 at 3:30 p. m.

Working with the Chapel Choir will be the following cast members—shepherds: Robert Brumbaugh, Wesley Diemer, Glen Gress; Gabriel and attendants: Raymond McHenry, Jr., Clyde Johnson, Holmes Royer; Mary: Janet Boland; walking angels: Audrey Campbell, Jo Chiodi, Rhoda Clemmer, Doris Mickle, Claudia Ottosen, Doris Orner, Miriam Smith, Joan Weaver; wise men: Earle Grover, Charles Redenberger, Paul Walker; little angels: Richard Bedient, Jane Engle, Martha Sue Glick, David Goetschius.

The Production staff under Prof. Johnson includes: supervisor, Miss Lois Esaley; student director, Clair Schaffner; angel movements, Mrs. Margaret Johnson; stage manager, John Long; lighting technician, John Good; make-up, Jean Bailey; properties, Doris Orner; publicity, Janice Wenger; head usher, Phyllis Link; Biblical costumes, Miller Costumier, Philadelphia.

The music in the pageant flows along continuously, integrating the solo, choral, pantomime and monologue passages. The public is invited to this annual event, to which no admission will be charged.

Caroling In Chapel Friday

Chapel speakers for Monday and Wednesday will be Dr. Kenneth Crosby and Prof. G. Wayne Glick, respectively. On Friday the service will consist of Christmas carol singing by the student body.

Is Excuse Machinery Adequate?

The old maxim that "you get out of something just as much as you put into it" holds true in the matter of attending classes as much as in anything else. Attending classes faithfully is necessary if you are to get the most out of your college years.

By cracking down on the number of excuses given this year Dean Rhodes, the administration and the faculty are doing the student a service by developing in him the habit of conscientious class attendance. It needs hardly to be mentioned that cuts are costly to the student and that they frustrate the teacher and bring confusion to the course.

So let us make it unequivocally clear that we have no arguments against the principle which has caused Dean Rhodes to deal firmly with the matter of unexcused absences.

It has come to our attention that other than illness and death in the family, the only excused absences are those for "College approved activities." Now a "College approved activity" is any activity such as choir or basketball schedule, which have been approved by the faculty at their regular meetings.

It would seem that presenting each request for bonafide excuses to the entire faculty for approval or rejection presents an unwieldy and unnecessary situation. Surely the faculty should control the issuance of excuses so that they are kept to a minimum. However, it is possible that a worthy project would come up suddenly and could not receive consideration by the faculty until it was too late.

Should Create Committee

If the faculty could create a committee to meet and consider each request for "College approval" as it came along on the basis of principles which they (the faculty at large) set up, this would allow the requests to be settled with dispatch. Or if the dean of students were given a set of standards to go by and could thereby issue excuses for worthy activities, this would also facilitate and clarify matters.

It should be realized that there are some worthwhile conferences and activities in which a student might engage which would take him from classes. These, of course, should be limited and therefore, should be picked by the student with great care.

When the student or students go before the faculty or a committee requesting "College approval" this should be granted or refused on the basis of the merit of the activity but also on the basis of how many times that particular student has absented himself from classes through excused or unexcused absences.

Equal Number of Excuses

Each student who maintains a satisfactory scholastic standing and who attends classes faithfully should be considered for as many excused absences for worthwhile educational activities as someone else who participates in, let us say, basketball, debate, or A Cappella Choir.

Thus we suggest that the faculty set up a program that will make it possible that requests for "College approval" be considered with relative speed on the basis of set principles so that bonafide excuses may be extended to those students who want to participate in worthwhile activities which are not regularly scheduled but which come up from time to time. Also that the issuance of excuses should spread over a greater number of activities and individuals.

This would not increase the number of absences for any individual and would give more students participation in worthwhile activities.

Become A 'Parent'

It was said in the United Nations recently that the greatest disagreement has come when nations or individuals want to eliminate the existence of other nations or individuals.

This is a period of great disagreement—of war, tragedy, hate, prejudice, want. So it is important if we have any humanity in our hearts that we do something for the other fellow at Christmas time and throughout the year.

The Social Responsibility Commission of the JCA is planning and executing the Children's Christmas Party this year. The tradition which was started several years ago by the YWCA is a splendid way for us to make others and thus ourselves happy.

There are 58 boys and girls who want to come to the party to be held in the Social Rooms of the Stone Church next Friday night at 7:30. They will need "student parents" who will pick them up, take care of them at the party and see that they return safely home.

There should be an abundance of "parents" who want to make some boy or girl happy next Friday.

Ingratitude of Sledder

It has come to our attention that a friendly neighbor on College Hill loaned a sled to a Juniatia student only to have it returned damaged. No explanation or amends were made for the damage.

Persons like these who have neither the responsibility nor the honesty to make a thing right inspire a lack of faith in human nature and discourage the spirit of sharing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Voters Should Be Informed

To the Editor of the Junatian:
Undoubtedly those interested in Senate affairs are in the minority, but I feel that the main reason for this is that the majority know little about Senate affairs.

The proceedings of the Senate are for the most part routine, but when controversial topics do arise the electorate should know of them in advance so that it may form definite opinions. Why did we choose the Senate? Is it to be just a means of unloading from our shoulders the daily problems on more broader ones, or did we vote for those whom we thought would search out issues, ask our views and then vote accordingly?

Every considerate desk critic feels it his obligation to offer a solution to the questions he asks. So, I advocate that the Senate adopt a resolution prescribing that every issue of campus wide importance be published in the Junatian one week prior to discussion.

Not only would this carry issues to the student body, but it would give them a most deserved opportunity to relate its views to the various Senators.

Your curbstone observer,
Bob Volpinto

Tuesday was a big day for doe hunters, both in the woods and in Skip's. The trouble is that some doe require the use of too many bucks. Not only did the weather bring on the Christmas spirit but also its outdoor frolics. Betty McKee and Dottie Humphreys were seen tugging their sleds behind them.

Don Robinson is going to visit a few snowball strategists. He missed the open window in the girls' dorm on fifty tries. And then came the deluge. It looked like the bombardment of the Bastille the way the snowballs hit the girls' dorm. Edie Talbot closed her window in time to stop a well directed snow bomb.

Tommy sincerely hopes that younger boys have discarded their t. n. t. charges which have been used quite frequently in the Lodge and Cloister.

Bob Morrissey took his wife and daughter home for Thanksgiving through the worst storm in New York's history. Frank Oilweiler was the pilot who blazed the way through the wind and rain. "Marko" Hanson went home to hot turkey and found a letter from Uncle Sam, and then felt like a dead duck. Uncle Sam is the only close relative whose fan mail is as welcome as a case of measles.

Nancy Newman was delayed enroute to class. Too many men wanted to shower their affections upon her with snowballs. How romantic can one be?????

I hope this isn't true, but it has been rumored that the senior lettermen were not allowed the football jerseys they wore this year. It's one of the few items they want and deserve to be given after their years of fine service.

Did anyone notice Jairo's black bevel? At first it looked like a hangerover hat. "Shorty" Isenberg is now wearing the color of the month—"Santa Claus Red." Christmas vacation is only a few weeks away and the postal rush to the North Pole has already put Santa in the red.

For Christmas Tommy wants—two silk stockings—filled, all A's including credit hours for extra-curricular activities and a beautiful girl with a nice figure—in her bank book.

I have just summoned my horse and sleigh to travel over the campus and through the woods in search of hidden gems of gossip.

Your ever-lovin' snow Hawk,
Tom

Indians Upset Shoremen; Even Season Record

by Bob Myers

Playing their best game of the season, the Juniata Indians beat favored Washington College 19-13 at College Field on Saturday, November 18. Lundy Loschiavo scored twice in the last half to lead the Indians to their third straight win of the year.

The victory was not, however, due to the performance of any one individual. The entire team played with a spirit and determination unequalled in any of their previous contests. Coy Hicks was outstanding on defense, as were Ed Gould, Dave LeFevre, Joe Thomasberger and Gene Shaffer. Joe Dohal was back in form at fullback and was ably assisted by Co-captain Phil Chabody. Loschiavo, Dick Young, Fred Hamor and Reds Orler.

Indians Score First On Pass

Juniata took the lead in the second quarter, when Hicks, in a double shift, returned a punt to his own 39 yard line. Using a buck-lateral series, the Indians picked up 61 yards in just six plays. Chabody climaxed the drive by tossing a 21 yard aerial to Hamor in the end zone. Tony Segalovich missed the extra point and the score was 6-0.

As time was running out, Washington's two fine backs, John Wilson and Bill Miller, combined to battle the clock and JC. Wilson passed to Miller from the JC 41 and the latter swivel-hipped his way to the 1/2 yard line. Here the Indian's forward wall stiffened for three downs, but Miller skirted right end on last down for Washington's first score. Wilson kicked the point and the Shoremen led 7-6.

Loschiavo Rumps 60 Yards

With Chabody sidelined with a leg injury, Loschiavo put Juniata ahead for the second time with a 60 yard romp to paydirt. Slicing off left tackle, Lundy cut to the middle, hurdled a host of players at midfield and raved down the sidelines for the score. He was ably assisted on the 15 yard line by a beautiful block by Hicks. The score read 13-7 as Segalovich kicked the point.

After holding for downs on the four yard line, Juniata attempted to get out of the dangerous territory by running from kick formation. Hamor ran for what appeared to be a first down, but fumbled on the 16. Washington recovered and took just four plays to knot the count. The TD came on a jump pass from Wilson to Wayne Millner on the first play of the final quarter. Wilson missed the point and the score was 13-13.

Many would have been satisfied if the game had ended this way, but not the charges of Bill Smaltz. With just four minutes remaining, Loschiavo broke off tackle for the winning tally. The try for the extra point was not good but Juniata ended a fine season beating Washington College 19-13.

Juniata Begins Basketball Sat.; Play Lycoming

The Juniata Indians will start their second season under Coach Arnold Greene tomorrow when they host the Warriors of Lycoming College, who are also beginning their season.

Six men, including five letter-men, are back from last year's team which won 11 and lost nine under Coach Bob Smith. Not only is Smith's squad large in number, but it is also tall, averaging over six feet in height.

Lycoming High Scoring

Bill Graff is the big gun for the Warriors, scoring 307 points last season. He works from a forward position and is fast and an accurate shot.

Jim Brodmerkel is playing his fourth year of college ball. He won his letter as a sophomore and junior. His 270 points scored last year gave him second place on the team in scoring.

Sowers 3 Letter Man

Jack Sowers is another letter man, having won three letters in his collegiate career. Other men returning from last season include Don Mosher, Tom Brennan and Stuart Kane.

Considerable help is expected from Joe Fazzar and Mert Wagner. Fazzar is a sophomore transfer from Miami University and he has a reputation for being a good rebounder. Wagner, another sophomore, was a high scorer for the JV squad last season. Ozzie Silna and Jack Van Cott also have lots of basketball experience and much is expected of them.

Trojans Leading In I-M Bowling

As Ray Korody led the way with a 201 single and 549 triple, the Trojans moved into first place in the I-M bowling league by sweeping the NoNames 4-0. It was a busy weekend which saw five matches being rolled.

Last week's leaders, Les Miserables, fell into second place as a result of losing one of their games with the Aces.

This was the first time that all eight teams of the league were in action. The Faculty bowled for the first time and met with a 4-0 defeat at the hands of Les Miserables. Another team that just began to bowl, the Sliders, took third place as a result of their 3-1 victory over the Sneaks.

This week's schedule:

6:45—NoNames vs Aces
Sneaks vs Trojans
8:45—Sliders vs Les Miserables
Faculty vs Strikettes

The standings and first five individual averages:

'Team Can Pull Upsets'—Greene

"I don't know exactly what to expect, but the boys will be hustling." With these words Coach Arnold Greene gave his thoughts on the newest edition of the Juniata basketball Indians.

This is the last week of pre-season practice and the starting five is still anyone's guess. Greene attributes mechanical errors to the few number of scrimmage under game conditions. Lately, however, the men are getting used to his system and have been making fewer mistakes. Experimenting will still have to be done in the first few games, however.

5 Men Return From Last Year

Five veterans from last year's varsity are on the squad and will probably see much action tomorrow night in the game against Lycoming College. These veterans include Captain Ray Korody, Dave Bayer, Lundy Loschiavo, Leo Kuhn and Jack Dickey.

Two junior transfer students, Tommy Green and Carl Parks, have been impressive in early practice sessions. Green is from the College of South Jersey, while Parks comes from the Johnstown Pitt Center.

5 Fresh Make Squad

Fran Townsend and five freshmen round out the squad. These include Fran Zimmerman, John Cook and three from Temple High School in Philadelphia, Harry Koehlein, Ed Feldkircher and Ed Weirauch.

Coach Greene is using the same system he used last year. Set play patterns will be featured on the offense, while Greene's HAZ defense will be depended on to keep the opposition from scoring too often.

Commenting on the season in general, Coach Greene says, "We should realize that many of the men are inexperienced in college basketball. If a few of these fellows come through Juniata may give the opposition some unexpected competition. In league competition we will be picked as the underdog, but with the spirit the team is showing we could very easily pull some upsets."

I-M Basketball Started Tuesday

At a meeting with club managers last week, chairman of athletics Bob Jones outlined the general formation of this year's Intra-mural Basketball League. According to Jones there would be 14 teams in the circuit with each team play 13 games. The games will be played Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

The scores for games played last Wednesday:

Trojans 30 YHO's 28
1-7 31 Kroy Wens 29
Kroy Wens 18 BTO's 18
Tigers 37 Gunners 29

Loose ball handling and low scoring were outstanding in these first games. Bill Winans, Nick Rocco and George Kensing did reach the two digit column in individual scoring.

Teams in the league include the 1-7, Kroy Wens, BTO's, YHO's, Bridgers, Gunners, Trojans, Mer-captains, 54, Sneaks, Beta 5/2, Ben Pecked, Tigers and BeBoppers.

Play Production Class To Stage Drama—2:30p.m.

Stephen Vincent Benet's "A Child Is Born" is being presented this afternoon by the Play Production Class under the direction of Miss Lois Esaley. The play, which is a modern drama of the nativity, will be given at 2:30 p. m. in the Huntingdon Baptist Church and is sponsored by the Huntingdon Civic Club.

Vernon Showalter, director of the production, has chosen the following cast of characters: Narrator, Phyllis Link; Innkeeper, Hobart Heistand; Innkeeper's Wife, Helen Wentzler; Sarah, Dolores Shaffer; Leah, Marilyn Eastland; and Dismas, Clair Schaffner.

Sound and lighting technicians backstage are Doris Orner and Eleanor Formwalt.

Christmas Show To Be On Radio

The radio committee is now busy in preparation for a special Christmas show to be presented on the Juniata-on-the-Air program Dec. 6.

Following Christmas vacation the Radio Workshop will again be organized. Here in the shop, speakers from the Huntingdon station will give talks on the various phases of radio work, such as script writing and sound effects. All freshmen and upperclassmen are urged to attend.

Fred Shamlian spun the records on the Turntable Terrace show yesterday. Anyone interested in taking over this program should get in touch with Betty Longwell.

Christmas Party, Hockey Play Day Among Future Plans For WAA

by Dottie Hummer

Dear Anti,

It certainly is nice to cuddle up in a cozy club circle these cold wintry nights.

The WAA is planning a Christmas party for next Thursday night. Hockey Play Day is being observed at the PCW in Pittsburgh Saturday, and many of the group are making arrangements to attend.

Tentative plans are being made for a class in basketball officiating which Miss Hummer will be taught by Miss McCormick. If enough students are interested, provisions will be made to take tests and obtain certificates, enabling them to officiate at any future date. It was also announced that intramural basketball will start next week.

Miss Kathleen Foster, '49, a Huntingdon elementary teacher, will speak to the Alpha Beta Gamma Wednesday evening. Her talk will be centered on various teaching experiences she has encountered during the term.

An interesting program is being planned by the Lambda Gamma for their meeting Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. Several of the foreign students on the Juniata campus will relate their traditional Christmas observances in their home countries.

The Play Production Class will entertain the Masque Thursday evening with their presentation of "A Child Is Born." Helen Wentzler and Hobart Heistand have been given the leading roles, while Vernon Showalter will act as director. (See column one, this page.)

At 7 p. m. the same evening, the IVCF will meet in the Women's Day Student Room. An analysis of I Timothy, Chapter 3 will be led by Marv Taylor.

"Values of Accounting to a Businessman" was the topic discussed by Ralph Raible at the Tycoon Club meeting this past week. The club picture for the Alfara was taken immediately after the meeting.

Leo E. Brown, Executive Secretary of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, led a discussion on Socialized Medicine at the Wednesday meeting of the Sigma Gamma.

A final report on the net profit made from Indian and booster tag sales was given at the J Club meeting Thursday evening. Mittens were distributed to be sold by each member at $2.00 a pair.

The Juniata staff is making plans for an outing which will be held in the near future. The group is planning to go to Lewistown.

FTA To Hear Dr. W. A. Sutton

Dr. Willis A. Sutton, prominent public school educator, will lecture on "Education—The Foundation of Business" this evening at 8:15 in Oller Hall. Sponsored by the FTA and the Huntingdon County and borough branches of the FSEA, Dr. Sutton's talk is designed to be of special interest to business and civic leaders as well as teachers.

As former president of the National Educational Association and superintendent emeritus of the Atlanta, Ga. public schools, Dr. Sutton is regarded as one of the "truly outstanding educational statesmen in America." He was previously engaged by the Reader's Digest as guest lecturer for numerous teachers' meetings throughout the country.

Tickets have been sent to all service clubs and business houses in Huntingdon and Huntingdon County. It should be noted that tickets are for publicity only and are not required for admission.

Scholarship Statement Released

The following statement was released by Morley Mays, dean of the College. It concerns the report on scholarship adopted by the faculty at their meeting Monday.

The statement:

"A report calling for continuation of Juniata's historical emphasis on good scholarship was adopted by the faculty at its meeting last Monday.

"The report recognizes that legitimate interests other than the academic often unduly crowd upon the latter to the detriment of the fundamental purposes of education.

"Continuing, the report declares, 'this is a question of priority, a question of how to put first things first. The values of the other parts of our program and the values which a student may find in the pursuit of his own legitimate interests are not to be nullified. It is contended only that they are to find their place in a proper perspective of student life.'

"Eight means of helping a student to retain primary emphasis upon his program are suggested by the report to the members of the faculty. Quizzes at frequent intervals, brief original papers, an emphasis on the two-hour preparation period and an insistence on absolute personal integrity are among the techniques proposed for implementing the program.

"The faculty also gave brief consideration to certain problems of extra-curricular life not explicitly covered by the report, but no action was taken on them."

Memorial Service Held Tues. For Wife Of J. M. Blough

A memorial service was held Tuesday, Dec. 5, for Mrs. J. M. Blough of Mariaburg, Pa.

Mrs. Blough was the wife of the Rev. J. M. Blough, D. D., a missionary to India for the Church of the Brethren. His work was supported by the students and College.

Mrs. Blough was a graduate of Juniata, as were many of Dr. Blough's relatives.

Stone Church Is 40 Monday

The Stone Church of the Brethren on the Juniata campus celebrates its 40th birthday Monday, Dec. 11, 1910 the building was completed after more than a year and a half of work.

Christian Ulrich von Kaltenborn Stachan---Gezundheit !

by Phyl Link

On Sept. 3, the day before Labor Day, Christian Ulrich von Kaltenborn Stachan (he is six feet one—tall enough to handle such a long name) arrived in the United States.

In less than three weeks he had learned enough English to supplement his previous training and so began a full academic year at Juniata.

Tall, blond "Cris" was born in Silesia, Germany, where his ancestors had lived for over 1200 years. Because Poland received that section of Germany at the close of the war, Cris, his brother and parents moved to Kassel, Germany.

Registration To Begin Dec. 12 For Spring Term

Registration for Spring term classes will be held in Founders Chapel next week, the office of the registrar reports. The schedule will be as follows:

Seniors—Tuesday, 1:45 to 3:30 p. m.

Juniata—those whose last names begin with the letters A through L, Tuesday, 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.; M through Z, Wednesday, 1:45 to 2:45 p. m.

Sophomores—Wednesday, 2:45 to 4:30 p. m.

Freshmen—Thursday, 1:45 to 4:30 p. m.

Those who find it impossible to register at the time designated due to class commitments should meet in the office of the registrar Tuesday or Thursday, 10 to 11:30 a. m.

All students are asked to meet with their faculty advisor and/or department head Saturday or Monday to formulate a personal Spring term program.

Spring classes begin Monday, Jan. 29.

All fees for the Spring term must be paid or arranged for in the period from Jan. 17 to 27. Registration cards will be available in the treasurers' office during this period.

Revisions Made In Curriculum For Next Year

Several revisions have been made in the curriculum to be offered this Spring, says A. William Engel, registrar. They include the following:

Introduction to economics 14 will be dropped. Students normally required to take that course may enroll in principles of economics 1 and 2, which will be given this Spring. The latter have been revised to meet requirements formerly met by economics 14.

Biology 13, mammalian anatomy, has been dropped.

Pre-med physical chemistry has been added. A three credit course, it will be taught by Dr. Raymond Davis. It is available to chemistry and biology majors.

The course in teaching of high school English has been reinstated by the curriculum committee and may be offered this Spring. This committee has also approved the addition of a new biology course, parasitology. To be taught in the Spring term by instructor Alexander Bartha, it will be a three credit course.

'Firefly' Set For Spring

Compton Selected Student Manager

Vera Compton, a senior from Arlington, Va., was selected student manager of the all-college presentation of Friml's "Firefly" by the Senate on Monday.

Miss Compton will work with Prof. Donald Johnson of the music department and Miss Lois Esaley of the dramatics department.

The Virginia co-ed will represent the students in the selection of the cast and appointment of the crews and committee-men. She is responsible for creating and maintaining general student interest in the production.

Miss Compton, who starred as Emily Kimbrough in the Masque production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," will be remembered for many other performances throughout her college career.

She has been a member of the Masque for four years and is a Masquer. This year she is vice-president of that organization.

Also she is a member of the Social Committee, Lambda Gamma and Sigma Gamma.

Pageant To Be Presented Sunday

"A Mystery for Christmas" will be presented Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Oller Hall.

The Chapel choir under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson will furnish the music for this Christmas pageant, most of which dates back to the 13th century. The works of Bach, Strauss and Cornelius and carols from various countries will be included in the program.

Soloists will be Donald Brinton, bass; Robert Frain, baritone; Galen Keeney, tenor; and Helen Wentzler, alto. There will also be a portion of the program devoted to caroling in which the audience will participate.

Chapel choir members include the following: sopranos—Margaret Barrington, Jane Garver, Martha Mallow, Helen Maust, Martha Petre, Katherine Plank, Judith Shanabrook and Virginia Yohn.

Alto—Jane Baker, Beverly Chamberlain, Phyllis Kulp, Janice Wenger, Helen Wentzler and Elaine Zook.

Tenors—Marcos Eddi, Leonard Hickman, Galen Keeney, Dwight Mishler, Clem Rosenberger and Fred Stauffer.

Basses—Donald Brinton, Robert Dwyer, Robert Frain, Robert Hatala, Wilfred Norris and Ray Siren.

Yuletide To Be Celebrated In Traditional Way

Plans are well underway for a full program of traditional Christmas celebration activities beginning Saturday in the social rooms and concluding a week later in the same place with hot chocolate.

The social rooms will be closed Saturday afternoon. Ardelle Hemming and her co-chairman, Leonard Hickman, will be working then with their committee to array the rooms in Christmas garb. A tree will be placed in the main hallway to the right of the fireplace. The fireplace mantel will be decked with greenery and traditional Christmas trimmings.

Main theme for the social rooms will be Nativity. A stable scene with Mary and the Child will be arranged at the wall beside the entrance to Dean Spencer's office.

A picture appropriate to this scene will be hung on the hall wall. There are to be candles in the windows and small table-top (See Christmas—, Page 4)

Graduate Exam To Be Given Feb. 2, 3

The next administration of the Graduate Record Examination is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Feb. 2 and 3, 1951, according to Dean Morley Mays.

Seniors who are considering graduate study should find out whether or not the graduate school to which they intend to go is interested in having the results of this examination.

All who are interested in taking the examination should see Dean Mays before Christmas recess. Application forms will then be secured from the office of the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. These application forms must be returned to the Princeton office two weeks before the date of examination. Books of information will also be available with the application forms.

The Graduate Record Examination is administered at many points over the United States, the nearest to Juniata being Penn State.

Light Opera To Be Given March 9, 10

Rudolf Friml's light opera, "The Firefly," has been selected for presentation this Spring, according to Prof. Donald Johnson. He and Miss Lois Esaley will stage the musical March 9 and 10, 1951.

This hit of 1912, which established the reputation of Friml as a composer, was chosen because "it can be produced in modern dress. A timeless story, it suits the student talents of Juniata," the director says. Other shows considered for Spring production and finally turned down for various reasons were "No, No, Nanette," "Rose Marie," and "Mlle. Modiste."

The book and lyrics for "Firefly" were written by a rising young lyricist, Otto Harbach, who was later to turn out some of Kern's and Romberg's best shows. According to music critic Sigmond Spaeth, the score of this operetta contains "at least three hit songs. (The one) the unforgettable 'Giannina Mia,' a grateful vehicle for the score of sopranos, the lilting waltz, 'Sympathy,' and the sprightly 'When a Maid Comes Knocking at Your Heart.'"

Many years later, the musical became a motion picture with Jeannette MacDonald and Allan Jones. "The Donkey Serenade," which was not a part of the original score of "Firefly," was interpolated into the score of this film.

Dinner, Formal To Be Held Wed.

The formal dinner and dance which have come to mark Christmas here at JC will be held Wednesday, Dec. 13. The dinner will get underway at 6 p. m. and will be followed by a short, varied program. Special guests have been invited to the meal, which is to be served banquet style.

The scene shifts to the "East Campus Dance Hall" (gym), where the College dance band will give out with the first downbeat at 8:30. Students attending this dance will find themselves in a winter-wonderland of evergreens and tinsel.

The Women's House Committee is sponsoring the dinner. The "Winterland Ball" is to be presented under the auspices of the Social Committee.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton A Truly Great Soul

We would like to thank the Huntingdon county and borough branches of the Pa. State Educational Association and the FTA of Juniata College for bringing Dr. Willis A. Sutton, former president of the National Educational Association and former superintendent of the Atlanta, Ga., schools to the Juniata campus.

His talk in Oller Hall on Friday night was wise and inspirational. You could sense the desire of the audience to catch every bit of his profound, wisdom, mixed as it was, with a kind of spontaneous humor.

The applause was long and respectful—a tribute to the true greatness of this frank and friendly man.

Dr. Sutton's challenge to teachers and educators is the large part that they can play in raising the cultural standards of the world by cultivating the limitless power of the human brain and soul.

After his talk you were sure that education is one of the greatest forces for good in the world and that we should all be active in it.

We hope that his philosophy of life and of education and his challenge will not be forgotten.

Senate Prints Agenda

The action taken by the Senate on a "Letter to the Editor" which appeared in last week's Juniatian shows the concern and interest of the student lawmakers in the opinions and views of their electorate. This letter asked for the prior announcement of those items of Senate business which are considered to be of "campus wide importance."

Sensors voted unanimously that all "controversial issues of general student interest" should be published in The Juniatian and posted on the bulletin board by the Friday before the meeting at which they are to be discussed.

This will give the students an opportunity to keep abreast of Senate business and to make their views known to the various Senators.

Democracy Can Work

The freshman class will have an opportunity to make democracy work when they choose their class officers next week.

These officers must organize and aid in such activities as the freshman party, All-Class Night, Move-Up Day and the collection of class dues. Also the class organization is the liaison between the class and its advisor and the Senate chairman of underclassmen.

The officers elected should be sincere, hardworking, clear thinking individuals who can captivate and maintain the enthusiasm of the class.

Democracy can work in the freshman class if voters choose their officers primarily on the basis of ability and capacity to organize.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Former Editor Praises Paper

To the Editor of the Juniatian:

It's about time that I have written and thanked you or the person responsible for sending me the Juniatian. It has been a weekly source of pride to me as I scan the make up, read the articles and realize that you are doing a much better job on the sheet than I ever approached.

Garber

Needless to say, the first section I read is "Alumni Notes." However, your first duty is to the student body. We read the Alumni Bulletin for complete alumni news and the Juniatian for news of the college. Whatever alumni gleanings we see in your paper are welcome, but we won't expect it.

In all departments, from Carol Cook's news feature to Betty Snively's proofing, I can only praise and be proud that I once worked with most of you.

Sincerely,

Jess Garber, '49

Pauline Bane Shaeffer

Wins $300 4-H Scholarship

A 4-H Club membership and a knowledge of clothing are worth $300. At least that's the experience of Mrs. Pauline Bane Shaeffer.

It all began three years ago when she turned in an achievement report as her first entry in the National 4-H Club Congress contest. This year she made her third try, and it paid off.

Mrs. Shaeffer's report, which told of her accomplishments and future plans in the clothing field, was judged top entry in the West Virginia state contest.

As a result, she and her report were sent to the finals in Chicago, held Nov. 26-30. The trip was sponsored by the Spool cotton Co. It was this company which awarded her a $300 scholarship when her report was judged the national winner in the clothing division. Other divisions included Forestry, Baby Care, etc.

To Dick Young, who has left college to work. We wish you good fortune and good luck. We will always remember you as a good man on the field and on the campus. We hope you will return, soon.

As a parting shot, Tom would like to laud the dance band for their top music. It makes a dance what a dance should be. Now if they could only show-off in the dining hall, I know its subversive—but it's practical. Isn't it?

Support A Loser?

by Bob Asan

Well, the first two games of the season have been played. Comments on the team are many and varied. One we'd like to make is this: why not wait a bit and let the team settle down and show what they are really capable of? Then, when we have a good idea of what they can do, we can praise them to the skies or throw them to the dogs. About throwing them to the dogs, "It takes a sport to cheer a loser."

Some Doe, But No Bucks

A couple of men on campus got themselves doe last week, but when buck season came no one got nuthin'. Ramor had it though, that there was more than a few of these "extinct" animals out behind Lion's Back. One was supposed to be an eight-pointer at least.

What! No Bowl Bids?

Juniata 38, Oklahoma 0. Sound impossible? Not at all. According to statistics compiled by Bill Carpenter, '51, JC is 38 points better than Oklahoma. This is on the basis of comparative scores of course, but 38 points is 38 points. The Indians are also better than Texas and Michigan, both of whom are headed for bowl games. Not so for the Indians though. It's a tuff break for the men of a great grid machine.

Pop Shot

How about Leo Kuhn's field goal to end the first half Saturday! Any comments on that shot to end all shots? Too bad we didn't get a couple more. They all look good in the morning paper.

Vittles For Gridders

The football squad will really eat next Friday. That's when they'll be the guests of the VFW post downtown.

HAZ, A Trade Secret

For those in the dark about the Juniata HAZ defensive set-up: Doc Greene declines to reveal the exact interpretation of the initials, a trade secret. However, he will admit that it is a hazing type of defense built around half a zone.

Bisons Tounce Indians, 87 to 54

Gallagher High With 29 Points

The Juniata Indians lost their second game of the season Tuesday night as they bowed to Bucknell University 87-54. The game was played in Davis Gym in Lewisburg.

Capitalizing on an excellent fast break, Bucknell outscored the Tribe in every period. The Bisons had a decided height advantage and put it to good use.

Gallagher High With 29 Points
Joe Gallagher and Don Strassner led a literally unstoppable Bison attack with 29 and 20 points respectively. Gallagher had 21 points in the first half and didn't get to see much action in the second.

JC started the game with a full court press and were able to hold down the Bisons. However, midway in the second period the Bisons broke loose, putting their fine fast break to effective use.

Green High Scorer
Tommy Green was high scorer for the Indians with nine points. Karl Park was runner-up with seven counters.

Brodmerkel Leads Lycoming To Win

With Jim Brodmerkel leading the way, Lycoming College scored a 70-63 win over the Indians in the opening game for both teams. Three Lycoming aces, Brodmerkel, Stu Kane and Bill Graff, led the attack with 21, 16 and 13 points respectively. The offense for the Indians was paced by Karl Park, with 16 points. Also hitting for double figures were Tommy Green and John Cook, each with 13 points.

Juniata led in the very early stages of the game, with scores of 2-0, 2-1 and 4-3 after the score had been knotted at 8-3. Then Lycoming took a 5-4 lead and from then on they were never headed, ending the quarter with an 11-9 lead.

This edition of the Phantoms will average about six feet in height. They are led by three high-scoring aces, Don Haverstock, John Brunner and Bill Foster.

Foster Man To Watch

Foster is the man to watch. In the two games played last year he dropped 31 points in the bucket. Haverstock and Brunner scored 18 and 17 points respectively in one game.

Haverstock is a 6-1 senior, while Foster and Brunner, both juniors, stand 6-2. These two, along with Ike Royer at 6-2½, are the tallest men on the squad.

Two Up From JV

Jim Meminger, Bill Schnieder and two men up from the JV team will round out the squad. These men are Carl Lehman, 5-9 and Jack Bolton, who is six feet even.

Schnieder is 5-9½, while Meminger stands 6-1. Meminger is a junior and much is expected of him. In one game against JC last year he sunk 11 points.

Indians Split Last Season
In the two games played last season the Indians gained a split. They dropped the first game at E-town 67-33, but won the second at home 62-57.

Karl Park and Tommy Green, Indian scoring aces, probably will continue to pace the Indian attack. And, if the team plays as well as they did in the early stages of the Bucknell game they could easily come out on top.

Grovers In First Test Against HAZ

The Indians head west next week to take on two basketball foes on successive nights. The first of these is Grove City.

Juniata did not play Grove City last year and this will be the first time the Grovers will play against Doc Greene's HAZ defense.

This Grove City team is a different team from the one that won eight out of 19 games last year. Built around Tom Weaver, George Hill and Jack Leetch, the squad will average about six feet in height. These three men scored 466 points between them last season and they are expected to carry the brunt of the offense.

Weaver is the only one above six feet, being 6-1. Hill and Leetch are 5-9 and 5-10 respectively.

Two tall boys, Dave Robinson, 6-2, and Jim Winland, 6-3, are expected to help no little. Several freshmen on the squad are also expected to come through and win places.

JV Squad Loses To Bucknell

The Junior Varsity squad lost a thriller to Bucknell in the last few seconds of play. The Jayvees lost by a 47-46 count in a game dominated by fouls. Chuck Knox and John Thomas led the scorers for Juniata with 12 and nine points respectively.

Danced Theatre
Mata, Hari's Life

by Peg Barrington

Ruth Mata and Eugene Hari cannot decide which of their dances they like best. When asked, all they could say was, "They're all wonderful, and each one is so different from the others."

They had been forced to put on their show after a 26 hours drive, and only three hours of sleep. After such an ordeal, one could see that they loved their work.

Touch Of French In Speech

Off-stage, Mata and Hari are quiet, earnest, and speak with a slight French accent. They are serious about their dancing, and are constantly trying to improve it. At present, they are working on two more numbers to add to their repertoire—a parody on Hollywood and a mystery thriller.

The group had almost as much trouble getting here as some JC students. They were marooned in Toledo, Ohio, while their car was undergoing repairs. Then they were delayed by a "terrible blizzard." They had to dance again the very next night.

Danced Theater 'Their Life'

Grudging though it may be, Tommy Marlowe, says of his work with the troupe, "It is an opportunity. The training in character portrayal is good experience for a dancer. Most important—you act, and speak, with your body." Mata summed up her feelings and those of her husband when she said that the Danced Theater was "our life."

Draft Status
Of College Men
Same As In Fall

The draft status of college men eligible for service in the armed forces remains the same as it was last Fall, says Pres. Ellis.

Students called for active service may have induction postponed until the end of this school year.

In commenting on the present world situation, Pres. Ellis said he feels that all students should complete as much of their education as possible. He added that Juniata will be offering a full summer session this year for those wishing to accelerate their education.

World War II Draft Refurbished

The draft law now in effect is much like that of World War II. Deferments from military service are granted students who are preparing for certain special professions. Those studying to be doctors or ministers, for example, are eligible for deferment if they maintain a satisfactory standing at college.

A committee appointed by Pres. Truman to study the deferment question made its recommendations a few months ago. It recommended that the top students in all fields should be deferred instead of all the students in a few special professions.

What Of Deferments?

When Congress studies the draft law, one of the big items to be decided will be the deferment question. Congress will have to decide if deferments will be made in accordance with the recommendations of Truman's committee or if deferments should continue as in the past.

In the Dec. 19 issue of Look, a magazine of Harvard University, will give the reasons why he thinks all young men between the ages of 18 and 20 should be inducted into the armed forces immediately. In a later issue, he will be answered by another college president.

Frosh Snow-Time
Party To Be Jan. 6

Low lights, soft music and your prettiest gowns, girls, will be the order for the day for the Snow-Time Party. The freshmen class will sponsor the semi-formal affair on Saturday evening, January 6.

John Cook, temporary chairman of the frosh class, and the freshmen committee have begun plans and arrangements for the dance. The music will be furnished by the JC dance band.

Talk To County Service Clubs

The international students now on campus are making personal appearances this month at several civic and social club meetings in Huntingdon, Mount Union and Lewistown.

Wednesday the Mount Union Twentieth Century Club was host to a group composed of Naomi Kulp, a freshman from British West Africa; Marcos Eddi, a freshman from Panama; Hermann Finst, a special student from Germany; and Jairo Silva, a freshman from Brazil. Connie Sherman presided.

Another group of foreign students will appear at the Huntingdon Kiwanis Club meeting Dec. 11. Appearing in this program, chaired again by Miss Sherman, will be Samuel Apprey, a sophomore from the Gold Coast of West Africa; Ragnhild Gravlie, a special student from Norway; Leilah Mullin, formerly of France; and Pabst.

Under the chairmanship of Jack Baldrige, Miss Gravlie, Miss Kulp and Pabst will speak at the Huntingdon Rotary Club meeting Dec. 12. That same day Baldrige will preside over a group presenting a program for the AAUW of Lewistown. This group will include Miss Gravlie, Miss Kulp, Silva and George Dolnikowski, a special student and displaced person from Russia.

The final appearance in this series will take place Dec. 14 at the Mount Union Rotary Club meeting. Here several of the students will tell about Christmas in their native countries. Participating in this program will be Baldrige, Dolnikowski, Christian Kaltenborn, a special student from Germany; and Philip Kulp, a junior born in British West Africa.

Senate Issues
To Be Published
When Possible

The Senate voted Monday evening that "all controversial items of general student interest" should be published in the Juniatian and posted on a bulletin board on Friday before the regular Senate meeting.

This action was taken as a result of the letter in the Juniatian last week asking that important items on the Senate agenda be made public. The new plan will enable students to follow Senate meetings and make their views known to the various Senators.

Senators also decided that dress for the formal dinner to be held Wednesday evening shall be evening gowns for the women and suits for the men. The suits should be dark, if possible. No jackets are allowed.

Receive Snider's Reply

The Senate received a reply to a letter sent to F. M. Snider, director of athletics, asking that something be done about the neighbor children who hang around the College gymnasium. Mr. Snider said that children should not be in the gym except for supervised parties. These, he said, do not conflict with student use of the gymnasium.

Mr. Snider asked the aid of students to keep children out of the gym. He pointed out that the west doors of the gym will be closed during the day and that students may enter by the dressing room entrance.

To Consider Unset Tables

Senate president Showalter appointed a committee to consider agencies which will receive JWSP money this year. This report and consideration of the problem of assigned tables which are not set up will be the items of Senate business for Monday evening. A list of these items and others which may come up are posted on the bulletin board today.

New table assignments go into effect on Monday.

Mays To Read Dickens' 'Carol' At 7:15 Tonight

The traditional reading of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" tonight will be one of the high points in the current round of yuletide festivities at J.C. believes Senate chairman of general activities. Renie Hebrank.

This year Morley Mays, Dean of the College, has been asked to give the reading. He and his wife and daughter will be guests of the College at dinner tonight. After dinner there will be a short program of carol singing led by Clair Schaffner in the Social Rooms. Following this, at about 7:15 p. m., the reading will be given.

Tomorrow at 5:30 a. m., carolers led by Beanie Roberts will leave Founders porch to sing in front of the homes of the faculty and friends of the College. All students are invited to join the service. Wesley Diemer, Holmes Royer and Ray McHenry will provide instrumental accompaniment.

When the singers return from their mission, breakfast, including hot chocolate, will be served in the dining hall. For further thawing out, a fire will be lit in the Social Rooms fireplace.

Decorations in the Social Rooms were planned under the direction of co-chairmen Ardelle Hemmig and Len Hickman. Others on the committee were Jack Ullsh, Bob Bailey, Betsy Dively, Bob Wagoner, and Nancy Stephens. Assistants were Don Sikes, Ron Cherry, Jo Pentz, Mickey Monks, Janet Wiltshire and Frank Jarrett.

Outside decorating was in the hands of the freshmen class under chairman Bernard Petrusky. Aiding him were Frank Harlachner, Dallas Duffield, Millard Taylor, Fred Dieffenbacher, Charles Dunbar, Howard Van Sclen, Joe Dunn, Dagmar Silldorff, Jess Gundoor, Larry Wright and Bob Flory.

Extra Vacation Day Given; Classes To Resume Jan. 3

A request from the Senate for an additional day of Christmas recess has been granted, according to an announcement by Dean Morley Mays. This has been done so that students may avoid travel New Year's Day.

Classes will be resumed Wednesday, Jan. 3, instead of the preceding day as originally scheduled.

In order to compensate for the loss of this class day, and also for the loss of a day on Monday, Nov. 27 due to the snowstorm, the administration and faculty have decided to postpone the beginning of the final examinations until Wednesday, Jan. 17, 1951. Originally these were scheduled to begin on the preceding Monday.

The exam period will close Friday, Jan. 28.

Classes Shortened Saturday For Christmas Vacation

In order that students may make train connections for the Christmas vacation, the following shortened class schedule for Saturday has been arranged:

First period—8 to 8:40
Second period—8:45 to 9:25
Third period—9:30 to 10:10
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:55
Lunch will be served at 11 a. m.
"Work for this day is to be regarded as normal and regular," according to the office of the president.

"... AND WHEN THEY WERE COME INTO THE HOUSE, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother, and fell down and worshipped him..."—Gospel of St. Matthew 2:11.

Celebrating Christmas as it was in the beginning, with attitudes of reverence, are Lois Robinson, Marj Seidel, Shirley Neil and Dottie Hummer.

8 Point Program On Scholarship Set By Faculty

"Scholarship is our first business," states the report on scholarship passed by the faculty Monday, Dec. 4.

The preamble to the report points out that "the multiple activities of the students of Juniata College may very quickly and effectively confuse their sense of values. There is evidence that many of our students are now so confused."

Some of the college activities are going "pressures and attractions." Others are "trivial and irrelevant to our fundamental purposes."

Continuing, the report states that the administration and faculty may be partly responsible for this loss of perspective.

8 Point Program Listed
Faculty members were directed by the report to the following "program of emphasis upon scholarship."

The effectiveness of this eight-point program to help the student put his studies first "depends to a large extent upon a universal agreement as to their value and a universal application of them in practice."

1. quizzes—at least once a week to check class preparation and also library reading assignments.

2. papers—short papers at frequent intervals.

3. grades—an emphasis on the normal distribution of grades.

4. preparation—two hours of preparation for every class session.

5. effort—students should measure up to their abilities. "Any student whose performance falls below the level of his potential achievement, even though by the standards of the class his work may be wholly satisfactory, may be prompted to view his work as seriously deficient."

6. recommended work—superior students should be encouraged to do additional reading or research.

Fla. Alumni Dinner Feb. 12

The Florida Alumni Dinner will be held Monday, Feb. 12, 1951 at the Jacaranda Hotel, Avon Park. Alumni who are visiting in Florida at that time are invited to attend this Juniata occasion. Reservations can be made through the Alumni Office.

Senate Selects 5 Beneficiaries Of JWSF Fund

The World Student Service Fund, the Red Cross, missionaries Stover Kulp and Benton Rhodes, and the Foreign Student Aid Fund will be recipients of JWSF Drive funds this year according to Senate action taken Monday night.

At the meeting, Senators recommended that the administration furnish hooks in the entrance of the old dining hall and a new hanger in the entrance of the new dining hall to accommodate students' coats.

Ask Lights For Icy Steps
They also asked that lights be put on the steps to the post office and under Founders Porch. These areas, they concluded, are dangerous in icy weather.

The Senate passed a resolution asking that the administration look into the condition of the lavatory in the Mens' Day Student Room.

Senate president Showalter is conferring with Miss Mathias on the question of unset tables and also on the question of why students are not eating their meals.

Asst. Announcer Named
The Senate appointed Hobart Heistand and Benton Newcomer as additional assistant announcers in the dining hall.

New table assignments go into effect Monday, Jan. 8.

According to Bud Kreider, chairman of the Senate concessions committee, all individuals who wish to do business must first have the approval of the committee.

Cook Elected Frosh Pres.

John Cook has been elected president of the freshman class. He was temporary chairman.

Also elected were Ray McHenry, vice-president; Diane Bramhall, treasurer; and Dagmar Silldorff, secretary. Miss Silldorff served as acting secretary during the first part of the year.

No Paper Till Jan. 6

The next issue of the Juniata will be published Saturday, Jan. 6, 1951. This decision has been made because many of the staff will not return from Christmas vacation until Wednesday morning, Jan. 3, 1951.

GC Wins, 57-37

'Gators To Host Tribe

The Juniata Indians will be seeking their second win of the season when they meet the 'Gators of Allegheny at Meadville tonight.

The Indians will be facing a team that is built around Bud McIndoe, a 6-5 sophomore who set the modern scoring record for Allegheny last year. Playing in little more than three quarters, McIndoe dropped 32 points in the bucket against Woodier. Over the whole season he scored 212 points for an average of 12.5 points per game.

Scored on 45% Of Shots

His field goal percentage was a sensational 451 and he hit for better than 50% of his foul shots. McIndoe's favorite shot is a jump from the pivot. He is also a good jumper and does a fine job off the boards.

Supporting McIndoe will be Art Lowrie, John Potter, and Rink Koford, all of whom are six feet or more in height. Potter is the second tallest man on the team, standing 6-4. Rounding out the squad will be Jack Bynane, a 5-8 senior, Bill Courtney, 6-2 sophomore, and three men up from the JV team. These men are Bob Mowrey, Lee Parker and Don Werner.

'Gators Lose Last Start

The 'Gators have played two games this year already and in their last game they lost to Adinboro Teachers 64-52. In the one game played last year the Indians won by a score of 54-48.

Karl Park, Tommy Green and Ray Korody will continue to spark the Indians. With any amount of height the Indians could win this game and if they play the way they did last week will probably win it.

Park Has 12 In JC Loss

Juniata's cagers met with defeat in the first game of their two game western trip. Grove City beat them 57-37 at Grove City last night.

Paced by George Hill, the Grovers got off to a 15-5 first period lead and never were headed. With a distinct height advantage, they were able to gain control of the backboard. Grove City also used a fast breaking type of offense that the Indians could not handle. At the end of the first half Juniata was down, 29-13.

Indians Score 16

The Indians managed to close the gap somewhat in the third period by scoring 16 points. This was the highest registered by either team in one period, but it didn't do the Indians much good as the Grovers hit for 14. The score at the end of the third quarter showed the Grovers ahead, 43-29.

Poor Average On Shots

The Indians had terrible luck making their shots good. They connected on only 14% of their tries, making 11 of 78. Karl Park led the Indians with 12 points, while Tommy Green was second with nine.

High scoring honors for the evening went to Hill of Grove City, who poured 16 points through the hoop.

1 Week JWSF Drive To Kick Off Feb. 19

The Juniata World Service Fund drive will kick off Feb. 19, the Senate has informed chairman Jay Benedict. It will last for one week.

Purpose of the JWSF drive is to "serve as a sort of Chest drive in which funds for many worthy organizations are collected through one effort," according to Benedict. Charities to benefit from this year's drive will be decided by the Senate.

Members of this year's JWSF policy committee, in addition to Benedict, are Art Allen, solicitations; Keith Binkley, treasurer; Bev Williams, secretary; and Jack Middour, publicity. Students interested in helping with either solicitations or publicity are asked to contact Allen or Middour.

Girls I-M Basketball To Be Tues., Thurs.

Girls' Intramural Basketball got under way Tuesday, Dec. 5. The games will be played each Tuesday and Thursday.

The end of the first week of play saw the "Brumbaugh Babes," "Geiger Gals," "Ona Hot Shots" and "Motley Crew" in the win column, while the "First Team," "Blue Devils," "Pygmies," and "Hammer Heads" were on the low end of the score.

Barbara Snively and Dolly Shaffer were high scorers for the first two nights.

Potential Preacher Is Papa

Six pounds, 12 ounces of young lady was added to the Lloyd Newlin menage Dec. 5. Christened Renee Yvonne, she was born to Luvanda Newlin at J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital.

The father is a senior pre-ministerial student here. This is their first child.

All Class Night Scripts Due Jan. 8, 1951—Korman

"Final deadline for All Class Night scripts is Jan. 8, 1951," says general chairman Bill Korman. The 20-minute skits submitted by each class will be read and approved by a student-faculty committee which includes Korman, his assistant, Kay Wright; Dean Edith Spencer and Dr. Donald Rockwell.

The only student written and produced show annually presented on campus, All Class Night has been set this year for April 21, 1951.

A joint French-Spanish Clubs Christmas party was held Tuesday evening in the Womens' Day Student Room. The program included a solo, "O Holy Night," sung in French by Joy Truxal, a piano solo "Clare de lune" by Jo Shelley, and "Mon Beau Sapin," a duet in French by Peg Barrington and Margie Loetzbeier.

Belgian Christmas selections were discussed by Mrs. George Baker, Lois Ann Wagner described Spain's, and Marcos Eddi, South America's.

The program concluded with the breaking of the pinata, the traditional Mexican games for all fiestas, and the singing of Christmas carols in Spanish and French.

Pageant Cast Thanked

Hearty thanks go to the production staff, pageant cast and Chapel Choir for the results of their fine work in presenting the Christmas pageant this past Sunday. Numerous comments and the large audience confirm the high esteem felt by our College community and the townspeople for the visual and aural beauty we gave to the nativity.

Football Squad Guests Of VFW; Engle to Speak

Juniata's football team will be honored guests at a banquet tonight. This will be the fourth of these annual affairs.

The dinner will consist of turkey and all the trimmings. After the dinner the men of the team will be introduced.

"Rip" Engle To Speak

Bill Engel, Juniata publicity director, will act as toastmaster, while the principal speaker will be Charles "Rip" Engle, head football coach at Penn State.

The coach has just completed his first season at State where his team won five, lost three and tied one. The last win was the sweetest as it was over State's biggest rival, Pitt.

Before coming to State, Engle was head coach at Brown University. This year he has been named assistant coach to Ray Eliot for the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Alabama.

Humorous Speaker

Engle is a humorous speaker with a wealth of football and athletic lore upon which he can draw. One of his favorite stories involves a football game played in his last year at Blue Ridge College. In that game the team lost 110-0. The humor of the story comes from the fact that the team didn't scrimmage that week, but spent all their time practicing extra points.

Movies of either the Pitt-Penn State game or the Rutgers-Penn State game will be shown. As added entertainment, the VFW quartet will sing some Christmas carols.

Indians Beat E-town, 41-39

Juniata dribblers won their season's first basketball game Saturday night. They downed E-town, 41-39.

Playing a HAZ defense, the Indians kept the visitors in check most of the evening. Karl Park and Tom Green handled the front court, while Ray Korody, Dave Bayer and Ed Weirauch took care of the back court.

Captain Korody led the Indians' scoring with 13 points.

The third finger, left hand became the object of Lew Bowman's attentions Dec. 2, when he presented Erla Mae Weist, a '51 graduate of Lebanon Valley College, is now taking post graduate work at the University of Delaware.

Scholarship—

7. extra-curricular activities—"When a student is engaged in a particular program of intensive extra-curricular activity, he may be encouraged to relinquish temporarily his participation in other activities in order that his scholarship may suffer as little as possible."

8. personal integrity—there should be no cheating in tests and no plagiarism in writing papers, etc. Plagiarism in the form of paraphrase or uncredited quotes "should be viewed as grievously immoral and educationally subversive. The standards of personal integrity in this regard should be constantly impressed upon the student."

Faculty Winless In I-M Bowling

For the second straight week Les Miserables have met with defeat in intramural bowling. Last week it was the Sneaks who knocked them off two games to one. Les Miserables salvaged a tie, however, by winning their one game by such a margin that they got the fourth point.

The Faculty continued their losing ways by dropping to the No-Names 4-0. The other girls' team, the Striketees, also swept their match with the Sliders.

Tonight's schedule:

6:45—Les Miserables vs Trojans

Sneaks vs Striketees

8:45—Sliders vs NoNames

Faculty vs Aces

The standings and first five averages for nine or more games:

	W	L	Pct.
Trojans	8	0	1.000
Les Miserables	16	4	.800
Aces	12	4	.750
Striketees	11	5	.688
Sliders	4	8	.333
Sneaks	4	12	.250

Keyboard Artist To Appear Monday

Pressler Began Studies In Israel

Long acclaimed "poet of the piano", Menahem Pressler will appear in Oller Hall Monday night at 8:15.

This young Israeli artist has established himself both in recital work and as soloist with orchestras. He has played three seasons with the Philadelphia Orchestra, two with the Indianapolis Symphony and San Antonio Symphony, as well as with several other outstanding orchestras.

Israel His 'Adopted Land'
Born in Magdeburg, Germany, Dec. 16, 1928, the pianist was only ten when his family fled from Hitler to Israel, where the boy grew up and began his musical studies. Pressler says of his adopted land: "I owe it everything—liberty, education, cultural awareness."

Studying first under Elish Rudjakow, he later worked with Leo Kestenberg, one-time Minister of Fine Arts in Germany. Meanwhile, he attracted the attention of Dr. Karl Salomon, music director of the Palestine Broadcasting Service, who became very instrumental in developing his budding career.

Sensitive to people and to art in every form, Pressler was laying the foundation for fame based on culture and humanity as well as musicianship and virtuosity.

Monumental in his career so far was his success at San Francisco's first international music contest in Aug. 1946. Seventeen-year-old Pressler entered the contest to compete for the $1,000 Debussy prize after he had mastered merely 19 of the required 27 compositions.

Armed Forces Discussions Set

All men students are encouraged to attend a series of three meetings being planned to acquaint them with the opportunities offered by the armed forces.

The first meeting will be in the old Chapel Tuesday, at 5 p. m. Sergeant Stauffer, the local recruiting officer for the army and air forces will talk to all those interested in these services. He will answer any questions concerning schools and special training programs.

The second meeting will be Wednesday at the same time. Dean Rhodes will speak. The dean was a classification and Assignment Officers and also a Personnel director in the army and will offer the "benefit of his experiences."

A third meeting is in the tentative stages and will try to bring the navy into the picture. Discussions parallel to those of the other meetings will be held.

A Cappella Choir To Head West Jan. 26

The a cappella choir will leave Huntingdon after final exams for their annual tour, this year to the western part of the state and Ohio. Their schedule is as follows:

Jan. 26, Everett; Jan. 27, Somerset; Jan. 28, Meyersdale and Uniontown; Jan. 29, Greensburg; Jan. 30, Pittsburgh; Jan. 31, Canton, Ohio; Feb. 1, Youngstown, Ohio; Feb. 2, Berkeley Church, Windber; Feb. 3, broadcast over WCRO, Johnstown; and Feb. 4, Roxbury Church (Johnstown), Maple Spring (Jerome), and Walnut Grove (Johnstown).

POET OF THE PIANO—Menahem Pressler, second artist to appear here in the Community Concert Series, will present a concert in Oller Hall Monday night at 8:15. Trained in Israel, his crowning success so far has been his winning of first place at the First San Francisco International Music Contest, Aug. 1946. He was 17 at the time.

Informal Frosh Party Tonight

Couples will swing and sway to the music of the college dance band at the freshman-sponsored Snow Ball this evening in the gym. Beginning at 8:30, the dance will be informal—that is, "dressedy" but not semi-formal as previously announced.

Serving as committee chairmen for the dance are the following frosh: Betty Brumbaugh, decorations; Gene Felix, refreshments; Kay Kuehne, publicity; and Ray McHenry, music. Diane Bramhall and Dagmar Silldorff issued invitations.

John Cook, president of the class, is entertainment chairman and promises a program of outstanding talent from the class.

One Spring Course Dropped

"Teaching of High School English" will not be offered in the Spring term as was tentatively planned, the office of the registrar reports. A suitable instructor could not be found. Eight students had signed up for the course.

An Interview

Hermann Pabst, German Student, Says US Is 'Fast'

by Peg Barrington

"It was all so fast," is how Hermann Pabst describes the two weeks in which he was graduated from high school, left Germany (for the first time in his life), and flew to the United States.

Pres. Calvert Ellis first told the young German about JC when he visited Pabst's home town, which is also the birthplace of the Church of the Brethren. When Pabst learned that the College had offered him a scholarship, and that the student Senate had contracted to pay his expenses, he decided to accept. Six weeks later he began his trip.

Stranded in New York
No-one met him at the airport, so he was unexpectedly turned out on the city of New York with barely enough money, four suitcases, and eight and one-half years of training in English "by the book," not at all like the language of the American streets.

First he went to the wrong railroad station, and then he tried to buy the wrong ticket, but things were finally straightened out and here he is.

Truxal, Johnson 'Firefly' Leads

Joy Truxal and Clyde Johnson will sing the leading roles in the Spring musical, Rudolf Friml's "The Firefly," according to director Donald Johnson.

Miss Truxal will take the role of Nina, a street singer, and will be understudied by Laura Hollingshead. Johnson will appear as Geraldine's sweetheart, Jack.

Miss Truxal, a freshman music major, was chosen at Greensburg High School to sing in a special choir of 90 voices. As a member of this choir, she appeared in three operettas singing the lead in her senior year and in four variety shows singing solos in her last three years of school.

Member of Chorus

In high school Miss Truxal also was a member of the Westmoreland County Chorus, district chorus, band, orchestra and the Greensburg Choral Society. She took fourth place honors in the Greensburg Lions County Amateur Show.

After graduation Miss Truxal plans to become a choir director or a concert or radio singer. She says, "I enjoy singing for the public."

Johnson, also a music major, is a member of the junior class. He appeared in the last two years in both of the operettas, "Sweethearts" and "Pirates of Penzance."

Johnson Choir Manager

A member of the a cappella choir for the past two years, he is now the choir's manager. Johnson also sang in the Chapel Choir in his freshman year and is a member of the band. He has appeared in the Christmas pageants for the past three years.

The supporting cast of "The Firefly" will be: Helen Wentzler as Mrs. Van Dure; Laura Hollingshead (understudied by Josephine Chiodi) as Sybil, her daughter; Helen Rosengren as Geraldine; Mrs. Van Dure's niece; Joyce Grove, Suzette, Geraldine's maid.

Wesley Diemer as valet to Thurston; Gerald Hartzel as Thurston, Jack's uncle; Fred Stauffer, a confidential clerk; and Clem Rosenberger as Herr Franz, a choir master.

Six other small speaking roles will soon be assigned.

Exam Rules Summarized

No changes have been made in the usual final exam procedure, a memo from the registrar shows.

Designed for "those who desire honestly to do their best" and to help students avoid "all acts that might raise suspicion of dishonest intention," the rules may be summarized as follows:

- Students must remain in the examination room until they are finished and have submitted their blue books.

- No student may leave an exam unless ill. If he must leave, he shall submit his blue book to the proctor.

- Students taking the same exam must not sit in neighboring seats.

- Proper alignment and position of chairs must be maintained, with one chair between each desk.

- No materials not necessary to the test may be taken into the examination room.

- Only one blue book will be disbursed at a time.

Plans To Teach Music

When he receives his certificate of graduation from high school (it has been delayed), Pabst will be officially a junior at Juniata. When he completes his college training, he will return to Germany to teach his major, music. On the side, he expects to instruct in English and Latin.

Eyes twinkling, this international student adds the observation that American girls are a "different type" than he is used to, but that he is "very happy" here.

Dyer Saves Tot's Life

Juniata Freshman Helps To Rescue Drowning Girl

During the Christmas vacation, a Juniata freshman had a hand in saving a four year old girl from drowning. He was Robert Dyer, who was aided by a University of Maryland student, Robert Muller.

The girl was walking across thin ice when it gave way, and she plunged into the frigid water. Dyer and Muller were driving along the road when Dyer noticed the accident. The two immediately set out to rescue the girl, choosing different paths to reach her.

Broke Through Ice

Both broke through the ice several times, traveling in icy water much of the distance to the girl. They managed to get the girl out of the water on to the ice.

Dyer half pushed and half shoved the girl back across the ice to the shore. There they were helped by policemen who had arrived a few minutes earlier.

The two college students suffered from the extreme cold and exposure, as well as slight cuts on the arms caused by jagged ice.

Natl. Press Got It Wrong

Dyer reports that national press accounts about his exploit contain many inaccuracies. Most accounts said that in the haste of leaving the car to go to the rescue, Muller slammed the door on Dyer's finger. "But," explains Dyer, "I had accidentally slammed the car door on my finger much earlier in the morning."

He added, "I'm a little wary now when I see a little girl out on ice. I certainly wouldn't want to have to go through all that again."

A business major from Haddonfield, N. J., Dyer is a member of the Outing Club, the Spanish Club and the Chapel choir. He also plays intramural football. He was graduated from Haddonfield High School where he was a three letterman in football and track.

Organ Recital Set For Sunday

A public organ recital by the advanced students of Prof. Donald Johnson will be given tomorrow at 2 p. m. in Oller Hall.

In three of the dozen selections the organ is to be used "as an ensemble instrument in combination with other instruments," the professor adds.

These will be two organ and piano numbers—Bach's "Siciliano" played by Miriam Smith and Doris Orner; and Demarest's "Rhapsody," by Frances Beaver and Doris Orner—and a violin—piano—organ trio: Handel's "Arioso," by Charles Redenberger, Helen Wentzler and Earle Grover.

The remainder of the program will include the following selections:

- "Prelude on 'Angels from the Realms of Glory,'" Mathews and "Night," Karg-Elert, by Miriam Smith; "Elegy," Youfferoff, by Doris Orner; "Short Prelude and Fugue in B Flat," Bach, and "Before the Image of a Saint," Karg-Elert, by Frances Beaver.

- "Festivity," Jenkins and "Andante from Sonata in C Minor," Rheinberger, by Earle Grover; "Prelude and Fugue in C Major," Bach, and "Canon in B Minor," Schumann, by William Weyandt.

Late Enrollment Cost $5

Previously enrolled students who failed to register for Spring term classes before Christmas vacation must now obtain permission to do so from their respective deans, registrar A. William Engel says. A fee of $5 will be charged those who wish to register without this permission.

Is U. S. Losing Its Principles ?

The New Yorker Magazine reports that a recent Sears, Roebuck Catalog advertises a doll house with a bar in it. This is only another indication of the low morality of "life in these United States."

We spend billions annually on alcohol and tobacco. We waste away precious hours in front of television sets and the movie screens. We tolerate segregation in some of our large universities.

We call a railroad strike during one of the greatest periods in our national history. We talk of dropping the atomic bomb on Peiping or on Moscow and of a preventive war.

We support the established regimes in Asia which, according to Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, in the current issue of Look, are, for the most part, the forces of conservatism, corruption and colonialism, against those of reform and liberty.

We Welcome All Comers

We welcome with open arms all comers who have divisions, regardless of the fact that some are fascist and totalitarian.

Then we wonder why we have so few friends in Europe and Asia. We wonder why the United States and the world is in the shape it is militarily and morally. We have said that we stand for truth and freedom and we have demonstrated it many times in many ways.

Ideals In Danger

However, today our thinking and, consequently, our foreign policy has become so survival and fear-centered that we are in danger of giving up many of our lofty ideals in order to survive.

If we continue this thinly-veiled self-interest for survival which makes all peoples pawns in the American-Soviet struggle for world power then we will lose the respect and the friendship of the whole world.

A Positive Program

Therefore, besides armament, the United States should present the rebelling peoples of the world with democratic ideas and with a definite program for reform and industrial development. This would mean providing all peoples, regardless of political affiliation, with food, shelter and the opportunity to live and to live.

We, Americans, must do more than talk about democracy. We must show it can work here and we must foster it in Europe and in Asia.

America must never forget that there are principles greater even than expediency and survival. These are the principles of unselfishness, love and brotherhood. Only can they win for us friendship and salvation.

T O M M Y H A W K

At the rate at which men are being drafted or are enlisting, Juniata will eventually have to change its charter to a girls' college. All I ask is that I coach the football team. There would be a lot of completed passes, with no fake reverses. Among the draft possibilities are Dave LeFever and Harry Campbell. Bob Donaghy enlisted into the Army Quartermaster Corp and Art Shriver enlisted as a deckhand. Joe Beyer has been drafted. Seems as though the younger generation can't even get started. I quote the little girl who said, "Someday there will be a war and nobody will come."

Tommy noticed that despite the title, the Winterland Ball was a warm and happy occasion for all. Among the many good looking couples were Nick and Vera.

Tommy's New Year's Resolutions: To ask Miss Mathias to put out weekly menus so we can see what we have eaten. To ask the administration to comply with the senate request for a light for the front of the post office entrance, and to have ten watt bulbs in the lamps in the Social Rooms. And cut no classes between semesters.

This nosy critter noticed the many smiles and looks of romantic expectations on the faces of the both sexes as they gathered in Skip's to see who else arrived back. The seniors were there contemplating the next semester's comprehensives (or the ones in action this week) and wishing they were once more happy freshmen. May you all pass Magna Cum Laude. I will probably make it with a Cum Lousy.

Till I see you again,
Tom

Golf, Baseball Teams Only Ones To Win In 1950

Four Sports On IM Program

IM Basketball

The intramural basketball league, made up of 14 teams, is in full swing. Two teams share first place. A split schedule will be played, with the winners of each half to meet in a championship playoff at the end of the season.

Following is a list of the high scorers and team standings as of January 4:

	G	Pts.	Ave.
D Robinson	4	52	13
J Richman	5	45	9
J Walker	5	45	9
B Myers	3	43	14.3
R Tesi	5	43	8.6
R Ortenzio	5	43	8.6
Trojans	5	0	1.000
Bridgers	5	0	1.000
BTO's	3	1	.750
The 54	2	1	.667
YHO's	3	2	.600
I-7	2	2	.500
Tigers	1	1	.500
Sneaks	1	1	.500
Kroy Wens	2	3	.400

Meteorites, The Champs

Last year's champs in the intramural basketball league were the Meteorites. They finished with an 11-1 record. After winning the pennant, the leaders went on to sweep the playoffs. Playing for the Meteorites, who were managed by "Meteor Mike" Dzvonar, were Dick Young and Phil Chabody at the forwards. Dzvonar, Aldo Bonomi and Mike Mervis were guards, while George Smith was the center.

Dzvonar

Bonomi

Don Robinson led the scorers with 226 points and an average of 18.8 points per game.

IM Bowling

With the first half of the intramural bowling league drawing to a close this is the way the teams line up:

	W	L
Trojans	8	0
Les Miserables	14	2
Aces	12	4
Strikettes	7	5
Sliders	4	4
Sneaks	2	10
NoNames	1	15
Faculty	0	8

Note that all the teams have not bowled all their games and more than a few must be made up to complete the records.

Pacing the keggers with an average of 171.2 for six games is Ray Korody. Then come Ed Marschka, Ron Hausman, Ron Clapper and George Crusier. Their averages are 148.9, 144.1, 144.0 and 143.1 respectively.

The second half begins January 12 and ends on March 2. A match matching the winners of both halves will be held then to determine the league Championship.

1st Half Leaders

The first half champs of the 1949-50 Intramural Bowling League were Les Miserables, while the Sliders took the honors in the second half.

IM Softball

The Daylights of Bob Appleby took first place in the Intramural Softball League, afternoon session, while the evening title went to the Rookies managed by Vernon Beam. Sixteen teams were entered in the league.

Trojans, Football Leaders

Ray Korody's Trojans came through the 1950 Intramural Football race undefeated and were named champs. They took both ends of a split season.

Other teams in the league were the Sky Pilots, Bruins, Whiz Kids, Red Skins and the Dirty Shirts.

Joe Beyer

Harriers Fare Poorly; Beyer Breaks Record

The Indians won one out of four dual meets and one triangular meet last year. Also in the track season was the Interclass Meet and the Gold Medal X-Country run.

The sophomores took the interclass meet. The only high spot of the intercollegiate season was Joe Beyer's record breaking mile against Lebanon Valley.

Beyer has been running with the New York Pioneer Club since last summer. In the Connecticut State Championships he copied the second place medal.

As a student, Beyer set the mile and two mile records. The times are 4:38.6 and 10:04.6 respectively. He also won the Mike Snider Gold Medal X-Country Run in his last two years, setting the record as a junior.

Beyer ran the two miles in the Middle Atlantic Relays in 9:57, bettering the school record. This could not be counted, however, as he did not win the event.

Athletes Get Awards

Juniata's six most outstanding athletes of 1949-50 received a last spring. The awards were made for each of the following sports: football line, football back, basketball, baseball, track and golf.

Winning the awards were: Aldo Bonomi for football line, Mike Dzvonar for football back and Holmes Ush for basketball.

"Squeeze" Long

"Squeeze" Long won the award for baseball, while Joe Beyer took it for track. The golf award went to Ray Korody.

The awards have been established by Juniata Alumni for the purpose of recognizing, annually, the most outstanding athlete in each major sport. The donors of the awards are: George Weber, Dr. J. Harold Engle, Prof. Jack Oller, Charles Goodale, J. Foster Gehrett and Blair Miller, respectively.

JC Invitational Tourney Begun

Juniata sports were not too successful in 1950. Only two teams had winning records, golf and baseball. The football squad broke even over an eight game schedule, the first in quite a while. All the other teams had disastrous seasons. Maybe this year Dame Fortune will smile on JC and help bring back more athletic victories.

Juniata's golf team was one of the finest in the eastern states. The linksmen swept through undefeated, with only a tie against Pitt marring their record. They successfully defended their title in the Western Maryland Invitation Tournament and finished second in the JC Invitational.

The baseball team started the season badly, but once they found themselves they were hard to stop and finished with a record of seven wins and six losses.

Athletic Awards Established. Gym Plans Announced

Plans for a new physical education building were announced in the Spring. Six new athletic awards were also established in 1950.

The football team was captained by Coy Hicks and Phil Chabody and capped the season with a three game winning streak.

Tennis tried to make a comeback on College Hill, but the team did not fare too well. In track it was Joe Beyer's year. He set two records in a dismal season that saw the Indians win only one meet.

The '49-'50 season was the first for Doc Greene as coach and the team didn't do as well as we hoped. The play of Holmes Ush was the only bright spot. This year, things look a little brighter.

Golfers Undefeated; Win Md. Tournament

Juniata's golf team was captained by Ray Korody and coached by Dr. Ed Kiracofe last year. The team composed of Korody, Art Allen, Bob Rhodes, Frank Stasenko, Gordie Stroup and Dave Bayer swept to an undefeated season, winning eight matches and tying one.

The team also took part in two invitational tournaments, the Juniata College Invitational and the Western Maryland Invitational. Penn won the JC Invitational, while the Indians successfully defended their title in the Western Maryland event.

Thirteen teams and 53 golfers took part in the first annual Juniata Invitational Tournament. Penn won the tournament, while Juniata and Lehigh finished in a second place tie, two strokes behind Penn. Gordie Stroup led the Indians by finishing third.

Holmes Ush

Ush Paces Tribe In Greene's First Year

Last season, their first under Dr. Arnold Greene, the Braves won only four, while losing 13, basketball games.

Holmes Ush, captain of the team, was given an honorable mention on the 1950 AP All-Pennsylvania team. Ush scored 298 points this year for an average of 17.5 per game. In the three years that Ush played for the Indians he scored 822 points in 56 games. His high for a single game was 36, a feat he hit twice last season. Stan Welch, Ray Korody, and John Stayer also topped the 100 mark in points scored. Welch hit for 150, while Korody and Stayer dumped in 117 and 103 respectively.

Parks Leads Indians; Team Has Bad Breaks

Basketball has been rather unsuccessful so far this season, with the team winning only one game. However, with a break here and there the team could easily show a record of three and possibly four wins.

Players statistics as of Jan. 4:

	FG	FM-FT	Pts.
K Park	26	10-14	62
T Green	14	20-34	48
R Korody	16	7-11	39
J Cook	9	6-10	24
D Bayer	7	7-15	21
L Kuhn	8	2-5	18
E Feldkircher	6	1-1	13
E Weirauch	5	2-3	12
J Dickey	0	5-6	5
F Zimmerman	2	1-1	5

Co-Captains Coy Hicks and Phil Chabody

Football Team Has Four-Four Record; Hicks And Chabody Co-captain Indians

Coy Hicks and Phil Chabody co-captained the last edition of Bill Smaltz's football Indians.

Long, Dzvonar Lead Indians Team Wins Seven; Loses Six

Bill Smaltz took over the coaching reins of the baseball team for the fourth year. Mike Dzvonar and "Squeeze" Long were named co-captains. Last year's team matched the record of the team before it, winning seven and losing six. Three of the scheduled games were rained out.

The pitchers were led by Dave LeFevre and Ken Wenger, each with three wins. LeFevre also led the hitters with a mark of .313. Long finished second with a .302 mark.

The team finished with a record of four wins and four losses. They lost their first two games by scores of 13-12 and 20-13. Then they beat Susquehanna 19-12. Two more losses followed before the team won again. They routed Lycoming 33-0 on Parents' day and then were never beaten, beating Grove City and Washington.

Coy Hicks was named to the INS third team of the all Pennsylvania small college team. Don Brumbaugh and Bill Waryck were given honorable mention. Joe Dobl was given honorable mention as fullback on the western Pennsylvania team picked in the Pittsburgh Press.

Beyer Drafted; 4 Others Enlist, Go This Month

Joe Beyer, assistant director of admissions, has been drafted into the armed forces. He will leave sometime today for New York to report for duty.

Four students have enlisted and will go into service at the end of this semester. Several others are also considering enlistment to beat the draft. They include the following:

Harry Campbell, Kelsey Edwards and Ron Haga have enlisted in the air force. If they pass the physical examinations, they expect to go to San Antonio, Texas. Fran Townsend has enlisted in the navy and will report to Great Lakes, Illinois, Jan. 15.

Campbell, a sociology major, and Haga, a business administration, both are from Bedford, Pa. Edwards is a pre-veterinary major from Riverside, New Jersey. Townsend, Ocean City, New Jersey is majoring in business.

6 Nations Send Students Here

Of a grand total of 615 students at Juniata, 236 are from areas other than Pennsylvania, a recently issued report reveals.

Nine states, the District of Columbia and five foreign countries comprise these areas. The states are California 2, Connecticut 1, Delaware 2, Maryland 24, New Jersey 73, New York 13, Ohio 7, Virginia 6 and West Virginia 2. Of the foreign nations represented, Germany has 2 and West Africa, Brazil, Norway and Panama each one.

Forty-three Pennsylvania counties supplied 430 of the remaining students. Huntingdon County leads the field with 92, followed by Blair, 53. Other leading counties are Cambria, 32; Bedford and Mifflin, each 23; and Montgomery and Westmoreland, 22 apiece. These bring the total to 597; 18 "Unlisted Specials," for the most part day students taking one music course complete the 615.

The Tycoon Club will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. All members are urged to be present as there will be election of officers. The nominees for president are George Cruzar and Robert Volpito; vice-president, Art Allen and Charles Moose; and Secretary-Treasurer, Carrie Lou Greene. Sophomores may be nominated for Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer at this meeting.

A discussion of I Timothy, Chapter 5 will be led by Fred Stauffer at the IVCF next Thursday evening. Doris Harvey led the group this week with an analysis of I Timothy, Chapter 4. "European Co-ops" was the name of the movie shown at the Sigma Gamma meeting Wednesday evening. Miss Fleck from the American Red Cross spoke on the opportunities of learning their various types of work.

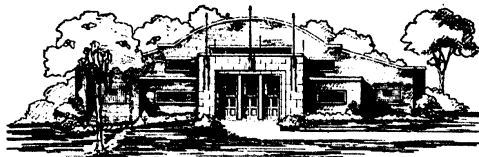

A discussion of "Panama and the United States" was led by Marcos Eddi at the IRC meeting last night. The group met in the I. Harvey House at 7 p. m.

HIXSON'S

BY MAY???—As 1951 dawns, the chances grow brighter for this architect's drawing of Juniata's Memorial Gymnasium to become a reality by May. Steel, long delayed as a result of war-caused government priorities, has now reached the fabricators. If no further difficulties arise, weather stays clear, and the necessary construction material arrives next week, there is hope that the building may be complete in time for Juniata's Diamond Jubilee celebration April 17. "But remember, there's a war on," construction superintendent Kenneth Glasgow warns, to keep false hopes from growing.

New Gym By May -- Maybe; Steel Now At Fabricators

"Steel for the Memorial Gymnasium is now at the fabricators and should be here next week. If it arrives then, and if we have reasonably weather from here on out, the new gym should be finished by May. But don't count on it. There's a war on, you know."

These are the words of Kenneth Glasgow, superintendent of construction for Ritter Brothers, Harrisburg.

Priorities Cause Hold-Up
He added that government priorities have been delaying fabrication of the necessary beams, though the raw metal has been available for some time.

According to Glasgow, the job was contracted to be completed within a certain number of working days. This total was calculated to allow for weather and material delays and still permit completion of the job by May.

However, he pointed out, the margin has been reduced to the point where further unforeseen delays may force revision of this goal. The College hopes to dedicate the new building as its 75th anniversary program April 17.

Weather A Delaying Factor
So far, weather has been an important delaying factor, though naturally the contract took Winter into account.

"We had to heat the water used in mixing cement to keep it from freezing," Mr. Glasgow says. He added that workmen do not work on severely cold days, as were for a few days ago.

"But the water from the rain and snow don't bother us," he added, since drains have already been installed. Special flooring will be put in later, he said.

Girls' IM Basketball Standings Released

The girls' I-M basketball completed a month of playing on Tuesday and Thursday this week. The teams line up this way:

Team	W	L
Geiger Gals	2	0
Motely Cre	2	0
Brumbaugh Babes	1	1
Mixtures	1	1
Oneida Hotshots	1	1
Blue Devils	0	2
Hammer Heads	0	1
Pygmies	0	2

High scorer for the season is Dolly Schaffer with a total of 40 points.

Alfarata Seeking Photos

"We're looking for pictures!" says Alfarata editor Quayton Stottleymer.

Emphasizing that the 1951 annual is to tell its story of Juniata's Diamond Jubilee Year with photos rather than words, Stottleymer added that cash payment for pictures used is being offered as an incentive.

Particularly needed are shots of the campus, sports events, general or human interest, activities, personalities, etc.

Panamanian Here 'Smooth' Dancer

by Jeanie Tait

One of the newer additions to the Juniata College campus is Marcos Eddi, a smooth dancer from Panama, the land of the Mambo-Jambo.

Born in Colon, Republic of Panama, Eddi chose Juniata because it is a small liberal arts school. Majoring in the pre-medical course, he finds chemistry his favorite subject.

He first attended St. Joseph's College of the Brethren in Colon, but transferred when he was 13 to Monroe College, Jamaica, West Indies. He then spent a year at Pennington Prep School, where he first learned about Juniata. He says he prefers American schools as they are more progressive.

When not studying or enjoying the social life, Eddi relaxes with his favorite hobbies—stamp collecting and dancing. Quite the linguist, he speaks English, Spanish, French, Arabic, and reads Hebrew.

When asked what he liked most about Juniata, Eddi was quick to answer, "chemistry and the girls."

Debussy—In One Day

Upon arriving in New York from Israel, he buried himself in Debussy with only one day remaining before the contest. The rewarding result was his selection from 65 contestants by the judges including composers Milhaud and Sessions, Cushing of the University of California faculty and Marjory Fisher, music critic of the San Francisco News.

Critic Linon Martin recently wrote in the Philadelphia Inquirer: "In poetic persuasiveness of performance Pressler relives the legend we have of Chopin. Indeed, it might not be surprising if some more impressionable symphony subscribers fancied they were present at a curious if not uncanny case of reincarnation. For in appearance Pressler remarkably resembles the great Polish pianist-composer."

The drunk stared into the grave and at last distinguished the form of the grave-digger.

"No wonder you're cold," he said. "You haven't any dirt on you."

The Loretto of St. Francis College reports that a soccer team has been organized on their campus. The lineup for the team sounds something like a UN Assembly roll call. There are nine American-born citizens, five Venezuelans, two from the West Indies, two from China and one, the captain of the team and chief organizer, from Chile. The team lost their first game to Indiana State Teachers College, 3 to 2.

7 Rings For 7 Lasses Found In Santa's Bag

by Carol Cook

With a bag filled with diamond rings Santa Claus and seven helpers landed on seven roof-tops, slid down seven chimneys, and dropped a ring into the stockings of seven JC coeds.

Three of Santa's helpers are JC campus joes, while the other four are "furriners."

Of the campus set, Bob Rhodes presented a solitaire to Gladys Gehman. Budd Ritz popped the question to Shirley Butler; and Harold Bowser is making plans for an "I do" ceremony with Betty Hyre.

Wenger To Wed

Janet Wenger received her sparkler from Huber Shelter of Chambersburg. Another "furriner," James Casteel, of Greensburg and a surveyor employed by the state of Pennsylvania, invaded the campus to place a solitaire on Jody Simon's ring finger.

Peggy Dell gave the affirmative answer to the four word question popped by Sgt. Robert Tittle, now stationed at Lawson Air Force Base, Ga.

Dottie Hummer received her ring from John Englert, a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, who is now doing post graduate work in absentia at the University of Havana, Cuba.

Lathrum-Strait

A "knot-tying" ceremony is also being planned by Louise Lathrum (ex '32) and Fred Strait.

Lois Robinson and Jean Staude received engagement rings during the Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Robinson is making plans with Clem Darby, a senior at Princeton University. Jean received her ring from William Kiewel, Jr., a Temple University senior.

Also a candidate for the Mrs. degree, Betty Carpenter recently became engaged to Cpl. Richard Johnson, now stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

ALUMNI NOTES

7-1b Baby For Clemmers

Arriving in time for the Santa Claus and reindeer day was Martyne Ann Clemmer, who weighed in at 7-lbs on Dec. 10, 1950. Martyne Ann was a Christmas present for Margy (Long) and Lake Clemmer (both '50).

Dottie Lehman Engaged

Dottie Lehman ('50) received from Rex Hershberger ('50) a Christmas present for the third finger, left hand. Miss Lehman, a first grade teacher in the Logan Township School, Blair County, and Hershberger, advertising manager for The Harrison Cove Herald (Martinsburg), have not yet chosen a date for the wedding.

Lucille Reidenbaugh and Jay

Marries Christmas Day
Weist ('ex '50) were married in Litz, on Christmas day. Weist is attending the Temple University Dental School. Mrs. Weist, a sister of Jane Reidenbaugh Carper ('49), attended the Temple School of Nursing.

College Will Use New Permanent Record Form

A new permanent record form for students here will be placed into effect simultaneously with the new letter-grade system at the end of the present term, according to registrar A. William Engel, Jr.

The new form, which will serve as the individual's permanent record in the office of the registrar, will replace the duplicated end-of-term report. It will be used as the official transcript when it bears the college seal.

More detailed information on the student will be available on the new record, Engel stated. Among its features are:

- Grade, credit hours and quality points for all courses.
- Summary of record included.
- Summary of record to include hours registered, hours passed, hours failed, quality points, net hours, net grade, term average and average to date.
- Notation of competence attained.
- Summary of entrance units.
- Listing of grading system.
- Actions taken by review committees.

A copy of the same record also will be sent to the parent or guardian of each student.

In changing the system, it has been necessary to sacrifice time in order to obtain more complete and neater records, the registrar said. Hence, there will be a longer period (possibly ten days) between the end of the term and the issuing of reports. All records will be processed by typewriter and multilith machine.

Still Some Kinks

Until the kinks are worked out of the system, the new record may not carry the summary information in the lower right corner for the current term. However, the record will be "as up-to-date as possible."

Numerical grades and numerical averages previously obtained by upperclass students will appear on the record, but this term's grades will be recorded as A, B, C, D, or F. Freshman records, naturally, will show only letter grades.

Henceforth, the term average will be figured by a quality point ratio. A student who receives three B's and two C's in three-credit courses will have a total of 24 quality points for his 15 hours of work. His term average would be 1.60.

Further details on the averaging will be released later, according to Engel. A study must be made to determine such minimum averages required for Dean's List, Honor Society and to remain in good academic standing.

'51 Grad Named To Fill Position Left By Beyer

A new assistant director of admissions has been named to fill the vacancy created by Joe Beyer's departure for the Army. He is George Montgomery, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, a senior here.

Montgomery's appointment will be only for the Spring term, since he has been accepted by Jefferson Medical College for 1951-52. A married veteran and a pre-medical student, he will be a candidate for a bachelor of science degree Jan. 29.

The position of assistant director of admissions entails serving as field representative for the College. This department also conducts the testing program in high schools throughout a three-state area.

Beyer, who filled this position since September, is the first member of the College staff to be called into the Army.

75 Anniversary Feature Aired

The Juniata-on-the-Air show this Wednesday will feature a rebroadcast of a program originally produced last Spring. This program was the first of the 75th Anniversary personality series and was dedicated to Charles C. Ellis, the sixth president of the Juniata system. The participants in the program are Dr. Norman G. Brumbaugh, Dean Morley Mays, Prof. J. Clyde Stayer and student announcer, Bob Champion.

Two Junior girls, Janet Boland and Jo Chiodi, will be bringing music your way when they spin records on Turntable Terrace this Tuesday. On Thursday Fred Shamlian will again be disc jockey.

Exam Week Brings Traditional P. M. Teas

The Women's House Committee will again hold afternoon teas during exam week, according to Miss Edith Spencer.

Under the direction of Connie Sherman, the teas will be held in the Social Rooms from 3:30 to 5 p. m. every afternoon of exams except Saturday. Tea, coffee and cocoa will be served. Miss Spencer's traditional cinnamon toast will also be offered at several of the teas.

Cards and other games will be available in the Social Rooms.

Faculty and administration members are invited to join the students in these afternoons of relaxation.

Bridgewater Pres. To Present Commencement Address Here Jan. 29

Dr. Warren Bowman will be the commencement speaker for the 1951 Winter graduating class. A former Juniata faculty and administration member, he is now the president of Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va.

Educators At Confab

Discuss Draft Status Of College Students

Three of the top members of the College administrative staff are in Atlantic City this week for various conferences.

President Calvert Ellis and Morley Mays, dean of the College, attended meetings of the Association of American Colleges from Monday until last night.

Main topic of the conference was "The Role of the College in the National Emergency." The educators, meeting with high draft officials, are expected to help determine the future draft status of national college students.

As a member of the nominating committee, President Ellis will help the group nominate officers for the year at this meeting. In addition, he will take part in a meeting of Commission on International Cultural Relations, a branch of the Association.

Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president is in Atlantic City attending the District Two Conference of the American Alumni Council. This is not related to the Association conferences. It began yesterday and will close tomorrow.

Monday and Tuesday Dean Mays also attended sessions of the American Conference of Academic Deans.

Recital To Be Presented Sun.

The piano students of Mrs. Richard Linton and Miss Marion Thomas will present a public recital in Swigart Hall Sunday at 2 p. m.

The program will include the following selections: "Norse Song," Schumann, and "Sailor's Song," by Grieg, played by Wilda Widdowson; "Valse Sentimental," Schubert and "Under the Double Eagle," Wagner, by Mary Elizabeth Shearer; "Waltz" and "Puck," both written by Grieg and played by Rhoda Clemmer; "Legende," Albeniz, played by Louetta McIlroy; Polka from "The Golden Age," Shostakovich, by Joan Rosenberry; "Waltzes in E Major and A flat Major," Brahms, by Janet Clipse; "Sonata Opus 27, No. 1," first movement, Beethoven, by Helen Rosengren; "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," Bach, by Joanne Shelley; "Intermezzo," Brahms, by William Weyand.

Juniata To Appear Feb. 2

This issue of the Juniation marks the last until Feb. 2, due to the two week-long final exam schedule which begins Wednesday.

I Owe Everything To Palestine, Asserts Pressler. Israeli Pianist

by Jeanie Tait

Menahem Pressler, brilliant young Israeli pianist who was so enthusiastically received in Oller Hall Monday night, began his piano study at the age of seven, under Elijah Rudlakow.

When only 10, he was forced to flee from Germany to Palestine. He says of the latter, "I owe everything." In his accented yet well modulated voice he states that conditions in his country have influenced him so that "I search for much more in music than I would in normal times."

First Appeared At 13

The pianist's appearance was in Tel-Aviv at the age of 13. In 1946 he flew to San Francisco where he won a $1,000 Debussy Prize in an international music contest. He was 17 then.

His future plans include further study; in fact, he says "I am always studying."

Off stage Pressler is quite short, young and not too talkative. In his poised manner, he calmly and quietly says, "I love America very much."

True Artist 'Recreates' Voicing a few of his opinions about music, Pressler believes that the "artist recreates his music for his audience. True, he occasionally creates, but mostly he 'recreates.' He feels that the members of a symphony orchestra are "not artists, but merely mechanics." About his audience at Oller Hall, he felt it was "excellent."

Following the JC concert, the artist expected to appear at the University of Duquesne in Pittsburgh. Then he will move on to Chicago, Ill.; Texas; and will end the season with the Philadelphia and New York Philharmonic Orchestras.

He became president of Bridgewater July of last year. Previously he had held positions as pastor of the Washington Church of the Brethren and as a professor of education and psychology.

Known, as an author, church leader and especially as an educator, Dr. Bowman has taught during summer sessions at the George Peabody College for Teachers, Emory University, University of Va., and Duke University.

Senate To Hold Open Meeting; Students Invited

The Juniata College Senate will hold an open meeting Monday at 7 p. m. in the Women's Day Student Room.

Students interested in the tentative agenda given below and in seeing the Senate in action are invited to the meeting.

The agenda: At this first meeting of the new year Senators will consider a petition for the organization of a rifle club.

Also the legislators will discuss a change in the procedure for electing the Senate vice-president.

Furthermore, president Showalter said there would be a discussion of ways to increase student interest in the all-College Spring musical, "The Firefly."

Isenberg Is Air Cadet Candidate

Clarence "Shorty" Isenberg was accepted Friday as a candidate for aviation cadet training by the Army Air Force. He is now waiting assignment from Scott Field, Ill. "Probably to one of four Texas bases," he says.

On Nov. 8, his 20th birthday, he began proceedings, taking the Air Force mental qualifying exam Nov. 24. He completed the physical and moral exams Dec. 14 and 15.

These qualify him for a four month "honorary deferment." This is a special agreement between the Air Force and the local draft board, by which the board agrees to defer the candidate for four months. The candidate is not yet a cadet, and if the Air Force does not call him within that period he is again eligible for the draft, according to Isenberg.

Firefly Chorus Is Announced

The chorus for the Spring musical, "The Firefly," was recently announced by Prof. Donald Johnson. He will direct the operetta.

Included in the mixed chorus are the following: sopranos—Peggy Barrington, Jo Chiodi, Helen Maust, Lois Miller, Sue Mullendore, Delores Shaeffer, Ruth Walker, Audrey Weber, Lois Wible and Virginia Yohn.

Altos—Jane Baker, Jo Ann Barksdale, Beverly Chamberlain, Phyllis Kulp, Mary Lou McKee, Doris Orner, Beverly Williams, Miriam Smith, Jeanie Tait and Janice Wenger.

Tenors—Glenn Gress, Galen Keeney, Ben Newcomer, Clair Schaffner and Paul Walker.

Basses—Donald Brinton, Earle Grover, Robert Hatala, Robert Landes and Wilfred Norris.

According to Prof. Johnson, "More tenors and basses are needed for a balanced chorus."

Dr. Rockwell To Call Square Dance Tomorrow

"Swing your partner, then promenade home!"

Juniata's own caller, Dr. Donald Rockwell, will be heard issuing such phrases at the square dance to be held in the gym tomorrow night at 8:15. Sponsored by the social committee under the direction of Bob Elder, the evening's entertainment will include folk songs, dances and games led by Elaine Mock.

Jeans and shirts will be in order for the evening, and no date will be needed to enjoy the planned entertainment.

Working on the square dance plans are committee chairman Phil Kulp and Bob Swindel, refreshments, Fred Shamlian, posters, and Bill Carpenter and Elaine Mock, music.

'A Double Life' Will Be Shown January 20

For that break between exams, the social committee is sponsoring a movie in Oller Hall, Saturday, Jan. 20 at 7:30 p. m.

"A Double Life," starring Ronald Coleman, will be the main feature. It was for his performance in this motion picture that Ronald Coleman won the Academy Award.

The films for this and a shorter feature to be screened were obtained from a different company than usual and should be of better quality than the last ones shown.

After the movie, the gym will be open for informal entertainment. Refreshments will be served.

We Need To Be Honest With Ourselves!

Being "honest with oneself" means setting up the most important values in one's life and living up to those values in so far as is humanly possible.

I am afraid that many of us are not living up to this supremely important law of life. Many of us don't know what we believe and for what we are living. We owe it to ourselves and to others to pause in the whirl of life and to formulate those things for which we would live and fight and die.

Decide What You Value

Each of us should decide concretely what we value most highly and then to live up to that principle in so far as we are able, —a procedure which many of us do not follow.

Know What You Value Most In Life; Live According To Those Values

For example, take the matter of draft registration for Selective Service. Many young men drift into the service because of pressure from the army recruiting service or government propaganda, or into conscientious objector ranks because of pressure from preacher or pacifist propaganda.

US Recognizes Conscience
As you may know, like other democratic governments, the United States recognizes the sovereignty of conscience in matters of religious conviction.

A man may register as I A (available for military service), I-A-O (conscientious objector available for non-combat service), or 4 E (conscientious objector opposed to both combatant and non-combatant military service.)

Again, it is not for any of us to say that any of these groups is more or less righteous than any other. In a democracy the individual must decide for himself.

It is important that each man make this decision, not on the basis of propaganda, but on the basis of what, according to his Christian or other ethics seems to him to be supremely right.

Values Should Be Considered

The thing to be lamented is not so much the decision made but the fact that it is not made on the basis of conscience and of values duly considered. Many of us do not know for what values and principles we are going out to fight and on what basis we made our decision to go.

Today, as never before, a man owes it to himself and to his fellowmen to set up his values in life and to stick by what he believes to be right.

A man needs to be honest with himself!

'Stay In School'...

Ohio State Head Advises Students

In an effort to offset the "state of bewilderment" currently facing many male students at Juniata College because of impending calls to military service, Pres. Calvert Ellis today released to the Junatian a statement from the president of Ohio State University.

The statement by Pres. Howard Bevis read in part:

"I know that many of our students are perplexed and troubled in this time of emergency and stress. Uncertain of the outlook, some wonder whether it is worthwhile to go on. Some find it difficult to concentrate upon their work. Their thoughts and feelings are not hard to understand.

"In sincere sympathy and friendship, let me counsel you to stay in school as long as you can and to do your work the very best you can. Whatever happens, this will make you of greater service to your country. Whatever happens, this will be to your best personal advantage. Should you be called to service, college credit, even short of graduation, will put you in better position for advancement.

"The armed forces will undoubtedly utilize university training for many professions. Those continuing to do good work will have an obvious advantage."

How To Win Professors....

- 1. Look alert. Take notes eagerly.
If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.
- 2. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject.
Demonstrate fiery interest and give him timely items to mention in class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.
- 3. Nod frequently and murmur, "I can see it now!" and "How true!"
To you, this may seem exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective and very proper.
- 4. Sit in front, near him.
(Applies only if you intend to stay awake.) If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know you are, especially in a large class.
- 5. Laugh at his jokes.
You can tell—if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has made a funny.
- 6. Ask for outside reading.
You don't have to read it. Just ask for it.
- 7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the class hour.
It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.
- 8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course.
If you do math in psychology class, and psychology in math, match the books for size and color. Look up occasionally to give the impression that your attention is not entirely taken away from the captivating lecture.
- 9. Ask questions you think he can answer.
Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he could not answer, and that it is in your brother's second grade reader.
- 10. Call attention to his writing and/or outside lectures.
Produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written an article, ask in class if he wrote it and mention its scholarly import.

—Duquesne University Magazine

.....And Influence Students

- Be a stickler for wanting papers in on time.
Then wait weeks and even months before returning tests and term papers.
- Tell them every other day just where they stand with you.
They like to know that you don't care whether they work or not and that, frankly, you don't think they care either.
- For variety, lecture them on their ignorance.
Otherwise, they'll be just as cocky when you have them for comps as they were when you had them as freshmen.
- Wander off the subject in your lectures.
This makes their notes easy to study at 3 a. m. before an exam.
- Give them a D and write "incoherent" all over the paper.
This will help you attain a greater closeness to the class group, since they will all stop after class and inquire what it is you have written on their papers.
- Keep saying, "This problem is too easy. Let's move on to the tough stuff."
This will build up the students' egos, especially after they have spent six hours the night before sweating out the answers to the first problem.
- Never give short assignments.
There are at least three reasons for this. First, naturally yours is the only course of importance they have. Secondly, long assignments will give them something to remember you by when they come avisting as alumni. Finally and perhaps most important, it will keep them too busy to find time to write features like this for the campus paper.
- Know it all . . .
They (your students) think they know it all, so why shouldn't you take the same attitude.
- But keep your knowledge to yourself.
Bounce any student who tries to show you where you might be wrong.
- Teach 'em theory, not practice.
After all, they won't be able to use any after they get out of college.
- Tell them your lectures deal with details that they needn't worry about; that the important things are in the book.
But base your tests on your lectures.
- Develop a set of unique mannerisms.
This will keep the students' minds off your lectures!
- Tell the students what books to buy at the beginning of the semester (at $5 and $10 per).
But make most of the assignments in a book in the library; total number of copies: one.
- Keep vacations in mind.
Throw a five-minute quiz the day before students plan to leave and then dismiss them. Also give long assignments for the day they come back. This will serve to keep them in the rut.

Cineviewer . . .

Musicals Highlight Local Movie Agenda

by Frank Harlacher

MR. MUSIC—For that weekday break from studies the Cineviewer suggests Paramount's latest Crosby picture, Mr. Music. Filmed in black and white, the movie furnishes Bing's usual crooning together with a fairly complicated plot for a musical.

The script has Nancy Olson, a relative newcomer to the screen, in the supporting role as the struggling college graduate secretary with a problem. She has to get a lazy, good natured composer, Crosby, back to work for his producer if she is to keep her job.

After success in the musical comedy line the composer had rested on his laurels for 15 years and was now resting just as comfortably on a stack of credit. A series of events spearheaded by the persistent, prim, and pretty Miss Olson, and the usual love complications eventually wind up in the conventional manner.

"Life Is So Peculiar," "Accidents Will Happen," and "Wouldn't It Be Funny?" are the songs offered in the Crosby formula. Appearing here and there through the film are such guest artists as Groucho Marx, Peggy Lee and Dorothy Kirsten.

The running time of this movie is 113 minutes, 23 minutes over the average feature length of 90 minutes. Mr. Music is rated excellent at the New York projection room, and is playing at the Grand Theatre Monday through Wednesday.

PAGAN LOVE SONG—MGM technicolor musicals are usually worthy of most moviegoers' indulgence. Pagan Love Song is the well known escape to tropical island, but to escape with Esther Williams is an idea which appeals.

Howard Keel, the up-and-coming-fast Annie Get Your Gun man, holds up his musical end of the film equally with Miss Williams' swimming. His voice is pleasing and natural, and his carefree manner is more likeable than the conceited role of his previous film musical.

The Williams style has by no means lost any of its beautiful swim in technicolor. Around this tropical scene the title song weaves itself nicely. Filmed on location in Hawaii, the plot has Keel claiming an inherited plantation on the island of Tahiti. He falls in, out and back in love with a Tahitian born-and-bred white girl, Esther Williams, without the usual large number of complications.

Adding to the entertainment are such things as native hula dancers, humor with a runaway pig and adoption of a handful of kids. The slow, easy going, effortless life on this tropical island tends to have a very relaxing effect on the weary examinee.

Pagan Love Song runs 76 minutes and was rated very good by New York reviewers. It is playing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 22, 23, and 24, at the Clifton Theatre.

TOMMY

The war of the south has started again. Harvey Miller's huge Confederate flag was removed during the nocturnal hours, from the buttress where it so gallantly flew. Workers of the south, arise.

Bob Elder and Vernon Showalter had a remodeling job done to their room. The magnificent mahogany door was removed and a white swinging door added. It looks like a makeshift western saloon. Ropesalong Elder was too busy thinking of his new partner, Miss Dottie, to give the door any attention.

Bill Waryck, Harry Campbell and Antny Segalovich are the polka prancers of Skips. "Legs" Segalovich is contemplating combining his talents with the Rockettes. It takes more than legs, Bub.

Nancy Meyers has sent her heart-throb to the Marines. There are many girls who have also sent away their loves, and you Nancy, along with them, will patiently wait for their return. When love is real, time is irrelevant.

Carole Hagen and Bob Donaghy were tripping lightly in the snow till Bob tapped her gently and smiled coyly as she flew through the air with the greatest of ease to land gracefully but firmly and flatly in the snow.

"Beanie" Roberts is forgetting the tensions of comprehensiveness by engaging the company of a few prominent males. It's a mixture of comprehension with apprehension. Claudia Ottoson is flying high with lover Sy.

Predictions to come: There will be snowbattles with firecracker sound effects during the week of tests, and there will be a lot of new looking books (which are odd things to own) which will be used for the first time this semester, next week.

That's it, Tom

Intramural Step-Child

by Bob Asan

Bowling seems to be the step-child of the intramural sports program here at JC. It is the only sport that fails to function as smoothly as the others on the program. We wonder why?

It can hardly be due to lack of interest, as there is always a rush to get the league started. Only after the league is a few weeks old does it begin to falter.

The first half of this season was supposed to have ended last week, with the second half beginning tonight. However, 26 matches have yet to be rolled to complete the first half schedule. Surely that many emergencies could not have arisen over a period of seven Friday nights. Something ought to be worked out by the team managers and league organizer if anything is to come of the league.

This bowling league enjoys a unique position among intramural sports in that trophies are to be awarded for outstanding individual performances. Surely you bowlers can appreciate the fact that to get a chance at these trophies you must roll all your matches.

Let's start tonight and run the second half of the league right on schedule.

Another track record was set last year that we failed to mention in last week's issue. It was Don Brinton's record breaking accumulation of 51 points in a single season. We apologise, Don, for our oversight.

At Stevens Technical Institute the fencing team gets a unique reward for an undefeated season. The coach blows the boys to a dinner and champagne party. Competition for the team is quite keen and it has gone undefeated since it gained varsity status two year ago.

A preliminary ballot is being sent out by the publicity department to find out who is the most outstanding athlete in JC history. Included on this ballot are Meteor Mike Dzvonar and Squeeze Long.

Motley Crew Wins; Beat Hammer Heads

Tuesday, Jan. 9 was a big night for the point getters of the girls' IM basketball league. In the only game played, the Motley Crew swamped the Hammer Heads by a score of 60-9. Dolly Shaffer and Ceci King each hit the basket for 25 points.

Three teams are now sporting undefeated records—the Geiger Gals, Motley Crew and the Oneida Hotshots.

Jayvees Bow, 80-60; Hackett Scores 19

Last Saturday the Little Indians traveled to Johnstown to play the Pitt Johnstown Undergraduate Center. When the game was over the Indians were on the short end of an 80-60 score.

The game was close for the first half, with Johnstown ahead by three points at halftime. They pulled away in the second half, however, by scoring 51 counters. Dave Gipe of Johnstown and Dave Hackett of the Indians led the scorers with 19 points each. Tomorrow night the team will meet Lebanon Valley.

THREE SHARP MUSIC MAJORS—(left to right) Jo Chiodi, second soprano; Doris Orner, alto; and Joan Weaver, first soprano made their debut last Spring as the 1950-51 edition of the Women's Varsity Trio. They have already sung before many groups this year and will be featured part of their parent organization, the a cappella choir, on its forthcoming trip.

After Making Debut Last Spring Varsity Trio Is Now In Full Swing

At the Spring formal dinner last year, three songbirds made their debut on College Hill. Joan Weaver, first soprano; Jo Chiodi, second soprano; and Doris Orner, alto, were officially initiated as the Women's Varsity Trio. Clair Schaffner was, and is, accompanist for the group.

Working under Prof. Charles Rowland and as a part of the a cappella choir, these three girls have been practicing twice a week since the beginning of the year. They have sung before Rotary Clubs, and a Lions Club, at JCA meetings and at the square dance and freshman orientation programs in the beginning of the year.

On the choir trip this year, the trio will be featured singing "The Green Cathedral." Their specialty numbers include "Mood Indigo," "Night and Day" and "Let's Dance," a paraphrase of chop sticks.

This 1950-51 edition of the Women's Varsity Trio is a trio even as far as their dress is concerned. For the first time in the trio's history, the girls appear uniformly in beige wool jersey skirts and dark green wool jersey blouses.

The three girls are all music majors and potential music teachers. Miss Weaver, a junior from Windber, has been singing with the a cappella choir since her freshman year. The other two—Miss Chiodi, a junior from Hot Springs, Va. and Miss Orner, a senior from Huntingdon—are now members of the choir for their second year.

An FTA meeting will be held in Old Chapel this evening. Students who are now doing their student teaching will relate their experiences to the group. Everyone is cordially invited.

Wednesday evening the regular meeting of the Sigma Gamma Club will be held. John Steiner, Executive Director of the Department of Public Assistance in Huntingdon, will speak on the topic of "Job Opportunities."

The IRC will hold a meeting Friday, Feb. 2, "Is Economic Union With Europe Possible Now?" will be the subject of the panel discussion, to be conducted by three or four student members.

A report of the Constituting Convention of the National Council of Churches was given by Lois Miller and Prof. Wayne Glick at the JCA meeting Tuesday evening. This convention was held in Cleveland Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

Election of officers was conducted at the Tycoon Club meeting Wednesday evening. George Cruser won the position of president, while Art Allen is vice-president and Carrie Lou Greene the secretary-treasurer.

Snyder Weds Air Force Man

Day student Joyce Snyder, a Huntingdon junior, was married Dec. 24 to Gerald Dore. Her husband is now an enlisted man in the Army Air Force.

Bridesmaids were Nancy Kurtz and Ginny Masemer. Laura Jane Hollingshead sang at the wedding. All are students here.

$25 Prize For Essay

To Be Written On The Past of Juniata Valley

Twenty-five dollars in prize money is now waiting for the author of the winning entry in the annual Dr. E. J. Stackpole Contest, the history department has announced.

This prize is to be awarded to the student "who by vote of the faculty has made the most important contribution to the history of the Juniata Valley" through research.

The plan of the contest is as follows:

"Limits of the area of the Juniata Valley should carefully be defined and determined. Its time-honored historic institutions should be ascertained so that a specific field of study may be appropriated, care being taken that an undue overlapping of subjects be avoided from year to year."

Old records, personal interviews with well-informed people and old or new photographs will also add to the work, it is suggested. Research time is limited to Feb. 1 through March 1.

Deciding factors in the contest will include logical arrangement of materials, relevant diagrams and/or pictures used, English mechanics displayed and proportion of subject matter.

Three copies of each report should be made, one each for the donor, the College library and the student contributor.

H. Wagner To Reminisce On J.C. Story, '98-'24

Harry Wagner, the second of the 75th anniversary speakers, will appear in Chapel Monday. He will "reminisce" over the second period of Juniata's history—1898 to 1924. The late Dr. Harvey Green was the first period speaker.

Mr. Wagner graduated from Juniata in Normal English in 1901 and received his AB degree in 1907. Since that time he has had a variety of businesses, including lumber, real estate, hotel, farming and his family. At present he owns and operates the Hotels Huntingdon and Lewistown.

Trio Set For Wed. Chapel

A musical trio will appear in Chapel Wednesday. Members of the group will be Mrs. Mary Ruth Linton, piano; Jean Bailey, cello; and Prof. Jack Brammer, violin.

Prof. G. Wayne Glick will speak in Chapel Friday.

A past president of the Alumni Association (1933-34 and 1934-35), Mr. Wagner has had a long-time affiliation with the organization. He is also prominent in civic and religious activities in Huntingdon. According to Harold L. Brumbaugh, "Mr. Wagner's loyal and personal interest in affairs of the College make him the fitting man for this anniversary occasion."

Exam For Med School Slated

Candidates for admission to medical school in the Fall of 1952 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, according to the Educational Testing Service.

These tests are required of applicants by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country. They will be given Saturday, May 12 and Monday, Nov. 5 at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the United States. However, the Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to medical school in the Fall of 1952 take the May test.

The tests cover such fields as general scholastic ability, understanding of modern society and achievement in science.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information are available from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must be received by April 28 and Oct. 22 respectively for the May 12 and Nov. 5 administrations of the test.

Dr. Green Dies Jan. 23

Dr. Francis Harvey Green

Dr. Francis Harvey Green, oldest former professor of the College, died Jan. 23 a few minutes after collapsing in the Pennington School's Chapel. He was speaking before an audience of about 225 students and faculty members. Dr. Green, 89, was headmaster emeritus at Pennington for the past seven years.

Was Author-Lecturer

Widely known lecturer, author, educator and wit, Dr. Green served as professor of English at Juniata (then known as the "Brethren Normal School") from 1884 to 1888. The College awarded him an honorary Doctor of Law degree in 1931.

Dr. Green's lifelong association with the late I. Harvey Brumbaugh brought him to Huntingdon on many occasions in later years. His last appearance at the College was on Oct. 4, 1950 when he spoke in Chapel.

After leaving Juniata in 1888, Dr. Green joined the English Department of West Chester Normal School. In 1922 he became headmaster at Pennington and held that position for 21 years.

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday in the Shaw Memorial Chapel at Pennington School.

Antique Glassware Librarian's Hobby

by Gwen Hartzel

The printed page takes second place to a collection of rare and beautiful glassware in the "after hours" of a college librarian.

In her moments off duty as librarian at Juniata College, Miss Lillian Evans has assembled a valuable collection of antiques including a prize assortment of over 100 pieces of glassware.

Began With Cupboard

A handsome cherry corner cupboard containing antique glasses first aroused her interest in glassware and it now houses her hobby. One of the oldest pieces is a slender glass candlestick more than 150 years old. Another antique is an unusual wick lamp bearing the thumbprint design.

"Usually such antique pieces go unrecognized for years until someone accidentally discovers their worth," Miss Evans revealed. Such was the case with a lovely amber flask bearing pictures (See Antique—, Page 4)

'Firefly' Co-ordinator Asks Students' Help On Musical

"Americana," presented here in 1948, was almost entirely a student-sponsored and student-directed show. "Sweethearts" and "Pirates of Penzance," given in 1949 and 1950 respectively, were under faculty supervision but they were still the students' show.

Our show this year, as you know, is Rudolf Friml's light opera, "The Firefly." It will be given March 9 and 10.

The Senate, acting in our interests, appointed me as student co-ordinator of our show. I am working now with Prof. Johnson of the music department and Miss Lois Esaley of the speech department on many phases of the production.

Since "The Firefly" is our show, it will be successful only if we take more than a passive interest in it.

We must give freely of our time and talent and suggestions and support if this show is to be the success that it can and must be.

The students of Juniata College are presenting a benefit opera, the profits of which are to support the worthy agencies of JWSF. We should all be a part of this production.

Leaks In Roof Damage Organ

"Approximately 15 of the (Oller Hall) organ is out of commission," Prof. Donald Johnson says. This is a result of leaks which developed in the roof above the organ chamber.

The trouble was first noticed after Christmas, but was not investigated thoroughly until last week when the pipes began to "gurgle." It was found that water had dripped into pouches of pliable leather in the pipes on the left side of the hall, drying them out.

Ten rows of reed pipes—the trumpet, vox humana, etc.—have been blocked off by the brass and copper reeds corroded. Repairing this damage will entail considerable expense, both Johnson and P. J. Fitch, business manager, believe.

It will take two weeks to dry out the damaged pipes. The damage should be repaired by the end of the month.

New System Delays Grades Until Feb. 8

Grades will be distributed sometime after Feb. 8, according to the registrar's office. The delay is a result of the new system of recording permanent marks by a multi lithograph process.

Ellis Presents Degrees To 15

Fifteen students of Juniata College were awarded degrees by Pres. Calvert Ellis, Monday, Jan. 29, in the first of three commencements during the College's 75th anniversary.

Among the graduates were two married couples: Mr. and Mrs. William Bateson and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Keim. Bateson majored in history and received a Bachelor of Arts degree while his wife obtained a Bachelor of Science in mathematics. The Keims both received Bachelor of Arts in history and French respectively.

The list of graduates also included John Africa, BS, biology; Betty Jane Kauffman, BS, sociology; George Montgomery, BS, pre-medical; Carleton Rowe, BS, chemistry; Anna Mae Beers, BS, elementary education; Gene Shaffer, BS, sociology; Harry Shannon, BS, economics and business administration.

Eugene Speck, BA, French; Robert Walls, BS, economics and business administration; Harold Kennerly, BA, pre-ministerial; and Donald Kerr, BS, chemistry.

Gen. Info. Quiz Set For Mar. 1

The annual General Information Contest will be held in the library, March 1 from 4:30 to 6 p. m. First prize will be $15. Runner-up will receive $10.

The written quiz will test the contestant's knowledge of current events, arts and languages, social studies and natural sciences. Questions will be submitted by a committee of the faculty appointed by Pres. Calvert Ellis.

Miss Lillian Evans, contest chairman, is being assisted by Dr. S. Lees Booth, Miss Margaret McCrimmon, Dr. George Clemens, Mrs. Jane Crosby, Prof. Wayne Glick and Dr. Homer Will.

Starting next week, prospective contestants will be able to test their knowledge on the sample questions to appear in the Juniata.

Profs Plan Counseling

JCA Sponsors New Service For Advising Students

A student counseling service is being set up under the sponsorship of the JCA. This counseling group, which was introduced at the JCA meeting Tuesday, is to be directed by Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Prof. Alfred Goetschius and Dr. Tobias Henry.

Counseling will be in such fields as vocational guidance, personality adjustment, adjustment to college life and marriage guidance. It was stressed that students should feel free to go to any of these counselors for help with their problems.

Students may arrange to have an interview with a counselor during his regular office hours or they may call him at his home and schedule a conference.

Dr. Henry, Prof. Goetschius and Prof. Glick issued this statement regarding the new service:

"At the request of the Juniata Christian Association, and according to the general outline of their suggestion, we have agreed to make available to students an interview service."

"We wish to make clear our willingness to discuss with students any personal interest or problem which may concern them. These problems might deal with personality adjustment, with courtship and marriage decisions, with personal religious uncertainties, with the contribution of religion in the making of decisions.

"We wish to emphasize especially that such interviews will be strictly and unequivocally confidential. In no case will any information be given publicly or privately divulged."

Senate Requests New Speaker; To Dine Monday

The Juniata College Student Senate held its regular meeting in the Women's Day Student Room Monday evening.

At the meeting it was announced that Move-up Day would be March 21.

After a committee on the re-classification of campus jobs reported, it was decided that all campus offices should be re-classified on the basis of work accomplished rather than on the basis of the prestige of the job.

Senators also approved a resolution asking that President Ellis look into the possibility of installing a loud speaker in the serving room so that the waitress and kitchen staff can hear the announcements.

Monday the Senate will hold a dinner meeting. At this meeting they will discuss re-classification of offices and election procedures. Also the Senate will review the constitution of the Sportsman's Club.

Number Enrolled Drops 9 Percent

Enrollment for the Spring semester is "approximately 560," according to the office of the registrar. This is a drop of slightly more than nine percent from the 617 enrolled in the Fall.

Eight freshmen transfer and former students have entered. All are Pennsylvanians.

From Indiana State Teachers College come Anna and Ruby Kimmel, while Neil Shoop journeys from Los Angeles, ATC. George Schetromp has transferred from Penn State and Patrick Smith from the Penn State Extension course at Harrisburg.

New freshmen are Emma Chase, from Girls High, Philadelphia, and Charles Williams, Saxton High.

Returning to the campus is Mrs. Helen Potter, who was a student here in 1935.

Brown Replaces Beaver

Miss Audrey Brown, of Huntingdon, is now secretary to Harold Brumbaugh, replacing Mrs. Yvonne Beaver. She was formerly Miss Beaver's assistant.

Miss Beaver has accepted a position as secretary to the director of building and maintenance at Miller and Rhoads Department Store, Richmond, Va.

Peace Through Federation.....

by Dave Armacost

"To achieve permanent peace; and thus

To free all people from the fear of war, through universal disarmament enforced by law;

To release for the satisfaction of human needs the resources that at present must be used in continuous preparation for war;

To maintain and promote human freedom, and to mobilize support for free institutions among all peoples;

To secure to all peoples the right to develop according to their own customs and traditions;

To unite in a common purpose all peoples who genuinely desire peace;

To these ends: We reaffirm our continuing support of the United Nations, and

We call for the United States immediately to declare that it is a fundamental objective of United States foreign policy to support and strengthen the United Nations and to develop it so that it shall have the power to make, enforce, and interpret world laws adequate to maintain peace and prevent aggression."

United World Federalists

The above is a statement of the purposes of the United World Federalists of America.

I had known about UWF in high school but it was not until I was picked up by the Maryland State Chairman of United World Federalists while hitch-hiking home last week, that I realized the significance and importance of their cause.

My benefactor picked me up outside of Frederick. He was going to a meeting of federalists in Baltimore.

A young man—a university graduate—he was extremely well-acquainted with history and with current events. He was friendly and warm and quite talkative.

Naturally, he started talking about world government and how it could be accomplished. His enthusiasm was over-whelming. It was all that I could do to get in a question now and then.

"World government is the only solution to world peace," he stated. "Armament races and power blocs have always led to war and that is where the Soviet Union and the United States are leading today." He did not discount the necessity for defense preparations, though.

No Enthusiasm For This War

He observed that there is no enthusiasm for this war. He felt that the American people are ready to give up a limited amount of their sovereignty in order to achieve lasting peace. "Our leaders are way behind their people. They lack vision."

I am inclined to agree with this enthusiastic young American. The world is headed toward very costly preparations for war for many years to come when there is such desperate need for even the necessities of life among millions of people. With the present trend this is the best that we can hope for. An atomic war that will level American and European cities is a real possibility. The nations of the world must delegate their war-making power to a world government if there is to be lasting peace.

Need Change of Heart

It might be added here (and it is perhaps more important than the machinery for world government) that peace also requires a change in men's hearts.

World government and a change of heart are vital to every American in a time when the situation is serious enough to merit the recent installation of an atomic bomb warning system which will go off simultaneously in dozens of eastern cities upon atomic attack and children are being given atomic bomb raid drills in the public schools.

Oslo Summer School Starts June 23

The fifth annual summer school for American students at the University of Oslo, Norway will be held from June 23 to Aug. 4. All applicants must have completed two years of college by June, 1951. Applications must be in by April 1.

The main emphasis will be on courses pertaining to Norwegian culture. These courses will be conducted in English.

Six credits may be earned and official transcripts will be issued. The session has been approved by the US Veterans Administration. Two hundred berths in Tourist Class are being reserved for Oslo summer students on the SS Stavangerfjord sailing from New York June 13. Round trip will cost $360.

Application blanks may be obtained from Oslo Summer School Admissions Office, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Adventure, Comedy Slated Next Week

by Frank Harlacher

KIM—For those who thrill to the mysteries of high oriental adventure, the Cineviewer recommends Metro Goldwyn Mayer's "Kim." This screen portrayal of Rudyard Kipling's stirring novel promises the moviegoer some quick-moving and interesting entertainment.

Perhaps the greatest asset of this movie is its Technicolor qualities and local color. Filmed on location in India, it presents a job well done in authentic history and realistic photography. The exotic Technicolor paints a glorious picture of mysterious lands that are no more and furnishes the consumer an escape into adventureland.

According to the plot, Russian agents are trying to stir up local tribesmen against the existing British government. It deals with the elaborate British spy system and their enlistment of "Kim," played by Dean Stockwell. He is discovered by Mahbub Ali (Errol Flynn), who is posing as an adventurous horse trader, but is really a British spy.

The boy Kim is the orphan son of a British soldier who has spent his life with the natives and lives with the faith of a miracle heard from his dying father's lips. When a wise native priest (Paul Lukas), tells him of his search for infinite wisdom, the boy becomes devoted to him and tags along in hopes of discovering the miracle. This portion of the plot combines itself nicely with the spy system to make many exciting adventures.

Kim's running time is 91 minutes and was reviewed as good in New York. The picture opens today at the Harris Clifton Theatre at the Grand Theatre Feb. 5.

AT WAR WITH THE ARMY—In the comedy line Paramount's team of jesters, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, present entertainment in their usual slapstick manner. The two comedians have had their share of success in the recent "My Friend Irma" pictures, in radio and television. "At War With the Army" puts them at the top of the billing and gives them ample opportunity to present their talents.

The simple plot has the comics as sergeant (Martin) and private (Lewis) going through their usual comedy routines, gags, musical interludes and amusing chatter in an army training station. An imitation of a Bing Crosby-Barry Fitzgerald scene from "Going My Way" probably heads the merriest.

"At War With the Army" was rated good at a sneak preview in the Ritz Theatre, Los Angeles, Cal. The 92 minute feature starts at the Grand Theatre Feb. 8.

Towering Titans Oppose Indians; Team Averages 6-2 In Height

Westminster's Towering Titans come to town tomorrow with a record of 11 wins and four losses and intend to make the Indians their twelfth victim. And, with the Titans boasting four of the district's top 15 scorers is doesn't look to good for the Indians. The game is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Although the Westminster team has lost four starters from last year's team by graduation, they will still be able to floor a team of tall veterans. Heading the list is Pat King. King stands 6-3 and in 15 games this season has netted over 250 points, playing the pivot spot.

Supporting King up front will be Jerry Sybert. Sybert is 6-3 and has a side court shot that has accounted for 159 points in 15 games. In the back court will be Don Meyers who made the team as a freshman last year. So far this season the 6-1 sophomore has canned 180 points.

Abraham Makes Fast Break

The other guard spot will be handled by Johnny Abraham, a short boy at six feet. Abraham is a good dribbler and is the boy who makes the Titan fast break work.

Heading the reserves will be Jerry Hyder, 6-1 senior who is regarded by Coach Grover Washbaugh as the best defensive player he has ever coached. The average height of the team is about 6-2, with seven men over that figure.

Last season the Titans played in the NAIB Tournament at Kansas City and have set their sights higher this year. Included among their victims are such teams as George Pepperdine of Los Angeles, Carnegie Tech, Detroit, St. Joseph's and Arizona State. In their last game, against St. Francis on Tuesday, the Titans were upset, 92-65.

Upset By Pitt

Pitt also got the Titans on an off night and hung a 68-62 defeat on them. Duquesne and St. Bonaventure both had their hands full before they copied the win, Duquesne winning by one point in the last 15 seconds.

Last season the Indians lost by a 92-52 count at Westminster, where the Titans have not been beaten for 74 games.

163 Tops IM Bowling; Trojans Divide Four With Strikette Team

The first matches in the second half of the intramural bowling league showed two upsets. The Strikettes gave the Trojans their first loss of the season in taking two points. The Sneaks beat the Aces, 3-1, while the Sliders and Les Miserables both swept their matches.

Ray Korody continues to pace the keggers with a 163 average, while Ed Marschka is second with 151. Korody also has the high record for a single game, 201. Marschka is his closest competitor in this race too, having hit 199 twice this season.

Tonight's schedule:
6:45—Strikettes vs Aces
NoNames vs Trojans
8:45—Faculty vs Les Miserables
Sliders vs Sneaks

Team standings for the second half:

	W	L	Pct.
Les Miserables	4	0	1.000
Sliders	4	0	1.000
Sneaks	3	1	.750
Strikettes	2	2	.500
Trojans	2	2	.500
Aces	1	3	.250

Jayvees Lose, 71-44; Hackett Scores 13

In a game played at Carlisle Wednesday, the little Indians were overpowered by the Dickinson Frosh, 71-44.

Dickinson jumped off to a 19-4 first period and that was all the men of Wes Overholt, former Red Devil cage ace, needed. The halftime score read 34-17 against JC.

Dave Beaver of Dickinson led the scorers with 15 points. Dave Hackett of the Indians and Chuck Miller took runner-up honors with 13 points each.

Contributing ten, eight and six points to the Indian total were Dave LeFevre, Chuck Knox and John Thomas respectively.

Tribe Beaten In Three Of Last Four Tilts; Lose To D'son, Drexel And Lebanon Valley

The Indians lost three out of their last four games, one a one point loss to Dickinson in overtime, Drexel Tech and Lebanon Valley beat them by scores of 65-50 and 74-60 respectively. In their lone win of this series the Indians trounced Susquehanna, 61-50. Karl Park scored 88 points in the four games.

Dickinson

By scoring four points in an overtime period the Dickinson Red Devils beat Juniata 62-61 Wednesday at Carlisle.

The Indians scored 20 points in the third period while holding Dickinson to only six. This overcame a 38-29 halftime deficit and gave the Indians a 49-44 lead to start the last quarter.

Dickinson hit for 22 points in the first quarter to take the lead at 22-15 at the end of the period. In the second quarter the Indians were again outscored, 16-14.

After the Indians scored 20 points in the third canto, the Red Devils outscored the Tribe 14-9 in the fourth quarter. This made it 58-58 and necessitated an overtime. Juniata could only score three points in the overtime and that was the ballgame as Dickinson canned four.

Karl Park led the scorers with 23 points. He was closely followed by Dick Zilling of Dickinson with 21. Tommy Green, with 11 points, was the only other Indian to hit double figures.

Ray Korody, John Cook, Ed Weirauch and Dave Bayer added nine, seven, six and five points to the Indian total.

Drexel

Jumping off to a big 22 point first period, the Drexel Dragons beat Juniata 65-50 last Saturday night.

In the same period the Indians netted 14 points, but Al MacCart and Basil Barno offset this by sinking 15 points between the two of them. This was the spark the Dragons needed and they took advantage of it.

The Indians managed to cut the margin slightly in the second quarter by outscoring the Dragons, ten to eight. This made the score read 30-24 at halftime. And that was as close as the Indians came all night.

MacCart led the scorers with 18 points, while Karl Park of the Indians took down second honors with 16. Barno finished with 14 and Tommy Green hit for ten.

This was the last game of the first half and the team now shows a record of two wins, six losses.

Susquehanna

The Juniata College basketball team traveled to Selinsgrove Jan. 20 and beat the Crusaders of Susquehanna, 61-50. It was the second win of the season for the Indians. With Karl Park leading the way, the Indians jumped off to a 15-14 first quarter lead and were never headed.

Indian plays were not being worked as well as they have been, but this was offset by a strong defense and control of the boards. The Indians' control of the boards was usually in the hands of Ray Korody, Dave Bayer and Ed Weirauch. Jack Dickey, John Cook and Park took care of the work from the field.

Conspicuous because of his absence was Norm Fleisher, 6-5 center. Since the start of the season he and four other men have left the team for the service. This could easily explain the little use of plays made by the Crusaders, who shot from almost anywhere on the court.

Leading the scorers was Charley Zlock of Susquehanna, with 21 point. Park led the Indians with 20. Dickey and Cook added 19 more points to the Indian total.

Lebanon Valley

The Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley beat the Juniata cagers, 74-60, Saturday night, Jan. 13. The game was played in the new Physical Education Building at Annville.

The game was close throughout, with Lebanon Valley leading by only four points at the end of the third quarter. They pulled away in the fourth period however, with Al Murawski hitting for nine big points.

Karl Park of the Indians led the scorers with a total of 29 points, 22 coming from field goals. Murawski hit the hoop for 24 to take second place.

Lack Of Height Handicaps Team

Height and Home Floor Would Help Says Greene by Bob Asan

"Our biggest handicaps in winning ball games are a lack of height and a home floor." That in a nutshell is how Coach Doc Greene explained the Indians' record for the first half of the current season.

Of these handicaps, the lack of height is the more disturbing. There has been no team that the Indians haven't spotted at least an inch per man and "you just can't win when there are two fellows on the other team who are bigger than any one of your own men."

Need Tall Men

In more than a few games the Indians outplayed the opposition only to be tripped up by a lack of height. Coach Greene said that one tall boy, about 6-4 or so, would really make this team click.

Some coaches think the home floor is worth about 15 points. Greene doesn't believe the figure is quite that high. He thinks it is about eight or ten points, which is still enough to win ball games. According to the coach the new gym should help the team considerably.

Team In Shooting Slump

Commenting on the low shooting average Greene said, "The team is in a shooting slump right now and there isn't much we can do about it. Once we start hitting again things should look better." In regard to the question of the school being a bit rough, Coach Greene said that Juniata has been playing most of these schools a long time and has won her share of games. In the past the Indians were on the winning side, but now it is their turn to take the lickings.

The team will face some pretty strong teams in the second half and the boys will really be giving all they have to come out on top. And they'll need lots of fight when they tackle such teams as Westminster, Albright and St. Francis.

College Catalog Now A Biennial; For Economy

The Juniata College catalog, which has been the chief official publication of the College, will be published only once in every two years hereafter, it is announced by Dean Morley Mays.

Biennial publication of the catalog is being undertaken as an economy measure. About 75% of the content of the catalog remains the same from year to year; hence it is thought the new plan will not impair the usefulness of publication. A number of colleges and universities are already following this practice.

In the off-year the College will probably publish a small supplement which will announce changes in faculty, course offerings, costs, etc., the dean said.

Dean Mays advises all students to retain possession of the new catalog which will appear within the next few weeks, since copies will not be issued to students again next year.

Magazine Offers Cash For Fiction

Again this year Mademoiselle will award a $500 fiction prize for each of the two best stories submitted between now and April 15. The contest is open to women undergraduates. Stories that have appeared in undergraduate publications are acceptable if they have not been published elsewhere.

The stories are to be 3000 to 5000 words, typewritten, double-spaced on one side of paper only. The contestant's name, home address, college address and college year must be included.

Only those stories accompanied by stamped, self-addressed, legal sized envelopes will be returned.

On the basis of comparison and study, Miss Evans has developed the skill to recognize true antique pieces. It is her belief that the most identifying characteristic is the rough, unfinished edge caused by improper hand molding.

Traveling has become a secondary interest to the librarian and she has visited many European countries and each of the 48 states. During the war she served as librarian in various army and navy libraries in California. It was on these travels that she acquired many pieces for her collection.

3 From Here Judge 2 Plays

Miss Lois Esaley, instructor in English, Vera Compton and Phyl Link judged two one-act plays for the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League at Burnham Wednesday evening.

PMFL is an organization which conducts annual contests on a county, district and state-wide basis to stimulate interest in music and speech events.

The event Wednesday was a contest between Derry Township and Bratton-Oliver-McVeytown High Schools. The latter high school presented "The Valiant." "Sparkin'" was offered by Derry Township.

This was judged the better play from a technical point of view, but "The Valiant" was artistically more effective.

"Sparkin'" is a light-hearted comedy of a mid-Western farm family dominated by an unusual tobacco-cheating grandmother. "The Valiant" is a story of a convicted man about to be executed.

His obviously false manner of hiding facts about his background leads to public interest in his case and to a test of his courage.

This choice list of cultural definitions has been scrounged from the Wilkes College Beacon.

Sportsman Club Formed For Gun Enthusiasts

by Dot Hummer

Isn't this a wonderful week? A new curriculum, a change of professors and another opportunity to add spark to your favorite club.

The most recent addition to the Juniata campus is the formation of the Sportsman's Club, which will be affiliated and chartered by the NRA. As a sporting affair, there will be rifle and pistol competition that may later lead to interstate and national matches. The club is planning to build a rifle range, although there is a possibility of using the indoor range in town for the present time. Tuesday evening the group elected their new officers. Steve Dolak won the office of presidency, while Doug Martin is vice-president; Louise Gehman, secretary; and Stan Wass, treasurer. Dr. Donald Rockwell will serve as faculty advisor.

The Sigma Gamma has a "different" program planned for Wednesday evening. Trial comprehensives will be given to two senior students with three students acting as the board. The first examination will be given to Nancy Meyers with Bill Carpenter as head of her board, and the second to Joe Hulsus with Barbara Warner acting as chairman of the comprehensive board.

A business meeting is the theme for the Masquers next Thursday evening. There will be a discussion of workshop and script-in-hand plays, plus a resume of one-act plays presented by various groups. The duties of a director will be analyzed, viewing the abilities and training necessary for a good director.

The IVCF is scheduling a trip to Penn State next Friday evening to hear the Rev. Robert Smoot of Baltimore. He will speak on the topic "Who Has Eternal Life?" Bill Carpenter led the discussion of 1 Timothy, Chapter 6 at the meeting held last evening by this club.

Tonight the Outing Club will hold their regular monthly meeting. A report on the outing held this past weekend will be given by several of the club members. Activities for the new semester will also be reviewed. According to reports, the cabin is ready for occupancy except for the fireplace which is not fully completed. It was also announced that the club plans to have a hot dog concession in the men's dorm within the next few weeks.

The Lambda Gamma held a business meeting Wednesday evening, at which time a report was made on Home Ec Day to be held on the campus Feb. 27. After the meeting the girls held a taffy pull.

The Women's House Committee entertained new women students at a party last Wednesday evening.

IRC Grants $200 For Study Trip To Europe

Benedict States Purpose And Aim Of Club Offer

A study tour of Europe this Summer is a possibility for some Juniata student as a result of a plan proposed by the campus International Relations Club. This organization has set aside $200 to help defray expenses of such a trip, according to Jay Benedict, president.

Action was taken by the IRC last year to create such a fund, and a grant-in-aid of $100 was originally planned. Because no award was made last Summer, the fund has now reached a total of $200, all of which will be awarded to the student chosen to make the trip.

To Promote Knowledge

In a statement made at the fund's conception the IRC declared that the purpose of the award is "to promote and to advance on the campus our knowledge of other nations, our sympathy with their problems, and thus to exert a real influence upon the attainment of international understanding and good will."

The award is expected to be an asset to the entire college community, because its recipient is obligated to return to the campus to share his experiences of cultural contacts, Benedict added.

In choosing the person who is to receive the award, preference will be given to those students who are:

- Active members of the IRC.
- Of unusual intellectual ability, mature character and industrious habits.
- Pursuing a course of study which enters in the general area of the social studies.
- Trained in modern foreign languages and planning to study international problems, or the language, history and culture of a particular country.
- Zealous to share the knowledge and experience of cultural contact with students abroad and (See Award—, Page 4)

10:30 P. M. Deadline Set For Fresh Girls

The Freshman Committee has decided to extend the 10 p. m. deadline for freshman girls to 10:30 p. m. on weekdays for the second semester. It was announced by Senate chairman of underclassmen Chuck Allison.

According to the dean of women, this privilege has generally been offered in the past on an informal basis to second semester freshmen girls. "It will of course be revoked if abused," Dean Edith Spencer added.

'It Was All A Wonderful Experience--Socially And Spiritually'

Here's a bit of news of our choir trip as it happened, day by day:

We leave Friday evening, Jan. 26, heading for Everett to give our first concert, properly seasoned with Smith Brothers cough drops.

Saturday—Somerset and shopping. Johnny seems to prefer walking to driving and dislikes flat tires on the Hudson.

Sunday—Meyersdale in the morning and Uniontown this evening. Our concerts are better as we continue. Carol Lowdermilk seems to know most of the audience, so we all feel at home. That Robinson boy's nice, mellow voice is discovered here, and here we almost lose Pete.

Members Of Dean's List Granted Special Rights

Students who are named to the Dean's list of distinguished students will be given the privilege of optional attendance in the succeeding semester, according to an announcement by Dean Morley Mays.

The faculty at its meeting Monday took action to delegate to the students thus named the responsibility for attending their classes. The privilege will extend for the one semester following their placement on the Dean's List.

This action was taken in order to give them the opportunity of exercising their judgment as to what portions of their work they could master for themselves.

Each student, however, will be required to take all tests and examinations. Moreover, Dean Mays pointed out that physical education classes, English Conference and private lessons in music will be excluded from the area of the new privilege.

Spring Musical Chrm. Named

The following committee chairman have been named for the Spring musical, "The Firefly":

Stage manager and assistant, Glenn Felix and John Long; stage crew, Ron Cherry and Bob Bailey; set construction, Ron Cherry and Phyllis Link; lights, Homer Evitts; costumes, Esther Weaver; properties, Miriam Barnes.

Advertising, Clare Nolan and Ruth Reid; ticket sales, Betty Longwell and Elaine Mock; business manager, Phyllis Baughman; house manager, Bernard Petrusky; and program, Jim Streiner and John Long.

As yet there has been no one selected to design the set. Anyone interested should contact Miss Lois Esaley, Prof. Donald Johnson or Vera Compton.

Frosh Meet 2:45 P. M. Today

According to a statement from Prof. Alfred Goetschius, freshman orientation assembly will resume meeting today following Biblical history. This assembly will meet at 2:45 p. m. every Friday until further notice.

Mim Smith Starts A Ball Rolling; Result: Skating On Tennis Courts

by Marj Seidel

Thanks to Mim Smith and several other persons, Juniata now has in ice skating rink for the first time in several years.

The idea originated one day last week when Mim was walking up to Swigart Hall with Miss Marion Thomas. In the course of their conversation, Mim happened to express her love of ice skating. To this, Miss Thomas suggested, "Why not flood the tennis courts as I understand they used to do?"

Talk To HB And Mike

Upon her suggestion of a talk to Harold Brumbaugh, Mim lost no time in calling as soon as they reached Swigart Hall. He in turn referred her to Mike Snyder who gave the idea its final stamp of approval with, "Sure, come ahead and flood it!"

Under the direction of Berkeley Smith, a crew of men students shoveled the snow off the courts—with Dr. Raymond Davis's shovels incidentally. After working from 7:30 p. m. Thursday to 1:30 a. m. Friday Berkeley supervised the flooding of the courts.

"And Having Fun"

Mim modestly states, "I only shoveled three shovelfuls." She is very glad that the project has been so successful. "It took me years to learn to skate; but," she says in amazement, "students who never skated before in their life have been skating around the pond like there is nothing to it—and having fun, too!"

According to Mike Snyder, ice skating used to be a popular sport around Juniata years ago. Students could skate for miles up and down the Raystown Dam. However, the tennis court "pond" later proved to be much safer. Now with the initiative of Mim Smith, the rink has once again become "a great success."

Rev. John Marvin, Lewistown Pastor, To Speak 8 Times

The Rev. John Marvin, of Lewistown, will be the guest speaker at Juniata during the annual Spiritual Emphasis Week. Scheduled for Feb. 12 to 16, Spiritual Emphasis Week is arranged "in order to deepen and strengthen the spiritual life of the student body."

This year, the meetings consist of a series of three Chapel talks by Rev. Marvin and five evening meetings set for 7 p. m. in Founders Chapel. Rev. Marvin has announced the following topics as subjects for his series of addresses:

Speech Subjects Listed

For Chapel on Monday, Wednesday and Friday he will speak on "With Malice Toward None," "Vice-Versa" and "It's Contagious," respectively. His evening addresses are "The $64 Question," "Miracles for Sale," "Couples: Married and Unmarried," "Give 'Em Hell" and "Have You Got What It Takes?"

Supplementing the scheduled meetings will be two teas to be held at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday of next week in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. At these occasions, to which all students and faculty are invited, members of the faculty will address those present on topics related to the Spiritual Emphasis Week purpose.

Paving the way for the Spiritual Emphasis Week program will be discussions held in faculty homes on Sunday evening. These student-led discussions will be centered around the topic "Why Bother With God?"

Interviews May Be Had

Interviews may be arranged with Rev. Marvin by those students who desire to discuss their problems with him. Those desiring to speak with him should schedule the time in advance, if (See Spiritual—, Page 4)

3 Collect Prizes At Open House

Three students from here collected prizes at the anniversary door prize drawing held at Skips Tuesday evening.

Carole Hagen received a box of valentine candy as first prize. A pair of Jaycee and Janeece statuettes went to Eddie Gould as second prize. Third prize was a cigarette lighter to Charlie Towns.

Layer cake was also distributed to patrons as proprietor Joe Chiampa, a former student at the College, celebrated his first year as owner of the "campus hang-out."

Winter Formal To Be This Saturday Night

JC will make merry Saturday at the winter formal. The social committee is presenting this frolic, and it has chosen for the theme, "Hearts In Melody." From 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. the guests will dance amid red and white hearts, while the melody will be supplied by the dance band.

Those attending will be treated to refreshments and varied entertainment, while spice will be added by some "novel" ideas which have not been disclosed. Since this is a special occasion, the girls will be granted 12 p. m. dates. Corsages will be in order.

Kneel In Faith, Rise In Peace

by Dave Armacost

Today, Juniata will join the peoples of 94 countries in a world day of prayer sponsored by the United Council of Church Women.

Today, the churches of Huntingdon will be open all day. At 7:30 p. m. at the Fifteenth Street Methodist Church we can take part in the world day of prayer service which will be conducted universally throughout most of the world.

Today, most of us, unless we simply give lip service to Christianity and put on or take off the teachings of Christ as we would our clothing, will want to go to this service or at least pause a moment to ask faith and guidance from a higher Being.

The theme of today is "Perfect love casts out fear." Let's read from the universal service:

"Christians, in this turbulent world of today, let us come humbly and unitedly to the altar of God—to pray. Let us worship and bow down before the Lord our Maker, whose love alone can cast out the fear in our hearts and minds.

"We kneel, yearning for peace in our distraught minds, and peace among the nations; We rise, knowing each one must pay a price for Peace.

Yearn For Unity In Church
"We kneel, yearning for unity in the Church—Christ's body; We rise with the will to do the deed we left undone.

"We kneel, blinded with pride of race and culture. We rise, scales dropped from eyes, enabled to see strength and beauty in all.

"We kneel, wrapped about with personal grievances; We rise filled with gratitude for gifts of God everywhere about us.

"We kneel, in fear; We rise with faith."

If People Would Unite In Faith
What a wonderful thing it would be if the people of 94 countries of the world would unite in faith and in love. If only people would live Christianity and stop talking about it.

You and I can do our bit toward that goal today—and tomorrow. Why not let people know you are a Christian. The measure of your belief in Christianity will be the effort you put forth to propagate it every moment of the day.

Today is your day of prayer for peace.

Rockefeller Plaza

Last weekend the tennis courts were turned into a veritable Rockefeller Plaza.

Many students took advantage of the ice and thus engaged in a wholesome recreational activity that hitherto had been almost unknown here in the last few years.

Flooding the courts was an old idea. However, the idea is not the important thing. There are a great deal more dreamers than there are doers.

So we take our green eyeshades off to doers—Berkey Smith, Chet Gomeringer, Mim Smith, Bob Hatala, Lowell Hackman and others who gave physical or moral support to this project.

All those who worked on "Operation Rockefeller Plaza" deserve the thanks of the student body for providing much-needed group recreation here at Juniata.

TOMMYHAWK

The tennis court was turned into Rockefeller Plaza and all passersby stopped and spent a few minutes watching the artists perform. Berkey Smith did his fancy twirling during the nocturnal hours, and Bev Chamberlain, Rhoda Clemmer and Mrs. George Baker took top honors in showing off some fancy figures.

After the sun departed to peek at China, and all good little students were tucked in bed counting A's, a band of gremlins stole upon the ice deck and performed their wonders under a wintry moon. Master elf Hanson banded his fairies together and then "Slippery" Martin and "Shoeless" Weiller played tag—with clubs.

Third Brumbaugh is a mare's nest with Gloria Amatoooli spouting off her humorous dialect. Say Gloria, what do you mean when you yell tally ho across campus? No spikada hinglish.

The congestion in second floor students hall could be avoided if the third floor were excused at seven minutes before the hour, the second floor at six minutes before the hour and the first at five minutes before. Me, I just want to be excused at five after.

Dagmar Silldorf and Chet Gomeringer seem to enjoy fencing in the post office and both have joined the Sportsman's Club. I'll join if they have wrestling. I just love that call, Two Arms!!!

Nancys Newman and Rogers showed off their beaus last weekend and believe me there were many hearts broken. This going steady may be all right—on a desert island.

If Prof. Stayer needs anybody to trace those textbooks which haven't as yet arrived, I'll gladly search for them. I would first travel to Huntingdon, (West Virginia) by way of India. Expediency would be the keyword and I would waste no time in getting away.

IRC To Make
Study-Travel
Award Mar. 15

The deadline for applications for the Juniata Foreign Study-Travel Award is March 15, IRC president Jay Benedict announced this week.

This award, which was set up by the International Relations Club last year, will provide a Juniata in good standing with a minimum of $100 for study and travel abroad.

The purpose of the award is "to promote and to advance on the campus knowledge of other nations, our sympathy with their problems, and thus to exert a real influence upon the attainment of international understanding and good will."

From all those who meet the qualifications set up by the club (see story, page 1) and whose letters of application are approved by the IRC cabinet and faculty advisor, one student will be chosen by club members for the award.

Although the award was not made last year, it is hoped that many Juniata students will make application this year.

A student, who in his junior year could go abroad and study and travel among our foreign neighbors, and then return here for his senior year, could make an invaluable contribution to international understanding.

worn to save face or to hide them. It's a tossup.

Miss Spencer was seen wearing a blouse which is usually seen worn at Waikiki Beach. It put a lot of color into things and caused an occasional smile. If Harry Truman can get away with wearing one on the Potomac, then Miss Spencer can surely wear hers while strolling along the Blue Juniata.

Tommy noticed that there are a group of energetic extroverts who walk into the library whistling and humming. To them "silence" means that all should keep still so they can be heard. I wonder where they get the energy.

At the rate at which the best-sellers are being tossed off the press, I predict there will be a library for love novels only. It's easier to select your love especially when it is well stacked.

John Cook and Nancy McCahon were seen exchanging ideas and glances in the rear booth at Skips. You can't mistake John. He combs his hair with a shoe shine brush. (Editor's Note: So does Art Shriver.)

For many moons Edie Talbot has set her eyes toward Cumberland, where the moon-glow is the brightest.

Nancy Rogers seems to attract many cold-suffering men, most of them from the Cloister. As soon as they enter the infirmary, they are suddenly caught with fever. From the cold???? This is off the record, but look in Nancy's high school yearbook. You'll find an interesting nickname belonging to her.

Now that many of the Lodge residents have moved to the Cloister, the Lodge should be a better place to live. More room to study and play cards.

The spirit of culture at Juniata has reached its epitome. About 1/5 of the student body is enrolled in music appreciation classes.

For those who saw "The Egg and I" and enjoyed this type of story, RKO's motion picture "Never a Dull Moment" will probably fulfill the task of furnishing an enjoyable evening of entertainment in movieland.

The film deals with the usual problem which faces the successful career woman when she attempts to adjust herself to country life. Her difficulties take the form of comedy and has such scenes as being chased by cattle, thrown by horses and smoked out of kitchen by her own baking attempts.

Alls Well That Ends Well

The plot portion of the movie marries a Broadway song writer (Irene Dunne) to a rodeo bronc rider (Fred MacMurray) and brings her to face trials and tribulations on his broken-down ranch in the west. Such things as trouble with a neighbor (William Demarest) and her attempts to mother MacMurray's two young daughters of his first marriage add to Miss Dunne's complications, but all's well that ends well and that's how it ends.

The action in the beginning of the picture is somewhat slow, but by the time its 86 minute running time is consumed it has picked up considerably. "Never a Dull Moment" was reviewed Very Good in New York and is playing at the Grand Theatre next week.

HALLS OF MONTEZUMA—

Many motion pictures have come out of Hollywood telling of the horrors of war. Most of them are the fairy-tale type which take the hero into action, has him kill all the enemies single handed, rescue the native girl from her captors and then return to be decorated.

Some, however, as "Breakthrough," portray a realistic picture of the strife and heroism of American boys in World War II. Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor attempt at this task, "Halls of Montezuma," measures up nicely.

Battle Despite Headaches

The story tells of a band of United States Marines fighting on a Pacific island during World War II. The central role is played by Richard Widmark with a great deal of distinction. He takes the part of a battle-hardened lieutenant, who leads his men into battle despite torturing migraine headache attacks.

The supporting cast does an outstanding job of portraying actual marines engaged in a life and death struggle. As deaths occur the audience is made to feel something of the tragedy and loss felt by the victim's combat buddies.

"Halls of Montezuma" is 113 minutes long, a little long for the average picture, but perhaps this is balanced by its fast moving action. Rated Superior in New York, it will open next week at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

Indian Scalps— A Home For—

by Bob Asan

Juniata's athletic trophies have now found a new home. They are to be taken from the various administration offices and put in a new trophy case in the Memorial Lobby of the new gym.

This new trophy case will be four feet by ten and will have overhead lighting. It will be built at a level about three and a half feet from the floor. When all the trophies are assembled in the case it should become a center of attraction in the gym.

The reason why these trophies are not on display now is that no one is exactly sure where they are all located. Don't laugh, it isn't funny. Some may be seen in various offices on campus, while others are in the J-Club room. It is about time that they are brought together and displayed as a unit, which will be a reality when the gym is finished.

Nice Ice

This department would like to take this opportunity to thank those who made the ice-skating possible, both the administration who okayed the idea and the students who did all the work. Thanks a lot from all those who used the rink.

Indians vs Owls!!

More than rumor has Temple University wanting to play JC at Philadelphia next season. The only thing nixing the deal is the hesitancy of the Owls to come to Huntingdon for a return game.

Falling Star

Big Bill Wanish of the St. Francis Red Flashes is having a hard time of it this season. The all-state cage ace hasn't even been making the starting line-up for a few games. The Frankies aren't suffering too much as a result though. John Bodner has taken over and is doing almost as good a job. Bodner played in Wanish's shadow last season, a la Lou Gehrig.

Tribe Faces Vet Five At Loretto

When the Juniata College basketball squad takes the floor at Loretto Wednesday they will be facing one of the strongest teams in the state. The St. Francis Red Flashes have won 13 of their first 15 contests this season.

The Frankies will enter the game with their entire 1949-50 team intact. Eleven veterans have returned to make the Frankies a powerful opponent.

Two Players Score 190 Points
John Bodner plays one of the forward positions and has scored over 190 points this season. Bodner is 6-2 and teamed up with Bill Wanish last season to really give the opposition nightmares. Wanish has cooled off somewhat this year and is not doing so well as he did last season.

To make up for Wanish's lapse the Frankies have Ed Sharick who also has scored over 190 points. Hopotes from a guard position and stands 6-5.

St. Francis will probably floor a starting team that will average slightly more than 6-2 in height. Andrew Heba at 5-11½ will be the shortest, while Sharick is the tallest player.

Frankies Upset Westminster
This year the Red Flashes have lost only to Georgetown and Waynesburg, while scoring such impressive victories as the 92-85 upset of Westminster and a 67-61 triumph over the Quantic Marines.

The Indians will probably go with the same lineup they have been using for the past few games; Karl Park and Tommy Green at the forwards, Ed Weir at center and Ray Korody and John Cook at the guard spots.

4 Teams Vie For Lead In IM Hoop League

The Trojans and the BTO's continued their winning ways last Wednesday night and retained their top positions in the Intramural basketball league. The Trojans trounced the Tigers, 50-16, while the BTO's poured on the heat in the second half to take the Gunners, 39-30.

Les Miserables Upset; Lose Two To Faculty

In the biggest bowling upset of the year the Faculty beat Les Miserables in two games last week. These were the first Faculty wins and knocked Les Miserables out of first place.

Three teams, the Sliders, Strickettes and Trojans, each won three points. They beat the Sneaks, Aces and NoNames, respectively. Ray Korody and Ed Marschka did not bowl and therefore did not add to their first and second place averages. The third and fourth place men, Ron Clapper and George Crusier, both added to their totals however.

Lions Big Test For Indian Five

Saturday the cagers of Juniata College will journey to Reading where they will vie with the Roaring Lions of Coach Eddie Gulan.

Having beaten such teams as Dickinson, Scranton and Elizabethtown and losing by only six points to LaSalle, the Albright quintet is one of the best combinations the Indians will face this season. The Lions had won ten and lost five games as of Jan. 30.

Team Is Experienced

This Reading team is built on experience and height. Featured in the guard positions from which they have operated for the past two years are the Bieber brothers, Pat and Dan. Standing 6-2, Dan is the shortest member of the starting five.

At center Gulan will start Captain Lee Cappel, another veteran. Cappel, 6-7, has scored over 160 points so far this season.

Ruoff Is Leading Scorer

The forwards are Bobby Ruoff and Geny Potts. Potts is the tallest member of the squad, standing 6-5. He is also the team's second leading scorer with 181 points in 14 games. Ruoff leads the team in the scoring department with 195 points.

The number one substitute is Al "Red" Pollack. He stands an even six feet and has scored 109 points this season.

Little Indians Bow To Johnstown Pitt, 62-47

The Juniata College Juniors bowed again to the Johnstown Pitt Center last Saturday on the high school court. Johnstown poured on the heat at the end and won the game, which was close for three periods.

At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 11-11. The Indians outscored Pitt in the second stanza to put them ahead 31-29 at the half.

The score at the three-quarter mark was 44-43 for the Jayvees as Tom Sanders, Dave LeFevre and John Thomas teamed up to add to the total.

Pitt outscored the Tribe in the last quarter, 19-3, and went on to win 62-47. Dave Gipe of Johnstown was the high scorer for the evening with 28 points, while Sanders had 18.

Grades Will Be Delayed Two Weeks Hereafter

There will be a two week interval between the end of each semester and the issuance of grades henceforth, the office of the registrar states.

Ten copies of each grade sheet must now be run off on the multilith machine. Then 20 to 25 more sheets must be run through to clean the master before another can be inserted. Thus a minimum of only about 15 grade sheets per hour can be processed, according to Keith Binkley, operator of the machine.

In a statement issued with the new grade form, the registrar's office asks students to report any errors because "this is an exact reproduction of the permanent record now on file at this office." If desired, further information on "the summary of (the student's) record, competence notations or actions" may also be obtained from the registrar.

One advantage of the new system, it is pointed out, lies in the fact that transcripts now may be processed in three to four days instead of the ten days required under the old system. This is because a permanent record can now be simply multilithed instead of requiring extensive typing.

JWSF Aims For DP Scholarship

The World Student Service Fund, one of the four agencies of JWSF, has announced that a goal for 1951 is securing more scholarships for DP students.

Since 1949 the WSSF has been helping DP students obtain an opportunity to continue their studies in this country. Operated on behalf of the National Committee for the Placement of DP Students, this WSSF project has brought almost 400 of them to the US.

This year is the last for American students and American schools to offer a future to these students. The DP law expires on June 30, 1951, and all arrangements for students to come must be made by March 1.

Last year Juniata College contributed over $500 through JWSF to be used by WSSF. This year again, contributions can be made through the Juniata World Service Fund; the campaign drive starts Feb. 19. Opportunity will be made for students, faculty, and administration to take part in "world service."

Deadline for these applications is March 15.

Cost: About $750

This summer's tour, costing about $750, will include a three week visit to England, a week in Paris and two weeks in Geneva, Switzerland. In addition to planned excursions and institutes there will be ample free time in which to travel to points of special interest to the individual. The trip is scheduled to begin about June 20, and the group will return to the United States around September 1.

Clubs To Close Down For Week

—bu Dot Hummer

Club doors will be closed next week due to Spiritual Emphasis Week! However, let's take a peep and see what happened this past week.

Miss Williams, an exchange teacher from England, will speak to the FTA this evening at 7 p. m. in the Old Chapel. Her topic will be centered around education and related subjects in the many schools. Refreshments will be served.

The Alpha Beta Gamma held their regular meeting Wednesday evening. Letters from various alumni teachers were received and read, giving the group an opportunity to hear about teaching experiences. The group also enjoyed a light snack.

Cabinet members of the WAA recently held a meeting. It was decided that some of the club members would be sent to Penn State Feb. 24, to represent basketball, bowling, swimming and badminton teams. During the month of March a project in archery will be conducted, with people from downtown instructing the groups. The WAA held a short business meeting Thursday evening.

Snow, Snow, Snow

Thursday—We all awake to find the ground covered with 10 to 14 inches of snow. Trip to Youngstown is delayed and finally called off entirely due to the weather and road conditions. Most of this free day is spent in letter-writing.

Friday—Leave Canton at 9 a. m. and slide our way to Windber. The bus stops at Butler for a concert, and a new organization performs—the men's trio. It seems that Gerry and his carload didn't know about the concert until the air is suddenly filled with familiar music—that of the choir, or at least part of it. Our concert here is nevertheless effective, especially the number "Where He Leads Me."

Saturday—We broadcast over WCRO for a half hour. As soon as this is over, all the married men and "Bek" head for home. The afternoon and evening are free, so Robbie holds a party for us.

Sing, Sing, Sing

Sunday—We have three excellent concerts today. The whole choir seems to be in the spirit of the music. Louise Cray, '50, and Tom Shoemaker, '50, join us in singing the benediction this afternoon. Robbie's folks have refreshments for us after the concert, and then we start back to Huntingdon. During the course of the trip, Ben Newcomer and Johnny get lost in the Greenburg church; Dan Ziegler has the same trouble in Uniontown; Whitey finds several soft shoulders to sleep on; many talents are discovered such as the "Wheezers Male Chorus"; and a bit of match-making takes place.

We are all sorry it has to end so soon, for it was all a wonderful experience, socially and spiritually.

2 Students To Give Reading Next Friday At Alumni Banquet

Janet Boland and Phyl Link will journey to Altoona next Friday to participate in a program for the annual banquet of the Juniata Alumni Association.

In conjunction with the 75th anniversary year, a special program is being planned in which these two Juniata students will take part. They will be featured in a dialogue from the current Broadway play "The Voice of the Turtle" by John van Druten. The skit centers around the conversation between two girls who are both trying to win the same man and the tactics they employ in their pursuits.

Both Miss Boland, a junior elementary education major, and Miss Link, a sophomore secondary education major, have been active in various dramatic presentations on campus. This is the first time they have given a reading together. However, they are planning to do more of this team work in the future.

Elder Releases Social Calendar

The social calendar for the Spring semester has been released by Bob Elder, chairman of social activities.

Tomorrow night the season opens with the Winter Formal (see separate article on page 1). As a part of Spiritual Emphasis Week the movie, "Angel On My Shoulder," has been obtained for presentation Feb. 17. The following Saturday, Feb. 24, is the scheduled time for the basketball game between Juniata and Franklin and Marshall.

Talent Show March 3

To start the ball rolling for March, there will be an all-campus talent show March 3. The show will be open to anyone having talent and wishing to perform. This includes both faculty and students.

The weekend of March 9 and 10 will find the Spring musical, "The Firefly," presented on the stage of Oller Hall. "The House of Seven Gables," a motion picture, will be shown in Oller Hall March 17.

2 Parties In April

During the month of April there will be two big campus dances. The sophomore party will be held April 7, while the juniors will entertain April 21 at their reception in honor of the senior class. The Saturday between these two dates, April 14, will find the classes vying for the annual All Class Night trophy.

Rounding out the year's activities will be May Day, May 12 and finally Alumni Day, June 2.

Juniata To Join Carnegie Tech In 5-Year Plan

Juniata College will cooperate with Carnegie Institute of Technology in a five-year educational program leading to both liberal arts and engineering or science degrees.

Announcement of this cooperative plan—known as the 3-2 Plan—was made jointly by Pres. Calvert Ellis of Juniata and Pres. J. C. Warner of Carnegie. The program will go into effect next September.

2 Degrees In 5 Years

Under the plan, students may take three years of liberal arts with a major in science, then transfer to Carnegie for two years of engineering or science. At the end of the five years, they will receive bachelor of arts degrees from Juniata and bachelor of science degrees from Carnegie.

According to Carnegie officials, this plan has two major advantages:

- It gives a student a chance to build a broad liberal arts foundation before beginning a technical program.

- It gives a student who does not know whether he wants to study engineering or science some college experience which may help him make a choice.

Many Curriculum Open

Transfer students from Juniata will be able to study one of Carnegie's three pure science curriculums: physics, chemistry or mathematics. Or they may choose one of the five engineering departments: civil electrical, mechanical, chemical or metallurgical. They may also enter the department of industrial management, which combines a specially designed engineering program with management training.

Other universities using a similar plan and affiliating with small colleges include Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cal Tech, and Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland.

With this announcement, Juniata becomes the 17th liberal arts college to join Carnegie in the cooperative program.

Graduation Time Is Speeded Up

Due to the current need for the nation's manpower, students will now be able to graduate in 32 months instead of the usual four years.

Pres. Calvert Ellis said that Juniata "definitely would accept freshmen in June." A regular ten week Summer term is being offered each year in addition to the Fall and Spring terms.

A freshman who enrolls here this June may be able to graduate in January, 1954, under the new speed-up program. However, such a program could be followed only by a "better than average student."

Comedy Film Planned For Tomorrow Night

A comedy film set in the Lower World has been procured by Prof. G. Wayne Glick for presentation tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Oller Hall. With a cast headed by Paul Muni, Anne Baxter, and Claude Rains, the film, "Angel on my Shoulder" deals with the devil's attempts to corrupt an honest judge.

According to Don Treese, who is in charge of the evening's program, refreshments will be served in the gym following the movie.

Jim Streiner

Streiner, Seidel Named Editors Of Juniata

Jim Streiner was appointed editor of the Juniata this week by the Faculty Publications Committee on the recommendation of the retiring editor.

The Pitcairn, Pa. junior takes over the editorship this week to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of David Armacost who served from January, 1950 until last week.

Journalism To Be Career

Streiner, a history major who expects to make journalism a career, has worked on every campus publication except the Indian.

He came up through the ranks of the Juniata serving as reporter, news editor and managing editor.

The new editor is a Masquer and served as sophomore All-Class Night chairman last year.

Seidel Is Assistant

As assistant editor, Streiner has appointed Marj Seidel, a junior from Wyomissing, Pa.

Miss Seidel, who served as news editor up until this time, has worked on the paper for three years.

She has been a cheerleader for three years and was a member of the YWCA in her freshman and sophomore years.

The assistant editor is majoring in English and intending to teach.

by Margie Alleman

"Twenty years ago, Juniata students were much the same friendly bunch that they are today." According to Dean Mays, they liked fun, football and food.

Dean Mays compared his student days of the early '30's with college life as he now views it from one of the top rungs of the ladder.

One item of timely interest mentioned by the Dean was that there was much "gripping" about the food. As he mildly expressed it, "there was no attempt to make the food appear at all attractive." With an elusive smile he added that he was "among the chief agitators for better food."

Dancing Frowned Upon

"Dancing was frowned upon then," the Dean of the College continued. "There were many efforts to start dancing on campus. However, these were unfruitful as some money that had been left to the college was tied up with the stipulation that dancing should not be permitted on cam-

Fourteen Named To Dean's List For Fall Term

Fourteen students have been named to the dean's list of distinguished students for the Fall term. An academic average of 2.75 or above is required for this attainment.

Frances and William Bateson, both January graduates, were named for the first time. Mrs. Bateson, a mathematics major, and her husband, a history major, both had 3.00 averages.

4 Seniors On List

Senior students named were Gerald Hartzel, business administration, 3.00; Lorena H. Bank, English, 2.80; Coy Hicks, history, 3.00; and Vernon Snowalter, business (See Dean's List—Page 4)

Youth Leader To Speak Mon.

Dr. Kenneth Brown will speak at Chapel service Monday.

Jan. 1 of this year he became executive director of the Danforth Foundation, which promotes organizational and personal Christian development on college campuses.

Dr. Brown has been president of Hiram College, Ohio, and later filled the same capacity at Denison University, Grandville, Ohio. Before becoming executive director of the Danforth Foundation, he traveled around the world.

JWSF Drive Starts Monday

Chm. Benedict Says $1951 Goal Is Attainable If All Cooperate

The 1951 Juniata World Service Fund Drive will begin Monday with a goal of $1951.

According to Jay Benedict, JWSF chairman, one intensive week of campaigning should see the goal reached, "if everyone cooperates."

Jay Benedict

In conjunction with this "one week of campaigning rather than the usual two" plan, publicity chairman Jack Middour has scheduled several feature attractions, including a radio show.

Secretary Bev Williams has secured all the Chapel periods for JWSF, and, says Jay Benedict, "they will be interesting."

The only Senate-approved fund drive on JC's campus, JWSF will benefit four agencies this year. The $1951 will be divided among the foreign students aid fund, two missionaries, the Red Cross and the World Student Service Fund.

Agencies Which Benefit Listed

These agencies may be broken down as follows:

- Two foreign students are maintained on campus through JWSF. The idea started with the spring musical production, "Americana" in 1948 and has been maintained ever since. A portion of the JWSF and the proceeds of "The Firefly" will be used for this purpose.

- The two missionaries to be helped this year are Stover Kulp, father of Phillip and Naomi Kulp, students here, and the Ecuador missionary, Benton Rhoades.

- As in the past, the Red Cross will receive a portion of JWSF contributions.

- The World Students Service Fund is an international organization which supports foreign students in America; sends books, food, and clothing to the world; and in general tries to rebuild education in the world.

Contributors Have Choice

During this coming week, contributors may designate whether they wish to give to all four, or any one, of these JWSF agencies. "Be sure to let your solicitor know so that the JWSF treasurer, Keith Binkley can keep the reports accurate," the JWSF planning commission suggests.

According to Art Allen, chairman of solicitations, the solicitors and their areas are as follows:

Women's dorm: Brumbaugh—first, Ruth March; second, Margie Alleman; third, Janet Boland; fourth, Sarah Keller; Founders—third, Ginny Masemer; fourth, Fortia Baugher; Oneida—second, Rhonda Clemmer; third Janet Wenger; Geiger House—Carol Borden; Day Students—Dottie Humphries, Betty McKee and Norma Gene Sinclair.

Men's Dorm Solicitors

Men's Dorm: Cloisters Wing—basement, Dave Bayer; first, Ray Siren; second, Tom Gates; third, Dale Zimmerman; fourth, Bernad Plesenski; Cloisters Arch—first, Bud Kreider; second, Don Kautter; third and fourth, Howard Montgomery; Lodge—Joe Hulgus, Gene Sease, Paul Schroeder and Bill Bolt; Non-resident—Joe Thomasberger, Len Hickman, Bob Wagoner, Bob Champion and John Long.

Married couples off campus—Bill Carpenter; Village—Walt Bush; faculty—Miss Nory Edwards; administration—Mrs. Rhoda Rhodes.

45 Table Heads Now Serving For This Term

Forty-five students were selected last week to serve as permanent table heads for the table assignments of the second semester. They are:

Ruth Armentrout, Phyl Kulp, Susie Bartell, Eleanor Seese, Mary Lou McKee, Sarah Keller, Lois Miller, Ray Hollinger, Bob Uish, Bill Korman, Glen Keene, Glen Felix, Marjorie Alleman, Phyllis Baughman, Renie Hebrank, Don Treese, Vernon Showalter, Don Howe, Charles Allison.

Dave Armacost, Bob Elder, Hilton Hines, Ray Kreider, Dot Hammer, Jim Streiner, Bill Bolt, Jo Ann Barksdale, Frank Byers, Joe Thomasberger, Marj Seidel, Mary Ankeny, Bill Lehman, Harvey Miller.

Barbara Warner, Lois Robinson, Fred Bratton, Hobart Heistand, Bev Williams, Kay Wright, Beany Roberts, George Kensinger, Joan Weaver, Steve Finckel.

How's Your G I Q ?

(Answers to last week's quiz: 1. Anna Rosenberg; 2. Hippocrates; 3. Peter, James and John).

1. What did Jesus say was the greatest commandment?

2. What does "Requiem" mean?

3. What determines the date of Easter each year?

pus. Parties were rather stiff and dry affairs."

Aside from modest reference to his active interest in these campus problems, Dean Mays spoke little of himself. Young but scholarly in appearance, gracious in manner, he has a handy faculty for picking up a conversation right where he left off, if he is interrupted.

Room C Was 'Social Room'
Reminiscing, the Dean recalled that 20 years ago there was nothing of the Social Rooms as we know them. Room C was used in the evenings for the purpose of socializing. So that the Juniata socialites would never find themselves "in the dark," a light was put in the room which could not be turned off by the students. The switch was in the adjoining office, under Mac's lock and key.

"Ma" Roberts, a former dean of women, kept close watch over the students. According to a story told by Dean Mays, "she and her flashlight searched behind the bushes and in the tree tops for amorous couples."

For JWSF-A Plug From Ekky

Talked with Ekkehard Eickhoff over the weekend. Along with Pete Mayer, Ekky was the first of those international students who come here under the auspices of the JWSF. He and Pete spent two years at Juniata, 1948 through 1950.

Then Pete went back to Germany to school and later a job with the American foreign service there. Ekky, also from Germany, was able to spend last year at Marquette University, Milwaukee... and came out with a masters degree.

Now his plans are big: off to Italy Feb. 17, a week in Venice, thence to Alexandria and Beirut. Here he'll put in a Summer "visiting and working for the Swiss legation to Iraq, Lebanon and Syria."

Come Fall, it's back to Italy and finally to Germany to complete the job Ekky says he really began at Juniata... getting his PH D in history. After that, a diplomatic career.

He was only to be here for two days, and then he was leaving America. So he asked that some things be said for him.

"In comparison with other foreign students who studied with me at Marquette, I felt that Juniata offered the best possible preparation for broad studies in liberal arts. . . . JWSF made that broad background possible for me, as well as for Pete and the others. . . .

"To me, a German, Juniata means close contact with friends . . . which leads to a deeper understanding of things American . . . they call it the Juniata Family . . . in all sincerity, that describes it."

You, and JWSF, make that story possible.

For Us--Two Dorm Bull Session Topics

Comes inevitably the question "What has this Student Senate ever done?"

May we point out that this issue contains two items which may well be used in the next verbal battle on the topic?

• A new tablehead list appears on page 1. This illustrates the lack of fanfare with which the Senate often does its job. It also reminds us that an efficient tablehead system, devised by the present Senate and administered by conscientious people, has replaced Flying Napkins, et al.

• Petitions for Senate offices are now available. The present Senate is at the beginning of its end.

No comment on all this. Just want to start more bull sessions . . . they make good starting points for editorials . . . and, ultimately, make a Student Senate work.

For Next Week 'Tommy' And 'The Future'

"The Tommy Question" and "How About the Future?" will be among the editor's notes next week, space and campus events permitting.

In the first we'll discuss the gradual decline of the Juniata's 24 year old column about people and things, until it now is something far different than its originator intended. And we'll suggest the improvements we have in mind.

The second will discuss editorial policy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Day Student Asks: "Why Wasn't I Told?"

To the Editor:

There was a meeting the other night. I missed it--and not because I didn't want to go. The next day, I found out about it.

"Why wasn't I told?" I asked. Came the reply, "But it was announced in show."

So? Does that do a Day Student any good?

I feel that some provision should be made for the dissemination of information of interest to day students . . . perhaps through greater use of the bulletin boards in the men's and women's day student rooms, student bulletin boards in Founders and Students Halls and through use of more posters.

Latest figures from the registrar's office show that while the Day Students are a minority group, they are anything but a small one. There are 152 Day Students out of 580 total--approximately 1/4 of the student population--too large a group to be ignored by club publicity men and others interested in Day Student assistance in carrying through campus projects.

Day Students are expected to participate and give equally in JWSF Drive and extra-curricular activities; yet they are ignored when it comes to such a small thing as a club meeting. I propose something be done to remedy this unfortunate condition.

A Neglected Day Student

(Editorial reply: Kinda think the blame's half yours myself. You seem to be neglecting the Juniatian and the Student Life Calendar which Miss Spencer's secretary keeps accurately up to date. Also, the deans of men and women both claim they post all notices of interest to day students on the bulletin boards in Founders and the men's day student room. They add that administration announcements are never made solely in the dining hall.)

(The other half of the responsibility goes to those club officials who, at the last minute, rush an announcement through the dining hall p. a. system, forgetting your 25% of the student body isn't there to hear it. Why not get after these people yourself and push your case?)

(And while we're thinking about it: Dean Rhodes, that men's day student room bulletin board has come apart at the seams; it's just a frame now. Maybe it ought to be fixed so the boys have someplace to hang the cartoons they draw in class, etc.)

(Or would the whole thing be solved by putting a bulletin board in Skips?)

★ ★ ★ Grad Reports On Atoms, Grade School Teaching

To the Editor:

My permanent address is still 2342 Pearl Street, Santa Monica, Calif., but for the school term which ends June 15, my address is Box 217, Twentynine Palms, Calif.

After doing social group work for several months after graduation Feb., 1950, I took a year of graduate work at the University of California at Los Angeles. While there I worked for my general elementary credential which I procured from the state of California recently. I am now teaching at Twentynine Palms Elementary School on the fifth grade level. . . . I am located near Las Vegas where they have been experimenting with the atom bomb. This morning around 6 a. m. I witnessed a grim and terrifying sight when one of the atom bombs was being tested. At 8:30 a. m. on my way to teach I could still see the smoke in the distance. I never saw the sky light up so brightly! It seemed strange to hear the explosion at such a distance . . .

Love and War Hit Local Movies

By FRANK HARLACHER

SEPTEMBER AFFAIR—Here is the love story every girl dreams about. Complete with stardust, moonbeams and soft music, Paramount's "September Affair" succeeds in touching the heart of every woman.

Not only is the story one of love, but the action of the film takes place in such romantic settings as Capri, Naples and Florence. Joseph Cotten and Joan Fontaine, who play the principal parts, spend six weeks of the picture's shooting time on location in Italy.

Their efforts were not in vain for the movie is packed full of scenic wonders and architectural splendors which add a realistic touch to the love story and give it a sort of foundation or backbone.

Cotten portrays a successful middle aged engineer. He is tired of married life so he goes to Italy for a vacation. On his way home he meets Miss Fontaine, also returning home after studying piano abroad. They fall in love, and after the plane they miss crashes and their names are among the missing they decide to start life anew.

The camera follows them in an unconventional tour of Italy, but alas, such happiness cannot last—so it ends with their realization of the doubts and misgivings which go with an attempt to forget the world.

Native Actors Cast

The travelogue-aspect, together with the excellent job of casting Italians in minor supporting roles, give this 104 minute love story and outstanding sense of naturalism.

"September Affair" was reviewed Excellent in New York and plays at the Grand Theatre next week.

OPERATION PACIFIC—To the person who thrills to those action-packed stories of adventure in Davy Jones's Locker, Warner Brother's newest Navy picture will fill the ticket nicely. The whole makeup of this film resembles "Destination Tokyo" which dealt with a submarine's successful entrance into Tokyo Bay during the last war.

Action-Packed Photography—This year's boxoffice "Champ," John Wayne, takes the lead role and lives up to his usual formula, action. And action you will get—for this undersea story is jammed with cuts from newsreels and superb below-the-surface photography.

The film, in my opinion, was intended to be an action picture. There is, however, a love plot mixed in with the action which slows it down considerably. These complications are led by a Navy nurse (Patricia Neal) who is Wayne's wife. The old problem of competition while absent presents itself, but is cleared up by the conclusion of the picture.

Wayne Leads Rescue Party—As the main plot Wayne is seen as an executive officer on the US submarine Thunderfish leading a rescue party to a Jap occupied island. The group succeeds in rescuing two nuns and a number of children. During the mission Wayne's friend (Ward Bond) is killed and complications as to who is responsible arise.

"Operation Pacific" is one of the leading World War II pictures to come out of filmland. Its running time is 111 minutes and was reviewed Very Good in New York. It will play next week at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

Dutchmen Visit Here Wednesday

by Jim Giordano

The Indians of Juniata College will meet head-on with Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen on the high school floor next Wednesday night.

Coach Ralph Mease's basketballers have won nine of their first 17 games, including an earlier 74-60 triumph over Juniata. Meanwhile, the Indians will be seeking to avenge that defeat and also capture their third victory of the season.

6 Foot Lineup

Co-captaining the Dutchmen will be Larry Kinsella and Chuck Zimmerman. Both men are six feet one and know how to handle a basketball. Three other six footers, Al Murawski, "Red" Langstaff and Bill Tornien, will probably round out the starting five.

Lebanon Valley undoubtedly will be counting strongly on their spectacular sophomore ace, Murawski, to continue his phenomenal pace. Murawski, who is the nation's top scorer among the small colleges, has collected 447 points, averaging 27.9 per game.

Last Contest Close

The previous contest, played at Annville, was close throughout, with LV leading by only four points at the end of three quarters. In the fourth period, however, they pulled away and went on to win, 74-60. Murawski was "held" to 24 points in this game.

Juniata will probably go with the same lineup they have been using for the past few games; Karl Park and Tommy Green at forwards, Ed Weirauch at center and Ray Korody and John Cook at the guard spots.

Les Miserables Win; Sliders In Second

Les Miserables moved back in to first place in the Intramural bowling league by taking three points from the Sliders last Friday. The Sneaks also moved up a notch by taking three points from the Trojans.

In the only other match rolled, the Aces gained a split with the NoNames.

Ed Marschka, with a 455 series, moved closer to Ray Korody in the high average department. Harry Martin of the Sliders moved into the top ten bowlers with an average of 133.

The schedule for tonight:

6:45—Sneaks vs Les Miserables

Aces vs Trojans

8:45—Faculty vs NoNames

Sliders vs Strikettes

Team standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Les Miserables	9	3	.750
Sliders	8	4	.667
Strikettes	5	3	.625
Sneaks	7	5	.583

INDIANS DROP 2 TO TALLER FOE

Lions Down Juniata; Green And Kuhn High

Dwarfed again by a skyscraper aggregation, the Juniata College Indians went down to their ninth defeat Saturday night. Albright, with a big height advantage that the Tribe could not overcome, beat them 78-59.

Tommy Green shared scoring honors with the Lion's 6-5 Jerry Potts with 18 points. Leo Kuhn was runner-up with 16. Karl Park, JC's scoring ace, was held to 13 points, his lowest total since the Grove City game.

Close First Half

Both teams fought a nip-and-tuck battle for the first two periods. The first quarter was 15-14 with Albright holding the edge. Albright came off with 20 points in the second period to make the halftime score a close 35-30. Kuhn netted 14 points in this half to account for nearly half the Tribe's total.

The second half was all Albright. The Lions increased their lead to 11 points at the end of the third period by netting 21 points to the Indians' 15. The final quarter was also dominated by Albright which had 22 points against the Indians' 14.

Korody Forced Out

Ray Korody was forced out of the game with a sprained ankle in the third period. Kuhn also fouled out in this period. The outcome of the game might have changed if both men could have stayed in.

Juniors Fall In Last Period; Hackett High

Juniata's JV squad outscored the Altoona Penn State center in the first three quarters only to falter in the final frame and lose 61-50 last Saturday night in Altoona.

Led by Dave Hackett and Dave LeFevre, with 14 points each, and Fred Hamor's ten counters, Juniata was ahead at the end of the third period 40-34.

Altoona, accustomed to Jaffa Mosque's large floor, caught fire in the final quarter, dropping in 27 points to leg-weary JC's ten.

Steve Goshorn, Altoona ace, tallied 11 of his 23 points in the last period and was top man of the game. His running-mate, Frank Betar, also hit double figures, as he made five field goals and six free throws for a total of 16 points.

Frankies Win, 90-49; Park Paces Indians

With Captain Ray Korody sitting this game out as a result of an ankle sprain, the Juniata Indians met defeat once more. Last Wednesday night at Loretto, St. Francis administered a 90-49 setback to them.

The Red Flashes were too much for the Tribe as they forged ahead early in the game. At the ten minute buzzer the Indians trailed 24-12.

Both teams played a race-horse style of ball. In the second period the Indians scored 16 points and the score at halftime read 43-22.

Three Platoon System

Using three platoons and a tremendous height superiority to good advantage, St. Francis outscored Juniata 22-9 in the third quarter.

Juniata had the edge in foul shooting in a very rough game. They converted 11 out of 16 tries as against 18 for 32 for the Frankies.

55 Points For Three

Bill Wanish, Ed Sharick and John Bidner proved to be the big guns in the Red Flash offense. They sank 55 points between them, with Wanish leading all the scorers with 20 points.

Two Indians, Karl Park and Tommy Green, hit for double figures. Park had 17 points, while Green sank ten.

Park's 17 points ran his season total to 207 in 12 games. Green is number two in scoring with 122 points.

Contributing six and five points to the Indian total were Leo Kuhn and Fran Zimmerman. Harry Koehnlein and Jack Dickey each added three, while John Cook and Ed Feldkircher bucketed two points. The last point was tossed in by Dave Bayer.

Juniors Overpowered; Knox Leads Indians

In a game played at Doyle Hall in Loretto last Wednesday night, the little Indians were beaten 94-59 by the St. Francis team.

With three men hitting for 78 points the Frankies had an easy time of it. They led 14-13 at the end of the first quarter and by the end of the half widened the margin to 14 points, 41-27.

Ed Dugan, Pat Farace and Chuck Vaccarella teamed up and made the second half a rout. Farace had 31 points on 12 field goals and seven fouls. Right behind came Vaccarella with 26 points. Dugan finished out the big three with 21 points.

Chuck Knox paced the Indians with 16 points, while Bob Simon and John Thomas followed with 14 and 12 points respectively.

The game was rough throughout, with excessive body contact being permitted. Dave LeFevre was banished in the second quarter for intentional fouling.

JC Meets Jays In Return Test

Tomorrow night the Indians will oppose the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown College in a return game. The home court advantage rests with the E-towners, who will be out to reverse a previous loss to Juniata.

In the first meeting the Indians emerged victorious by a scant two point margin, 41-39. Hard basketball and short tempers featured the first game and will likely color the second.

Play in LVIT

Playing in the Lebanon Valley Invitational Tournament held late in December, the E-towners were dubbed the "Ironmen". They gained this title by beating two teams in one day.

Within six hours the Blue Jays outscored both Dickinson and PMC. The Elizabethtown quintet moved into the semi-finals only to lose to Albright. Two weeks later, however, the Lions were beaten in convincing style by E-town.

Meminger High Man

Jim Meminger led his team in the first game by scoring 11 points. Then came Bill Foster, who was expected to carry the team this year. Foster got ten points in the first game.

Coach Whitey Von Nieda's team boasts a balanced attack. Every player on the floor is a potential high scorer. All his men are good shots and have been taking turns as high scorers. Don Reid has the single game high, 30 points against Lebanon Valley.

Trojans Undefeated; 3 In Race For Honors

Senior Don Robinson of the I-7 and sophomore John Richman, YHO's are in a hot race for top individual scoring honors in the Intramural Basketball league. Robinson of the fourth place I-7 has scored 97 points, while Richman of the third place YHO's has netted 95. Richman has best average of points per game, 11.9.

Scoring records:

All entries in the Sixth Annual Kappa Alpha Mu International Collegiate Photography Contest must be submitted before Mar. 15. The contest will be held at Baylor University, Mar. 22-24.

Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary fraternity in the photo-journalism field, sponsors the contest with the objective of making today's collegiate photographer "more conscious of the importance of good, ethical photo-journalism to our society."

Prints must be 8" by 10" or larger and must be mounted on standard 16" by 20" photo-mounts. Each photographer may submit a maximum of ten prints. A grand prize will be presented for the picture that is considered best by several prominent news photographers. Major prizes will be awarded in five classes: news, sports, feature, pictorial and industrial.

Entry blanks, rules and additional information may be secured from: Louie Hulme, Dept. of Journalism, Baylor University, Waco, Texas; or Drury Cargill, secretary, Kappa Alpha Mu, 18 Walter Williams Hall, Columbia, Mo.

571 Enrolled For Spring Session

Spring term enrollment at Juniata is 571, according to an announcement from the Office of the Registrar. This is a drop of 46 students from the Fall enrollment.

The total of registered men students stands at 341 and of women students at 230, thus maintaining a ratio of approximately three men for every two women.

For the men, the breakdown into registrational divisions is 238 full time resident, 82 full time day, three part time resident, three part time day, 12 special and three music.

A breakdown of women students is 180 full time resident, 27 full time day, six part time resident, four part time day, nine special and four music.

Cambria Alumni To Hear Capt. Will Judy, '11, Apr. 21

Guest speaker for the Cambria County Alumni Association annual meeting and dinner to be held Saturday night, April 21, will be Captain Will Judy, graduate of the class of 1911.

Today Captain Judy is a Chicago publisher and author. In 1940 he was President of the National Alumni Association. Somerset County is his native home and therefore "a sizable delegation is expected from there."

This engagement will be followed by another in Barcelona and Madrid, Spain, in May. Here he will judge the National Championship Dog Shows.

Library Begins Book Census; Volumes Discovered Missing

The College Library has begun its biennial task of accounting for the 48,000 numbered volumes on the Library shelves.

A statement from the library says, "this is a task which demands the cooperation of all Library borrowers. In the past week numerous cards from only the fiction and the biography sections of the Library indicate that there have been volumes illegally borrowed. These books were not properly signed out at the desk."

The librarians make a special appeal to all Library users to return during the next few days every unlawfully borrowed book of fiction, biography, reference and other information.

Male Quartet Continues Career Singing At Alumni Dinner Tonight

by Jeanie Tait

This evening at the Penn Alto Hotel in Altoona, the Varsity Male Quartet will again give forth with some musical arrangements. The occasion is one of a series of Alumni dinners to be given throughout the year.

Its members—Charles Redenberger, first tenor, Clair Schaffner, second tenor, Gerald Hartzel, baritone, and Robert Landes, bass—made their debut Oct., 1950 at a Lions Meeting.

Since that time they have been providing entertainment and enjoyment for Juniata College and surrounding areas.

Functioning as a part of the A Cappella Choir, the quartet has appeared at the Women's Auxiliary Christmas party, the District Lions Convention, and various college programs.

On the choir trip, their arrangements of such hit tunes as "I Don't Know Why" and "My Blue Heaven" were popular with the high school students. A specialty number, "The Game Was Played on Sunday," and barber shop numbers are favorites of the quartet and are featured at many of their appearances.

Two of the members, Redenberger and Schaffner, are music majors, while Hartzel is business and Landes pre-dental.

"Juniata on the Air" Wednesday evening will present a program to provide information concerning the JWSF drive. (See story on page 1.)

The script for this radio program is being written by Margie Alleman. It will begin with the history of the JWSF and then go on to point out how the money which will be collected is to be used.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby will appear on the program to interview Kris Kaltenborn and Herman Pabst. He will question them about conditions in Germany.

Busy Students— Clubs Still Idle

by Dot Hummer

With Spiritual Emphasis and busy students, the clubs seem to be taking a back seat again this week.

The Sigma Gamma has a "Socialistic" program planned for Wednesday evening. W. A. Calvin, Acting Secretary of Social Insurance Activities of the American Federation of Labor in Washington, D. C. will speak to the group on "Socialized Medicine". It was announced that this meeting will begin at 7 p. m. in Room C and will be concluded in time for the basketball game.

Mrs. Pennington of Huntingdon will speak at the Masque meeting Thursday evening. Her talk will be centered around acting and also her recent trip to Europe.

The IVCF will hold its regular meeting that same evening. An analysis of II Timothy, Chapter 2 will be led by Lois Robinson.

Dr. Donald Rockwell will be the speaker at the regular JCA meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. in Founders Chapel. Using as his topic "The Place of Science in Christianity," Dr. Rockwell will give a half hour address, leaving time for a period of discussion at the close of the meeting.

Campus Offices Reclassified

Students Limited To Positions According To 'Time Consumption'

by Marj Seidel

A reclassification of campus positions has been released by the Senate committee on classification, composed of Bob Elder, chairman, Chuck Allison and Bud Kreider.

The Senate redefines major and minor positions in February each year for the following year. This classification is based upon time consumption and apportionment of jobs.

In order to prevent one student from bearing, or trying to bear, the burdens of too many major positions, the Senate Constitution limits the number of positions a student may hold to the following combinations: one major, one minor and one unclassified; two minor and three unclassified; three minor and one unclassified; one minor and five unclassified; or seven unclassified.

Major Positions Classified

Major positions consist of the following: president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Student Senate; chairmen of religious activities, underclassmen, athletics, social activities, women's house, men's house and the radio committee; editor-in-chief of the Alfarata; and editor-in-chief and managing editor of the Juniatian.

Listed as minor positions are the following: chairmen of publications, general activities, Christian Heritage Commission, Personal Campus Affairs Commission, World Relatedness Commission and Social Responsibility Commission; presidents of the senior class, a cappella choir, FTA, IRC, J Club, IVCF, Outing Club, WAA, Sigma Gamma, Lambda Gamma and Juniata National Rifle Club.

Managers of the a cappella choir, football, track, basketball and baseball; editors of the Indian and Scout; and business managers of the Indian, Alfarata, Juniatian and Scout.

Others Are Unclassified

All other positions, including class and club officers not previously mentioned, are designated as unclassified.

The senators have made the suggestion that no senator be allowed to serve under another senator on any committee.

Following the plans requested by the 1950 Leadership Conference, the Senate has also formulated several suggestions concerning the nomination of officers for all classes and clubs. According to Hilton Hines, chairman of the elections committee, "Our purpose is to make provision for a fair and efficient system of nominations."

The recommendations are as follows:

- All candidates for office must be certified as being in good standing academically as certified by the Registrar's Office. That is, all candidates must not be on probation and must be a candidate for a degree.

- All candidates for office must certify their intention to continue to be included within the class or (See Offices—, Page 4)

Stone Church Spiritual Week Begins Sunday

Spiritual Emphasis Week at the Stone Church will begin Sunday. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Nevin Zuck, pastor of the Church of the Brethren at Elizabethtown, and pastor of the students at Elizabethtown College.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College, as well as the Eastern Baptist Seminary and the Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary, both in Philadelphia, Rev. Zuck has held positions at Philadelphia, Ambler and Uniontown. He has also served as director and leader of summer camps.

According to Rev. John Middlekauff, Rev. Zuck's preaching mission in 1948 "was one of the most successful ever held. He is an excellent speaker and popular with students."

During the Spiritual Emphasis Services, Rev. Zuck will preach every evening at 7:30 in the Stone Church. He will be available for counseling to anyone interested.

Varsity Quartet Reorganizes

Clair Schaffner has been moved to first tenor in the Varsity Male quartet as a result of a "reorganization," according to Gerald Hartzel, also a member of the group. Ben Newcomer has been added to take Schaffner's place as second tenor.

Career Conference For Sub-Frosh Begins Today

The first in a series of six career conference weekends will be held here tomorrow and Sunday. Sub-freshmen interested in the fields of home economics or business administration will be guests of the College.

They will have an opportunity to visit classes and laboratories, live in the dormitories, tour the campus and attend the basketball game between Juniata and Franklin & Marshall Saturday night (see page 3).

Clubs Will Entertain

Activities will be scheduled by the Tycoon and Outing clubs for these business administration-minded. Lambda Gamma will entertain those interested in home economics.

For the second consecutive year, Kay Wright is student coordinator for these six career-weekends. She will work with the administration, the different clubs on campus which represent the various fields of major interest, and those sub-freshmen coming in for the weekends.

Club Assistance An Innovation

The fact that the different clubs are working as a group to guide those interested in a particular field is a new feature this year.

Conferences are scheduled as follows: March 3-4, education; March 10-11, the arts and literature; March 17-18, science; April 7-8, social studies; and May 12, May Day.

Although May Day weekend is not actually a career weekend, all sub-freshmen will be invited to return at that time as guests of the College.

60 % Of $1951 JWSF Goal Met

JWSF Springs From Student Aid Society

The predecessor to the present Juniata World Service Fund was the Aid Society, one of the first student organizations on campus.

Clothing to needy children in the vicinity of the College was supplied by the Aid Society through the cooperation of the student body.

Men went from house to house measuring the children. Then coats made the garments from old clothing.

This work led to the establishment of a "Home for Orphan and Friendless Children," supported by both College students and townspeople.

Although the home is no longer in existence, the same spirit is carried on by JWSF.

Home Ec Day Set For Tuesday

Home Ec Day will be observed on campus Tuesday for the second consecutive year.

According to Jo Ann Barksdale, general chairman, projects made by home economics students will be displayed that day in the clothing and food labs and will be open to students' inspection. Jane Abel, Mary Lou McKee and Anna Mae Zimmerman are in charge of these displays.

Tea Set For 3:30 P. M.

A tea will be held from 3:30 to 5 p. m. in the Home Management House for all home economics students.

That evening the girls will sit together in the Dining Hall with several guests. Helen Maust is making arrangements for the dinner.

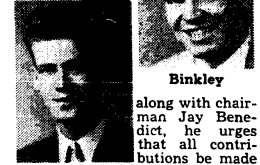

Dr. Hatcher To Speak

At 7:15 p. m. there will be a Lambda Gamma meeting in the clothing lab. Dr. Hazel Hatcher, professor of home economics education at Penn State, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Hatcher has recently returned from a trip to Germany and is expected to tell about some of her experiences abroad.

"The purpose of Home Ec Day," says Miss Barksdale, "is to bring the home economics students on campus closer together and to show the other students what we have accomplished during the year."

Better than 60% of the 1951 Juniata World Service Drive goal of $1951 has been met in cash and pledges as the first week of the drive closes, figures released at Chapel today show.

Keith Binkley, treasurer for the drive, says that $1212.90 has been raised to date. He points out that the books will be officially closed Thursday and along with chairman Jay Benedict, he urges that all contributions be made by that date.

A breakdown of the figures to date shows that the campus clubs and organizations stand high on the list, statistically, chiefly because of the $200 contribution of the Juniata Christian Association. Two other clubs have made gifts, to bring the total to $245.

Friends of the College have met 65% of their goal of $200, while faculty and administration have contributed 51% or $172 in cash and pledges.

Wm. White Receives Scholarship From Elks For Scientific Ability

William White, a freshman d.y student from R D 1, Huntingdon, has received a scholarship from the Elks. A check for $300 was presented to him by Eugene R. Haag, representing the North Central District Student Aid Committee of the Elks.

The gift is to be applied to his education, and was awarded him on the basis of his scientific aptitude. The Huntingdon Lodge of the Elks had recommended to the district committee that White receive one of the six awards which are annually made in the district comprising 17 lodges in north, central Pennsylvania.

He is also the holder of the four-year state scholarship for 1950 in Huntingdon County.

Also present from Juniata when the award was made were Dean Melvin Rhodes and Morley Mays, Dr. Donald Rockwell and Dr. Raymond Davis, Jr.

What's With These Elections?

"Who's gonna win the Senate elections?"

A good question. Here's a better one: "What will they do after they're elected?"

We can't answer either of those questions, so we asked another question of the people elected last year to the four top Senate posts: "What sort of job next year?"

The President

Answered Pres. Vern Showalter, "The main job of the Senate president is coordination. He must recognize the interests of the students, the administration and the faculty, and promote the best possible relationship between them all. You want someone with tact and organizational ability to handle this job."

What else does the president do? "... Conduct meetings, translate student opinion to the Senate and the administration, and sound out student opinion," Vernon says. He adds, "The president must guide meetings so that both sides can express themselves."

"He must know and enforce parliamentary rules (Roberts Rules of Order). Under these regulations, a president doesn't vote except to break a tie. And he tries not to express his personal opinion but rather he strives to get other Senators to state theirs."

The position of Senate president, then, should call forth the highest administrative and diplomatic talent in the class of 1952. It's the highest office on campus.

The Vice-President

Vice-president "Skip" Hines says of his office, "You want a good organizer." The Senate vice must organize all student elections (including the one coming up Tuesday a week), plan leadership conference, keep tab of all club organizations, coordinate class activities and do numerous other organizing jobs.

Under his care comes the foreign students aid fund.

manships go to him (not to the president).

He takes over meetings in the absence of the president. So you see, we want a man who enjoys detail. He'll have a lot of it to handle.

The Secretary

"A day student as a Senate member is at a disadvantage," warns Senate secretary Dottie Ann Humphries, a day student herself. "He has trouble keeping up with campus issues."

She also feels that shorthand is needed by the Senate secretary if that officer is to be successful. "If the notes for the minutes are written in longhand, the entire meeting is delayed," Dottie Ann says.

The secretary must write and type letters, send out Senate agendas before each meeting, and write Leadership Conference resolutions in their final form (with the help of a committee).

In addition to all this, the secretary is a Senator, and as such must represent your views. There's a job ahead of you, voters, in filling that post.

The Treasurer

"The Senate treasurer is not just the man who handles funds for the Senate," treasurer Don

Howe

Howe points out. He is also central treasurer for all clubs and organizations on campus, from "Firefly" on down.

For these duties an "understanding of debating and crediting are required, and the guy who wants the job must necessarily have an interest in accounting," the treasurer says.

It is the only paying job on the Senate and the treasurer is the only man who is bonded.

"The Senate treasurer must be a business major," Don says, "for he has to be approved by the faculty economics department and Pres. Ellis before he may take office."

And so you have it. Now get out there and vote MY WAY, the only right way.

I vote as I see fit.

Cheaper Transcripts Tommy Is No More

It has been suggested that the charge of $1 for each transcript after the first might be a little high, especially since the cheaper duplicating method of making them is now being used.

We asked registrar Bill Engel. He told us:

● The average request is for only one or two transcripts, and most students never ask for any.

● If the charge were reduced, transcripts would be easier to obtain and would lose prestige.

● Most schools maintain this rate.

TREEPEE TOPICS

by Joyce Bernard

What About The Tree?

Art Shriver, determined to show his ability as an equestrian, has found a job training horses. During one of their afternoon rides Art and the horse faced a problem—a tree. The horse went to the right, Art went to the left. Each took separate paths to the stable.

Try Lifebouy

There has been a very odd aroma emerging from the Lodge recently. It seems one of the up and coming young chemists experimented with butyric acid by putting it under Howard Van Slicen's bed. To return the compliment Howard sprayed the hall with the chemical.

It Says Here

It has been proved again that the students at Juniata are of a very brilliant calibre. Professor Nye asked his political science class, "What factors favor polygamy?" Some unknown, but intelligent voice from the back of the room promptly answered "Women."

What's The Score?

The Lodge was not the only place with an odd aroma. Joan Lenhardt and Joyce Butts created the same effect on third Brumbaugh when they satisfied their hunger for oysters by buying some.

How Romantic

The story has been told many times that when a boy and girl are miles from town the car either runs out of gas or has battery trouble. Last Friday night about 2 a. m. a car was traveling near Warrior's Ridge when suddenly the motor stalled and the lights went out. A very romantic setting, but the car's occupants—Cal Glazier, Bob Brumbaugh, Coy Hicks and Nick Bruno—saw no romance in the situation. After trying in vain to persuade Ted Colross to come after them, the stranded boys were finally rescued by Bud Kreider.

These Modern Gadgets

Dr. Crosby's American economic development class was very intent upon his lecture the other day when a sudden commotion occurred. All sorts of metal objects flew through the air and from the front of the room Chris Kaltenborn meekly exclaimed, "Excuse me, my pencil exploded!" He had one of those "new fangled" mechanical pencils and the spring that held it together gave way.

Movies Give Horses, Laughs

By FRANK HARLACHER

DALLAS—Westerns come and westerns go. The story remains constant, but the moviegoer should be able to sort the good from the bad and act accordingly.

Just a few hints. If the picture is in Technicolor and was made on one of the major Hollywood lots it can be classified in the "Top Budget" class. This type of western will make up for its never-changing plot with superb acting, realistic action and beautiful photography.

Cooper Back in Saddle

Such a movie is Warner Brothers' "Dallas," starring that veteran gun-slinger, Gary Cooper. His lanky, easy-going style gives the film a humorous touch.

The plot follows conventional style and has Cooper as an ex-Confederate Colonel on the trail of three bad men. His actions are unauthorized and Government-man Leif Erickson is chasing him. Gary takes over the role of marshal, rescues a ranch from villain Raymond Massey's clutches and wins a pardon together with Erickson's girl (Ruth Roman).

This technicolor motion picture was reviewed Good at New York. It runs 94 minutes and will play at the Harris Clifton Theatre next week.

BORN YESTERDAY—Columbia's screen adaptation of Garson Kanin's successful stage play seems to have met with equal success. All the reports on this comedy are good—the rest is up to you.

The motion picture features Judy Holliday (stage actress) and Broderick Crawford (last year's Oscar winner).

Crawford is a millionaire junkman who comes to Washington to pull a couple of shady deals by means of government bribing. Miss Holliday, his fiancée, embarrasses him with her awkward manners, so an honest reporter (William Holden) is employed to educate her.

Judy Turns Tables

This is a bad move for Crawford because Judy's education teaches her what a crook he is. She gains control of his fortune, marries Holden, and Broderick does not live happily ever after.

The comedy plot is tucked in all through the plot and cannot be described in print. "Born Yesterday" was previewed at the Pantages Theatre in Hollywood where it was relished by press and public alike. The Hollywood reviewer rated the 104 minute feature Excellent. It will play next week at the Grand Theatre.

Jays Win 57-47; Park Scores 20

The JC Indians dropped their sixth straight game and their eleventh in 13 starts last Saturday night. Elizabethtown beat them 57-47.

A disastrous third period spelled the downfall for the Tribe. Ahead at the half-way mark by a 32-30 edge, the Indians could only hoop three foul shots in the third quarter. In this same period the E-town quintet scored 13. The E-town quintet also took the final period by a 14-12 count.

Park Held Down

Instrumental in the E-town rally in the second half was the close guarding of the high-scoring Indian, Karl Park. Park scored a big 16 points in the first half, 11 of which came in the first period. In the second half he was held to a slim four points.

Even so, Park shared scoring honors for the evening with E-town's Bill Foster. Both men had 20 points. Tommy Green and big Ed Brunner copped runner-up honors with 12 points.

Korody Plays Again

The Tribe again had the services of captain Ray Korody, who sat out the St. Francis game with an injured ankle.

Juniata had beaten the Blue Jays last December by a close 41-39 count, but E-town avenged this setback to record its thirteenth victory in 21 games.

Tribe Outlasts Dutchmen, 74-72

by Jim Giordano

In what was unquestionably the season's most exciting game, Juniata's fighting Indians scored a stunning 74-72 upset triumph over Lebanon Valley here on Wednesday night.

Richman Sets Pace In IM Scoring Race

Playing without the services of air force-bound Ray Testi, the Trojans increased their lead over the second place BTO's to 1½ games Monday through a 56-18 victory over the BeBoppers's.

In the only other game played in the intramural basketball league this week, the Sneaks climbed into fourth place by beating Beta 32-26 on the strength of a first half spurge.

"THE MUDLARK"

with Irene Dunne

It was the third victory of the year for Coach Greene's proteges and sweet revenge for an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of the Dutchmen.

31 Point Second Period

Playing inspired ball, the Warriors ran wild in the second period to amass a total of 31 points and wipe out an earlier nine point deficit. Lebanon Valley, fighting desperately, held a commanding 23-14 lead. Then the Tribe caught hold on to emerge with their two point victory.

Juniata's shooting was tremendous as they hit with 53.7% of their shots, making 32 out of 63. Karl Park led the way with 23 points, while Leo Kuhn, Tommy Green and Ray Korody chipped in with 14, 13 and 12 points respectively.

Al Murawski, however, was the high scorer for the evening as he tallied 27 for the visitors.

Another Defeat

With the close of the first quarter it looked like just another Juniata defeat, as the Flying Dutchmen held a commanding 23-14 lead. Then the Tribe caught fire and were unstoppable, as they battled to a 45-36 half-time advantage.

The third period saw the Warriors hike their lead to 58-47. In the final quarter three of Juniata's starting five fouled out and the Dutchmen began to whittle the Indian lead.

The game ended in a frenzy with Juniata freezing the ball and the upset was complete.

Park Nears Record

As a result of Wednesday night's efforts, Karl Park is within range of Juniata's all-time scoring record. Park has 250 points and needs 48 more to tie the record set by Holmes Ush. Park's present average is 17.9 points per game, but he has sunk 43 points in the last two games against E-town and Lebanon Valley.

Motley Crew Top Girls Team

The Motley Crew, undefeated in four years, beat the Oneida Hotshots in a battle for first place in the girls' basketball league. The score was 28-23 and the defeat pushed the Hotshots into second place.

Janet Cline is leading the scorers with 95 points, while Dolly Shaffer is second with 88.

Scientists' Pay Averages Less In Education

Salary levels of the nation's top scientists are considerably lower in college and universities than in either government or private industry. Earnings are generally higher in private industry.

These facts appear in a recent study made by the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Mostly Research Workers

The scientists studied were mostly research workers; next came teachers. Chemists were by far the largest group, with biologists and engineers following in that order.

Educational institutions were the principal field of employment for leading scientists with private industry second and government third.

For Ph D's—$7,000

For Ph D's the median salary in industry was $7,000 a year, in government $6,280, and in education $4,860. The engineers had the highest median salary and the biologists the lowest.

Generally, the older men received higher salaries than their younger colleagues.

51% Of Student Goal Met

Of the student goal of $1550 ($2 average per person), only $669.90 or 51% has been collected.

The girl's dorm has raised a total of $217.70. Brumbaugh and Oneida Halls have the highest percentages, with 99.8% and 98.9% respectively. Geiger House has raised 83% of their goal.

$102 From Lodge

In the Lodge, $102 out of an expected $128 has been solicited. The arch of the Cloister has contributed 76% or $46, and the wing 79.9% or $131.10.

Of the total amount received, $996.30 has been in cash, and $215.60 in pledges.

Cordier, '50, Wins New Scholarship

Sherwood Cordier, '50, has been awarded an international scholarship by the Rotary Foundation. His choice of European graduate school is the Institute of International Studies of Geneva, Switzerland, where he will study next year.

At present, he is doing graduate work at Yale University.

Cordier majored in history at Juniata. He was considered "an outstanding student" according to the College office and also passed his comprehensive examination "with distinction."

While at Juniata, he took an active part in the IRC. His interest in this was in keeping with a family tradition, as his uncle is an administrative assistant to Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations.

From the MacPherson College "Spectator" comes this little gem of wisdom. It seems that upon being asked by a history professor "What motive do you think John Wilkes Booth had for shooting President Lincoln?" some blooming young history student replied, "Well, I guess he didn't like him very much!"

From Bradley out in Peoria, Ill., we hear a most remarkable bit of news. In this day of "baseball attendance" there still seems to be a spark of the true rooter. The fans of Bradley have taken to buying their tickets for games five years in advance and usually rush home from each game to their radios where they hear a re-broadcast of the game for points they may have missed. The next morning the Bradley fans eagerly search through the morning papers for additional details.

And then we have Juniata.

Davidson College in North Carolina has started a relatively new angle in this business of College Stores. They have opened on campus a self-service store. The prices of all the store's merchandise are plainly marked and the cash drawer is left open. The students add up their own bills and drop the money in the cash drawer as they leave. This plan seems to have worked quite successfully at Washington & Lee in Virginia too.

Friml Writes First Operetta In Emergency

The composer of the music for "Firefly," the forthcoming student musical here, began writing popular music because no one else could be found to do the job.

Rudolf Friml had, by 1912, become relatively well-known as a concert pianist and the composer of some serious music—a Piano Concerto, a Ballet Suite and the like.

Then an emergency substitute was needed for Victor Herbert to create a vehicle for Emma Trentini, one of the top sopranos of the day. The historic result was Friml's first musical comedy, the first of a series of successes, "The Firefly."

Today the composer lives in comfortable retirement in Hollywood where he has cooperated in the filming of some of his most popular works, including "Firefly." Not long ago he contributed an entirely new score to the motion picture "Northwest Passage," starring Nelson Eddy.

America became Friml's permanent home, but neither he nor his music ever became particularly Americanized. He writes in the Viennese style of a Strauss or a Lehar.

Oller Hall Organ Still Not Working

"About 1/5 or 1/6 of the Oller Hall organ is still out of commission," Prof. Donald Johnson reports.

Rain damage forced the College to send the reed pipes to Hagerstown, Md. for repairs. These will be completed "by late March or April."

Lambda Gamma Offices Filled

Our conscientious campus clubs are once more doing their duty by generously contributing to the Juniata World Service Fund Drive (see story, page 1). To date the clubs as a group have almost reached their allotted goal.

The Debate Club has announced that they will meet Muhlenberg College here next Friday afternoon to discuss the question "Resolved that a new International Non-Communist Organization be established." The group will also make a trip to the eastern section of Pa. Tuesday.

During a recent debate on the same issue with Elizabethtown College, the negative team won, thus giving the Juniata team a rating of one win, one lost and one tie.

Officers for the new year will be elected at the Outing Club meeting next Friday evening. The group is making tentative plans for a swimming and skating party, which will probably be held sometime in the near future.

The Lambda Gamma will hold their regular meeting Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. in the Home Ec Lab. As this is Home Ec Day, a special program is being planned (see story on page 1). During a recent business meeting Helen Maust was chosen to preside as the new president; while Janet Carper will be vice-president; Martha Petre, secretary; and Dorcas Mertz, treasurer.

An outline of II Timothy, Chapter 3 will be reviewed by Carl Rutherford at the IVCF meeting Thursday evening. The group will meet in the Women's Day Student Room at 7 p. m.

A discussion of script-in-hand plays and a review of the constitution are on the agenda for the Mesure meeting to be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Old Chapel. The movie "The Makings of a Shooter" was shown at the Sportsman Club meeting Thursday evening. The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments.

JCA will present a movie entitled "The African Prince" at its next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday at 7. Announcement will be made later concerning the place the meeting is to be held.

'South Pacific' Influenced By 'Firefly' Author

by Jim Streiner

Otto Harbach is partly responsible for "South Pacific."

The author of the book and lyrics of "The Firefly" is the fellow who first took "South Pacific" author Oscar Hammerstein in hand and taught him the tricks of the trade.

Says Hammerstein, "Harbach believes that a musical play should not be just a collection of jokes, pretty girls and danceable tunes. He was the one who taught me that the music, the songs in particular, should form an integral part of a logical plot with human interest."

"The Firefly" is one of Harbach's earliest attempts in this direction. Since then he has written such integrated hits as "Rose Marie," "The Desert Song" and "No, No, Nanette." From "Roberta" came one of his biggest individual song hits, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes."

Before becoming a lyricist, Harbach was a professor of English, and later, a newspaper and advertising man.

Along with Victor Herbert, Harbach helped found the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers.

ASCAP, of which he is now president, is an organization to protect the copyrights of members.

IRC To Hear Friends Worker

Ray Hartsough, College Secretary for the American Friends Service Committee in the Middle Atlantic Region, will be on campus Thursday as guest of the IRC. That evening at 7 p. m. he will speak to the group on the topic "The Voice of America and the Race Problem."

Has Served As Pastor

Mr. Hartsough is a graduate of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio and the Hartford Theological Seminary. Serving as pastor for many years, his special concern was for the welfare of small communities.

In 1949, he accepted an invitation from the American Friends Service Committee to go to Palestine. During that time he was a Quaker Representative, working with thirteen thousand Arab refugees. He also visited Quaker work in Switzerland, Germany and France.

Directed Boys Farm

During the Summer of 1950, Mr. Hartsough was Director of the American Friends Service Committee Work Camp in West Virginia at Boys Farm, a home for underprivileged boys. Within a few months, the Work Campers had completed many valuable work projects, beside providing wholesome thoughts and activities for the boys and the farm.

● A majority (51%) of the organization must be present for the nomination to be valid.

● Nominations for office should be in the order as follows: President, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

● There should be at least three nominees for each office.

● Nominations of officers should take place at a meeting of the club preceding the meeting for the election of officers.

Also, all elections should be completed by March 16 and the results reported to Hines immediately.

'Firefly' Is Progressing Directors List Their Individual Problems

by Margie Alleman

"It takes time, patience and imagination," say Prof. Donald Johnson, Prof. Jack Brammer and Miss Lois Esaley, directors of the All-College musical, "The Firefly," which will be presented in Oller Hall Mar. 9 and 10 at 8:15 p. m.

Another difficulty, not found in musical productions of the two previous years, is the fact that the show is in modern dress. Says Prof. Johnson, chorus director, "It takes twice as much acting on the students' parts to make the audience feel that they are someone else."

The title "Firefly," continued Prof. Johnson, is given to the show because the plot centers around a case of mistaken identity. "But of course," he adds, "everything turns out all right in the end, producing a happy, light opera."

Conductor Prof. Brammer stated that the 18 members of the orchestra have a difficult time reading the manuscripts that the music is written on. "For an opera such as this," he explained, "the music for the orchestra is all written out by hand and appears to the unexperienced person as a sort of musical hieroglyphic. But after it's all figured out," he says, "it comes up to a very melodious tuneful work."

Getting the whole thing to run smoothly is one of the chief worries of Miss Esaley, who is directing the dramatic end of the show. Transitions must be worked. (See "Firefly"—Page 4)

Honor Students Inducted Mon.

Seven juniors were inducted into the Junia Honor Society in Chapel Monday. They are Margie Alleman, Tom Gates, Doug Martin, Lois Miller, Joan Sharp, Ray Siren and Don Treese.

Members are chosen by a committee composed of Pres. Calvert Ellis, two faculty members and the president and secretary-treasurer of the society. This committee considers as qualifications for membership scholarly achievements, moral integrity and broad cultural interests.

As stated in the constitution, the purpose of this organization is "to elevate the general scholastic standing of Junia College and to honor those who attain outstanding scholarship."

JWSF Still $190.10 Short Of Goal

The Junia World Service Fund Drive is $190.10 short of its $1951 goal. As of last night $1760.90 had been given in cash and pledges.

Clubs and organizations were the outstanding contributors, giving 22% of their goal of $250, or $454. Newest contributors other than those reported in last week's Junia are the A Cappella Choir, IRC, Intersvarsity Christian Fellowship, Lambda Gamma, Sigma Gamma and the newly-formed Sportsmen Club. Each of the classes has given except the Freshman class which however, has pledged.

Only 67% From Students

Student participation has only reached 67% of its goal of $1150. When the student goal was set, $2 was suggested as the minimum for each contribution. But the Junia student body has given only a little over $1 per student.

Firefly To Be Given On JC's Radio Show

Want a preview of "The Firefly," the opera to be staged March 9 and 10 in Oller Hall?

Dial WHUN 8:30 p. m. Wednesday to hear "Junia on the Air" present musical excerpts and a review of the cast. The program will be under the direction of the radio committee and the advertising committee of the opera.

Dick Akers will spin the records on "Turntable Terrace" Tuesday, while disc-jockeys Betty Longwell and Bob Champion will be in charge Thursday.

Dean To Be Frosh Speaker

Dean Spencer will be speaker at freshman orientation assembly at 2:45 p. m. this afternoon.

JC To Be Evaluated Committee To Study Program Next Week

An evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will visit Junia Tuesday through Thursday, according to President Calvert Ellis.

Five phases of the College program will be reviewed: objectives, program organization, facilities and outcomes.

From these on the spot findings and the answers to a questionnaire, the committee will prepare a report to the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the Association.

Junia was first accredited by the Middle States Association in 1922. According to the minutes of the Association, each institution shall be evaluated every ten years.

Members of the evaluation committee are Miss Margaret T. Corwin, dean of New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J.; chairman of the committee: Dr. Francis R. B. Godolphin, dean of the college, Princeton, N. J.; Dr. M. Ellis Drake, president of Alfred College, Alfred, N. Y.; Dr. L. W. Herron, dean of the faculty, Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, N. Y.; Joseph H. Brewer, associat librarian, Queens College, Flushing, N. Y.

Alumnus, 1928 Will Speak Fri.

The Rev. George Detwiler, alumnus representative on the College Board of Trustees and a former pastor of the Stone Church, will be the Chapel speaker next Friday.

A Junia graduate, he received his bachelor of music degree in 1928. He has just been presented with an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa. Recently he and his wife returned from a trip to Europe.

Chapel speaker Monday will be Prof. Paul Yoder. Wednesday, Prof. G. Wayne Glick plans a worship service.

Dues Day Set For Monday

Monday is Class Dues Day. Dues will be collected by representatives from the four classes from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. in front of Students Hall.

4 Top Senators Will Be Elected At Polls Tuesday

The four top posts of the 1951-52 Senate will be filled Tuesday from a list of ten candidates.

Running for these positions are the following juniors: president, Art Allen and Don Treese; vice-president, Betty Longwell, Jack Malenke, Ray Siren and Joe Thomasberger; secretary, Dottie Hummer and Lois Miller; and treasurer, George Cruser and Tommy Green.

President

Allen, a business major from Greensburg, Pa., visualizes a Senate which "presents the opinions of the students as a whole, presents both sides of questions and coordinates student activities with the faculty." If elected president of the Senate, Allen hopes to help "students take more interest in the Senate by providing for more open meetings."

His experience along the executive line has been received as J Club and junior class presidents. Allen also served as class treasurer for two years and participated in the Tycoon Club, Indian and Scout staffs, golf team and intramurals.

"If elected, I plan to continue the same program adopted by this year's Senate," says Treese, a pre-ministerial student from Williamsburg, Pa. He also would attempt to "cultivate greater interest in the Senate."

Treese served on the Senate this year as chairman of religious activities and is president of the JCA. He was recently named to the Dean's List for the fifth consecutive semester and is also a member of the Honor Society.

Vice-President

An elementary education major from Tyrone, Pa., Betty Longwell has served as Radio Committee Chairman for the past year. At present she is co-chairman for both the Junior Reception and the "Firefly" ticket com-

Miss Longwell's committee. She also attended Leadership conference and is an FTA member.

As vice-president, Miss Longwell would like to see "more co-operation between students, faculty, administration and Senate."

Another elementary education major, Jack Malenke hails from Parkersburg, Pa.

"As a Senate officer," he says, "I would uphold the usual traditions of the College and perform my duty to the best of my ability."

Participating in such organizations as FTA, Alpha Beta Gamma, Outing Club, JCA and Sportsman's Club, Malenke also took part in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

As vice-president I would do my best to get the clubs which (See Senators—Page 4)

Dining Hall Is Improved

Equipment Ordered, Thanks To Senate

The administration has agreed to purchase two new pieces of dining hall equipment as the result of Senate investigation and report, according to Senate president Vernon Showalter. This was revealed at the regular Senate meeting Monday.

Also at this meeting the question of a more "impressive and active" Move-Up Day was discussed, the dance band was ordered paid and an offer to help "in any way possible when the evaluation committee comes" (see story elsewhere on this page) was passed and sent to the administration.

A Coat Rack And Loudspeaker

Dining hall equipment to be purchased following the Senate suggestions will be an additional coat rack for the new dining hall entrance and a loudspeaker to be installed in the serving room. This will be connected with the dining hall public address system.

According to Showalter, the coat rack is to be of the same metal design as that already in use along one wall of the entrance. It will replace the wooden rack now running through the center of the entranceway.

No Neglect Of Duties

The new loudspeaker will enable the waitresses to keep up with all announcements without neglecting their serving room duties.

To complete the Move-Up Day ceremonies Mar. 21, the Senate voted to have the newly-installed Senators join them in the evening meal.

Career Conferences Will Begin Saturday

Sub-freshmen interested in both elementary and secondary education will invade the campus tomorrow for the second career conference weekend.

Plans for the conference have been made by the FTA. According to Kay Wright, student co-ordinator for these career weekends, the program will include class visits, campus tour, conferences with members of the Education Dept. and the Talent Show in the evening.

Professor Johnson Makes Additions To 'Firefly' Chorus

A number of additions to the chorus for "Firefly" have been announced by director Donald Johnson.

Harris's 'Thing' On Talent Show

Phil Harris's "Thing" will hold the spotlight tomorrow at the social committee sponsored Talent Night which will begin at 8:30 in the gym.

"We are momentarily expecting a package containing the subject of the band orchestra leader's much-touted hit song about a mystery object," gleefully reports social chairman Bob Elder. "We asked for it on a dare; now we hope we can handle it."

Masters of ceremony Walt Bandurak and Fred Shamlan also list a number of additional faculty and student dancing, singing and novelty acts on the evening's entertainment schedule. Among others, "Bev Chamberlain will dance, Joy Truxal is to sing and Spanish dances will be offered by the Carfora twins."

Following the show, refreshments will be served in the gym, under the direction of Beanie Roberts. There will also be informal dancing.

'....more control of your life than....'

(This is the second in a series of editorials devoted to the Student Senate and the people who make it go. Last week we discussed the duties of the four top officers for whom you will ballot Tuesday—see story on page 1. This week we investigate the constitutional duties of the Senate chairman for election Mar. 15. Next week—statements from the retiring and succeeding presidents.)

You are about to elect eight new Senate chairmen. Along with their four big brothers—president, vice president, secretary and treasurer—they will have more control of your life in the next year than perhaps you care to believe. Let's look at the requirements.

Athletics

The entire program of intramural sports is in the hands of the chairman of athletics. The Senate constitution says he must "formulate and carry out a comprehensive program of student sports activities."

Each chairman has a group of assistants or associates which he appoints with the approval of the rest of the Senate. The chairman of athletics may appoint a five man committee as his aides.

Automatically, this chairman is the student representative on the Faculty Athletic Council, the only Senator to be so connected with a faculty committee in his field.

Underclassmen

Along with his two committees—one for each sex—the chairman of underclassmen is constitutionally responsible for the supervision of a "program of orientation for all new students." There are four seniors and three juniors on each of these committees.

If initiation programs are practiced, they are under the supervision of the underclass chairman. He is in charge of the student counseling program (big brother, big-sister plan), with the advice of the deans of students and the underclassmen faculty advisor. In addition, he is "to aid in advising the freshmen in organizing their classes and class activities."

Men's House

"It shall be the duty of the chairman of men's house, through his committee, to see that proper order and quiet is maintained in the dorms during study hours and to promote the maximum amount of cooperation in dormitory life," the Senate constitution says.

This chairman is associated with the men's house committee, which is made up of representatives of each of the men's dorms, appointed by the chairman, subject to Senate approval. The dean of students is also a member of this committee. Only the men students vote for this chairman.

Women's House

Constitutionally, the chairman of women's house has duties similar to the chairman of men's house. She is elected by the women students only.

General Activities

Presidents of all the authorized campus clubs form the committee on clubs with which the Senate chairman of general activities associates. It is the duty of this chairman and his committee to supervise All Class Night, May Day, the Christmas activities and Move-Up Day.

He assists faculty and administration committees in planning for Mountain Day, Homecoming Day and Parent's Day. General club activities also are under his care. The chairman of the student life calendar and he are co-chairmen of the calendar committee.

Publications

Says the Senate constitution, "It shall be the duty of the chairman of publications to maintain high standards in student publications and to publicize the activities of the Senate." This is done through close association with radio committee chairman and editors of the Junatian, Alfarata and Scout.

His only active connection with any of these publications, however, is the constitutional requirement, is the constitutional requirement for appointment the editor, business manager and advertising manager of the Scout to the faculty publications committee by the beginning of the Spring term." These appointments are subject to Senate approval.

Religious Activities

Spiritual Emphasis Week is the biggest annual responsibility of the Senate chairman of religious activities. He plans and executes this in cooperation with the faculty chairman of religious activities.

In addition, this Senate chairman is required to "supervise all student religious activities on campus and to stimulate the spiritual life of the students." He is assisted by a committee of five students he appoints, subject to Senate approval.

Social Activities

Providing "a varied and adequate program of social activities for the student body" is the constitutional duty of the Senate chairman of social activities. Aiding him in this job is a committee composed of "not less than seven students, appointed by the chairman subject to Senate approval." He also serves on the calendar committee.

Add 'em all up. And then remember this: they're twice as much as that, for they are Senators too. They don't just plan May Day or name the Scout editor; they legislate too—on matters that concern you, and you, and YOU.

TREEPEE TOPICS

by Joyce Bernard

RAVING BEAUTIES—Last Thursday night at midnight the witches were out in full force. Amid loud noises from the fire alarm bell the girls paraded into the gym. The purpose of initiation was to make the girls look funny, but the fire drill did a better job.

GESUNDHEIT!—The serene silence of Mr. Bartha's biological science class this week was broken by a loud sneeze from Nancy McCahan which discomfited her silver belt. With every one of Mr. Bartha's words a piece of silver fell to the floor. People have been heard of busting their buttons from pride, but bursting a belt from a sneeze is a new twist.

TEAM WORK—Since the beginning of girls' intramural basketball, the Oneida Hotshots have had as their mascot a large yellow dog named "George." As the result of a recent blessed event "George's" offspring, "Georgiana," made her appearance at the last game. It's a good thing "George" isn't a rabbit!

"PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE"—Mil Taylor, impatiently waiting for the butter at dinner the other day, wanted it to be circumscribed and passed around. In making his wish known his tongue slipped and he said, "Will somebody please circumscribe the butter and pass it?"

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—Waitress Wilda Widdowson is the latest innovator of the odd and varied species of deserts that have been coming from the kitchen. George Kensinger's ice cream was mixed with salt and Ron Calper had mayonnaise substituted for vanilla pudding topped with strawberries. The way to a man's heart is through his stomach, but...

SPOILS SYSTEM?—Some prospective candidates offer buttons or cigars during their political campaigns. According to rumors one of our campus candidates has a new idea. A few nights ago toasted cheese sandwiches were served in the Lodge at midnight by Charles Knox and Bill Blackley as part of a hopeful senator's campaign.

Scrappings From The Hell Box

• The Hell Box, in printer's lingo, is the scrap box where metal odds and ends are thrown for processing. For our purposes, it covers all the bits and pieces of ideas that constantly cross an editor's desk, or more rarely, his mind.

• "Skin" Hines, boss man of the Senate election committee, told us the other day that at least two candidates for each office must appear on the ballots. When only one person has petitioned, the Senate names another. Even at that though, two candidates against each other is hardly a fair race. Moral of the story: nominate somebody for an office; it's more fun, and certainly more democratic, if you do your own thinking than if you wait for the Senate to do it for you.

• The boys in the Lodge asked us to pass on their thanks to whoever was responsible for the new booth which has been built around their telephone. Paul

Spectator: HMMMMM....

by Ray Siren

This first edition of "The Spectator" is designed to bring to the general student body a consensus of the dormitory bull-session, the discussions over a cup of coffee at Skip's, and the usual conversation among average Juniata College students.

The sex of this columnist limits the dormitory research to that most hallowed of halls, the Cloisters, but I'm sure discussions of a similar nature are heard in the other place. At any rate, I've found that one point of interest stands head, shoulders and one might say, body above the others.

By now you may have guessed this topic, unless you're dull, ignorant or otherwise normal. Yes indeed, this problem began when co-education became the vogue and has never been more publicized than it is now. We exhibit it in the halls and doorways, we inquire after one's success at it, and perhaps too frequently, we find ourselves yearning of new and better approaches.

After listening carefully to what seems to be the consensus of opinion and noting how many different techniques are presented (although all with the same end in view), I am glad to report to you that frustration is fast becoming conquered. Even the person whom you least suspect in making headway at it.

In short, this topic is one which no-one, no matter how backward, can deny importance. Oh yes, the topic is "How to make points with, and influence professors."

Friend's reply when we told him: "All they had to do was ask." According to him, people gripe about things like that, but never think to pass on the gripe to someone in a position of power.

• Elsewhere on this page is a new column, "The Spectator." We gave Ray Siren free rein, telling him to write weekly on anything he chooses. If you like it, or don't, holler, and we'll make changes in policy accordingly.

• We forgot to mention this last week, but these pages are open to anyone wishing to publish a letter boasting a candidate for election, or in any other subject. Keep 'em short, though.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

Supports Treese For Pres.

After working with Don Treese on the JCA cabinet this past year, I am convinced that he is an outstanding leader, well-qualified to serve the student body as president of the Senate. Much of the success of the JCA in its initial year can be attributed to Don's ability to coordinate its activities.

We, as students, expect a Senate president to be sincere in purpose, capable in leadership and alert to the interests of students and faculty. Don has proved that he has these qualities by his past achievements. With previous experience as an organization president, and having shown his academic ability (Dean's List—5 consecutive semesters), Don Treese shows excellent potentialities of being a capable, successful Senate president.

Mary Lou McKee

Endorses Hummer For Sec.

Experience is an important quality to look for in selecting an officer of any organization. That is why I consider Dottie Hummer well qualified to represent the student body as secretary of the Senate.

Dottie attended Lancaster Business College for two years before coming here. There she learned typing and shorthand, which the present Senate secretary, Dottie Ann Humphries, considers an important asset (according to last week's Junatian). She has done secretarial work for the past four summers. In addition, Dottie has been junior class secretary and secretary of the Alpha Beta Gamma.

Added to this extensive secretarial experience is her leadership ability, friendliness and willingness to express the desires of the student body.

All of these facts add up to one thing—Dottie Hummer for Senate secretary!

MUDLARK—When a major Hollywood studio such as 20th Century Fox thinks enough of a British-made film to release it in the U. S., we can conclude that it must have some outstanding qualities of entertainment. I say this because this particular major studio is not in the habit of releasing foreign made motion pictures as is the practice of such corporations as Eagle Lion and Universal International.

The story of the "Mudlark" is part of an English legend and refers to some of the history of that country. The action takes place during the reign of Queen Victoria and features Andrew Ray, a little orphan-scamp, who while roaming the banks of Thames in search of useable junk finds a medallion bearing the head of the queen.

Off To See The Queen

This incident plants in the mind of the "mudlark" a desire to see the queen. In satisfying this desire he creates chaos at Windsor Castle. This involves such things as starting rumors of attempts on the sovereign's life and being the instrument of an involved plot of the Prime Minister (Alec Guinness). The remainder of the movie is filled with the amusing adventures of the "mudlark" in the castle.

Irene Dunne plays Queen Victoria and indeed she looks like a queen. Whether she gets into the character she portrays remains to be judged by the observer.

The 99 minute screenplay is based on Theodore Bonnet's novel of the same name and will play next week at the Clifton. The comment of the New York reviewer is "a somewhat slow action picking up speed toward the conclusion." He rated it Good.

VENGEANCE VALLEY—A genuine portrayal of characters is a worthwhile accomplishment for any motion picture. When a top notch western has this attribute together with a slightly different plot structure we can say that it is definitely unusual.

Different is definitely the word because "Vengeance Valley" gives us the problem of an illegitimate child and tells of the efforts of no-account brothers to square things in an aggressive manner. Burt Lancaster as the loyal foster-son of an old rancher, plays the hero and furnishes us with realistic "ro-roaring" western action.

Walker Causes Trouble

Robert Walker as the younger blood-son is the cause of all Burt's trouble. He is untrue to his wife and has ulterior motives as to his share in the ranch. Lancaster covers for him, until a gun duel late in the movie decides the issue.

In presenting this new angle, I think that Metro Goldwyn Mayer has succeeded in presenting a "western what is a western" with all the usual elements: Love, Technicolor and Action.

So-o-o, if you like westerns, but are tired of the usual, try "Vengeance Valley" for size and let me know what you think. The running time—83 minutes, the New York reviewers rating—Very Good and the theatre—Grand, next week.

Indian Scalps Interim Sports ?

by Bob Asan

It seems that basketball on College Hill is a sport that is played between football and baseball. At least that is the opinion of some after the recognition the team didn't get after beating Lebanon Valley last week. That was the first time since the season of '28-'29 that the Indians beat the Dutchmen.

Surely someone on the faculty or administration knew of this. And, if they did, the team should have gotten some formal recognition of their feat.

The possibility is great that the situation was not known. If that is the case no oversight can be charged. However, this column would like to offer its congratulations to the team and hope that the rest of the folks on campus do the same.

Records and Crow

Further checking of records shows that Holmes Ulsh did not set the all-time scoring record for one season here at JC. The record was set in the season of 1944-'45 by Dick Wareham.

Dick netted 353 points in 20 games for an average of 17.7 per game. Dick also held the single game high with 42 points against Susquehanna.

Good Old Days

Juniata has not had a winning year in basketball since the season of '45-'46. That year they had a record of 13 and six. Among their victims were Carnegie Tech, Dickinson, E-town, Susquehanna and St. Francis. They beat all these teams twice that season and one of the St. Francis games went to the Indians by a score of 91-46.

Previous to that season the Indians didn't have a winning team since the '33-'34 campaign when they won seven out of 12.

On Your Marks

You track men had better start getting in shape 'cause the Gold Medal X-Country run is going to be held shortly, March 22 to be exact. Mike Sander, the sponsor of the race, is offering three prizes again this year. These prizes are tie-clasps with runners on them. A gold clasp will go to the first place runner.

Another pre-season track attraction is the Interclass Meet to be held April 4. Last year the sophomores won the meet.

Sluggo Par Excellence

Squeeze Long, third baseman on last year's baseball team, won the Bedford County League home run derby. Playing for Woodbury, Squeeze rapped out five four-masters last season.

Trojans, Richman Pace IM League; Bridgers Move Up

The second place BTO's took one game and the YHO's two to maintain their second and third place positions in the College Hill intramural basketball league. The Bridgers also took a pair to move from sixth to fourth place.

The undefeated Trojans continued to lead the league with ten wins even though their top scorer, Ray Tesi, has only 101 points as compared to John Richman of the YHO's who leads the league with 133 points.

JC 2nd At State; Play At Lycoming

Last Saturday afternoon Juniata's representatives finished in second place at the Penn State Play Day. Tomorrow they will travel to Williamsport to take part in Lycoming College's Play Day.

The girls won the basketball competition by beating Bucknell and Lycoming by convincing scores. They beat Bucknell 19-5 and Lycoming 18-8.

Carroll Borden led the swimming team to a second place finish. She finished first in the crawl and also took a second place.

Other sports that the girls took part in were bowling and badminton.

Hackett High Scorer

The Juniata College Jayvee outfit closed their 1950-51 campaign with a rousing 77-63 victory over the Susquehanna Jayvees. Juniata, paced by Dave Hackett, jumped off to a big 22-9 first quarter lead and were never headed. The half time tally was 38-28 and at the three quarter mark the locals led 58-43.

Five of the little Indians hit for double figures. Hackett led the scoring with 19 points to pull down Jayvee scoring laurels for the year.

John Gates rang up 16 big points, John Thomas 14, Dave LeFevre 11 and Chuck Knox ten. "Monk" Simon contributed a last second floor length field goal to bring down the house.

Tommy Green

Green Paces Team In Foul Shooting; Scored 167 Points

Teaming up with Karl Park at forward for the Indians this year is Tommy Green. Green, at 5-10, is small as present-day players go, but he has done all right for himself.

He was the second highest scorer on the team. In 16 games this year he sank 167 points for an average of 10.4 per game. His season high came at Albright when he netted 18 points.

Lead Team In Foul Shooting
Green paced the team in foul shooting with an average of .803. He converted 57 out of 66 and at one time had a string of ten straight. Another time he hit for 13 out of 14.

This is Green's seventh basketball campaign. And, if past honors mean anything he is quite a ball player. As evidence of this is the Most Valuable Player award he got in 1948. This came from the Burlington, N. J., County League.

Another honor in the form of the Naismith Memorial Trophy came his way in 1948.
Junior Class Member
A junior, Green is just in his first year here at JC. His first two collegiate years were spent at the College of South Jersey.

While he played for South Jersey the team finished second in the New Jersey Junior College Conference. His high school took a championship in 1948.

Would Like To Coach
Coaching holds an interest for Green and he would like to get into the field, especially coaching kids in the junior high school level.

Besides being a basketball player, Green also goes in for the diamond sport. He is a pitcher and expects to report to Coach Bill Smaltz as soon as basketball is finished.

Park Scores 23 In Indian Defeat

With 6-4 Walt Lenz leading the way, the Diplomats of Franklin & Marshall scored a 73-65 win over the Indians last Saturday night. The Diplomats posted a 22-14 point first period lead and then hung on for the rest of the game.

Lenz dunked 19 points, while Norm Plitt and Kenny Kratz sank 17 and 15 respectively. However, the leading scorer of the game was Karl Park with 23 points.

Kratz, in addition to his scoring punch, contributed much to the F & M offense by his smooth ball-handling and play making. It was he who made the plays work.

On defense the Indians relied on the zone until late in the third period. Then they switched to a pressing defense with Tommy Green leading the way. This defense was quite effective when it was used.

Three Lettermen Out For Baseball

Baseball has entered the Juniata sporting scene and practice sessions are being held daily for the 1951 diamond edition of the Indians.

Lettermen Jack Dickey, George Kensinger and Dave LeFevre have turned out to bolster a host of freshmen candidates and other players who say limited duty last year. LeFevre and Dickey are pitchers who won three and two games respectively.

In addition, LeFevre batted .313. Kensinger worked behind the plate, batted .224 and was second in the RBI column.

Other returnees are Dale Zimmerman, catcher; Mike Mervis, outfield; Harold Keener, pitcher and Fred Smith and Dave Hackett, infielders.

Freshmen pitchers Ed Gould, Ed Feldkircher, Don Miller and Sy Dubbel have also reported as have John Cook, first baseman and junior hurler Earl Detrick.

JC Quintet Wins Season's Final

by Jim Holsope

Juniata's Indians wound up the hoop season on a successful note last Wednesday night as they defeated Susquehanna by a 64-59 score.

The win enabled the Tribe to post a record of four victories in 16 games for the year. Earlier in the season they defeated the Crusaders by a 61-50 count.

296 For Park

In pacing the evening's scorers, Karl Park, Indian forward, sank 23 markers to bring his total for the campaign to 296 points, an 18.5 point per game average. This is a new record for Juniata players.

Susquehanna's Jim Alter and Indian Tommy Green were runners up with 19 and 12 points respectively.

The Crusaders jumped to an early 12-7 lead before Juniata's offense began to click. Midway through the first quarter charity tosses by John Cook and Park and a bucket by Ed Feldkircher paved the way for a two pointer by Leo Kuhn. This sent the Indians ahead 13-12 as the frame ended.

31-20 At The Halt

In the second period the Tribe netted nine straight points before the Staagmen were again able to score. Juniata held a commanding 31-20 lead at half time.

At the three quarter mark Susquehanna had whittled the Indian lead to seven points and in the final stanza they pulled to within two points of Juniata.

A pair of successful conversions by Crusader Charley Zlock knotted the count at 53 apiece before Park dumped five straight through the net to clinch the Indian victory.

Prof Raps Bowling

To the Sports Editor:

I am writing this letter as manager of one of the bowling teams entered in the intramural league. Last year this league was conducted in extremely slovenly fashion. It was the hope of many of those who participate in and enjoy this sport that the current year would bring a more stable arrangement. Unfortunately, this is not true.

Several weeks ago, the faculty lost two games by using a plug of 100 pins. On the other side of the alleys another team won a game and total pins by using a plug of 120 pins.

Another evening the faculty won their match by using a student, the proprietor's daughter (who averages 40 pins better than the faculty), two faculty members and a plug. Lest the charge be thrown that the faculty is alone in this, it might be pointed out that last Friday the faculty lost four points because they rolled against a team consisting of two men and a plug. Each man bowled twice. It might be pointed out that one of the men is in the running for the league lead.

These problems ought to be met. Sport loses its point when there are no rules. And in the bowling league, there are none.

Yours for rules,
G. Wayne Glick

have fallen into obscurity back on their feet," says Ray Siren, a chemistry major from Donora, Pa. "I would like to see more club meetings with better co-ordinated programs."

Siren's extra-curricular activities include Chapel Choir, Chemistry Club, Alfarata staff and intramural sports. He is also one of the recently named Honor Society members.

The fourth candidate for the vice-presidency, Joe Thomasberger, Johnstown, Pa., is a pre-ministerial student majoring in history. Being an active sport participant, he has been on the football team for the past three years. Thomasberger is a member of the JCA and IRC and served as a JWSF solicitor.

"If elected to serve on the Senate," Thomasberger says, "I would try to carry out the wishes of the student body and maintain good relationship between the administration and students."

Secretary

Dottie Hummer, an elementary education major from Ephrata, Pa., has served as junior class secretary and secretary of the Alpha Beta Gamma. She is Club Editor of the Junatian, typist for the Alfarata staff and a member of JCA and FTA.

As a candidate for the job of secretary, Miss Hummer says, "If chosen for this office, I will do my best to represent the spirit of the student body."

A sociology major from Tuckahoe, N. Y., Lois Miller was class secretary for two years and is now the secretary-treasurer of the Camera Club, and secretary of JCA. She is a member of the Dean's List and Honor Society.

"If elected, I plan to represent the students as fairly as possible whenever I am able," says Miss Miller.

Treasurer

"As I understand it," says George Crusier, business major from Princeton, N. J., "the treasurer holds the purse strings of the campus. In this job I would uphold the standards as handed down by previous treasurers."

Serving as president of the Tycoon Club, Crusier is also a member of the Sportsman's Club, Outing Club and Men's House Committee.

Tommy Green, a business major from Burlington, N. J., transferred to Juniata from the College of South Jersey. If elected treasurer, he hopes to "do as good a job as Don Howe, present Senate treasurer, has done."

A member of the basketball team, Green will soon begin work on the Scout Staff.

Dr. Carroll Champlin

Educator To Speak At Alumni Banquet

Dr. Carroll Champlin, professor of education at Penn State, will be the main speaker at the annual Huntingdon County Alumni Association dinner Tuesday evening. The dinner-meeting will be held in the College Dining Hall at 7 p. m.

Born in Chelsea, Michigan, Dr. Champlin received his BA and MA degrees from Haverford College and Ph D from the University of Pittsburgh. After graduation from Haverford, he accepted a teaching fellowship there and later became assistant in English.

From 1919 to 1921 Dr. Champlin taught education at the University of Pittsburgh and for the next five years was head of the department of education and psychology at California State Teachers College.

Except for one semester when he served as an exchange professor at the University of Puerto Rico, Dr. Champlin has been professor of education at Penn State since 1926.

A member of many professional educational organizations, Dr. Champlin has written many articles for professional publications. He has also traveled extensively in this country, South and Central America and Europe.

ed out carefully, for at one moment, a character might be trying to put himself over as a crook-backed old man, and the next moment he is expected to burst forth in song.

"Then too," says Miss Esaley, "there is a large group of people to deal with, and it is a much more difficult problem to keep the stage balanced." From her point of view, Miss Esaley feels that the direction of generally all operettas calls for the same kind of work.

"However," she says, "they are very different from plays, for in operetta, one is merely trying to attain a goal of 'stock-characterization,' whereas in the theater a director is attempting to create more suitable impressions."

'Firefly' Orchestra Chosen by Brammer

The personnel for the "Firefly" orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Jack Brammer, have been named.

The group will be composed of the following: first violin, Dr. Raymond Davis, Herman Pabst, Charles Redenberger, Kay Wright; second violin, Luetta McIntroy, Joe Tobin; viola, Janet Binkley; cello, Jean Bailey, Margery Funk; bass viol, Nelson Griffith.

Piano, Joan Rosenberry, Joanne Shelley; timpany, Earle Grover; flute, Judith Shanabrook, Carol Shoemaker; clarinet, Rhoda Clemmer; Doris Mickle; oboe, Betty Lou Smith, Joan Weaver. Trumpet, Paul Berkebile, Robert Brumbaugh; French horn, Dave Hercules, Larry Miller; and trombone, Raymond McHenry.

Drive Goes Over Goal

JWSF Hits $1985;
$50 Still Pledged

As reported by Pres. Calvert Ellis in Chapel Wednesday, the JWSF has gone over the top. $1985 in cash has been received, with "dribblings still arriving daily," according to Keith Binkley, treasurer.

The deciding factor which pushed the drive over the top was a $200 pledge from the "Firefly" program. John Long, business manager of the program, has already met the pledges through a patrons list in the book.

The students did not reach their goal. This year there was a marked reduction in student interest and participation over previous years," reported Jay Benedict, drive chairman. Of a goal of $1150 the students actually gave in cash only $750. About $50 in pledges is still to be received.

The JWSF committee (Jay Benedict, chairman; Bev Williams, secretary; Keith Binkley, treasurer; and Art Allen, solicitations) express their thanks to those who helped make JWSF a reality. As the chairman expressed it, "We are very grateful for the help and co-operation we have received from so many."

A full financial report of JWSF will appear in a later edition of the Juniation, along with the report of the "Firefly." Until then, contributions will be accepted even though the drive is officially closed.

Formal Dinner To Be Held Wed.

The Women's House Committee invites all faculty and students who regularly eat in the Dining Hall to a formal dinner Wednesday at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Eve Garrette, literary consultant to Herbert Hoover, will be the after dinner speaker. Mrs. Garrette edits Hoover's books and memoirs and is an author in her own right. She has written "Political Handbook for Women" and "Soviet Russia Today."

The program will be short so as to give students plenty of time to go to the concert in Oller Hall. All girls are expected to go formal to the concert.

Reserved table lists should be turned in to either head waitress by Monday evening meal. No non-resident guests may be invited unless arrangements have been made with Ruth Kimble.

Music Scheduled For Both JC Programs

Spinning records March 13 on "Turntable Terrace" will be "Bangs" Keller and Mim Smith. March 15 the platters will be played by disc jockeys Betty Longwell and Bob Champion. Music will also be played March 14 over "Juniaata on the Air." A half hour of A Cappella Choir recordings will be presented.

Robert Shaw Chorale To Appear Wed., 8:15 P. M.

The Robert Shaw Chorale will appear in Oller Hall Wednesday at 8:15 p. m.

Composed of 32 voices and a chamber music ensemble, the group will present a program ranging from Bach to songs of the American theater.

Robert Shaw, director of the Chorale, is now making his second cross-country tour. For several years he was director of Fred Waring's glee club. He was also the founder and director of the Collegiate Chorale which has performed with Toscanini, Stokowski, Koussevitzky and other leading conductors.

Wanted To Be A Minister
Shaw's first ambition was to be a minister. He studied theology at Pomona College, Claremont, Calif. To earn his way, he wrapped bread in a bakery, washed dishes, waited on tables, corrected examination papers and did occasional preaching.

It was at Pomona that Shaw got his start in choral conducting. While a junior, he took over the college glee club when its director took a leave of absence. The glee club did a small bit in one of Fred Waring's movies. Waring was so impressed that he offered the director a job building a radio glee club.

Shaw was with Waring from 1933 until 1945, when he was inducted into the Navy. In addition to his work with Waring, he led amateur singing groups in concerts of sacred music. His first group, the Chapel Choir, was formed in the summer of 1941. In November of that year he organized the now-famous Collegiate Chorale which has sung at Carnegie Hall, Town Hall and the New York City Center.

Honored As Conductor
Soon after the formation of the Collegiate Chorale, Shaw branched out as an orchestral conductor. In 1943 he was named Out- (See Chorale—, page 4)

Miss Joy Truxal

Oller Hall house lights will dim tonight and again tomorrow night at 8:15 for the presentation of the Spring musical, "The Firefly."

Centered around a case of mistaken identity, the story is about a little street-singer, Nina, portrayed by Joy Truxal, and her lover, Jack, played by Clyde Johnson.

In the opening scene we find Nina dressed as a boy to take a job as cabin boy on the Van Dare's yacht which is bound for Bermuda. She takes the name of Tony Colombo, also a girl in pants, who is a notorious pick-pocket.

26 Candidates Run For Office

Polls To Be Open On Tuesday For Chairmanship Elections

Twenty-six candidates have "thrown their hats in the ring" for the Senate chairmanships. Elections for these Senate positions will be held Tuesday.

In the running for chairman of athletics are Bob Asan, John Richman, Ray Siren and Fred Smith.

Asan, a sophomore from Sewickley, Pa., is the present sports editor of the Juniation. This business major is also a member of the Outing Club and baseball manager.

From Wrenanah, N. J., Richman is a sophomore chemistry major who has participated in track.

Siren has played in intramural sports and has been at Leadership Conference twice. He is a junior from Donora, Pa. and is majoring in chemistry.

Smith, a sophomore business major from Lawrenceville, N. J., is a member of the baseball team and has participated in intramural sports.

General Activities

Running for chairman of general activities are Margie Allen, Philadelphia, and Kay Wright, Johnstown.

Miss Allenman is an English major, '52, whose extra curricular activities include Scout editor, JCA cabinet, women's house committee, Leadership Conference, IVCF and the Honor Society.

Miss Wright, a psychology major and also a junior, is a member of JCA, freshmen court and orchestra. She has also attended Leadership Conference and is chairman of the career weekends.

Social Activities

Candidates for social activities chairman are Betty Longwell, Mary Lou McKee and Lois Robinson, all juniors.

An elementary education major, Miss Longwell is Radio Committee Chairman, member of JCA, FTA, IRC, and a former social committee member. Her home is in Tyrone, Pa.

A Johnstown junior, Miss McKee is a home economics major. She is a member of JCA, Lambda Gamma and Outing Club.

Miss Robinson, Abington, Pa., is also a home economics major. A former member of the social committee, she is at present a cheerleader and a member of FTA, JCA and Lambda Gamma.

Men's House

Contending for the chairmanship of men's house are juniors Jack Dickey, Bob Jones and Charles Needy.

Dickey, Berlin, Pa., is majoring in biology. He has played baseball and basketball and is floor chairman of the house committee.

Majoring in chemistry and math, Jones is from Llewellyn, Pa. He has participated in intramural sports.

A biology major from Rouzer-ville, Pa., Needy has participated in intramural sports and is a member of Scapel and Probe and Sportsman Club.

A larger than average crowd of student voters turned up at the polls Tuesday to elect Art Allen president of the Student Senate. About 460 votes were cast, election committee chairman "Skip" Hines said. This is 80.1% of the student body.

Swept into office along with Allen were Dottie Hummer, secretary, and Tommie Green, treasurer.

A run-off vote Wednesday settled a tie for the vice-presidency between Jack Malenke and Joe Thomasberger, with Thomasberger capturing the victory. Four hundred twenty or 73.8% of the campus population balloted in this election.

"There are two sides to every question which a Student Senate must watch—the student side and the faculty-administration side," the new president believes. He adds, "I feel the Senate president's job is to coordinate the interests of both these groups."

As for a program of action, Allen proposes to "take steps to stimulate student interest or 'spirit' and to work closely on all matters with Senate chairmen." He plans to work closely for a time with the incumbent, Vera Showalter, so as to "learn the ropes."

Combined Choirs To Sing Here Palm Sun.

Prof. Charles Rowland will direct the combined choir of the Huntingdon churches, the A Cappella Choir and the Chapel Choir in a half hour of music from Harvey Gaul's "Holy City" as part of a Palm Sunday service March 18 in Oller Hall.

Speaker at the service will be Dr. Abel Ross Wintz, L.L.D., president of Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

"We expect 125 singers in the combined choir," Prof. Rowland says. "The first rehearsal of the full choir will be held in Oller Hall Monday from 7 to 9 p. m."

Prof. Donald Johnson will be the organist for the performance. Pianists will be Jo Shelley and Doris Mickle.

Sub-Freshmen Here For Third Career Conference

Sub-freshmen interested in the arts and literature will appear on campus tomorrow for the third career conference week-end. The total number expected runs between 15 and 20. However, only 12 have registered to date.

Clyde Johnson

The Hell Box

by the editor

● Maybe the rain had something to do with it, but the crowd of 350 plus at Saturday's student talent show was a record. The happy part of the whole thing was that Elder and Co. managed to give us top-flight acts we hadn't seen before—Shirley Nell's "Mummy" reading, Bev Chamberlain's twinkling toes, Bill Swaim's "army" all being cases in point. Betty Longwell served admirably, if an anonymously, as the Thing. Fred Shamlian's witticisms relating the progress of dancing in the life of John and Marsha (Bob Myers-Edie Talbot) were mostly ad libbed, which is doing a good job the hard way. One of the more disappointing notes in the affair was that the faculty went unrepresented.

● From the couple of dress rehearsals we've seen of "Firefly," we'll predict this much: Clyde Johnson will prove a surprise. He's learned to act since "Sweethearts." You'll be able to hear every word of Truxal's; unfortunately that can't always be said of the others. The set will prove refreshing; not at all like Parson's stuff. And watch for the torchlight scene; it'll be the hit of the show. Other high spots: Clem Rosenberger's superb acting; most of the song, especially "De Truxal"; "Gianina Mia"; and "Love is Like a Firefly"; and the "chase" at the end of Act I between Bob Hatala and Wilfred Norris.

● We were pondering a typical Americanism the other day; it's always "I made an A," but "He gave me an F." Wonder why?

TO THE EDITOR

Boosts Norris For Senate

I believe Phil Norris has shown the outstanding leadership qualities necessary for the chairmanship of Religious Activities. It was through his able direction last year that his class was the first freshman class to win the All Class Night cup. He has led the President's Bible Class this year with a marked increase in attendance over past years. Phil represented the JCA at the SCM conference at Camp Mishaux this past summer and also attended leadership conference last fall as a sophomore representative.

He has indeed proven himself able to handle the responsibilities of this job through his work on the JCA commissions. Leadership, sincerity and willingness to work add up to Phil Norris as chairman of religious activities.

Connie Sherman

Supports Betty Longwell

Betty Longwell has expressed a willingness to represent student opinion as a member of the Student Senate and to provide them with opportunities for more varied social activities.

As a member of this year's Social Committee, I believe that only someone who has served actively on the committee, as Betty has, is qualified to take over the chairmanship.

She knows the problems which a Social Committee chairman faces and will, I believe, be able to handle these problems efficiently. Her ability to plan weekly programs and carry them out has shown in her work as head of the Radio Committee.

For "better and bigger socials" I recommend Betty Longwell as social committee chairman.

Spectator: Food For Thought

by Ray Siren

Last week's Teepee Topics column made reference to some rather evil doings in the dining hall. One paragraph presented therein which referred humorously to the "adulteration" of desserts by the waitresses brought to mind some of the conditions with which we poor chowhounds have to put up.

The problem of a balanced diet is indeed one for careful consideration by the powers that be, and I might add that some of the meals are extremely lopsided as far as balance is concerned.

Take the butter plate for example. More often than not, when circumscribing said butter, it is noted that the slab is sliced on an angle leaving a thick triangle for the lucky and a thinner piece for the starving.

1.875 Hot Dogs Apiece

Furthermore, when hot dogs are offered, it never fails that 15 dogs are on the serving plate, an average of 1.875 frankfurters apiece. Small wonder the list of table heads is dwindling—anyone without a slide rule and micrometer is stuck.

The other day, spaghetti was the main course and a bowl of assorted vegetables was the side dish. The first assistant table head at our table aptly handled the situation in the following wise, "Anybody want some of this crud?" Crud, you know, is a type of Hungarian goulash which is seasoned and aged in butyric acid until it takes on the odor of stagnant swamp water a la Schuyllkill.

Boon To Chem Dept.

'Tis small wonder that Juniatia's chemistry department is rated so highly—only an analyst of top drawer quality could eat mystery cakes and walk away satisfied, knowing what he has eaten.

All kidding aside though, where else can one starve so cheaply and yet in such good company? Vive la Skip's.

Asan For Athletics Chm.

Here's why you should choose Bob Asan for Senate chairman of athletics. Outside of being an all-around sport, "Ace" has had valuable background training, plus an admirable program.

By participating in several of the intramural sports, he has met many of the problems in this area. Bob's task as Junatian sports editor has brought him in contact with every athletic activity on campus. This post requires a knowledge of every sport.

As student manager of the baseball team, Bob has gained experience in team management and organization.

No candidate is worth consideration unless he can offer as constructive a program as this:

- Stabilized league organization
- Improved officiating
- Recognition of league champions

Now, isn't it only logical to support Bob Asan for chairman of athletics?

CALL ME MISTER—That Grable-Dailey team is here again. Formula: Legs, Comedy, Technicolor and Music.

To keep the motion picture moving between the eight principal numbers, the light plot has Miss Grable shown as the producer-star of camp shows in Japan. When her husband, Dan, pops up as a soldier full of the kiss-and-make-up spirit after a three-year separation, complications arise which end in the conventional cliché.

Added attractions—Danny Thomas with a comedy routine you'll like and the Dunhill Dance Team furnishing some fancy stepping. This fast moving 20th-Fox musical will play at the Clifton next week.

I'D CLIMB THE HIGHEST MOUNTAIN—Here's a simple story of simple hill country faith, filmed in beautiful Technicolor by 20th-Fox. It tells of a Methodist minister (William Lundigan) and his bride (Susan Hayward) who are called upon to meet the crises of a small congregation in the Georgia hill country.

Most of the action follows a slow pattern filled with warmth and tenderness, but is highlighted by such dramatic incidents as an epidemic, a still-born son, and Susan's adjustment struggle. The picture ends with the only reward they expect—knowledge of a job well done. Next week at the Grand.

"IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?"—Professor Harry Nye has a new theory about college degrees. He informed his medieval history class the other day that MD does not mean medical doctor. It means mule-driver.

COLD CASH—The cleaning going on in the girls dorm for the evaluation committee has proved to be quite profitable. When Bev Chamberlain collected and returned the numerous milk bottles in her room, she netted a small fortune.

LITTLE MISS FIX-IT—We have an electrician on campus. Peg Barrington attempted to fix her radio the other day. Much to her surprise, when she finished the repair job the radio worked. A little later she discovered there was one large size tube she had forgotten to replace.

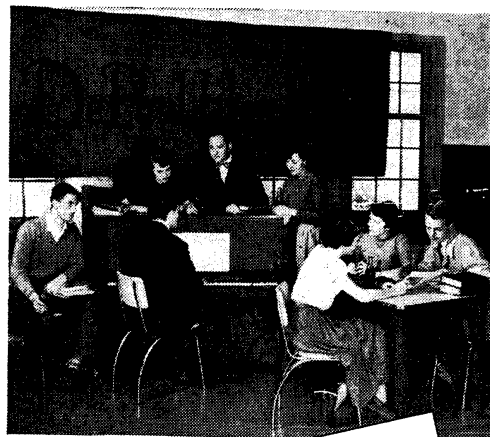

AIN'T LOVE GRAND—When the romantic movement literature class was discussing romanticism Monday, the discussion somehow switched to love affairs. Professor Binkley asked Barbara McClure what constitutes a love affair. "Oh, many unexpected things," she answered.

DIXIECRATS—A new political party has been formed on campus—the "Connorsists." Symbol of the organization is the confederate flag; at present loyal members are collecting all those available. The boys waged a battle against the owners of one such flag, Miss Smith and Bangs Keller, by throwing stones at their window. The warfare ceased when Mac entered the scene.

The Interclass Track Meet rolls around pretty soon and it should be a pretty good meet.

Last year 65 men took part in it, with the smallest team being fielded by the Junior Class. Eight men carried the banner of the class of '51, four of them garnering points.

The Sophomore Class won the meet with a point total of 58 2/3.

Now for an aside to the Athletic Department. Why not recognize the champion in this event as is done by the All-Class Night committee? It wouldn't detract from the event and would certainly add to it.

On Other Campuses

Pitt University who will be showing here for a baseball game this season began practice Monday, Feb. 26, in their "temporary" quarters under the Pitt Stadium grandstand. These quarters have been temporary for the last 26 years.

This will be the last training season in the Stadium however, as the new Pitt Field House will be ready for use next season. The Field House will be large enough to be converted into playing areas for basketball, track, football and baseball according to the season.

Three Indians Crack Century; Park High

Only three men went over the 100 mark in scoring for the Indians this past season. They were Karl Park, Tommy Green and Ray Korody. Following is a brief scoring summary of these men and the others on the team.

Karl Park

Karl Park, 5-10 junior from Westmont High School in Johnstown, set the scoring pace this season. Karl played in all 16 games and scored 296 points for an average of 18.5 per game. This mark set a new record for the school. Karl's points came on 123 field goals and 50 fouls. His high game total was a 29 points spree against LV.

Tommy Green

Another 5-10 junior, Tommy Green was runner up in total scoring. "Greeny" led the team in foul shooting with an excellent .803 average, making 53 out of 66 tries. The remainder of his 167 points came on 57 field goals. Tommy hit for 18 points in his big night against Albright.

Ray Korody

Captain Ray Korody was the third member of the team to hit for more than 100 points, netting 103. A four letterman, Ray stands 6-1 and hit for 39 field goals and 25 fouls. Thirteen points against E-town was Ray's biggest scoring effort this season.

Leo Kuhn

This was Leo Kuhn's second season here on the Hill and he made it a productive one. In 15 games he hit the nets for 80 points to take down fourth place scoring honors. This total came on 35 field goals and ten fouls. Leo stands 6-1 and had a one game high this year of 16 points against Albright.

John Cook

Greensburg has contributed a second member to the Tribe varsity beside Ray Korody. He is John Cook and finished fifth in the scoring column this season. He hooped 67 points on 26 fielders and 15 fouls. Nine points against Allegheny and Susquehanna were his season highs.

Ed Weirauch

One of five freshmen on the Tribe varsity was Ed Weirauch. Ed was a consistent starter for Doc Greene and netted 54 points this season on 23 double-deckers and eight fouls. He hit seven points against F & M and Susquehanna for his highs of the season.

Dave Bayer

The tallest man on the team is 6-4 Dave Bayer, a sophomore. This year in 14 games Dave scored 11 field goals and 18 fouls for a total of 49 points. Seven points against Westminster was Dave's big night for the campaign.

Ed Feldkircher

In completing his fifth year of basketball "Easy" Ed Feldkircher netted 17 field goals and five fouls for 39 points. Ed was one of three Temple High School players on the team this year.

Jack Dickey

A third junior standing 5-10 is Jack Dickey. A letter winner last season, Jack scored 38 points this campaign, 26 of them on field goals. His best night came against Susquehanna when he netted ten counters.

Fran Zimmerman

The last freshman on the varsity was Fran Zimmerman, of Annville. Appearing in only six games, Fran scored ten points, five of which came against the powerful St. Francis outfit.

Harry Koehnlein

A third Temple High graduate is Harry "Biz" Koehnlein, who also towers two inches over the six foot mark. "Biz" scored only seven points this year but he holds the distinction of being the only varsity member to sink all his foul shots, making three.

Cline, Shaffer Lead Basketball Scoring

In the girls' basketball league the Motley Crew finished in first place. Their season's record was seven wins and no losses. The Oneida Hotshots, who lost only to the Crew finished in second place with a seven, one record.

Other teams in the league include the Brumbaugh Babes, Blue Devils, Geiger Gals, Pigmies, Basketeers, Hammer Heads and Mixers.

Leading the league's scorers were Dolly Shaffer and Janet Cline. Miss Shaffer scored 142 points, while Miss Cline scored 139 points in six games for the high average of 23 per game.

Also in the scoring picture were Nancy Blank and Mickey Monks, with 81 and 79 points respectively.

Four Frosh Are Among 12 Tennis Candidates

Six men with varsity experience will form the nucleus of the 1951 tennis team. Twelve men, including four freshmen, turned out for the team's organizational meeting.

Pre-season seedings show Steve Finckel, John Pottier, Bob Hollinger, Sam Byers and Bob Brumbaugh in the first six positions.

All these positions are subject to change however, as lower standing players beat those above them in challenge matches.

Juniata and Penn State At Lycoming Festival

At the Play Day held at Williamsport by Lycoming College last Saturday, the JC WAA girls did not fare so well as they did at State.

As a team the girls finished second in bowling and also placed in the swimming contests. Carroll Borden again placed in the crawl event and the relay team finished second.

JC lost a basketball game to Penn State and were tied by Lycoming. State beat them 17-13 and Lycoming scored three points in the last minute to gain a 14-14 tie.

Juniata finished a dead last in the badminton games.

Competing in the games were teams from Penn State, Juniata and Lycoming.

Ray Korody, Bob Rhodes To Co-Captain Golfers

At a meeting held March 1 Ray Korody of Greensburg and Bob Rhodes of Altoona were elected co-captains of the Indian golf squad for the coming season.

Both were members of last year's undefeated team and have represented the Indians "off the tee" for the past three years.

Coach "Doc" Edgar Kiracofe presided at the meeting and discussed plans for the coming season. The season gets underway on April 11 with the Juniata's playing host to the Red Devil team of Dickinson.

According to Coach Kiracofe ten intercollegiate matches and two invitational tournaments are scheduled. These should provide plenty of competition for the Indians.

Also present at the meeting were returning lettermen Art Allen and Dave Bayer, along with newcomers, Tom Cherok, Bob Fahrney and Tom Sanders.

Bridgers Win 51-46 In Play-Off Game; YHO's Beat BTO's

On the final night of regularly scheduled intramural basketball competition the YHO's put on a last quarter rally which gained them a 31-30 victory over the BTO's and second place in the final standings.

The league's top scorer, John Richman, dropped only six points for the YHO's, but George Newcombe and Bill Bolt swished ten and nine points respectively to produce the win. Bob Jones hooped eight and Chuck Mills and Doug Martin seven each for the losers.

The BTO's were dropped into third place as a result of their defeat and a Bridger win over the Sneaks in a play-off game. By beating the Sneaks 51-46, the Bridgers moved into the fourth spot.

Rocco Ortenzio's 19 counts and Lundy Loschiavo's 15 gave the game to the Bridgers. For the Sneaks, who dropped the game in the final frame, Phil Chabody and Ed Gould notched 15 and 13 points respectively.

John Richman led the league in scoring over the 13 game season by scoring 166 points to average 12.8 per game. Earl Detrick was second as he racked up an 11.5 point per game average, totaling 132 points for the BTO's.

Final team standings for this season:

College Is Evaluated

Outcome of Study Delayed 'Til Spring

The results of the study made by the evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as to whether or not Juniata is to be reaccredited will probably not be made known before late Spring.

One of the five members could not be here while the committee studied the College program from Tuesday to Thursday. Dr. M. Ellis Drake, president of Alfred College, Alfred, N. Y. was unable to attend because of illness.

The committee had its headquarters at the Faculty Club. Miss Margaret Corwin, chairman of the committee, stayed in the guest room of the Faculty Club, while the three men on the committee lived at the Hotel Penn Hunt.

Four years pass, and the scene changes to the Van Dare home in Bermuda where a party is being held. Among the guests are Geraldine Van Dare and Jack, her fiancé.

Nina Appears Again

Entertainment for the evening is to feature the great soprano Giana, who turns out to be the little Nina whom both Geraldine and Jack had heard sing at the dock in New York four years before. To remind the guests of days gone by, Nina prepares to sing in the old outfit of Tony.

As she dresses, she finds in the pocket of the suit a letter which Thurstun, Jack's uncle, had given her to give to Geraldine, revealing his love for her. Geraldine confesses that it is really Jack's uncle she loves.

All ends well, for Jack is now free to have his Nina whom he loved from the day he had seen her at the New York pier.

Sportsmen Build Rifle Range; IRC, FTA Schedule Joint Meet

By DOTTIE HUMMER

Stealing the club headlines for this coming week are the Sportsman's Club, the FTA and the IRC.

According to Steve Dolak, president of the Sportsman's Club, "a lot of interest is being created in our organization." The objective of this group is to give members a better understanding of the safe handling and proper care of firearms, improved marksmanship, as well as the characteristics of good sportsmanship and a foundation of true patriotism.

The club members are now in the process of picking teams of five men with one man as captain. Competitive meets are being scheduled.

Dr. Rockwell has contributed to the group a plot of land which is being transformed into an outdoor range. It is hoped this will be completed tomorrow and can then be used by the students at any time. Plans are being made to invite the faculty, club members and friends to an outdoor meet next Saturday afternoon.

Tentative plans for an archery team which could also meet at this range are being made. This team may be connected with Miss McCormick's teams. It was noted that a place will also be cleared in Sherwood Forest, which would be out of danger of the firing range.

A film, "Big Game Hunting in Alaska," will be shown at the regular meeting of the Sportsman's Club next Thursday evening. Plans for next month's meeting include a film, "Safari from Africa," followed by a guest speaker who was formerly a big game hunter in Africa and India.

The IVCF will hold their regular meeting next Thursday at 7 p. m. Missionary reports will be made by several members of the group.

A joint meeting of the FTA and the IRC will be held next Friday evening. Miss Harriet Beachley, an enthusiast on "World Education," will speak to the group. As a teacher, her experiences include a year in the Orient and Japan.

The IRC recently elected their officers for the new year. Jack Ullsh won the office of president; while Galen Frysinger is vice-president; Phyllis Kuhn, secretary; Carol Shoemaker, treasurer; and Bernard Petrusky, host librarian.

Juniata College Student Weekly

Vol. 27

Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., March 16, 1951

No. 20

• Communion Thursday
An all-College communion service will be held Thursday at 9 p. m. in Oller Hall. Presiding will be Pres. Calvert Ellis, Dean Morley Mays, Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Dr. Kenneth Crosby and Prof. Silas Dubbel. Elements will be served by student deacons: Portia Baugher, Don Bracken, Glenn Felix, Philip Kulp, Mary Lou McKee, Lois Miller, Phil Norris, Jack Rothenberger, Connie Sherman, Joe Thomasberger, Don Treese and Dale Zimmerman.

Album Set For Release

Records Include 3 Musical Groups

An album of "familiar songs and hymns you will enjoy hearing" by three Juniata musical organizations will be released Tuesday. The album contains three 10 inch 78 RPM break resistant records of the cappella choir, Chapel choir and symphony orchestra.

A special release price of $4 is offered to students if they order their albums before Spring vacation. The regular selling price is $4.50. The cost includes the 10% federal excise tax. Orders may be placed in the Book Store or the Public Relations Office.

Appropriately Decorated

Appropriately decorated with pictures of College campus buildings, the album features a cappella choir on six sides, the Chapel choir on one and the orchestra on one. The recordings were made by professional technicians from New York on the campus Feb. 14 and were manufactured by Nelson Cornell, a professional organization.

The manufacturers have provided individual mailing cartons for orders to be delivered off campus. Albums will be sent post paid anywhere in the United States.

According to Harold Brumbaugh, "This album will be of lasting interest to students because of the distinctive Juniata songs. The cleverest of these," he goes on to say, "is 'The Game Was Played On Sunday,' a novelty song produced by the men's variety quartet."

Other Colleges Do It

Mr. Brumbaugh adds, "Juniata negotiated for the production of this album because there seemed to be considerable interest and because many other colleges with musical organizations of no higher caliber had albums on the market."

Assisting the Public Relations Office in making arrangements, the a cappella choir also provided financial backing for the production.

Science Conf. To Be Largest One

The largest career conference of the year will be held this weekend for all sub-freshmen interested in science. While 27 have been registered to date, a total of approximately 35 are expected to attend. Of the 27 registered, only two are girls.

The conference will cover such fields as dentistry, medicine, veterinary, biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics.

Those organizations assisting in making the visit interesting and helpful to the sub-freshmen will be the Chemistry Club, Camera Club and Masque. Experiments will be set up, and demonstrations will be given in Science Hall.

JCA To Broadcast Service Of Easter Season Devotions

Wednesday evening, "Juniata on the Air" will present a devotional service of the Lenten and Easter season. It will be given by the members of the JCA cabinet. Spinning the records Tuesday on "Turntable Terrace" will be Betty Longwell, radio committee chairman, while Bob Champion will be disc-jockey for the Thursday session.

William Livengood

Alumnus To Talk In Chapel Mon.

William Livengood, Jr. will speak in Chapel Monday as a part of the 75th anniversary year program.

Third in the series of speakers on Juniata's history, he will cover the period from 1924-43. Other 75th anniversary speakers were Dr. Francis Harvey Green, who traced the College's history from its beginnings to 1898 and Harry Wagner who covered the period from 1898-1924.

Mr. Livengood is the secretary of internal affairs for Pennsylvania. He graduated from Juniata Academy in 1918 and from the college with an A. B. degree in 1926. He was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree in 1943.

While in college, Mr. Livengood took part in many activities, such as varsity football, basketball, baseball and track teams. He served as president of his class, YMCA and Masque and was on the Student Council.

After graduation he filled various coaching positions until he was elected register of wills in his native Somerset County in 1933. In 1938 he was elected secretary of internal affairs to which office he has been consistently re-elected.

Movie Slated For Sat. Night

"The House of Seven Gables" is to be shown at Oller Hall tomorrow night at 8:15. This is a movie adaptation of the story by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

8 Chairmen Selected For Senate

Jack Dickey, Jack Rothenberger, Connie Sherman and Kay Wright were elected to four Senate posts Tuesday. Run-off elections had to be held Wednesday for four additional offices.

Approximately 400 students or about 70% of the student body turned up at the polls to name Dickey chairman of men's house, Rothenberger chairman of underclassmen, Miss Sherman chairman of women's house and Miss Wright chairman of general activities.

New Class Officers Listed

Class officers elected Tuesday were as follows:

1952—president, Jack Rothenberger; vice-president, Walt Bandurak; secretary, Connie Sherman; treasurer, Doug Martin.

1953—president, Bob Wagoner; vice-president, Harold Keener; secretary, May Ikeda; treasurer, Wes Diemer.

1954—president, John Cook; vice-president, (after a run-off with Clem Rosenberger) Ray McHenry; secretary, Dagmar Silldorf; treasurer, Diane Bramhall.

In the run-off balloting, Bob Asan defeated Ray Siren for chairman of athletics while Marj Seidel was named chairman of publications, winning over Jim Streiner. Betty Longwell was victorious over Mary Lou McKee for chairman of social activities, and Phil Norris defeated Don Bracken for chairman of religious activities.

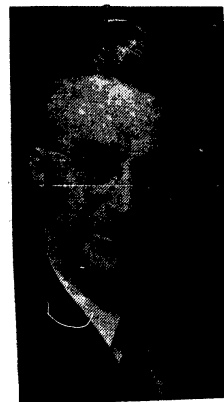

Frosh To Hear Booth Today

Dr. Booth will discuss the uses of money as related to banks and insurance in freshman orientation assembly this afternoon. Renie Hebrank will also explain move-up day proceedings.

Interest tests will be returned at the final orientation assembly next Friday.

Marks Out After Recess

Mid-term grades will be given to students when they return from spring vacation, according to A. William Engel, Jr., registrar of the College. The reports will be processed during the week of spring vacation.

Rev. Abdel Wentz

Service Planned For Palm Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, will be the speaker at the combined community church service Sunday in Oller Hall. This Palm Sunday observance will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Wentz is at present vice-president of the Lutheran World Federation. A delegate to the convention which established the World Council of Churches, he helped in the revision of the constitution of this organization.

Has Written 9 Books

Besides serving on the American Bible Revision Committee, Rev. Wentz has written nine historical novels. He has also made two trips around the world.

According to the Rev. E. L. Manges, local Lutheran pastor, "Rev. Wentz is one of the most outstanding Church leaders, not only in the United States, but in the world."

Half Hour Of Music

One half hour of the Palm Sunday program will be devoted to music from Gaul's "Holy City." The combined choirs of Huntingdon churches and the a cappella and Chapel choirs will be directed by Prof. Charles Rowland. Prof. Donald Johnson will be the organist and Jo Shelley and Doris Mickle, the pianists.

Move-Up Is To Be Wed.

New Officers Will Take Over Duties

Annual move-up day ceremonies will be held Wednesday during the regular Chapel period. At that time new Senate, class and club officers will assume their duties.

Pres. Calvert Ellis will give the invocation and make a few remarks at the services. After a short talk by Vernon Showalter, retiring president, the new Senate will be introduced and installed.

Allen To Speak

Art Allen, elected last week to succeed Showalter, will give a short acceptance speech and Joe Thomasberger, vice-president will introduce class and club presidents.

For the recessional to Founder's porch, the seniors and juniors will leave Oller Hall by the rear doors. Sophomores will go out the right front door and freshmen will leave by the left front door.

The line of march will be on 18th Street, left down Moore Street to the front walk of Founder's. There the freshmen will be led up the diagonal, theoretically for the first time, and up the side steps of Founder's porch where they will congregate to sing the Alma Mater.

Ushers Listed

Ushers will be on hand to direct the various groups. Marshal will be Don Robinson, P. M. "Mike" Snider will be the faculty usher. Ushers of the various classes will be Edith Roberts and Bill Korman, seniors; Eleanor Formwalt, juniors; Jo Pentz and Phil Norris, sophomores; Edie Talbot, Jeanie Tsai, Bob Myers and Jairo Silva, freshmen.

Mary Ankeny, Shirley Frymire and Susie Bartell will be special ushers to reseat those who usually sit in the front rows in Chapel.

Educator Will Speak Tonight

Miss Catherine Beachley, director of guidance in the public schools of Washington County, Maryland, will speak at the joint FTA and IRC meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in Founders Chapel.

Having served on the President's Commission on Higher Education, Miss Beachley traveled to Japan to introduce modern educational methods to this occupied country. She is very much interested in the problem of world education.

At the meeting tonight Miss Beachley will supplement her address with Kodachrome slides of Japan. This illustrated lecture was received so enthusiastically by educational and civic organizations in Huntingdon that the program was recommended as desirable for presentation here.

In order to make the lecture available to more students, the IRC has joined the FTA in promotion of the program.

Air Force Recruiting Men Cancel Visit To Juniata

Originally scheduled for next week, a visit to Juniata by a team of air force recruiting men has been cancelled.

The visit was planned by the air force to give college men information about pilot, navigator and officer training schools. Because of the large number of applications for officer training, all visits to accredited colleges have been cancelled.

Any students desiring information or application forms may contact any air force recruiting station or base.

A REVIEW

"Firefly" More Enjoyable Than Many Chicago Operettas

By Prof. G. Wayne Glick

It probably ought to go without saying that any production deserves review on the basis of what it pretends to be. Juniata is not Broadway; ergo, we did not expect the finish, the glitter or the expert cueing of a New York production when we attended "The Firefly" last Saturday evening.

Frankly (and I may be prejudiced) I liked what I saw better. And this review will occupy itself from here on with the reasons why I found Vera Compton's show more enjoyable than many, many of the operettas that used to visit Chicago's Loop.

The synchronization of music, dialogue and choreography, representing as it does gruelling hours of practice and repetition, was affected with a minimum of distraction. Of course there were a few fast lines, some sharp and flat notes, an occasional too-ambitious violin or trumpet and, inevitably, that chorus member who miscalculated the time till opening curtain, and wandered on stage in the midst of the scene.

There was the omnipresent problem of getting amateurs to speak loudly enough for the under-the-balcony late-comers; the orchestra pulled a time or so instead of following; and there were

"Thanks"—Directors

We would like to thank everyone who helped on the production of "The Firefly."

The cooperative efforts of not only the cast, chorus and orchestra, but also of behind-the-scenes committees merited the enthusiastic applause of the audience. Time, interest and effort were responsible for the success of the production.

Signed: Prof. Donald Johnson, Prof. Jack Brammer, Miss Lois Esaley, Miss Vera Compton.

particular solos which were handled differently than this reviewer's performance would have indicated. However, no one of these criticisms ought to be interpreted to mean that the show was not successful. It was excellent entertainment.

The set was beautifully done. The brick building of the first scene, leaning so precariously during rehearsals, was as upright as Amos's plumb line. Glenn Felix and all of his crew deserve commendation.

The whole production staff, from those responsible for the intriguing window at Millers Hardware to those who planned the best program of the past three years, and including lighting, costumes, make-up and properties—they all deserve solid applause for splendid behind-the-scenes work. Ditto to the technical staff. Ditto to the technical staff. Ditto to the technical staff.

Some Challenges & A Promise

Good ideas don't die—they keep popping up again.
Sometimes they run out of money.
Sometimes they run into apathy.
But they keep coming back.

So we asked retiring Senate proxy Vern Showalter what ideas this year's student leaders had planted, but couldn't reap. He listed three:

- Build a snack bar in first floor Founders by the dining hall. "We're in favor of it," the powers that be declared, "but..." And then pockets were turned inside out, and shoulders were shrugged. Understandable.

- Have a faculty committee look into the English conference suggestions. This got as far as a pigeonhole someplace. Not so understandable.

- Make the Senate chairman of publications "a regular member of the faculty publications committee, thereby gaining an advisory capacity in its work." The words "an ex officio member" would probably have been wiser, since students may not, by definition, be official members of any faculty committee.

All good ideas, you understand. It's just that it's going to take more than one year and one Senate to do some jobs.

So—what did get done? Just glancing at the major items, the 1950-51 Senate record looks like this:

- "The dining hall was the main project for this year," Showalter said. Payment for banquet work was secured for the waitresses, a simplified and highly effective table head system was inaugurated, individual service was initiated and audible grace was instituted. In addition, the Senate convinced the administration that waitresses should only have to pay for dishes they personally broke. One condition: "they must devise a system for reporting breakage promptly and accurately." According to Showalter, "no such system was worked out."

- Class officers were reclassified on the basis of time consumption rather than prestige as in the past.

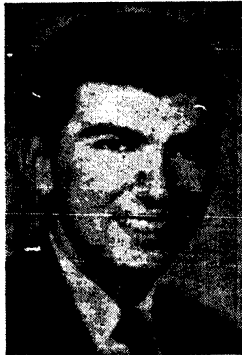

- A new movie projector was pressed for, and as a result was "probably purchased sooner than ordinarily," Showalter said.

- "All leadership conference resolutions were acted upon, to some extent at least, except the publications chairman and English conference questions" already mentioned, the ex-president reported.

- The social rooms radio was repaired.
- Guiding rules were set up for the College band.
- The Sportsman's Club and Sigma Gamma were approved.
- A Scout editor, JWSF chairman, coordinator for the Spring musical and committees for each of the Senate chairmen were appointed.

"This job can only be done well when the Juniatian, the faculty and administration, the students and the Senate work together. Any one of these, shirking, can slow the works," Showalter said.

And with that, we tip our green eyeshade to the new gang who must continue in these footsteps.

Vern Showalter
● Retiring Proxy Reports ●

From The Editor's Notes:—

- APOLOGIES to those who misread a slur on George Parsons' ability as a scenario writer into our "Firefly" comments in this corner last week. We were referring to the difference in style used by this year's designers, not to the relative merits of each type. However, we feel that anytime we have to explain anything we've written, it must have been badly written. So chalk that up as one time we slipped.

Questions JC Christianity

Last week we were challenged by the question "Christian of America, lovest thou me?" Does this have meaning for the conscientious Christian of America? In the present world situation, it should make us question the motives of our government with regard to our foreign policy. Congress has recently appropriated millions of dollars for food and relief to be sent to India and Yugoslavia. Would they pass a similar bill to help Russia? Are our motives selfish or do they stem from Christian love?

Christ entreats us to give a cup of cold water to the thirsty but we must give it in His name, else the spirit of giving has lost its true significance. We, as Juniata students, have just gone over the top of our World Service Fund. Was our gift given in the name of Christ or was it because of social pressure? We are in grave danger of condemnation if our motives are not pure.

Remember Christ's teaching—If you minister to the least of these my brethren, you do it unto me.

TO THE EDITOR

Thanks Those Aiding JWSF

To all who gave of their time, energy and money for the Juniata World Service Fund Drive, I extend my inadequate words of appreciation. They say that the hardest of all debts to pay is the debt of gratitude, so I leave this task to the future. In due time, consideration will be given you for having contributed so freely to this, our one major College endeavor to do a bit of world service.

I could not hope to have an exhaustive list of all those people who gave of themselves in one way or another (for so many of you are unknown to me). However, I can, and do, thank you collectively.

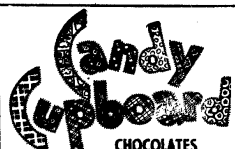

We give thanks that all of us had the opportunity to give and look forward in the ensuing years for the same privilege.

Spectator: Studying Stumps Studios Spectator

by Ray Siren

This week let's look into the dormitory situation, particularly the trials and tribulations one must go through when studying for a test or some other fiendish assignment.

First and perhaps foremost, there is the problem of noise. Not just plain, organized, loud conversation, but such evils as "The Budget-Plan Westerners," "Bobby Benson" and "Martin Kane, Private Eye." I refer of course to the radio. Everyone has their own taste as to programs, but to some, I say "Ita-push-na-nee" which is Apache for "Ye gods man, how can you stand such slop—turn it down, will you?"

Now if everybody listened to sane programs like "John's Other Wife" and "Queen for a Day," life could be beautiful.

Study By Osmosis

Next on our list of abuses is the individual who insists on raising cane during the hours midnight to 2 a. m. His rationalization usually is that he's been studying hard and needs a psychological break. More often than not he's the type that studies by osmosis. He places his text under his pillow and expects the subject matter to pass through the intervening membrane. Believe me, it doesn't work.

Another offender is the "bum" or "borrower" type. Always out of cigarettes, socks or underwear, he slyly enters your room and stands there with fearful eye until you oblige him.

Singing In The Shower

The shower baritone is also a frequent occurrence. In a rich, resonant voice, he bellows forth as the age-old balladeers, punctuated by the steady drip from the ever leaking shower and sink faucets.

Before closing, there is another type of dorm pest whom we may consider. He is the assignment seeker. After you slave your bloody head off writing a theme or doing problems, he's usually there to inquire as to whether he may borrow them. The oddest point involved here is that he usually will get the A while you barely pass.

My advice to you poor frustrated souls who have the unhappy luck to be associated with such evils, is to do as many of us have done—join the army! In the service you're too busy griping about the food or the (adjectives deleted here for obvious reasons) officers to worry about these smaller problems.

THE EARLY BIRD—When Ray Siren had charge of a chemistry class the other day he dismissed the students at 12:10. Prof. Paul Yoder, who never makes use of a watch, though it must be 12:30 and dismissed his class too.

MAIL MAZE—A notice that 100 baby chicks will soon arrive COD was the climax of a flood of articles and literature Charlie Kipp has been mysteriously receiving from various companies. The US mail has brought him booklets on subjects ranging from "saving your soul" to Charles Atlas strength-building course and 69 fruit trees delivered COD. He also had two representatives call on him—one selling encyclopedias and the other wanting to fit him for a Spencer corset.

RABBIT TAILS—Vern Showalter was bemoaning the fact that the Easter Bunny never visited him. Early this week, in answer to his wishes, Bunny left Vern an Easter basket inside the record player (a remarkable feat, indeed). A note attached to the basket read "For being a good boy all year. Signed, Jack Rabbit."

"JUNIATA MUD"—The baseball varsity has new training tactics. Last week they were a sorry sight carrying the football bleachers around in ankle-deep mud.

VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.—Dr. Booth and the Tycoon Club were serenely discussing comps in the I. Harvey House the other night. A scream of "Fire" was heard and all the gallant Tycoons dashed up the stairs to help. They found Miss Tauch in blue jeans, and Miss Edwards, Miss McCormick, and Miss Thomas—caught unaware—dashed into their rooms. They never did find what was on fire.

THE HAPPY YEARS—This Metro motion picture deals with the human element. The story is that of a well-to-do father's attempt to reform his hellion son (Dean Stockwell) by sending him to a private school. The action takes place at the Lawrenceville, N. J. School and features Dean in several hilarious incidents which keeps the show moving. Trouble begins with his arrival at this "gentleman's" school and ends only at the conclusion of the picture.

If you liked Stockwell's impish pranks in "Kim" you will probably enjoy the struggle his coach and math teacher has converting him from a neighborhood mischief-maker into a "nice young man."—Grand Theater.

BEDTIME FOR BONZO—Universal International has been coming up with a whole extravaganza of animal comedy features lately. Doing a good job too. Proof: "Francis," "Harvey." The latest addition, "Bedtime for Bonzo," which introduces an unusual chimpanzee mixed up in a combination love affair and college experiment, slapstick and all.

The crazy plot has Ronald Reagan and Diana Lynn playing house with Bonzo to prove something about environment for a cracked-up professor. Result: Ronny decides to ditch the professor's daughter and play house permanently with the "chimp" and Diana.—Clifton Theater.

Champs

by Bob Asan

The Intramural Basketball League championship was decided last Saturday and the Trojans beat the YHO's.

Asan

At least the score showed the Trojans to be the better team. For a championship game this was one of the most poorly worked games we've seen. Both referees played the night before for teams that lost to both that were playing Saturday. Surely another person could have been had to do the job.

And, as to the refereeing in general, the comments were many. Quite a few of the spectators were also of the opinion that the officiating was poor.

That game ended the intramural basketball season and saw a champion named. That's it for the season and we hope it will be better next time.

Repeat Champs

Albright is the Champion of the Middle Atlantic States Conference, Western Division. This is the third straight season that the Roaring Lions have won their section. The Lions are also the Champions of the Lebanon Valley College Tournament.

Traveling Titans

Westminster College will again play in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament, or NAIB as it is better known. This tournament is held at Kansas City and last year the Titans broke even in two games.

Fix!!!!

Gambing syndicates have finally reached out to the small colleges. Ursinus has been the latest to get hit by the "fix". Last week in the Ursinus intramural league one of the players admitted throwing a game for a pack of cigarettes, Paul Mallis to be exact.

RSVP

One of the largest golf tournaments in the East is the Juniata College Invitational. Last year was the first in which this annual event was held and it was quite a tournament. Fifty three golfers from 15 colleges took part in the tourney.

This year the Tournament is to be held May 15 on the American Legion Country Club course near Mt. Union.

Fore!!

This is the fifth season for golf here on College Hill and the team have yet to have a losing season. The first season they split in four matches, losing to Bucknell and Western Maryland. That was the only season they lost as many as two matches.

Trojans Sweep Intramural Playoffs; Champs Are Undefeated In Fifteen Games

by Mike Christie

In the intramural basketball league playoffs last weekend, the Trojans swept both the BTO's and YHO's before them as they took the loop crown. They beat the BTO's in the semi-final and the YHO's in the final.

YHO's Beat Bridgers
In gaining a 74-57 win over the Bridgers last Friday night, the YHO's couldn't make a mistake. This game was the first in the semi-final round of the intramural playoffs.

Important in the YHO win was the rebound work of "Pap" Folk and Bill Bolt, who controlled both boards for most of the game.

The YHO's held a five point lead at half time. They then went on to take the game going away, outscoring the Bridgers 35-23 in the last half.

George Newcombe paved the way for the winners with 21 points on ten field goals and a free throw. Bolt netted 19 counters, while John Richman and Folk got 18 and 14 respectively.

4 Trojans Hit Double Figures
Four players scored in double figures to lead the Trojans to a berth in the finals and hand the BTO's a 47-32 defeat.

The Trojans had a big first half, outscoring the losers 22-11. From that point on, the fast-breaking Coach Bill Smaltz called the first informal practice session a couple of weeks ago. Since that first call, many prospects have turned out until today's roster totals 33 men.

Motley Crew Wins Final Tilt; 4 Year Champs

The Motley Crew, undefeated champions in the girls' intramural basketball league, scored their eighth win of the season Tuesday night. They beat the Geiger Gals 18-9.

This was the last game for the team as such as they will all be graduating in June.

Only One Defeat

This has been the fourth year that the team has been the champion. In their four years as a team they have been defeated only once, and that was in their first year.

Seven of the team members have played together for all four years. These include Dolly Schaffer, Cupcake Seese, Betty Snively and Cecil King. All these girls are forwards.

The guards include Doris Harvey, Ruth Kimble and Beanie Roberts.

Three New Members

Forward Vera Compton joined the team last year, while B. J. Kaufman and Nancy Rodgers played with them this year.

Dolly Schaffer was the team's leading scorer and also the league's highest scorer. She scored over 140 points this season.

GOLF

Juniata's golf team, possessors of a nearly perfect record in 1950, will seek to repeat in 1951 as they undertake an 11 match schedule. The team will also take part in two tournaments, the Juniata College Invitational and the Western Maryland Invitational.

The schedule has been slightly changed from last year, with Gettysburg and F & M replacing Western Maryland. Rutgers has also been added.

In 1950, the Indians' only defeat was administered in the JC invitational, as Penn overcame an early Juniata lead to win. Juniata finished in a second place tie with Lehigh.

In regular season play, only a tie with Pitt marred their record. The 1951 schedule:

April

- 11—Dickinson (home)
- 13—Gettysburg (home)
- 16—Geneva (away)
- 17—Westminster (away)
- 21—Pitt (home)
- 24—Dickinson (away)

May

- 1—Albright (home)
- 8—Bucknell (away)
- 11—Rutgers (home)
- 12—JC Invitational
- 18—Johns Hopkins (away)

Frain J Club Head; Wagoner Is V. P.

At the J Club meeting this week new officers were elected to serve for the new year. Also the Club voted to share with the WAA part of the cost of a new whirlpool machine to be put in the new gym as part of the trainer's equipment.

Elected as president was Bob Frain, while Bob Wagoner was elected to the Vice Presidency. Dave LaFevre got the post of Secretary-Treasurer.

Frain earned his J by playing on the tennis team last year and also by being a cheerleader. He is from Downingtown, Pa.

Wagoner, of Johnstown, is a two letterman in football and belonged to the J Club last year.

From Hanover, Pa., LaFevre has earned letters in football and baseball. He also played ball for the junior varsity basketball quintet.

'Firefly' Cast Lauded By Glick

As to the chorus, in addition to resoundingly adequate vocal support, esthetic appeal was not lacking. This ranged from the phantasmagoric delights of the one sex to the chortle-evoking antics of the other—both viscerally satisfying. And when we come to the cast, ah, rapture! Albeit able in each case, one may with complete honesty single out the freshmen contingent as particularly satisfying. Clem Rosenberger as Franz was not out of character once, to my notice. His was the best acting of the operetta, though Fred Stauffer left no valid complaint.

Joy Has It

Joy Truxal, to my mind, has it. Not only can she sing, her acting was convincingly enthusiastic. Her low registers are not fully developed; but her middle and upper middle registers evinced a striking lyric-dramatic quality. If she wants to go into musical comedy and is willing to pay what it costs, she has the equipment to do it.

Clyde Johnson carried his role well, and provided in "A Woman's Smile" some of the most melodious singing of the evening. Helen Rosengren has the sort of voice quality which showed up to best advantage in the "Symphony" duet—and she did a capable acting job in a difficult role.

Hartzel A Favorite

Gerald Hartzel happens to be the favorite male singer on the campus for this reviewer; he did not lose caste Saturday night. Joyce Grove was well-cast as Suzette and gave a convincing performance. There were no miscasts, as a matter of fact. Helen Wentzler as Mrs. Van Dare, Wes Diemer as Pietro, Laura Hollingshead as Sybil and the walk-on parts were capably handled.

Part of the success of the operetta was doubtless due to the care in selection of a vehicle suitable to the available talent and facilities of the College. For this extremely fortunate choice, and indeed for an overall evening of excellent entertainment, much credit is due to director Donald Johnson.

3-Day Program To Climax 75th Year Activities

A "full-dress" anniversary convocation on Tuesday, April 17, will be the highlight of Juniata's three-day observance of its 75th anniversary, April 15-17, according to President Calvert Ellis. Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, has accepted an invitation to present the principal address at the Founder's Day celebration.

This convocation, scheduled for 10:30 a. m. in Oller Hall, will be preceded by an academic procession.

The college is planning to confer honorary degrees on four prominent Juniata alumni as a part of the ceremony.

Dr. Walters is an internationally recognized educator. He is an authority on college and university administration and holder of eight honorary degrees. He has been president of the University of Cincinnati since 1932. Before that time he was dean of Swarthmore College.

His annual statistical analysis of enrollment in American colleges and universities is the standard in the field. It has earned him the title of Statistician Laureate of Higher Education. Largely on the basis of this work, he has been elected to the rank of Fellow in American Association for Advancement of Science.

For three months in 1949, Dr. Walters was on a special education mission in Japan for the army.

Dr. Kiracofe Chosen To Go To NEA Convention In July

Dr. Edgar Kiracofe, chairman of the department of education, has been selected as a delegate to the National Education Association convention in San Francisco, Cal., July 2-6. He will be one of the seven representatives from the Central Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

The Hunter College Arrow defines "diplomatic" as follows:

To say to a homely girl, "Your face would stop a clock," would be insulting but to say to her, "When I look into your eyes, time stands still," would be diplomatic phraseology.

Baking Queen Owes Success To Alumnus

Pennsylvania's 1951 cherry pie baking queen owes thanks to Sarah Gantt, '50, home economics teacher at Newport High School. Miss Gantt's star pupil, Patsy Hower, recently won this title at the state baking contest and presented her "blue ribbon" pie to Gov. John Fine.

While a student here, Miss Gantt was treasurer and vice-president of Lambda Gamma and a member of the college orchestra. Miss Gantt received her degree last August.

Elections Keep Most Clubs Busy; Speakers Slated For Next Week

By DOTTIE HUMMER

Elections have been heading most club agendas this past week in order that all officers will be named before Move-Up Day exercises Wednesday. Speakers are slated for pre-vacation meetings of several campus organizations.

Elections

JCA commission and committee chairmen for the coming year were elected Tuesday night. The four commissions will be headed by Phil Norris, Christian Heritage; Kay Wright, Personal and Campus Affairs; Galen Keeney, Social Responsibility; and Don Bracken, World Relatedness.

Under these four commissions, which are responsible for the over-all policy and program of JCA, are the following committee chairmen: Clem Rosenberger, Bible and Doctrine; Dottie Hummer, Worship; Carole Shoemaker, Evangelism; Sarah Keller, Men-Women Affairs; Galen Frysinger, Christian Vocations; Phyllis Kulp, Recreation.

Ether Weaver, Community Work; Dotti Taylor, Inter-Racial Relationship; Jack Ulsh, Higher Education; Naomi Kulp, Missions; and Herman Pabst, Ecumenical Emphasis.

Officers for the newly combined French and Spanish Clubs were chosen with Virginia Masener presiding as new president; Jack Ulsh, vice-president; and Mary Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

At a recent meeting of the Scalpel and Probe, Earl Dietrich was elected president; Galen Keeney, vice-president; and Phyllis Kuhn, secretary-treasurer.

Bill Carpenter was elected president of the Sigma Gamma at a business meeting recently. Other officers elected were Barbara Warner, vice-president; Clare Nolan, secretary; and Chet Comerger, treasurer.

Helen Maust Plans To Wed

Helen Maust, a sophomore, has announced her engagement to Jack Smith of Myersdale, Pa. Miss Maust, Garrett, Pa., is majoring in home economics; Smith is stationed at Ft. Meade, Md. The wedding date has been set for Easter Sunday, "providing the army co-operates."

Mr. Herbert Miller, an instructor in the business department, will speak to the Tycoon Club Wednesday on the subject of "Stocks and Bonds." The group will meet in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House at 7 p. m.

The Sigma Gamma will hold its regular meeting that same evening. Prof. Alfred Goetschius will speak on the relationship of sociology and psychology.

The IVCF will hold their regular meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. Bill Carpenter will give a report on the pre-ministerial conference which was held at the Colgate Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N. Y. this past weekend. Mr. Carpenter and Rev. David Heim, pastor of the Baptist Church in Huntingdon, attended this meeting.

Last Wednesday evening the Spanish and French Clubs combined as one club and will be considered thus for the coming term. The new club name has not yet been chosen. Miss Amelia Murdoch spoke to the group on "Student Life in Paris," and Dr. George Clemens showed slides on Pinochio.

'Messiah' Selected For June 3 Showing

"The Messiah," famed oratorio by Handel, has been chosen this year for presentation at Commencement June 3.

"We want a chorus of 200," director Charles Rowland has announced. Half of this number is expected to be made up of former choir members returning to campus in answer to a recently mailed postcard request.

As has been the custom in the past, the solo parts in "The Messiah" will be sung by Juniata graduates, "this year going as far back as 1936."

The first rehearsal will be held in Oller Hall March 19 from 7 to 9 p. m. Members of the A Cappella and Chapel Choirs will attend, as will former choir members who live in Huntingdon and nearby.

2nd Charity Ball To Aid Hospital Set For April 14

The second annual Charity Ball for the benefit of the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital is to be held Wednesday, April 4. The ball will be held in the Huntingdon Community Center and will last from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Tickets are $2.50 and may be purchased in the office of the registrar. They may be ordered today and paid for after April 1.

Dress is optional and girls will be given special permission to attend the ball. Those girls who attend are to be back in the dorms at 1 a. m.

Refreshments, Entertainment

Included in the price of the ticket are refreshments, which include turkey and ham sandwiches and a special Hawaiian punch, and entertainment. The entertainment is spotlighted by the Deep River Boys who will perform from 9:30 until 10:15 p. m.

Bill Chronister is the leader of the 10 piece band and Charley Ryan is to be the emcee.

"A vacation in Hawaii is to be the theme. The committees are doing excellent work," says George Kurtz, one of the committeemen. Guests will enter the ball room as though they were leaving a ship.

Hawaiian Atmosphere Prevails

They are then to be greeted by young ladies in grass skirts who will distribute leis as souvenirs. Kurtz says, "a false ceiling made of a Hawaiian moon and stars will add both to the acoustics and setting of the Ball."

Native huts are to be distributed along the dance floor where the dancers may relax between dances. Townsman, playing electric guitars and such, will also perform while the orchestra is resting.

To complete the setting the food will be served on native wooden dishes by girls in grass skirts.

"It is to be a gala affair and we hope the College is well represented," Kurtz commented.

Work, Play Advised For Summer Months

"Make your summer count by studying or working" is the advice in the April issue of "Mademoiselle."

The article points out that there are many opportunities for study in addition to a regular college course. Seminars in world affairs, art, human relations and workshops in theater, writing and music offer possibilities for a summer of study and fun.

There are also many work opportunities these days for the summer vacationing college student. In addition to openings in community service, agriculture, industry and the arts in this country, there are jobs available abroad if application is made early enough. A list of these jobs appears in the April issue of "Mademoiselle."

Saturday Classes Shortened; Lunch To Be Served At 11

Classes will be shortened Saturday to permit students to make train connections. The following schedule will be in effect.

First period—8 to 8:40
Second period—8:45 to 9:25
Third period—9:30 to 10:10
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:55
Lunch will be served at 11.

Larger Alfarata To Be Issued One Week Late

The Alfarata will be issued a week late, according to Quayton Stottlemyer, editor.

Originally scheduled for distribution May 15, the Alfarata will be delayed "partly due to us and partly due to a two week strike at the Canton Engraving Co.," explains Stottlemyer.

This issue will be four pages larger than last year's making a total of 120. It will be an informal picture story of the 75th year at Juniata.

Personnel List Made Available

A student directory, listing the name, class and home address of all students and name, home address and telephone number of faculty members and administrative personnel, will be available for distribution, Monday, April 2.

The directory was formerly published by the YWCA. This year the concessions committee of the Senate turned the project over to men's house committee.

Selling for 25 cents, the directory is printed in larger type than last year's issue. On the heavy, dark blue cover is an engraving of a view of Founder's Hall.

Directory Cover Design

Four hundred copies are being printed. This limited supply will be on sale in front of Student's Hall, April 12. Proceeds go to men's house treasury for improvements to men's dormitories.

Gene Sease and George Cruser are co-chairmen of the student directory committee. Others on the committee, appointed by Bud Kreider, are Bill Bolt, Bob Rhodes, Frank Byers and Barney Plesenski.

Crosby Heads History Dept.

The appointment of Dr. Kenneth Crosby as head of the department of history was announced last week at a meeting of seniors preparing to take comprehensives in that field.

Pickaninnies Won First All Class Night

BY MARJ SEIDEL

A glance into Juniata's of the past reveals that anything from "The Land of Cotton" to "Alfarata's Wigwag" is trophy bait for the annual All Class Night presentation.

This year's performance April 14 will mark the 14th annual All Class Night. Originally presented as All Club Night in which the various clubs competed for the prize, the idea of class competition was originated by the Camp Myler group at Leadership Conference in 1937. These students felt that this activity should be added to the student calendar to take the place of the stunts formerly given at the Halloween party.

And so on Feb. 26, 1938 the first All Class Night was held in the gym. Five dollars and a silver cup were presented to the sophomore class for their "Land of Cotton," in which the co-eds appeared as little pickaninnies.

"Family Album" Wins

As juniors, this first victorious class carried away the trophy again in 1939. This time they presented an old lady paging through

Quartet Will Go East For Tour Next Weekend

The Varsity Quartet, composed of Gerry Hartzel, Whitey Schaffner, Bob Landes and Ben Newcomer, will go on an eastern concert trip next weekend.

The quartet will sing at the Philadelphia Alumni banquet in the Robert Morris Hotel March 31. Pres. Calvert Ellis will be the speaker at the banquet.

On the morning of April 1 the quartet will sing at the Greenlee Church near Philadelphia. A full program will be presented in the evening at the Hatfield Church. In addition to the weekend trip, the quartet is scheduled to take part in the dedication of an addition to the Uniontown Church of the Brethren April 4. Pres. Ellis will speak at the service.

Since its debut at a Lions Club meeting Oct. 1950, the quartet has been providing entertainment for the College and surrounding areas.

Functioning as a part of the a cappella choir, the quartet features such speciality numbers as "The Game Was Played On Sunday" and barber shop songs.

Redenberger, a sophomore, and Schaffner, a senior, are both music majors. Hartzel is a senior business major, while Landes is a freshman pre-dental major.

County Band Festival Set For Oller Hall

Oller Hall has been reserved Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 5-7, for the Huntingdon County Band Festival. Everything ordinarily held in Oller Hall except Chapel will be relocated.

Selected high school students from Huntingdon County schools will present the main concert Saturday evening, April 7 at 8:00 p. m. A concert for students will be given Friday afternoon.

Bridenbaugh, Holsopple Given Staff Promotions

Two freshmen members of the Juniata staff were promoted this week.

Bob Bridenbaugh was named news editor by the editor-in-chief to fill a vacancy created by the promotion of Marj Seidel.

Jim Holsopple was appointed assistant sports editor by Bob Asan, sports editor. Holsopple is acting sports editor this week.

Dr. Raymond Peters

Morning Talk In Stone Church

The Rev. Dr. Raymond R. Peters will be the guest speaker at the 10:30 a. m. worship service in the Stone Church, Sunday, April 15. This service will be the first in a three-day celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of Juniata College.

Bridgewater Graduate

Dr. Peters is a graduate of Bridgewater College and Bethany Biblical Seminary. In addition, he received a master of arts degree from Northwestern University in 1942 and an honorary doctor of divinity from Bethany Biblical Seminary in 1945.

A teacher, pastor, youth worker and church administrator, Dr. Peters has been general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren since 1947. He is also a member of the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches in America, a member of the board of trustees of the International Council of Religious Education, and is currently serving on the General Board of the National Council of Churches.

Council Delegate, 1948

Dr. Peters was a delegate to the First Assembly of the World Council of Churches held in Amsterdam in 1948 and has been a member of the executive committee of the American Member Churches of the World Council since that time.

Radio Committee Chairman To Hand In Resignation

Betty Longwell, recently elected chairman of general activities, will hand in her resignation as chairman of the radio committee at the next Senate meeting, she says. The Senate will then appoint a new chairman to head this committee.

Dr. John Peters

Ex Huntingdon Pastor To Speak In Evening

To climax the Anniversary Sunday program, April 15, a community-wide worship service will be held in Oller Hall at 7:30 p. m. The guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. John Thompson Peters, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Huntingdon.

Native of Philipsburg

A native of Philipsburg, Pa., Dr. Peters was graduated from Lafayette College in 1931 and received his theological training at Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, where he received the STB degree (bachelor of Sacred Theology) in 1934. He studied and traveled abroad and was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Edinburgh.

Before serving in the Huntingdon Church, Dr. Peters was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in McVeytown. After leaving Huntingdon, he became the pastor of the Westside Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. There he became widely known for his interest in the promotional and stewardship phases of church work.

General Council Secretary

He was elected promotional secretary of the General Council at Buffalo in 1949. At that time he was serving as president of the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

Dr. Peters returned in December, 1950 from an extended tour of Korea. He toured North and South Korea as a representative of the Church World Service and other interdenominational agencies in the interests of relief needs.

University Of Oslo Offers Scholarship

An all expense scholarship to the summer session of University of Oslo will be granted an American student. His main interest must be economics, and he must have at least two years of undergraduate work.

This scholarship, known as the Norwegian American Line Scholarship, will cover the expenses of transportation, board, room, tuition and excursion fees.

Special emphasis of the curriculum is Norwegian culture. Students can earn six semester credits for the six weeks course.

The summer session will be held June 23 to Aug. 4. Candidates should make application to Dean Nordstrand, Oslo Summer School for American Students, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Next Career Conf. Is Apr. 7

The next career conference for sub-fresh will be held April 7. It will be for those interested in history, psychology, sociology and pre-ministerial.

From The Editor's Notes:---

OVERSET: Odds And Ends

● IT WAS AT breakfast early this week, and two freshmen were kicking around the history of the separation of Church and State. Then one of them commented, in reference to America, "You know, today we might better speak of the separation of God and State." We never thought of it that way. If you can believe the history books, it looks as though man started out with the fear that the Church wasn't going to let him think for himself... and then proceeded to think himself into a mess.

● TOO BAD final exams cut Move-Up Day short. We missed the annual opportunity to sing our favorite verses of the Alma Mater—the ones that go "Da dum de dum de dum..."

● FOR THOSE who asked: those little black books the retiring Senators passed to their successors Wednesday are portfolios of office. They contain vital statistics on who to see for what, a list of job duties and some general hints. Very handy, when kept up to date by each Senator.

● "HOW TO PREPARE for and Take Final Exams" is, we note, the subject of a fresh orientation meeting at Westminster University. When we consider how often we've heard (and uttered) the plaint, "I never learned how to study," we wonder at the short-sightedness of modern education. The art of studying, like spelling and grammar, should be tools at the command of every student long before he reaches college level. But they aren't. We'll sound off on this subject again, after we've looked into the possibilities of doing something about it.

● AND THEN, every year, we hear students following this train of logic: "Juniata is a Christian College; Good Friday (today) is a Holy day; therefore Juniata should recognize this day is some special manner." But there's the rub—a very carefully laid out calendar very carefully terms it "Spring" vacation, and the Easter season goes officially unrecognized. It's just a comment on student thinking... but does the logic department need investigating?

(We should add here that the dean of men is issuing excuses for system. "Friday and Saturday when he is 'convinced that a student is sincere and actually intends to spend the time in religious observance.'" He adds that this is a matter on which no faculty policy has been set.)

● CONTRARY to what a lot of us have always figured, there is no such thing at Juniata as either a "major" or a "minor." The official terminology is "field of concentration." This is the division of studies in which you earn 40 hours or more. Of this number, 18 must be in one department (say history in division II), six in another department in the same division, and finally, six in a different division. The object of this system is to prevent over-specialization. If uncertain, your best bet would probably be to check with the registrar's office to make sure you're fulfilling the requirements.

Letters To The Editor

Chides Anonymous Authors

In a letter to the editor last week, the students of this College were chided for their allegedly selfish motives during the recent JWSF campaign. I have two suggestions to offer to the author of this missive:

The failure of the student body to meet its quota in that drive indicates that social pressure did little to influence contributions. Isn't it likely that a number of students did contribute out of altruistic motives?

Criticism by one who prefers to remain anonymous loses much of its force. Such criticism, it seems to me, gives the impression that its author dislikes to associate himself with his beliefs. Perhaps it would be better to be guided by Thomas Jefferson, who, "preserved through life a resolution... never to write in a public paper without subscribing my name."

Jack Baldrige

Keim Tells Of 'Ft. Cesspool'

(Editor's note: the following letter was sent to Jay Benedict by a former Senate member called to the service early this year when his reserve unit was reactivated. He enclosed a generous JWSF contribution.)

"How goes it?" I imagine you are concerned at present with thoughts of mid-terms, finals and comps. I'm greener with envy.

Having contributed exactly nothing to the "police action" cause at present, my spirit, you can readily understand is very low...

Our mother unit, the 11th Airborne Division, is apparently not scheduled for overseas movement until later in the year so we continue to fight the battle of Ft. "Cesspool." Walter Winchell is reputed to have said: "If your son is in Korea write to him, if he is in Ft. Campbell pray for him."

Actually it is normal stateside duty. Training, training and then a little more training. My present outfit is noted for its famous, or logistically speaking—infamous—jump on Corregidor...

"Give her a go"

Bob Keim
(Keim's newest address is Sgt. Robert Keim ER 13217754, Sv. Co. 503 Abn. Inf. Regt., Ft. Campbell, Ky.)

Spring—Grad Gets Lyrical

(Editor's note: this letter was originally addressed to Prof. S. Earl Dubbel by a former editor of the Juniatian.)

Spring is on the way. It may not seem so up there but he is already sending his advance guards through here (Ft. Jackson, S. C.), washing down the skies with early morning showers and turning the wool Army shirt into a coat of chain mail in the noon-day heat.

The mocking bird spends the day in the tall pines cooing the bright green cones further into the light, while the peepers in the swamps seem bent on bringing pleasant memories to a Juniatian every night...

The Army has finally put me into newspaper work and I guess I am as happy here as I would be anywhere else in the service. I am in charge of sports on the Ft. Jackson Journal, now circulating 13,000 copies...

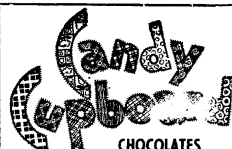

... Best wishes to those seniors taking their comprehensives in English.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by BIBLER

"Well we've simply got to flunk someone! Get me a list of the students who are taking this course as an elective."

Spectator: Vacations Are Fun (It Says Here!)

by Ray Siren

This offering reaches you at a most glorious time of the school year, the eve of a vacation. Herein are presented a few words of advice and a few passing thoughts as regards this vital subject.

To those of you who have not as yet completed your packing, (I've been ready for weeks) this admonition: don't waste valuable luggage space by taking along your books and notes. Believe me, they'll do you no good. I've never known of any student using them except to prove to his parents that their money was spent as promised.

They Won't Be Stolen!

And don't worry about having them stolen while you're gone—anyone who would steal textbooks would probably return them anyway after reading the first few lines.

To most of us who eat and sleep in campus edifices, vacation means relaxation and overall rehabilitation. Three square meals a day and a nice, soft innerspring are my plans for the coming week, although April 2 will probably signify the end of a spend-thrift, exhausting and frustrating week, as is usually the case.

Now that mid-terms are over and one can sit back and relax, the vacation will probably be spent worrying about mid-term marks and whether the old man will see fit to reward you with a new spring outfit or a cash outlay.

No Grades This Vacation

In this respect, your vacation will not be as dismal as some since grades aren't coming out 'till after your return. Nevertheless, it may be wise to make a few select rationalizations or excuses in the case that those tests that you had "wired" were short-circuited somewhere along the line.

Well, enjoy yourselves, and come back smiling, sober and single.

POLITICAL PULL—The college has connections in the state house at Harrisburg. Raymond Sollenberger, dean of men last year and present state representative, has gotten license plates bearing the letters JC for all the faculty here. CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN—Prof. Glick, one of 12 children, was asked the other day if democracy reigned at his home as it did in the Galbreath ("Cheaper By The Dozen") home. He replied, "Anarchy would have been a better word!"

Softball, Tennis Spring Sports Being Planned

April will see the Spring intramural sports program swing into action with organized softball, tennis and ping pong slated. "There is also the possibility that a wrestling tournament will be added to the enlarged agenda," declared Bob Asan, newly elected senate chairman of athletics.

Two Softball Sections

Plans were announced this week for the formation of a College Hill softball league similar to the one which operated last year. Two sections are to be formed, with an equal number of teams in each section.

Each team will play each of the other teams in its division twice, with a "World Series" at the end of the season. This will be between the pennant-winning club in each league and will decide the intramural championship. The teams will be allowed to play exhibition games.

Possible Tennis Tournament

Possibilities for a tennis tournament are being investigated. "In all probability it will be held, most likely with men's and women's singles and doubles and also mixed doubles," Asan commented. The ping pong tournament will probably follow this same pattern.

Wrestling may fill out the program. It is hoped that competition will be held and that this sport will become an annual event.

To Juniata's Sports Fans,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who voted me into office. It is quite an honor and I will do my best to represent you.

To that effect, I would like to know what you want in the way of athletics, both intramural and intercollegiate. I am to represent you on the Faculty Athletic Council and it is my job to bring your desires to the attention of those persons who are in a position to do something.

If your demand is reasonable, let me know what you want and I'll do my best to have something done about it.

Student Coordinators To Lead Interclass Meet

A representative from each of the four classes will be selected to lead their respective class teams in the Interclass Track Meet, according to Bob Asan, Senate Chairman of Athletics.

It will be the duty of these persons to coordinate their teams and see that practice and competition are carried out in an orderly manner.

New Gym To Be Finished By June

Construction work on the new Memorial Gymnasium will be completed either the latter part of May or the first of June, stated Mr. Kenneth Glasgow, superintendent for the firm working on the project.

Mr. Glasgow declared that no difficulties are being met at the present time and that work is being hurried in order to have the job completed as soon as possible.

Not Ready For Founders' Day

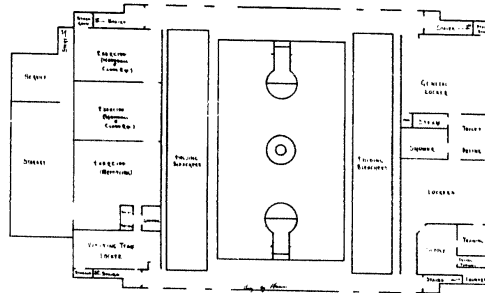

When asked if there was any chance that construction would be finished by Founders' Day, April 17, Mr. Glasgow replied that this was hardly likely.

Fitted with all the latest equipment and facilities, the new gym will have a floor space almost seven times as large as that of the present structure. Erected in 1902, this old building will become the women's gymnasium.

Included on the mezzanine level of the building will be two basketball courts, each measuring 84 by 34 feet. On the main level will be an standard size floor, 95 feet long and 50 wide.

Indoor Track

Also on the mezzanine level will be found facilities for such varied sports as volleyball, tennis and badminton and handball. An indoor track measuring 11 laps to the mile will also be located on the mezzanine.

Drawing by Asan

The plan for the ground floor of the new Memorial Gymnasium.

Downstairs will be found two classrooms, which may also be used as handball courts. There will also be an exercise room containing wrestling mats and all types of wall apparatus.

Dressing rooms and the trainer's offices are also located on the first floor.

Administrative offices will be located off the Memorial Lobby.

1200 Seating Capacity

At present, plans call for bleachers to be erected on only the main floor, giving the gym a seating capacity of about 1200. Other bleachers will be added on the mezzanine later.

An innovation is the two-phase lighting system for the main floor. Twenty candlepower lighting will be used under ordinary circumstances, 50 during games. This light is bright enough to permit the taking of indoor movies.

Seventeen Games On Baseball Schedule

The Indians have scheduled 17 baseball games for the coming season.

Compilers of a 7-6 record last year, the Indians will hope to better this mark in 1951.

Relatively few letter winners are returning, but it is hoped that enough freshmen talent will report to build a successful team.

Eight home games will be played on the schedule which is:

Juniata Wins First Ballgame; Beats Petersburg

by Jim Holsopple

"June tenth . . . the new field was ready to play on and on that day a game was played with the Petersburg team. Everyone was anxious that our team should win the first game played on our own grounds, and at three-thirty on the afternoon of the above date nearly all the students were ready to help by their presence and cheering. The score—Juniata 10, Petersburg, 2—tells the tale of the first game."

The above quotation from the Juniata Echo of June, 1899, is the first record we have of intercollegiate sports on the JC campus. In the 52 years since the Petersburg game, the Juniata baseball squad has amassed a record of 255 wins, 213 losses, and two ties for an overall percentage of .543.

Early Intramurals

Even before 1899 there was an informal student organization which roughly corresponded to the intramural program of today. It was not until 1904 that the record really becomes clear. In that year the team played a seven game schedule which included such opponents as Susquehanna University, which will play here April 25.

These early teams did not employ coaches. At that time there was no athletic fee, and the administration was not enthusiastic about appropriating money for such frivolities as baseball. Uniforms were not worn, and team equipment was bought with money obtained by a collection on the front campus.

As a remedy for a poor season in 1905 it was suggested by an anonymous writer in the Echo that more men should turn out, and that they should take the game more seriously.

Pitcher Jailed

That there was a shortage of players may be seen when, in one contest, it was necessary to get the Indians' only pitcher out of jail to play a game. The reason why he was there in the first place is not mentioned.

Since those early days sports at Juniata have grown into a major college activity. All of which goes to show that with an enviable record behind them, the 1951 Indians have every reason to have a successful Jubilee season.

Hollinger To Captain '51 Tennis Squad

At a meeting held Monday evening, Ray Hollinger, Westminster, Md. senior, was elected captain of the Juniata netmen for the 1951 season.

Hollinger succeeds Steve Finckel, who gained a letter while playing as captain last year.

Team positions are being determined through ladder playoffs, which began Wednesday.

Harriers To Compete In Seven Match Slate

Juniata's cindermen will engage in a seven meet schedule this year. All contests have been scheduled for foreign tracks.

Shippensburg has been added to the harriers' slate for 1951, which will include four dual meets and a triangular contest as well as participation in the Penn Relays and Middle Atlantics.

The team will be seeking to better last year's record of only two wins as they open their schedule on April 17.

the junior skit "Bright Future." It seems that lip went to sleep at the beginning of the war and was awakened only after it was all over. With songs and interspersed dialogues, eight young couples soon convinced him there was a bright new world opening in which peace and prosperity would reign supreme.

The class of '48 rounded out their college careers as two time winners of All Class Night (1947-'48, first with "Birth of a Nation," a passionate plea for world unity, and then with "Fantasy," a skit of familiar story book characters such as B. G. Bunny, the Seven Dwarfs and Old King Cole.

Seniors Win In '49

Upperclassmen can probably well remember the seniors' winning skit, "That Whosoever Be- lieveth," in 1949. With a background of word organ music, a narrator spoke while the cast appeared as luminous still life figures. Excellent lighting effects added to this skit's originality.

All Class Night reached another milestone last year when the first freshman class in the history of the tradition won the trophy. In a hammed-up sketch of the history of J.C., the frosh (now sophs) presented "Alfarata's Wigwag," a mixture of fact and fiction.

And now for the $64 question—who will walk away with the All Class Night trophy the night of April 14—'51, '52, '53, or '54?

'Draft Women.' Says WAVE

"Why doesn't somebody do something about drafting women?" asks Mildred McAfee Horton, quartet head of WAVE.

In her article, "Why Not Draft Women?" in the February issue of Ladies' Home Journal, Mrs. Horton proposed that it would be better for the nation to draw from the 16 million young men and women of draft age rather than try to fill our military needs from the eight million men.

"Nobody who knows anything about military life seriously contemplates making the Army or Navy—and certainly not the Marine Corps—into 50-50 co-educational organizations. The main business of military services is combat, and women should be noncombatants."

Local Music Group To Be Here April 13

The annual program of the Huntingdon music club will be presented Tuesday, April 3 at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Composed entirely of local talent, the women's chorus and the VFW octet will sing separately and combined. Soloists will be Phyllis Henry, soprano and Edward Zimmerman, bass.

Prof. Donald Johnson will play the organ. Eleanor Banks will accompany the women's chorus and Carl Grove, the VFW octet.

Library Features C. C. Ellis Book

In observance of the Easter season, the Library has been featuring the book "His Days and Ours" by the late C. C. Ellis, father of Pres. Calvert Ellis.

Published in 1946, the book had its origin several years before. Dr. Ellis had conducted a week of Lenten services in Elgin, Ill. His sermons met with such favor that many persons suggested he put the messages into more permanent form in order that they might reach a larger audience.

Rev. J. E. Miller of Elgin, Ill., who is largely responsible for encouraging the author in this work, says in the introduction, "Books, like dinners, are often spoiled because of what was not left out. He knows when to begin, when to stop and how to pack the middle."

Written in chapters for every day of Holy Week from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday, the book presents "the author's ripest thinking concerning the facts and practical implications for us of the last momentous days in the earthly life of our Lord."

Dr. Ellis stated his purpose thus: "As we go through this time segment of days and weeks preceding Easter dawn, let us try to find in them the special strength

ON THE AGENDA

2 Clubs To Hear Students Speak

By DOTTIE HUMMER

The Alpha Beta Gamma and the Sigma Gamma have meetings scheduled for the week following Spring vacation.

Students who have just completed student teaching will relate some of their experiences to the Alpha Beta Gamma at the regular meeting to be held in Room B, Apr. 4 at 7 p. m. A trip to the Huntingdon Kindergarten and Nursery is scheduled for the future.

The Sigma Gamma will hold their regular meeting that same evening. "Bobby" Warner will speak to the group, relating her summer experience while employed in a mental institution.

The new Masque leaders were recently elected, with Phyllis Link chosen president; John Long, vice-president; Miriam Barnes, secretary; and Carrie Lot, Greene, treasurer. The club will hold a business meeting Thursday after our return, at which time they will discuss the initiating of Masquers into the new honorary club within the group. A dinner will be included on the agenda.

Bob Hatla was chosen to head the Chemistry Club for the new term. Ray Siren for vice-president and Carol Shoemaker for secretary-treasurer. It was noted that their regular meeting has been postponed until April 18 due to the seminar field trip scheduled for the first week in April.

The IVCF chose Fred Stauffer as their new president; Bill Carpenter, vice-president; Gene Seese, missionary secretary; and Marjorie Alteman, treasurer.

Hotdogs are sold nightly in the men's dorm under the Outing Club concession. Harvey Miller was elected as new president of this club; Kay Wright, vice-president; Bangs Keller, secretary; and Miriam Smith, treasurer.

With Ginny Tyson heading the group, the WAA has also chosen Ginny Yohn, vice-president; Dottie Taylor, secretary, and "Bobby" Warner, treasurer.

The FTA named John Malenke to head their group, with Janet Boland as vice-president and Shirley Nell, secretary-treasurer. "Place of Religion in the Vocations" will be the subject of the fourth JCA weekend conference, April 8.

Five men representing medicine, law, business, music and education have been secured. A panel discussion will be followed by open discussion.

New Co-op Plan To Aid Pre-Med Technology Men

A plan similar to the Carnegie Tech 3-2 Plan is now available for students interested in going to a school of medical technology. After taking three years of college work at Junia, a student may go on to a school of medical technology for a year or more and receive at the end of that time a college degree.

Requires Junior Year

In commenting on this new program of study, Dean Morley Mays pointed out that Junia students have in the past gone on to professional study in medical technology after two years of college work. The new plan requires the junior year of college work and enables a student to qualify for a college degree at the end of the training period in medical technology. The student would also qualify to take the examination to become a registered technologist.

Under the new plan, a student will complete all of Junia's requirements for graduation, except the senior year residence requirement. At the same time, the student will complete all of the professional courses in science and other fields required by the schools of medical technology.

To Qualify

In order to qualify for a degree from Junia a student will be expected to select a school approved by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Association.

A medical technologist, Dean Mays pointed out, is a clinical technician performing laboratory tests in hospitals, medical research laboratories, public health clinics and the offices of private physicians. The technologist usually works with a pathologist, who is a physician, directing laboratory procedures in a hospital.

JCA To Hold Panel Discussion Sunday

"The Place of Religion in the Vocations" will be the theme of a JCA sponsored panel discussion to be held in Founders Chapel Sunday evening at 8:45.

The panel, headed by Dr. Kenneth Crosby, will be composed of well-known leaders in five fields of endeavor.

Representing the business profession will be Ray English; medicine, Dr. J. N. Keichline; music, Prof. Jack Brammer; education, D. Raymond Sollenberger; and law, Richard Linton. Each panel member will speak on the place of religion in his vocation after which a discussion period will be held. Refreshments will be served.

Concert Tickets Cost $1

Students will not be able to use their activity tickets for the Huntingdon County Band Concert.

A program is being given for county students this afternoon. Admission for Saturday evening's performance will be $1.00.

Graduate Record Exam Will Be Given May 4, 5

Students who anticipate taking the Graduate Record Examination May 4 and 5 should file their applications with the Princeton office of the Educational Testing Service before April 20, according to an announcement by Dean Morley Mays.

Application blanks for all who wish to take the examination will be available in the office of Dean Mays sometime next week.

75th Anniversary Forum Is Scheduled For April 16

"The Program of the Liberal Arts College for Our Time" will be the theme of a forum to be held in Oller Hall, April 16 at 8:30 p. m. As a part of the program commemorating the 75th anniversary, the forum will be led by Prof. Mark Van Doren of Columbia University and Prof. Alonzo Myers of New York University.

20 Members Of Faculty, Staff To Be Honored

Tonight in the Faculty Club Junia College will honor 20 members of its faculty and staff who have given 10 or more years of service to the College. The ceremonies will be part of the College's 75th anniversary observance. Each of the 20 will receive a citation read by a colleague and a gift presented by the College.

even of the 20 members have given a quarter of century of service to Junia. These are Miss Lillian Evans, Prof. J. Clyde Stayer, Prof. Charles Rowland, Mrs. Anna Groninger Smith, Prof. S. Earl Dubbel, Miss Margaret McCrimmon and Prof. Paul Yoder.

Other members of the present faculty who have given two decades of service or more include Prof. Jack Oller, Dr. Homer Will, Pres. Calvert Ellis, Prof. Harry Nye and Prof. P. M. Snider.

The remaining eight members who have served the College more than 10 years but less than 20 are Dr. Donald Rockwell, Dr. Harold Binkley, Miss Gertrude Butler, Miss Francis Mathias, Harold Brumbaugh, Dean Edith Spencer, Mrs. Luella Fogelsanger Rowland and Dr. Edgar Kiracofe.

JCA, Tycoon Club Schedule Meetings

"Christianity and Education" will be discussed by Dean Morley Mays at the JCA meeting Tuesday evening. This meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in Founders Chapel.

The Tycoon Club will hold their regular meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. A business representative from Huntingdon will speak to the group.

Summer Bulletins Available

Students planning to take Summer term courses at institutions other than Junia must file a request for a certificate of clearance with the office of the registrar.

This office has all copies of Summer bulletins for some colleges and universities which are available on request.

Chapel Speakers Are Listed

Dr. Edgar Kiracofe will be the Chapel speaker Monday, Prof. G. Wayne Glick will speak Wednesday and Pres. Calvert Ellis, Friday.

Test, Grades Are Criteria For Student Deferments

New College Plan Is Expected To Keep 'Hundreds Of Thousands' Out Of Draft

Last Saturday, March 31, President Truman issued an order which provides for the deferment of college students on the basis of present scholastic standing or their score in a national aptitude test.

Prior to this order college students were guaranteed only the completion of their current year plus a 30 day period in which either to gain employment in essential industry or choose the branch of service most desirable. Under this plan some 1,000,000 college men were eligible for induction. It is felt, however, that the new plan will defer hundreds of thousands.

Grade Yet To Be Decided

The responsibility of determining just what the deferment grade shall be and how many shall be deferred lies in the hands of Selective Service Director, Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey. Hershey's comment on this is that "the standards of the two criteria would be raised or lowered to either increase or diminish the number of students in training, as the national interest may require."

Shortly after the White House announcement, Hershey announced that aptitude tests would be given in 1,000 centers throughout the nation and its territories. The tests will be given May 26, June 16 and June 30 by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Junia Is Testing Center

Dean Morley Mays has announced that Junia College has been designated as one of the 57 Pennsylvania centers for the test. It will be given on campus by the Princeton Testing Service on the specified dates and will be supervised by the College. The Testing Service has set up the testing center in Huntingdon for the purpose of serving Junia College students and those from surrounding areas. The Service has not yet specified the "surrounding areas."

As to the type of test to be given, it will be a multiple choice type dealing with the fields of natural and social sciences and the humanities. It is primarily designed to test: ability to read and (See Deferments—Page 4)

Goetschius Is Granted Year Leave Of Absence

Prof. Alfred Goetschius, head of the department of psychology, has been granted a one year leave of absence effective at the end of the present term.

He has been taking graduate work at Pennsylvania State College where he needs a year of residence to complete his work for a Ph. D. in psychology.

FOR SUB-FRESHMEN

Career Weekends Began Last Year

BY RUTH REID

The career conference for this weekend is planned for sub-freshmen interested in sociology, psychology, history and pre-ministerial studies.

A Saturday afternoon program for the prospective students is being planned by the Sigma Gamma. The remainder of their time will be spent in attending classes and joining in other college activities.

Program Began Last Year

It was just last year that the career conference program was extended to make available special conferences in each field of study. Until that time, only one day each year was allotted for this purpose.

Harold Brumbaugh, the person responsible for the extended program, attends several conferences each year to learn the ideas of other people concerned with admissions and public relations work. Most colleges have only one conference day or weekend each year.

Mr. Brumbaugh Gets Ideas

While returning by train from a conference in Boston last year, it occurred to Mr. Brumbaugh that it would be much better to have several conferences.

Under the new program the sub-freshman can talk to people in the department in which he is interested and get the advice of the professors concerning his own plans. He also has the advantage of spending a weekend on the campus, living in the dorms, eating in the dining hall and participating in the various activities.

Testing Program, Big Help

Junia carries on an extensive testing program, sending representatives to many high schools. The resultant list of prospective college students and their interests, plus personal interviews, enables the administration to find students who know JC is the school they want. This also enables the College to choose students who will benefit most from college work.

Last year Mr. Brumbaugh was in charge of the career conference program, while this year it is under the direction of Dean Melvin Rhodes. Both years Kay Wright has been student coordinator.

Dr. Crosby Is Re-elected As Senate Advisor

Dr. Kenneth Crosby, assistant professor of history, was elected by the Senate to serve as faculty advisor to that group for the year 1951-52. This will be his second consecutive year in that capacity.

A graduate of Wilmington and Haverford Colleges, Dr. Crosby received his Ph. D. from George Washington University. He has also done graduate study at the University of Havana. A native of Ohio, he came to Junia in Sept., 1948.

At the Senate meeting Monday night, the members of next year's freshman court were appointed. According to Jack Rothenberger, chairman of underclassmen, they are Janet Boland, Jo Chiodi, Ginny Tyson, Barbara Warner, Bill Carpenter, Chet Gomeringer, Galen Keeney, Bob Learn, Jody Stegman, Nancy Stevens, Dot Taylor, Frank Jarrett, Pat Morello and Gene Sease.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby

Also at this meeting Betty Longwell officially resigned as radio committee chairman. After receiving several recommendations from the retiring chairman, the Senate elected Margie Alleman and Bob Champion as co-chairmen of the committee.

Chem Club Goes On Annual Field Trip

The Industrial Chemistry Club, under the supervision of Dr. Raymond Davis and Dr. Norman Rockwell, headed for points west Tuesday morning for their annual field trip.

During the four day trip the club is visiting, among other plants, the Donora Zinc Works and the Westinghouse Electric Co., to see how the theory learned in lab is applied in industry.

The 13 students on the trip will leave Webster Hall, their base of operations, sometime today and arrive back at the College tonight.

Choir Will Leave Sunday For Third Weekend Trip

The a cappella choir will be away from College Hill Sunday. On this third weekend trip since returning from the winter tour, Prof. Charles Rowland's group will again present its concert of sacred music.

Full programs will be sung in churches at Mifflinburg, Esby and Bloomsburg. One more Sunday trip remains on the schedule.

JUNIATA: A Look At Its Departments Cineviewer

Madame Scuttlebut and Dame Rumor have been active here this week. Latching onto the story that Prof. Alfred Goetschius was to leave at the end of this term (see story on page 1), these misinterpreters soon had it whispered up to campus-shaking proportions. By Wednesday the story had grown to "They're going to abolish the whole psych department!"

This was the background for a list of questions we asked the administration.

Q. Is psychology to be dropped for financial or other reasons?

A. Pres. Ellis said "No." We must offer at least three advanced psychology courses next year, and we will. Members of our present staff will probably teach the mind course, and we expect to get someone from off campus, perhaps Penn State, to teach the rest. We do not intend to drop any department for any reason.

Q. Why allow the only man in that department to leave then?

A. "As a general rule," Morley Mays, dean of the College, said, "we want to have at least one Ph D man in each department, preferably as chairman." According to the President, it was for this reason that various professors, the latest being Mr. Goetschius, are offered a chance to take a year's leave of absence to complete their work for this degree.

Q. Part of the trouble in this case seems to be that the man leaving is the only one in that department. Does this prove that some departments are undermanned?

A. Both Pres. Ellis and Dean Mays agreed that no department here is understaffed.

Q. Why is it so important that department chairmen be Ph D men?

A. These men help set up the academic program of their departments, help decide on courses to be offered, assist in determining faculty replacements, and help settle academic problems in their departments. A major duty is to serve as chairman of their respective comprehensive boards. This means they must arrange the time and place for each oral exam, set up the test in their department, and attend the oral question session for each senior in their department.

From The Editor's Note...

● EXTRA-CURRICULAR isn't the word for it any more, news bureau director Bill Engel says. High school officials are now calling them "co-curricular activities." They feel that putting out a student newspaper or batting a tennis ball is education too, for several reasons: (1) They teach how to deal with people. Lectures and tests will never do that. (2) They offer a means of relaxation. "This is a definite need of the modern student, often under high pressure though profs won't admit it. (3) They sometimes teach more practical knowledge in less time about student's life interest than his courses can. It's about time, we say.

Q. How many of the department chairmen have their Ph D degrees?

A. There are 17 department chairmen; half that number have their degree. In addition, there are four faculty members with Ph D's who are not chairmen, three in Division III, one in division I. There are 43 teaching members of the faculty.

(Next week this report on the academic structure of Juniata will be continued. Part 2 will study finance and the old question of "Science Hall vs. Students Hall.")

STAR SPANGLED BANNER—Shortly before vacation someone made an addition to the flag pole after the flag had been put up. Flying below "Old Glory" were some dainty unmentionables.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—About 12:30 a. m. on the night before vacation, the girls on 3rd Founders got hungry. In order to get some food they stood on the steps and chorally pleaded with Miss Jane McCormick, acting dean of women. In self-defense she let them get the food.

LOCKSMITH—When Peg Barrington closed the library before supper the other day she mistakenly locked in Edie Shirey and Harry Koehlin. They were rescued sometime later by Miss Lillian Evans, head librarian.

"THE MATING SEASON"

starring
Gene Tierney & John Lund

by Frank Harlacher

THE MATING SEASON

From the title and even after you begin to view this new Paramount picture you are not sure whether it is a simple love story or comedy. The latter, you will discover is definitely the case.

Mother-in-law trouble is the topic, but you will find that the old story has a few new twists which put it a step above the common run. The young couple involved are Gene Tierney (rich girl) and John Lund (engineer put through college by his mother). Mother (Miriam Hopkins) wants Gene to marry well and John is not her idea of well.

The comedy begins when John's mother (Thelma Ritter) enters the household as cook without revealing her identity to the little woman. Thelma really has her troubles and in solving them steals the show. This doubtless mother-in-law problem is a fast moving and spine-tickling movie which promises to be very entertaining. Grand Theatre.

THREE GUYS NAMED MIKE

—To those ambitious females who have high hopes of playing nursemaid to a bunch of airsick passengers while winging into the wild blue yonder, this picture is dedicated.

In this movie MGM not only gives us a birdseye view of how an air hostess is trained and the things she goes through, but also weaves in a four cornered triangle which proves to be quite hilarious.

You could hardly come out with anything but a comedy when you present a story which has three males (Van Johnson, Barry Sullivan, Howard Keel), all bearing the name of "Mike" chasing one little defenseless airline hostess (Jane Wyman).

Just how defenseless she is and how she sends two of them into tail spins and goes soaring off into the sky with the "lucky boy" remains for the movie to disclose. Clifton Theatre.

Indian Scalps Sports Stars Named

by Bob Asan

Bill Engel's brainchild, the Juniata Sports Hall of Fame, is going over big with the voting alumni. And, more recently, former J winners and area sports writers are being polled to find the most outstanding men in Juniata's all-time all-sports history.

Two years ago, J. Clyde Stayer, Jack Oller, Mike Snider and Harold Brumbaugh proposed a tentative ballot. Since then, 44 men have been named on the ballot.

The last ballots were sent out early this spring and results are expected before too long. A list of five or six winners will be named before June.

We'd like to see this become permanent and see these men gain recognition in the new gym. To this effect, we'd like to suggest a system similar to that used by the Baseball Writers of America.

Students on campus would nominate the five or six best athletes of the year, each year. These names would then be put on a list and when a period of time, say five years, has elapsed, sent out to the alumni and letter winners to vote on.

A certain percentage of the votes cast would be needed by any candidate for election. Those not elected would be held for the next ballot.

It's a swell idea, this thing of Bill's. Now, what do you as student think of it. Let me know and we'll see if something can be done about it.

Athlete Par Excellence

Leading the balloting for Juniata's all-time sport great is Danny Geiser, '39. He, along with B. J. "Fuzzy" Andrews, '31 and Hardy Engle, '23, has polled more than 20 votes from the 43 ballots that have been received by Mar. 1.

Mike Devonan has gathered about ten votes, while Holmes Ush and Squeeze Long has picked up two and one respectively.

From Indian To Indian

Jo Shaute, also in the running for all-time great honors, has represented Juniata in the major leagues. He pitched for JC in the spring of 1922. Then he stepped into a major league uniform for the Cleveland Indians.

He stuck with the Indians for eight years and then moved into the National League and pitched for the Dodgers for three more seasons.

His biggest moment, according to Shaute, came when he struck out Babe Ruth twice as a relief worker in the Polo Grounds in his first major league appearance.

Indians To Open Diamond Season Squad To Face Indiana State Here Tomorrow

by Bob Asan

Tomorrow's game against Indiana STC will mark the opener of the 48th diamond season on College Hill. It is the first of a 17 game schedule.

Bad weather has hampered the squad somewhat so that it would be difficult to name a definite starting line-up. However, some idea may be given concerning the men in the running for starting berths.

Definite starters include George Kensingner behind the bat, Ray Tesi at first base and Joe Hulgus in the outfield.

Schetrompf Utility Starter
George "Duke" Schetrompf will also start, but exactly where remains to be seen. Says Bill Smaltz, Indian coach, "Schetrompf will start, but I'm not sure of exactly where." Schetrompf plays any of the infield spots.

Second base is a toss-up, with Dave Hackett and Ken Leonard in the running. Hackett played some last year, while Leonard is a freshman.

Karl Park has been playing shortstop with Schetrompf as the number two contender.

Third base has been in the hands of Fran Zimmerman. Back of Zimmerman are Schetrompf and Bob Simon. All these men are fair hitters and will no doubt see action before the season ends.

Outfield Is A Problem
The biggest problem is the outfield. "Our fast men aren't hitters and our hitters aren't fast men," says Smaltz. "To remedy this lack of speed, we might use some pitchers in the outfield." Joe Hulgus is a letterman outfielder and will probably start in right. The other two spots are wide open.

Among the outfield candidates are Mike Mervis, Harry Martin and Phil Chabody. Any of the following men may get the nod if these first three fail to come through: Fred Hamor, Tom McNeal, Schetrompf, Jack Dickey, Ed Feldkircher or Tom Green.

Hamor Ordinarily A Catcher
Hamor is a long ball hitter who ordinarily is a catcher. "But," according to Smaltz, "the only way he'll replace Kensingner is if George breaks a finger. Hamor is fast and may develop into one of our better fielders."

McNeal has been working in the outfield since practice began and is a steady fielder. Schetrompf may get his chance in the outfield to take advantage of his speed and hitting ability.

The starting pitcher won't be known until he strolls to the mound. Right now, the best bet is Dave LeFevre, sophomore southpaw. LeFevre won three games last year and led the team in batting.

Linkmen, Tennis Squad To Face Dickinsonians

Juniata's crack golf team will be attempting to lengthen its winning streak while the Indian tennis team will be out to bring an end to a long losing skien when each takes on the Dickinson Red Devils on April 11.

The golfers will face the Dickinsonians at the local country club, while the tennis men will travel to Carlisle.

The golf match will begin a long series of 11 dual meets and two invitational tournaments for the championship linksters. One of the latter is the Juniata College Invitational Tournament, rated as one of the largest collegiate golf contests in the East.

Although golf has only been a varsity sport since 1947, the Indians have already built up an enviable record of 26 wins and one tie in 30 intercollegiate matches. Undeclared seasons were recorded in 1948 and 1950.

The squad will sport four returning lettermen. Art Allen, Dave Bayer, Ray Korody, and Bob Rhodes will be holdovers while the other two vacancies will probably be filled from the freshmen ranks.

The tennis team, being reactivated after a wartime layoff, has a rugged eight game schedule coming up. Last year, in the first intercollegiate competition since 1947, the netmen lost all five of their encounters.

The outlook this year, however, is much brighter since the courtmen have three returning lettermen in Steve Finckel, Bob Frain and Ray Hollinger, as well as a host of bright freshmen candidates.

May Day To Be Replaced By New Spring Festival

A new and different program is being planned for May 12 to replace the traditional May Day ceremonies. This new type of program will be called the Spring Festival instead of May Day.

According to Renie Hebrank, chairman of the Spring Festival committee, the revamped program is being charted because of the desire of the student body to have more groups participate.

The main part of the Spring Festival will be held all afternoon May 12. A program featuring all types of student talent will be held on the lawn in front of Oller Hall. Several items of entertainment have already been arranged, among which are the a cappella choir and orchestra.

Clubs To Build Booths
Each organization on campus has been asked to construct a booth and arrange for a display.

THE NEW $300,000 MEMORIAL GYM, dedicated to the men and women of Juniata who served in World War II, is 2/3 finished, reports Superintendent Kenneth Glasgow. It is hoped to be completed by June.

Including a 20' by 34' lobby, the structure is 173' long by 110' wide. A seating capacity of 1080 is expected on the main floor with more bleachers to be added later on the mezzanine level. Under the mezzanine in front of the building will be two classrooms and a locker room for visiting teams. The varsity locker room, training room and equipment room are to be located in the rear of the building under the mezzanine level. The mezzanine will be used for classes and an indoor track.

Specifically dedicated will be the lobby in honor of Lt. Chalender Lee Lesher who was lost in action over Holland in Nov., 1943.

Korman Predicts Keen Rivalry

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"Competition should be keen from beginning to end," said chairman Bill Korman in commenting on All Class Night.

"The seniors and juniors have never won. The sophomores are trying to repeat their win of last year and the freshmen hope to duplicate what last year's freshmen did," he continued.

When asked to comment about the chances of the seniors, Phyl Baughman, senior director, said, "We have high hopes this year. The entire senior class is working hard to make our dream of having '1951' on that cup a reality."

Speaking for the juniors, Glenn Felix stated, "As written, our skit is fine. If the acting and directing are good accordingly, I believe we have a good chance of winning. We are last on the program, but I feel we will not be least."

ning skit. Said Phil, "Last year our class made no bold statements—and we won. This year we also think it wise to remain cautious. Four classes have a chance. May the best skit take the cup."

Wilfred Norris, director for the freshmen, thinks, "The cast and committees are enthusiastic. If everybody enjoys the skit as the cast does, we think it will be a success."

4-Day Anniversary Program Planned

Speakers, Forum, Concert Featured

Classes will be shortened Tuesday in order that students may attend the special 75th anniversary convocation at 10:30 a. m. Following the convocation, students will eat in the gym, while Pres. Calvert Ellis will be host to special guests at a luncheon in the Dining Hall.

Featured in the four-day anniversary program will be a special Chapel speech, an educational forum, guest speakers, All Class Night and a concert by the capella choir.

Starting off the round of activities is All Class Night, one of the College traditions since 1937.

Anniversary Sunday Plans

For Anniversary Sunday, a divine worship service in the Stone Church has been planned. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Raymond Peters, general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board, Church of the Brethren. At 3:30 p. m. the capella choir, which has been directed for 19 years by Prof. Charles Rowland, will present a concert in Oller Hall.

Ending the Sunday program will be an address by the Rev. John Thompson Peters, promotional secretary of the General Council of Presbyterian Churches. All churches of Huntingdon have been invited to participate in this service, which will be held in Oller Hall at 7:30 p. m. The organ prelude and postlude will be played by Prof. Donald Johnson; and the Chapel Choir will sing an anthem accompanied by a string quartet, flute, clarinet and organ.

Pres. Ellis Speaks Monday

On Monday morning in Chapel, Pres. Ellis will discuss the "forward-looking" era of Juniata's history. At 7 o'clock that evening, educational leaders of state, county, city and town school systems of an 11 county area will eat in the Dining Hall. Students will eat at 5:15.

Following the dinner, the guests will attend an educational forum. Mark Van Doren, professor of English at Columbia University (See Anniversary—, Page 6)

Skits Of Fantasy, Comedy, Drama Are Slated For All Class Night

It happens tomorrow! At 8:15 in Oller Hall on the night of April 14, 1951, the fourteenth annual All Class Night will be held.

From bare stage to bare stage the entire performance of each class will take 22 minutes. In that short time only two minutes are permitted for setting the stage and two more for "striking" it. In the remaining 18 minutes the best creative efforts of each of the four classes will be shown.

According to Bill Korman, chairman of All Class Night, the order of the classes, determined by drawings, is: seniors, sophomores, freshmen and juniors.

Seniors Present Fantasy

The senior presentation, "Sammy Meets the Gimp," written by Bob Elder and directed by Phyllis Baughman, is a fantasy. It concerns the famous English writer Samuel Peyp and the senior's evaluation of his "Diary." The plot thickens around Peyp's extraordinary encounter with a genuine, intelligent, literary person—the "Gimp."

A type of play which, according to reliable sources, has never been written by Norris, Louise Gehman, Ben New-

Pres. Calvert Ellis

The following schedule will be in effect Tuesday:
First period—8 to 8:25
Second period—8:30 to 8:55
Third period—9 to 9:25
Fourth period—9:30 to 9:55
Lunch—12:15 (Gym)

Juniors To Hold Reception For Seniors April 21

The Junior-Senior Reception will be held in the gym at 8:15 p. m. on April 21. This reception is an annual affair which is given by the juniors in honor of the graduating class.

Music will be provided by the dance band, and there will be a program which will be announced later. The affairs will be formal, and corsages are in order.

In connection with the theme which is based on the 25th, 50th and 75th anniversaries, special guests from the 25th and 50th anniversary graduating classes have been invited.

Co-chairmen of the reception are Betty Longwell and Jack Rothenberger. Other committee members include Art Allen, Marj Seidel, Dottie Hummer, Bill Carpenter, Trudy Griffin, Phyllis Kulp, Phil Kulp, Walt Bandurak and Glenn Felix.

comer, Dagmar Sildorff, Don Miller and Lois Bratton. Before being witnessed by Juniata audiences, will be presented by the sophs. It is a serious social drama concerning college youth faced with perplexing problems about which they are forced to make their own decisions. "The Third Choice" is directed by Phil Norris, and was written by Jack Ullsh, Len Hickman, Jo Pentz, Bob Bailey, Bernard Lily and Phil Norris.

Freshmen Skit Is "2026"
Having become "75" conscious, the freshmen have created a fantasy-comedy entitled "2026." (Add 75 to 1951 and you'll discover the source of the title.) Directed by Wilfred Norris, the play concerns life at JC when it has reached the 150th anniversary year. All phases of college life are incorporated into the script which was written by a committee composed of Helen Rosengren, Helen Stutzman, Betti Brumbaugh, Maurice Henry, Dave Hercules, Wilfred Norris, Louise Gehman, Ben New-

Pres. Ellis To Talk In Chapel Monday

Pres. Calvert Ellis will speak on the "forward-looking" era in Chapel Monday. His speech will be the last in the series of four special Chapel programs in observance of the 75th anniversary year.

Juniata's "humble beginning" was the theme of the first of these presented by the late Dr. Francis Harvey Green. Harry Wagner, prominent Huntingdon businessman, discussed the "transition period" and "expansion as a college" was covered by William Livengood, Jr., Pennsylvania secretary of internal affairs.

Pres. Ellis has had a long connection with Juniata College, where his father, Charles C. Ellis, served as president from 1930-43. After receiving his A. B. degree from Juniata in 1923, Pres. Ellis got his Ph. D. from Yale in 1932. From 1931-43 he was assistant and later professor of biblical studies and philosophy at Juniata. In 1943, he took over his duties as president of the college.

Senate Elects 16 Delegates For Conference

At the Senate meeting Tuesday night, members of the new social committee were approved, and delegates at large were chosen to go to Leadership Conference.

Also a recommendation was made to the effect that two automatic washers be purchased for the men's dorms. Due to the extensive use of two washers in the women's dorm by both women and men students as well as faculty members, it was decided that there is a definite need for additional facilities.

Mays Appointed Head Of Exams For Local Area

Dean Morley Mays has been named supervisor of the local examination center for the Selective Service College Qualification Test. This test will be given here May 26, June 16 and June 30.

Last week Pres. Harry Truman issued an executive order which gave new hope to all those planning to continue their college training. This temporary deferment of college students is "due to the realization of our national leaders of the importance of educated and trained men," says selective service director Gen. Lewis Hershey. The general maintains that since it is impossible to combat Russian manpower, Americans can win in a "battle of wits" if certain precautions are taken. The new plan is

Late Bulletin

The House of Representatives has passed a bill putting final decision on individual draft deferments in the hands of local draft boards. Although the Senate has not yet taken action on the measure, it is expected to concur. "The Selective Service College Qualification Test will be given in spite of this action," Dean Mays said.

that precaution. "Every male student in the College is urged to take the test," Dean Mays said. "No one has anything to lose, and there is everything to be gained by taking it."

However, all eligible men who wish to take the test may apply for it through the Selective Service System. The application forms are now available at the Huntingdon Selective Service Office (Local Board No. 75), which at present is located in Room 2 of the Wagner-Mierley Building, corner of Seventh and Washington streets (over the Weis Market).

The Huntingdon office has made these forms available to any registrant, regardless of the local board with which he is registered. They are also available at any local office. The application form is known as SSS Form No. 106 and SSS Form No. 107.

The application form must be mailed to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., which will then assign the student to the examination center which he has requested or to the closest possible alternative center. The Princeton office will also issue a ticket of admission which must be presented at the time of the examination. (See Draft—, Page 6)

Extra Edition Tues.

Pictures and stories of the high spots in Juniata's 75 year history will be featured in a special edition of the Juniata to be distributed Tuesday after the convocation in Oller Hall. Copies of the extra will also be available in the social rooms and post office.

New Club Editor Is Named

Additions to the news staff, announced by Bob Bridenbaugh, news editor, include Lolita and Juanita Carfora, Ben Newcomer and Chet Gomerger.

Plans For First Spring Festival May 12 Are Nearing Completion

Plans for the Spring Festival, May 12, are nearing completion, according to Renie Hebrank, student chairman. Committees have been named and candidates for the court have been chosen.

For the Festival, the Masque will present a half-hour play and the faculty is planning a hobby display. Miss Edith Spencer's Applied Art class and the Alpha Beta Gamma are having a joint booth which will be in the form of a puppet show. Many other clubs are having booths, but their plans are as yet incomplete.

The booths being planned by the clubs will be considered as a separate unit. A meeting was held last Thursday night at which 15 clubs were represented. "This group elected Betty Longwell club co-ordinator. She heads the rules committee which met Wednesday to set up the rules for the club booths.

Part II

(What about Juniata's position as a school of arts and sciences? Is it really that, or just an imitation, a school for scientists who want a bit of culture on the side? Herein we continue the study of "JUNIATA: A Look At Her" which was begun last week.)

Q. What about the feeling that division III (the natural sciences) is "better" here than either division I (arts and languages) or II (social studies)?

A. "It is true that Juniata has established a reputation for a strong science department which it has not yet acquired as widely for its other divisions," Pres. Ellis admitted. This reputation has grown because division III has in the past sent more students on to graduate study than either of the other divisions. This in turn is the result of the greater opportunities for financial assistantships in the science field and the greater opportunities for financial gain in later life. However, more and more division I and II people have been going on to graduate work lately, as for example Sherwood Cordier, it was pointed out.

Q. What is being done to boost the potentialities of these divisions?

A. Both Pres. Ellis and Dean Mays emphasized that constant efforts are being made to promote all of the divisions academically. The program includes the policy of striving for a PH D in every department, constant experimentation with courses and instruction techniques, a constant effort to develop a "balanced faculty," etc.

Q. Is instruction in the natural sciences really stronger here?

A. The word "stronger" needs defined. According to the following chart compiled by Dean Mays, division III is really "weakest" of the three in terms of courses and hours offered, though academically it may have greater reputation. It depends entirely on your viewpoint which is "stronger."

Division I

Number of departments—5
Number of term courses—82
Number of hours offered—237
*Student hours—2369

Division II

Number of departments—10
Number of term courses—139
Number of hours offered—398
*Student hours—4879

Division III

Number of departments—5
Number of term courses—62
Number of hours offered—208

Conscience

I don't know why I did it,
I shouldn't have gone and dared.
It was just because I did it
That made me feel so scared.
I peeked around the corner,
And I jumped at every sound,
And even at the slightest squeak,
My heart began to pound.
I ran into the parlor,
I ran up to my room.
I tried to hold it off
With Mama's kitchen broom.
It came in through the walls,
It filled up every bedroom,
And cluttered up the halls.
It followed me wherever I went,
And jabbed me like a pin.
It laughed and giggled at me
For committing such a sin.
That evening when I went to bed,
I almost started to cry.
I told Mom in a tearful way,
It was me that ate the pie.

From Our Notes

• NEXT WEEK "D. D." Sill-dorff begins to write our column of humorous anecdotes, Teepee Topics. Her On Other Campuses column will be turned over to Joyce Bernard. This switch is in line with our policy of constantly experimenting with this newspaper to see if we can't improve it.

• THERE ARE 55 acres forming Juniata's campus, only 26 of which we're using. What can be done with the other 29? We allways liked the idea some colleges often exploit of planting several trees each year on such land. They make a special day of it and have a big ceremony. But the important thing is that if we were to begin such a program now, wouldn't we have a pretty swell grove in which to celebrate Juniata's 100th anniversary? And think of the picnics possible.

• DEMOCRACY puzzles us. In 1940 and 1944 a national referendum put the American people's stamp of approval on a third and fourth term for presidents. Yet the recent 22nd amendment to the Constitution denies that same principle. This is democracy?

Spectator: Ah, 'Tis Spring !

by Ray Siren

Well, now that Spring is here, vacation is over and the chemistry field trip is past, it's time to return to the old grind. Yes indeed, there's nothing like Spring weather for good studying atmosphere.

Of course, Spring fever is still leading the list of unconquered maladies. For you poor souls who suffer from it, my sympathies; and to you poor souls who have never had it and don't expect to get it, may I suggest a good psychiatrist.

Ah, June!

What is so rare as a day in June? Yes, June—now there's a girl for you. I remember her now as I saw her last, sitting on the grassy knoll overlooking the beautiful Monongahela stroking her pet rabbits—one with each hand and one with her toes.

The poets have worked long and hard to express the breath of Spring. "When in Spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of"—golf, baseball, sack time and the many other glorious phases of a successful attack of the fever.

Poetic Interlude

To wax poetic to a further degree, there's the old chestnut:
Ah, 'tis spring
The bird is on the wing.
But, that's absurd
The wing is on the bird.

As long as we're on the subject of poetry, here's another which, although irrelevant, is amusing. "Thirty days hath September, April, June and No-wonder. All the rest have peanut butter. Save Grandma, she rides a bicycle.

A friend suggested this next offering for our vernal anthology:

Spring has sprung
And Fall has fell.
Summer is here and
It's hotter than usual!
'Nuff said.

JOAN OF ARC—Splendor, magnitude, grandeur all are descriptive of this historical classic. The legend of the little Maid of Orleans, her call, rise to fame, capture, ordeals of trial and final death at the stake are spectacles which are not easily forgotten. The pomp and pageantry that the Technicolor camera catches, and the spiritual ordeals with miracles portrayed are all done in a superb manner.

If it were not for the outstanding work done by Ingrid Bergman (film star), however, I am afraid the true mystery, meaning and magnificence of the poor girl called Joan would have been lost in the lavish splendor of the rich costumes and brilliant sets.

But the performance given by the Bergman "Joan" really touches the emotions. Ingrid's sincerity and her way of getting under the character she portrays is truly extraordinary.

Catholic legend and French history are the main plot threads, but regardless of your faith I am sure that this motion picture will hold you spellbound throughout its two hours of running time.—Grand Theatre.

THE GROOM WORE SPURS—Here is a western comedy with a comedian cast that has the earmarks of real entertainment. Jack Carson is a city-bred cowboy busy making his public think he is rough and tough. He is, however, afraid of guns, horses and brawls.

Ginger Rogers (feminine lawyer) comes on the scene when Jack gets into trouble with gamblers. In trying to get him out she finds herself with his wedding ring.

Although funny in parts, as the film progresses the all-too-weak-anyway plot seems to be lost in the welter of slapstick comedy. Carson has a way with comedy though, and if you like his way you will like "Groom Wore Spurs."—Clifton Theatre.

Registrar Announces Courses For Summer

Courses being offered for this Summer have been announced by the Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. This 1951 Summer term is equivalent to the work of the Winter terms. The following courses of instruction are subject to change if there is not a sufficient number who register.

For the first period, beginning June 18 and ending July 21, these courses are offered.

First Period Courses

Division I—arts and humanities, American literature, elementary and second year French, elementary and second year German, elementary and second year Spanish, organ, piano and voice.

Division II—principles of economics, introduction to education, geography, ethics, the mind, criminology, the family, American history to 1865 and teaching of elementary social studies.

Division III—general chemistry, organic chemistry, mathematical analysis (algebra and trigonometry) and general physics.

During the second period, July 23 to Aug. 25, the following courses are offered.

Second Period Courses

Division I—introduction to literature, contemporary literature, elementary and second year French, elementary and second year German, elementary and second year Spanish, organ and piano.

Division II—Biblical history, principles of economics, educational psychology, visual education, American history since 1865, introduction to philosophy and introduction to sociology.

Division III—general chemistry, organic chemistry, mathematical analysis II (analytical geometry), physics and physical science.

The tuition fee is charged at the rate of $13 a credit hour. The maximum credit which may be earned in the Summer term is 12 credit hours.

A set of twins, numerous advanced degrees and outstanding success in many fields, mark the achievement of former senators.

"The Sen'tes' forbears indicate by their subsequent records the great potential of senators in general," said J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of students, who has made a study of the graduate records of previous senators.

"Because of this," the dean added, "the faculty and administration have always held the requests and recommendations of senators in high respect."

"Debated . . . Sincerely"

"Many previous outstanding senators have debated long and sincerely some of the existing orders of things on campus," the dean stated. "Therefore," he added, "a senator which wishes to change a great number of things is likely to be opposed or at least slowed down by the administration."

Since 1935 when the senate replaced the men's and women's student councils, there have been 192 senate positions filled by 187 senators. Five served twice.

10 MD's, 20 Ministers

Among former senators, Dean Rhodes found ten MD's, one dentist, one veterinarian, seven known Ph D's, three lawyers, 20 ministers, two foreign missionaries, 23 teachers, 24 businessmen, 34 home-makers, and five enrolled in graduate school.

Members of the first senate are now engaged in a variety of fields. At least eight of the twelve have earned advanced degrees.

The president is now a lawyer and district attorney, while the vice president holds his Ph. D. and is an executive in chemistry.

A Mother Of Twins

The original secretary is wife of the dean of students at Miltonburg College and is the mother of twins. The treasurer is now a government accountant.

Home-making and two children occupy the time of the first chairman of general activities. She was formerly a county superintendent of home economics. The chairman of religious activities, chairman of women's house (formerly a social worker) and the chairman of social activities (who was a secretary to a business executive) are busy with home-making duties.

An Obstetrician

The first chairman of underclassmen is now head of obstetrics at Lancaster Hospital, while the chairman of athletics is a teacher-coach.

The publications chairman is a Ph. D. and full professor of philosophy at the University of Colorado. The chairman of men's house is also a Ph. D. and is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

Doing Anything Right Now ?

Let's Browse Through Some Old Archives

by Phyl Link

What is more exciting than leafing through an attic, a trunk, a neglected drawer, or, in this case, the file in dean of women Edith Spencer's office? It can prove interesting.

For instance, did you know that Juniata's first Christmas formal was held only two years ago? Neither did I.

Fan Dancers At JC

But the older material reveals even more startling news. Can you answer the question "When were fan dancers permitted at J. C.?" The answer can be found by looking in the May Day program for May 15, 1937. It seems that the pageant called "The Return of the Sun-Goddess" required three groups of dancers—garland, parasol and fan.

May Day has run the course of themes. The earliest program filed was of 1934 when the theme included four episodes from Indian folklore. Later themes included the World's Fair (1939, natch), Thumbelisa in '49, and Alice in Wonderland, 1948. That was the year that Vera Compton slept through the festivities. But it was all right. She was Alice.

We Go To Carnegie Hall

Stuck way back in a corner is a Carnegie Hall concert program. Its connection to Juniata, says Miss Spencer's notation on the cover, is that the artist, Dorothy Parrish, was a piano instructor here from 1938 to 1942.

Dean Edith Spencer

Commencements, according to Miss Spencer, were always held on the court of the Cloister, actually the little mound in back of the court. Plays used to accompany graduation, for "The Taming of the Shrew" was presented June 5, 1937.

Plays In Oak Grove

The annual play was originally in an oak grove where the Home Ec building is now located. Later, it too moved to Cloister's Court, or the gym in case of bad weather.

More rummaging through the file reveals that "Stage Door" in 1941 was the first Oller Hall production. Dr. Harold Binkley is a past director of plays, with "Candida," "Dear Brutus," and "The Perfect in that is some of his productions.

A very interesting mimeographed copy of "Faculty Club Night—1917" has some startling revelations. It appears that the faculty members are not the staid, cut-and-dried people we think they are. As proof, here two excerpts:

Excerpts From Faculty Play
Paul Friend—Tell me about this situation in Oneida Hall.

Guy Hall—Well, its this way. Every now and then my men get a call to fix the lights or haul some furniture or repair the plumbing. We even painted a room once. Everything works out pretty well. But these girls are getting mighty particular now. Why, only the other day my man rushed up to a door he uses regularly and there was a sign on it.

Friend—Well, what did it say?

Hall—"Men. Please at least knock."

After an interlude by a ghost and the Dead Past, the following scene takes place. The topic of discussion is whether a certain young man shall gain his English competence.

English Competence?

Miss Black—Yes, he is a nice looking boy.

A. William Engel, Jr.—Does he play football, basketball or baseball?

Miss Dorothy Fulmer—He has character.

Dr. S. Earl Dubbel—Doesn't write well despite his character.

Mrs. Hall—Excellent conversationalist.

Miss Williams—But he never attended a conference.

Dr. Harold Binkley—That settles it. Declare that man competent.

Some afternoon you don't have anything to do, why don't you look through Dean Spencer's file. Bet you'll find some pretty interesting things too.

1st Graduating Group Portrayed By 3 Members Of Freshmen Class

Representing the first graduating class of 75 years ago, three members of this year's freshman class are pictured above in the costume of 1876. All three have "historical ties" with the early days of the College.

Peggy Brumbaugh (left) is the great grand-daughter of Dr. Andrew B. Brumbaugh, one of the three founders of the College. She is the grand-daughter of Dr. Gaus M. Brumbaugh, Washington, D. C., honorary chairman of the board of trustees, and the only male member of the first class of three students.

In the center is Jim Holsopple, whose great grandfather was Elder James Quinter, first president of Juniata.

Joyce Gibbel (right) is the grand-daughter of Henry R. Gibbel, class of 1888, the third chairman of the board of trustees. Her father is Henry B. Gibbel, class of 1926. He is the present chairman of the board of trustees.

Juniata College is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and is a member of the Association of American Colleges.

The campus at Juniata College contains 55 acres, 28 of which are used directly for college purposes. There are 20 principal buildings and four athletic fields.

Juniata College's library contains more than 50,000 volumes, carefully selected periodicals and the most important state and federal government publications.

Prof. J. Clyde Stayer, assistant professor of mathematics and former dean of men, is senior member of Juniata Colleges' faculty with 32 years of continuous service.

Juniata College has three professors emeritus—Dr. Norman J. Brumbaugh, chemistry; Dr. Fayette A. McKenzie, sociology; and Dr. Charles S. Shively, mathematics.

Keep Game Amateur—Snyder

In a speech delivered recently before the New York chapter of the Juniata Alumni Association, Director of Athletics P. M. Snyder asked the question, "What is in store for Juniata's athletics for the next 50 years?"

"Experience," he stated, "has shown that the normal development of any movement is directed by a set of principles to steer that development into a natural growth. These principles we call our athletic policy."

Football Too Costly

Commenting on the fact that a number of colleges have discontinued football, and that a number of others are having trouble in financing the sport, Snyder stated that the same blanket excuse and reason is given in almost every case, "too costly—can't finance the program."

Coincident with this, a number of colleges are at odds with the NCAA, because of the insistence of this group that college athletics maintain an amateur standing.

Sports-interested people often say that college sports should be made into spectacles to attract the support of alumni and friends, declared Mr. Snyder.

Play The Game

Commenting on this, he said, "America's sense of bigness can lead us into a lot of trouble if its enthusiasm is not directed into constructive channels. Let's attach more significance to the playing of the game."

Mr. Snyder then outlined a number of points which he feels are essential to the achievement of this end. Some of these are:

- The outcome will take care of itself.
- Let's have the game played for the satisfaction of the participant.
- Let's consider athletics as enriching a student's life at college and not financed as a side-show.
- Let's keep our athletic policy as flexible as possible to meet the conditions of the time.

Golfers Win As Korody Stars

The 1951 edition of Coach Edgar Kiracofe's linksmen picked up where they left off last season by handing the Dickinson Red Devils a Low man for the 8-1 defeat over the Huntingdon Country Club course. Highlighting the match was Co-captain Ray Korody's sizzling 30 on the back nine, tying the course record for nine holes. Korody put together five birdies (one under par) and four pars in equalizing the record.

Korody's card:
Par 454 443 344 35
Korody 354 332 343 30
Along with Korody the Indian attack was bolstered by victories by Art Allen, Tom Cherok, Bud Kreider and Bob Rhodes.

Medal honors for the day went to Korody who combined nines of 38 and 30 to give him a two under par 68. Following was Allen with a 72 and Co-captain Rhodes and newcomer Cherok with 77's.

Low man for the Dickinson team was Jim George with a 79.

The summaries:
Korody, (J), defeated Kessler, (D), 6-4. Rhodes, (J), defeated George, (D), 3-2. Best ball won by Juniata, 5-4.

Allen, (J), defeated Arnold, (D), 8-7. Cherok, (J), defeated McGovern, (D), 5-4. Best ball won by Juniata, 7-6.

Anderson, (D), defeated Bayer, (J), 1 up. Kreider, (J), defeated Keher, (D), 2-1. Best ball won by Juniata 3-2.

Banquet Set; Gym Opened At Night To Men

Two items of sports interest were decided at the Senate meeting Tuesday evening. The first was the approval of the date set for the athletic banquet. It has been set for May 17.

Dick Bowker presented a petition from the men students requesting the use of the gymnasium after 10:30 p. m. He also showed cause why the gym should be kept open.

The Senate recommended that the gym be kept open to men students until 11:30 with the conditions that the lights of the gym be off and doors closed when it is not in use.

Approval by the President is all that is needed to reopen the gym doors after 10:30. This approval is expected Friday.

Tuesday's was the second meeting at which this matter was brought up.

Ten Teams Enter I-M Softball League; Play Nine Games

Ten teams will be in the running for the intramural softball crown this year. At a meeting of team managers held Monday night rules and organization were discussed and a committee of three was elected to formulate rules and settle disputes.

Each team will play a nine game schedule, facing every other team in the league once. The schedule calls for games to be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons until the arrival of daylight saving time, after which both afternoon and evening games will be played.

Regulation softball rules will be followed, with possibly a few exceptions to fit particular circumstances. Authority on the field will be given to two umpires, who are to be supplied by competing teams. Each will work half the game at the plate and the other half on the bases.

Managers of the teams will keep a record of the performance of the players. Score sheets for this purpose have been provided by the league.

Teams which are in competition are the Trojans, Day Students, Sack Hounds, Bridgers, Whiz Kids, Beta 5/2, Doormats, Cats & Boppers, Blivits, and FJC.

Results of last Wednesday's opening games follow: Hounds 4 Cats & Boppers 5, Sack Hounds 4 (8 innings)

Bridgers 17, FJC 5
Blivits 11, Day Students 6

Kensinger Drives In 4 Runs; Indians Score 7 In 6th

Seven runs in the sixth inning enabled Juniata's Indians to post a 9 to 7 victory over the Indiana Teachers in the opener of the 1951 diamond season at college field April 17.

Dave LeFevre was the winning hurler. In going the route for the winners he allowed ten hits, all singles. Juniata garnered nine base knocks off a pair of Indiana pitchers, George Kensinger and Jack Dickey smashed the only extra base blows of the game, both getting doubles.

Kensinger also batted in four of the Juniata tallies, with a two run single in the second inning and a double in the seventh.

Misplays marred the Indians' opener, with no less than six errors being called against the home team.

Indiana Scores First

Indiana opened the scoring in the top of the first when a walk, a stolen base and a single allowed one run to score. Indiana hurler Heyz filled the bases with walks in the bottom of the same frame, but came through in the clutch with three successive strikeouts to retire the side.

LeFevre shackled the visitors in the next three innings, allowing no hits and striking out the side in the third.

Juniata pushed their first runs across the plate in the second when Dave Hackett walked, LeFevre singled and Kensinger drove them home with another one base knock.

The game was scoreless until the fifth frame, when Indiana scored twice to take a 3 to 2 lead. They added to this margin in the sixth with another run.

Indians Score Seven

Trailing by two runs in the bottom of the sixth, Juniata's batsmen caught fire and scored seven times before the third out was made. Dickey popped to the second baseman to open the frame. Then Tom McNeal walked, Hackett was hit by a pitch, LeFevre received a free ticket to first, and the bases were loaded.

Karl Park singled to drive in a run, Kensinger doubled scoring two more, and Duke Schetrompf's single brought in the sixth and seventh Juniata tallies. Fran Zimmerman grounded out but Ray Tesi was hit by a pitch, keeping the side alive. Dickey then doubled in another brace of runs before McNeal, up for the second time in the inning, flew to center to end the inning.

LeFevre coasted after this, giving up a run in the seventh and a pair in the ninth.

Juniata Netmen Bow To Dickinson In 1951 Debut

Juniata netmen went down to defeat in the first match of the 1951 season. Dickinson beat them 6-3.

The only men to win for Juniata were Jim Marr in the singles and the doubles teams of Terry Harrison and Marr and Bob Frain and John Pottgieger.

Marr won his match 6-3, 6-4. The winning doubles score was 5-7, 6-2, 6-2 and 6-4, 6-2.

Captain Ray Hollinger extended his man to three sets before bowing 4-6, 6-4, 3-6. Harrison also went three sets in losing 2-6, 6-1, 0-6.

JV Quartet To Sing At Berlin Banquet Apr. 24

The J. V. Quartet will sing at the Somerset County Alumni banquet in Berlin, Pa. Tuesday, April 24.

A new organization on campus this year, the quartet was started at the suggestion of Prof. Charles Rowland.

Clyde Johnson, Wes Diemer, Ray McHenry and Ben Newcomer make up the quartet. All are members of the A Cappella Choir. After the engagement at Berlin, Newcomer, who has moved up to the Varsity Quartet, will be replaced.

Since its first appearance at the Homecoming celebration, the J. V. Quartet has sung at the Stone Church, a Huntington County grange meeting, the Huntingdon Presbyterian Church and a College dance.

Some of the group's favorite numbers are "My Love's Own," "Uncle Ned" and "Daddy Get Your Baby Out Of Jail."

Draft--

"There will be no final examinations on May 26 in order that all who wish to take the College Qualification Test may do so," the dean said.

According to present plans of Selective Service, deferment will depend upon either maintaining a certain standing in class or a score of 70 or better on the test (except for students just admitted to graduate schools, who must attain a score of 75 or better). A student who has the required standing in class will be deferred no matter what his test score. A student who has the required test score will be deferred no matter what his standing in class.

Advisable To Take Test
Dean Mays emphasized, however, that "it is advisable to take the test. If a student were just slightly above the required standing in class and made a passing score on the test, and then slumped in his class standing, his score would keep him in college. Or if manpower requirements in other fields became greater, Selective Service probably would increase the requirements in class standing. A satisfactory test score would still defer the student."

In reference to the possibility that a bill currently in the House may cancel these deferment provisions, the dean of the College said Wednesday at a special meeting that "so far as I know, nothing will change plans for the first administration of the test."

and 1939 Pulitzer Prize winner for his "Collected Poems," and Alonzo Myers, chairman of the department of higher education at New York University, will speak on "The Program of the Liberal Arts College for Our Time."

Tuesday's program will include an anniversary convocation with academic procession. Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, will deliver the address.

Honorary degrees will be conferred upon the following Juniata graduates: Dr. John Beery, '30, dean of the school of education at the University of Miami, Fla.; Dr. John Montgomery, '21, consulting gynecologist and member of the staff of Jefferson Memorial College; Kenneth Morse, '34, editor of the Gospel Messenger, the official publication of the Church of the Brethren; and the Rev. Harold Smith, '35, minister of Christian education, Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church.

Following the convocation, Pres. Ellis will be host to special guests in the College dining hall.

A CAPPELLA SONGSTERS will present a special concert in Oller Hall, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. as a part of the 75th anniversary celebration. They are, front row, l to r, Don Robinson, Bob Landes, Audrey Weber, Janice Lehman, Doris Mickle, Joanne Siemon, Wesley Diemer, Harold Bowser.

Second row, Quayton Stottlemeyer, Ray McHenry, Audrey Campbell, Jo Pentz, Jo Chiodi, Barbara Lape, Rhoda Clemmer, George Ken-singer, Jo Shelley.

Third row, Fred Bratton, Clyde Johnson, Joan Weaver, Lois Wible, Laure Jane Hollingshead, Doris Orner, Bev Williams, Charles Redenberger, Clair Schaffer.

Fourth row, Gerry Hartzel, Dan Zeigler, Helen Rosengren, Joy Truxal, Carol Lowdermilk, Ruth Walker, Wilma Widdowson, Edith Roberts, Ben Newcomer.

Absent when the picture was taken were Holmes Royer and Hermann Pabst.

All Class--

"You Gotta Treat 'Em Rough," the junior contender, was written by Marj Seidel and is directed by Glenn Felix. It is a comedy of the life in Juniata dorms—both men's and women's dorms—preceding the most important event of the year, the Junior Reception. A divided stage will permit the audience to watch both dorms at their best, or worst, whichever the case might be.

Plan Additional Entertainment
Entertainment between plays has been planned by Bill Korman and Kay Wright, chairman and assistant chairman respectively. The women's trio, intermission and the varsity men's quartet will provide a break between plays. To close the evening's program, Bill Korman will present the trophy to the chairman of the winning class play. The decision by a group of judges will be based on originality, execution and audience reaction.

It was noted that the profits made from selling tickets will be given toward expenditures of the Spring Festival.

Students Sign Up To Fight Forest Fires

Many men students are signing up in crews to fight forest fires, reports Dean Melvin Rhodes. "The advantage of signing up in crews," said Mr. William Glen, area fire warden, "is that those who fight fires will receive the crew rate of pay. The crew rate is nearly double the individual 'pick-up' rate."

This one was taken from the Wilkes College Beacon who in turn took it from someone they forgot to acknowledge.

Pledge: "Must I eat this egg?"
Frat brother: "You're darn right!"

Silence: "The beak, too?"

First Student: "I hear the Board of Trustees is trying to stop necking."

Second Student: "That so? First thing you know, they'll be trying to stop the students, too."

—Trail Blazer, S. C.

And the University of Bridgeport Scribe announces:

If all the students who sleep in class were laid end to end, they would be more comfortable.

From Hillsdale College:

A small boy was hurrying to school and as he hurried he prayed: "Dear God, don't let me be late. Please don't let me be late." Suddenly he stumbled and said, "You don't have to shove."

Hobart College has another interesting twist. In the race for matrimony it isn't always the girl who covers the most laps who wins.

Frosh: "What do you mean by slinging the bull?"

Soph: "To sling the bull is to prevent the professor from realizing that you are saying nothing in a great many words."

Junior: "To sling the bull is to say little in a great many words so as to give the impression that you are familiar with what the test is covering."

Senior: "To sling the bull is to say as much as possible in well-chosen words so as to convey the impression that you are familiar with the material under examination in spite of the fact that you have been unable to devote sufficient effort to study adequately an unduly difficult assignment."

Panels Planned By Three Clubs

By DOTTIE HUMMER

The Lambda Gamma, the Sigma Gamma and the IRC have meetings scheduled for this week.

A panel discussion on "Housing" will be conducted at the regular meeting of the Lambda Gamma, to be held Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. in the Clothing Lab. This panel will be led by Ceci King and Elinor Schoff, two members of the Vocational Educational class.

The regular meeting of the Sigma Gamma will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. in Room K. Nina Alley and Sarah Keller will lead a forum on the topic "Is Sociology Concerned with Moral Values?"

"How Communism is Working in China" is the subject of the panel discussion to be led by several members of the IRC. Their regular meeting will be held next Thursday at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House.

According to Phyllis Link, president of the Marquee, tryouts for the melodramatic farce "Winnipeg" will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Old Chapel. This play will be presented at the Rotary Club sometime in May.

The Penn State IVCF group will conduct a Bible Study at Prof. S. Earl Dubbel's home on April 26. Everyone is invited.

Industrial Chem. Seminar Returns From Field Trip

The group which went on the chemistry field trip was inadvertently called the Industrial Chemistry Club in last week's Juniata. It should have been the Industrial Chemical Seminar.

The group was accompanied by Dr. Donald Rockwell and Dr. Raymond Davis.

Festival Queen Will Be Elected At Polls Monday

Spring Festival elections will be held Monday. Election polls will be located outside Students Hall if the weather is favorable. If not, they will be on Founders Porch.

Candidates for Festival Queen are: Phyl Baughman, Lois Fretz, Gladys Gehman, Ceci King, Elaine Mock, Dollie Shaffer, Betty Snively, Erla Mae Weist, Lois Wible and Beverly Williams. The three runners-up will be the maid of honor and senior attendants.

Five Prince Candidates
Those nominated for Prince Charming are Jay Benedict, Whitey Schaffner, Ray Hollinger, Bill Korman and Bob Rhodes.

Candidates for class attendants are:

Juniors—Mary Lou McKee, Norma Gene Sinclair, Lois Miller, Dottie Hummer, Connie Sherman and Jo Chiodi.

Sophomores—Rhoda Clemmer, Betty Monks, Ardelie Hemmig, Carol Shoemaker and Dot Taylor.

Freshmen—Peggy Brumbaugh, Louise Gehman, Nancy McCahan, Joyce Mullan, Dorcas Mertz and Mary Lou Neikirk.

Queen Candidates Reviewed
Here are brief biographies of the ten candidates for Queen:

Phyl Baughman was chairman of the senior skit for All Class Night. She was business manager for "Firefly" and is chairman of the Spring Festival breakfast.

Secretary-treasurer of women's house committee, Lois Fretz was a member of freshman court. She is majoring in elementary education.

Gladys Gehman, Miss Homecoming III, is a home economics major. She was class secretary during her junior year.

Ceci King is another home economics major. She was president of the WAA this year and previously had been treasurer.

Head waitress in the Dining Hall, Elaine Mock is also a member of FTA and JCA. Majoring in Latin, she plans to become a teacher.

And Still More
Dollie Shaffer was a member of women's house committee during her junior year, served as vice-president of WAA and is active in intramural sports.

Betty Snively, a sociology major who plans to enter the secretarial field, was secretary of WAA and is a member of JCA.

Secretary of the senior class and former vice president of the Alpha Beta Gamma, Erla Mae Weist is a member of several clubs and plans to become a teacher.

Lois Wible was president of Alpha Beta Gamma and assistant manager of the A Cappella Choir. She is an elementary education major.

Beverly Williams was secretary of JWSE, a member of the women's house committee, FTA, JCA and A Cappella Choir. She plans to become a teacher.

Trackmen Lose Opener; 82-44

Juniata's cindermen lost to the Shippensburg Red Raiders 82-44 last Tuesday in their season's opener at Heiges Field. Cold weather and harsh winds hampered both teams, and very slow times were recorded.

Individual winners for Juniata were Jack Rothenberger who ran the 100 in 10.6, Fred Stauffer with a 23.9 in the 220, John Cook who captured the 440 in 55.02, and Joe Hackman who tied for high jump honors with a 5'6" leap.

Rothenberger also finished second in the 220. Hackman finished second in the 120 yard high hurdles and third in the 220 lows.

Coy Hicks contributed second place honors in the 220 low hurdles and the pole vault, while Bob Flory was second in both the mile and two mile runs. Stauffer was third in the 440.

Other third place winners for JC were Bill Blakely in the mile, Rocco Ortenzio in the javelin throw, Ron Hausman in the high jump, Bob Myers in the broad jump. (See Track—, Page 2)

WHICH ONE WILL BE QUEEN? From this bevy of senior beauties will be chosen the Festival Queen, her maid of honor and two attendants. Candidates show above include Phyl Baughman, Lois Fretz, Gladys Gehman, Ceci King, Elaine Mock, Dollie Shaffer, Betty Snively, Erla Mae Weist, Lois Wible and Beverly Williams.

Class Of '52 To Honor Seniors At Diamond Ball

Plans for the Junior-Senior Reception to be held in the gym at 8:15 p. m. Saturday are well under way. Co-chairmen, Betty Longwell and Jack Rotenberg.

The formal affair, which is based on the 25th, 50th, and 75th anniversaries of Juniata, is to be called the "Diamond Ball." Decorations will be in blue and silver.

Honorary Master of Ceremonies will be William S. Livengood, Jr. of Somerset, Pa., who is a graduate of the class of '26. Other guests of honor include Mrs. Calvert N. Ellis, Dr. T. F. Henry, Mr. I. Newton Taylor, Mr. John Eddie, Mr. Elvin Hess, Mr. Harry Wagner and Miss Dorothy Wagner all of Huntingdon, and Mr. Richard Snider of Bedford.

Soloist for the evening will be Joyce Grove, Joy Truxal, accompanied by her sister, Miss Beverly Truxal, will sing. Music will be provided by the dance band and refreshments will be served.

SENIORS WIN CLASS NIGHT AS

This review of last Saturday's All Class Night skits was written before it was known that the judges had awarded the winning cup to the seniors for "Sammy Meets the Gilp." Judges were Mrs. John Prosser and Robert Akers, Hollidaysburg; Mrs. Jacob Hostetter, Belleville; R. B. Madden, Mt. Union; and Robert Baird, Huntingdon.

SAMMY MEETS THE GILP—In this fantasy presented by the senior class, we found the strongest story line we have seen in several years. The unusual idea on which it was based had a depth that has been missing in All Class Night skits in the past (except for author Bob Elder's previous works) and which was sorely needed in several of the other offerings this year.

Each of the three main characters was carefully delineated—serious Mr. Pepsy; a slangy and very corny Gilp (Genuine Important Literary Person); and a strident judge. This was another trick other skit authors might well have copied. Vera Compton, the Gilp, was one of the few really

Tribe Bows To Bucknell

The Juniata Indians had a one inning relapse last Wednesday at Lewisburg and were beaten by Bucknell 9-1. Up until the eighth inning, it was anybody's ball game with the score standing 3-1 Bucknell.

But the Bisons came through with six runs in that inning to put the victory in left handed lucky Lucas's pocket.

Juniata scored first in the second inning. Tesi walked and was pushed to second on McNeal's single over second base. Hackett sacrificed both men along and Tesi scored on Feldkircher's ground ball.

Feldkircher, pitching for the Tribe, had given up only hits in seven innings. The Bisons got to him for four more in the eighth, but what really hurt was the seven errors in that inning.

Bucknell got one run in the fourth with a walk and two singles. A double, two singles, two errors in the fifth, in the eighth it was six runs on four hits, seven errors and one base on balls.

In the eighth inning the Indians also lost Fran Zimmerman, Zimmerman, Hackett and McNeal were all after a fly ball in short right center field and "Zimny" collided with Hackett.

Hackett came out of the smash unhurt, but Zimmerman had to be taken to the infirmary. It is believed that he is suffering from a slight concussion.

Bob Simon led the Indian hitters with two singles and a walk.

Frosh Capture Interclass Meet

Disregarding the inclement weather, the freshman class captured top honors in the annual interclass track meet held Friday, April 13 at College Field.

The favored juniors were next, followed by the seniors and sophomores.

It was because of a well-rounded contingent, rather than a few individual scorers that the frosh won. They had four firsts, three seconds and seven thirds to amass a total of 56 points.

John Cook was their high man with nine points, followed by Bob Flory with eight.

The surprised juniors had the consolation of having the highest scorer of the day running for them.

Joe Hackman garnered 20 points on the strength of firsts in the 70 yard high hurdles, broad jump and a tie in the high jump.

Coy Hicks of the senior class was next highest man with 15 points as a result of firsts in the pole vault and 120 yard low hurdles.

Seconds in the 70 yard high hurdles and 100 yard dash and a fourth in the broad jump added to his total.

The sophomores had but three points, Bob Waggoner's second place in the javelin.

A Cappella Choir To Present Three Away Concerts Sun.

Nearing the end of the 1950-51 schedule, the College A Cappella Choir will sing three concerts Sunday. Programs are to be given in Brethren Churches at Fredricksburg and New Paris. In the evening, the group will sing at a Rotary convention in Bedford.

3rd In Series Of Allenberry Plays To Be Given April 27

"The Male Animal," last in the series of productions by the Allenberry Players, will be presented in Oiler Hall, Friday, April 27 at 8:15 p. m. Students will be admitted on presentation of their activity tickets.

Sophs To Hold Party April 28

Following a theme of "April Showers," the sophomores will hold their party April 28 in the gym. The party will be a "dress-up" dance, and music will be furnished by the dance band.

Bob Waggoner, sophomore class president, has appointed Len Hickman general chairman. Committees working under Hickman are: decorations—Carole Hagen, Charlie Towns, Jack Uish, Ardelie Hemmig, Jo Pentz, Dick Bowker, Nancy Shiffer and Ron Cherry; refreshments—Jane Abel and Anna Mae Zimmerman; and entertainment—Bob Waggoner.

Organ Students To Give Second Concert Sunday

The second of two public organ recitals given yearly by advanced organ students and assisting instrumentalists will be presented Sunday at 2:00 p. m. in Oiler Hall. Each participating student-organist will appear as soloist and in ensemble with another instrument, two with piano and one with trumpet. Those taking part are pupils of Prof. Donald S. Johnson, college organist.

The program follows:
Organ: "Prelude and Fugue in C minor" (Bach) and "Evening Song" (Baird), Earle Grover.

Duet for organ and piano: "Nocturne" (Chopin), Earle Grover and Helen Wentzler.

Organ: two movements from "Sonata in C minor" (Guilmant), Miriam Smith.

Duet for organ and piano: "Fantasy on Plainsong Themes" (Van Hulse, Miriam Smith and Joan Rosenberry).

Skits Show Need For Strength

By JIM STREINER

outstanding players of the evening.

Scenery was well-designed and effective, particularly the dry ice "smoke" effect. Speedy and interest-holding for the most part, though the audience became restive for a few moments when history for a while was discussed, more exciting parts of the dairy might have been utilized.

THIRD CHOICE—Once again it proved that amateur drama doesn't go over in All Class Night skits, though the soph's deserve credit for trying. Their script was much too slowly paced, but was well-loaded with double meanings which earned the actors a number of laughs.

Probably the major lack was that no moral or "message" was offered once the question of the illegitimate baby was raised. The purpose of comedy is to create laughter; the purpose of drama is to say something, and that's what "Third Choice" failed to do.

The authors showed courage; more originality and tinkering with the script would have helped. There was no impressive acting, and the scenery merely served to fill the stage. However, plenty of movement among the players on stage kept the thing from ever seeming stiff.

2026—The last two skits ran into the problem which has been the bane of these shows for years: lack of universality. Authors forget that the audience doesn't know and appreciate Juniata life as the actors do. For those of us who have never met or had classes with "Dr. Conner, the opening parody on that gentleman's teaching methods held little interest.

However, in the later scenes this piece proved itself a very potent and clever piece of satire fit for anyone's taste. The trick effects, particularly, were the making of the freshman comedy, though we would also give credit to the interest-capturing mystery created by Bob Flory's wanderings in and out of the picture.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH—Though this comedy purported to be a revelation of life in both of the student dorms here, it was really slanted from the feminine angle, the girl's side of the story especially being strongly presented in a script which was on the whole well put together. The girls got (See Skits—, Page 2)

AFTER THE TRIP ABROAD

Prof. Oller Returns Home

By RUTH REID

Jack Oller, assistant professor of modern languages, returned to College Hill Saturday, April 14 for the 75th Anniversary celebration. He had been on a trip to Europe since January 20.

Prof. Oller says that the voyages to and from France, though a bit rough, were pleasant. While in Europe he stayed at Paris, Megève (which is near Geneva, Switzerland) and Mount Blanc.

Much of his time was spent skiing and attending the theater. He reports that the French do not "dress" for the theater, except on opening nights or for other gala occasions.

Comments On French Actors
Prof. Oller feels that French actors and actresses take their training more seriously than the Americans. "This may be partly because they are members of a repertory company and devote more time to their art," he continues. "They seem to pay more attention to the small details than do the Americans in the theater."

Skiing in the Alps was good this year but could have been better, according to Prof. Oller. He skied in the lower slopes, because in the higher mountains there was too much snow which caused avalanches. He says that the weather rarely gets extremely cold and that the best skiing is in February and March.

Spoke French Mostly

During his entire stay, Prof. Oller spoke French (except when he met Americans who didn't know the language.)

He returned to Juniata with a recording of the play "L'Avare" for the language department. Other albums are to be sent later.

There was a two week transportation strike in Paris during which time Oller left the city. "During the strike the army brought in trucks and busses which partially relieved the situation. Taxis ran during the day but were never around if you wanted one," he reports.

Prof. Jack Oller

Conditions Are Improving

When asked to comment on conditions in France, Prof. Oller said: "Things are improving every year. Construction is going on in all parts of the country, but living standards are still low and the laborers' wages are extremely low. The cost of living is somewhat less than here, however there is no chance for an ordinary person to acquire surplus capital. Although conditions are getting better, they are not what they were before 1940, or before 1914 when France was known as a paradise for the man who hadn't too much money."

Prof. Oller was impressed by the determination of France to recover from the war and to become again a strong nation. He stated that the communist problem is a big one at the present time and that the free countries appreciate what America is doing to help European democracy.

most of the laugh-lines as well.

Both the idea and the divided-stage scenery which backed it up were novel and well-handled, except that once again it was a local angle story which might not be appreciated completely by the non-student. The ending, highly unusual, left a very fine impression. Lighting might have been used to better effect.

2 Clubs To Hear Guest Speakers

Two clubs have invited speakers to head their meeting agendas next week.

The IRC will meet Monday at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. Mr. Ted Owens, a student at Syracuse Graduate School and a former citizen of Petersburg, will speak to the group on some common West European ideas of the United States and why they exist, as well as a few remarks on European schools.

Mr. Jay McCartney, Director of Advertising for the Huntingdon Daily News, will speak at the regular meeting of the Tycoon Club to be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. His talk will be centered on "Business Opportunities in Newspapers."

'When April Showers'

Under a ceiling of pastel umbrellas, the sophs will hold their informal April Showers dance tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in the Gym. Entertainers Jody Simon, Varsity Quartet and Joyce Grove will be introduced by master of ceremonies Budd Rigg. Chairman Len Hickman says, "Several umbrellas as well as help in the Gym are needed today."

No. 25

Gladys Gehman, Bill Korman To Rule Spring Festival May 12

Building Rules For Booths Are Now Completed

Under the direction of Betty Longwell, the policy committee has completed the rules for booths for the Spring Festival. The committee has announced that the booths must be located within the area of 18th Street (on the gym side) to Students Hall. Founders, Home Economics building, tennis courts and the gym.

Building costs should not exceed five dollars, and no charges may be made on the public. Construction may begin Friday, May 11 at noon and must be completed by 2:30 p. m. Saturday so that absolute quiet may be maintained throughout the program. Everything must be cleared away by 8:00 p. m. Saturday.

No publicity can be made except in the booths, unless the club wishes to give their booth construction and idea to Nancy Shiffler, publicity chairman.

Five judges will be selected by Harold Brumbaugh. Their decisions will be based on hospitality, originality, content of booths, preparation, arrangement and cooperation.

The committee is arranging to have people on the grounds to see that no damage is done. However, every club is also responsible for individual protection.

Dean, 2 Others Are Hostesses

Three faculty members were hostesses Saturday at a luncheon meeting of an honor society for women educators at Helfricks Inn, Allensville.

Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women, Miss Gertrude Butler, professor of home economics and Miss Lillian Evans, librarian, were hostesses at the meeting attended by approximately 45 women educators.

Following the business meeting, three other faculty members, Miss Glenora Edwards, Miss Helen Fisher and Miss Mildred Tusch, showed slides and discussed their trip to Europe last summer.

Librarian Reveals This Discovery: 4,620 Books Were Used In Feb.

by Chet Gomeringer

Librarians have figures! (No, no, Alphonse. Not that kind. This kind.) Four thousand six hundred and twenty books were used at the College Library during the month of February according to Miss Glenora Edwards, assistant to the Librarian. Of these, 4036 were on reserve status. The most called-for books in the month of February were in the area of sociology, government and family life with a circulation of 1,418.

Busiest During October
The month doing the heaviest business during the school year was October with a circulation of 5,741. Of these, 4,220 were on reserve for use in the Library only. The most reading done in any one course during the first semester was, as the freshmen might have surmised, in arts and humanities. Books for this course had a circulation of 2,179 in October alone.

No doubt you have had the aggravating experience of going to

ONCE A QUEEN, ALWAYS A QUEEN! Last year's Homecoming Queen is elected this year's Spring Festival ruler. Gladys Gehman will preside over the day-long festival activities to be held in front of Oller Hall, May 12.

Ministerium Banquet Is Slated For Monday

Pres. Calvert Ellis will be host to members of the Ministerium at the annual banquet Monday evening.

The group expects to leave about 5:30 p. m. for Helfricks Inn in Big Valley.

J. Quinter Miller, father of Lois Miller, a student here, will be the speaker. He is administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches and was a delegate to the Amsterdam Conference in 1948.

U S Production Affects World, Says Schonfield

"Even the slightest change in US production tremendously affects the amount of world raw materials available," contended Andrew Schonfield in a Chapel speech Wednesday.

Foreign editor of the Financial Times, leading daily financial paper of England, Mr. Schonfield is in this country on a lecture tour. He is also a radio-caster, having for two years been handling a regular feature commenting on the British recovery program.

Raw Material Trouble

Expanding his point the speaker said, "Before the war, America had the raw materials but we didn't have the dollars. Now Europe has the money, but America hasn't the raw materials."

He illustrated this by pointing out that at this moment a British representative is unable to purchase much-needed sulphur on the open market in New York.

Nationalization No Concern

Speaking in a history class shortly before the Chapel address, Mr. Schonfield made some additional assertions on British industry today: "The English aren't particularly concerned over the Labor Government's program of nationalization of industries. They are more interested in the social reform policies such as free medical care."

"And," he said, "don't look for the conservatives to return government controlled property to private enterprise. These industries—coal, utilities and steel—are each taken over for practical reasons, not ideological ones. The first was inefficient, the second, monopolies, and the third vital to defense."

Erla Mae Weist Will Be Queen's Maid Of Honor

Gladys Gehman, Miss Homecoming III, has been elected queen of this year's Spring Festival.

This elementary education major hails from Windber and plans to teach after graduation. "GG," as she is called in reference to her initials, is a member of the Lambda Gamma, JCA, and was class secretary in her junior year.

Queen Gladys will be crowned by Prince Consort Bill Korman, a biology major from Smithville who plans to enter the field of medicine. Korman is a member of Scalpel and Probe and was All Class Night chairman. He will claim the Festival Queen at the breakfast. The coronation will be held in the afternoon in front of Oller Hall where the royal throne will be located.

Weist Is Maid Of Honor

Erla Mae Weist, runner up, has been elected Maid of Honor. Miss Weist, who is secretary of her class, is majoring in elementary education. She is a member of the FTA, Alfarata staff and was vice president of the Alpha Beta Gamma and Chairman of Worship for the JCA.

Attending the Queen will be Dolly Shaffer, Phyl Baughman, Connie Sherman, Norma Gene Sinclair, Rhoda Clemmer, Betty Monks, Peggy Brumbaugh and Dorcas Mertz.

Program By Oller Hall

Queen Gladys and her attendants will carry flowers, and there will be a procession down the diagonal paths leading to Oller Hall. The general program will take place in the area in front of Oller Hall, where the Queen will be presented with a gift.

"The faculty is to be thanked for their kindness and assistance in counting votes. Thanks also go to the election committee which included Joe Thomasberger, chairman, Barbara Warner, Dagmar Silldorff, Chet Gomeringer, Bob Learn and Clair Nolan," says general chairman Renie Hebrank.

Speakers, A Cappella Choir To Lead Chapel Services

J. Quinter Miller, administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches, will speak in Chapel Monday. Rev. Marlin Bottiger from the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon will be the speaker Wednesday.

On Friday the A Cappella Choir will present the Chapel service.

Juniata Wins 1st Class Rating

The Juniata has been rated a First Class (excellent) college newspaper by the Associated Press Critical Service. This report covers the Fall term during the editorship of Dave Armacost.

Fifty-three other papers were entered in the 500-999 circulation class along with the Juniata. Of these, five were awarded an All-American (superior) rating, 40 were in the same class as the Juniata and nine were pronounced Second Class (good).

Papers were judged on news coverage, style, typography, make-up, feature material and editing. The Juniata was rated very good to excellent in all phases of newspaper work except feature material.

Conferees Return From Trip To D. C. With '6 Tons Of Literature'

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"It was quite an experience and we have six tons of literature to prove it."

That was the comment of Budd Rigg in speaking of the Washington conference from which he and Dave Armacost returned Sunday. Theme of the conference which was sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee was "Our Economic Foreign Aid Policy."

International Hitch-hikers

Rigg said, "We were international hitch-hikers. We cut down expenses by sleeping in a bus terminal and by eating hamburgers."

In explanation of how they came to sleep in a bus terminal, they reported that they did not arrive in Washington till 12:30 Thursday night. They had planned to sleep at the home of Armacost's friend, but because it was so late they decided to find other lodging.

Meeting with little success in finding a reasonable priced room, they asked a policeman to "arrest us and put us up for the night. The policeman refused and so we slept in the Washington bus terminal," they said.

Meet With Congressman

After having breakfast in the Supreme Court Cafeteria, each delegate had an appointment with his own congressman. Armacost's representative, James Devoreux of Maryland, was unable to be there and so Armacost went with Rigg to see his congressman, Charles Howell of New Jersey. They discussed with him the point four program for international development, grain for India and the MacArthur controversy.

For Comps--An Idea

- Comprehensives ought to be comprehensive in scope.
- To make this possible, instructors should teach comprehensively in every course.
- Integration of knowledge should not be something talked about in the freshman year, then neglected until called for in that "test of the students' broad and mature understanding of the significance and relationships of his knowledge" known familiarly as comps.

These points have already been agreed to.

They may not always be practiced, but they've been accepted by the administration as a working thesis at least.

Haverford Has Idea

We believe that Haverford College has an idea Juniata might well use to implement this program of helping the student to integrate his knowledge. Still in the experimental stage in the political science department, their plan calls for a two hour seminar meeting every other week and comprising all the seniors majoring in that field. It "involves reading cutting across the field, as well as related subjects."

Seek Overall Picture

This material is then discussed by the seniors and the instructors with a view to getting an overall picture of the data which for four years they have been getting piecemeal in various classes.

What would be the advantages of such departmental seminars?

Advantages Listed

Haverford believes they would (1) aid students to organize thinking for the written exam. (2) give a better idea how to organize preparation. (3) eliminate the element of terror created by the too-great stress laid in some circles upon a single final exam. (4) integrate material into a practical, useful form instead of "compartments of knowledge" as it is taught. (5) create a stimulus for the student to begin dealing with his comps earlier than a few weeks before they occur and (6) be fairer because it would carry a substantial grade and cover a greater amount of time and work.

From Our Notes

• A RECENT SPOT-CHECK shows at least four college newspapers reprinting feature material which originally ran in the Juniata. Items copied include Teepee Topics stories, the "chemical report" announcing the birth of the son of asst. prof. of chemistry Raymond Davis and an original feature entitled "Professors: How To Influence Students." The latter item was reprinted most frequently.

• FOR THOSE MEN who asked: figuring your class standing for the draft board was easy—for mathematicians. It worked this way. The registrar divided the number of credit hours you had taken up to January (including failures) into the number of quality points you earned. This gave them a percentage ratio. (Example: 15 credit hours into 12 quality points equals 4.) Naturally, many of the scores were tied. This was solved by listing all those with 1.0 as standing first in their class. Thus, if there were six such people in your class they were ranked first; then those with .99 ranked seventh, and so on.

• MEMO TO dining hall announcers: We'd appreciate your work even more if you'd (1) wait a little longer after the bell before beginning to talk, so our neighbor can finish his sentence, (2) speak more slowly and distinctly and (3) wait a moment between each announcement.

• ANOTHER MEMO, this time to dining hall announcement writers: (1) Keep 'em short and to the point and vary them if you can, (2) state right off the bat just who your message is directed to, and (3) if possible, repeat the time and place. These suggestions all came from various students recently in addition to the gripe that often they couldn't hear announcements. Funny though—in none of these discussions does anyone ever suggest that we might help you by knocking it off while your announcement is being read.

SPECTATOR TRIES PLANNING FOR FUTURE

by Ray Siren

There comes a time in every columnist's career when he is actually stuck for something to say. (Perhaps some of you would prefer that I never had anything to say.)

Oh, I suppose some more belly-aches about the dining hall may be amusing, but let's not carry a thing too far. As a matter of fact, sometime in the future I would like to offer some of the gripes of our dietician, Miss Mathias, in matters concerning student dining hall cooperation. Brace yourselves.

Girls May Talk Back Soon
The previous article on the dormitory pest was inadequate in the sense that perhaps the fairer sex (i.e. the girls) have some special problems they want aired—so don't be surprised to see a guest complaint soon.

An interesting topic might be the utter disregard some of our noted instructors hold for student production, while marking on sex record, personal likes and neediness to say, dislikes and expected ability. But here again, if I mentioned this, I may jeopardize my own marks. Ouch!

Or, I could introduce personal-ity faults and proceed to name names and in general, poke fun at some of our cohorts. But I'm a friendly guy and you never can tell who your future boss (or lieutenant) may be.

And Then There's Sex
Other columnists in other school tabloids often resort to the obscene or the near-unprintable for copy and you all know full well that good ol' JC just don't go for that stuff, and besides, we here on campus would probably not find it interesting anyway, being naturally pure at heart. At any rate, one must resort to innuendo to achieve anything of this sort, and that would cause too many of us to think, and why think?

However, if any of you want to hear some well chosen comments personally, and if you promise not to tell, drop by Room 109, Cloisters, (anytime after midnight) and I'll see what I can do.

I Like To . . .

I like to feel the Summer's breeze.

I like to see the flowers.
I like to see the ivy cling
To majestic grey-stone towers.
I listen for the madrigals
Of messengers on wing
Who call to say, "the Summer's here."

Come out with us and sing.
I leave my earthly palace
And soar the Heavens—free!
I see the world below me
And feel—Eternity.

Conscience Replies

An anonymous reply to the poem entitled "Conscience" written by Fred Shamlian and published here two weeks ago.

I know now why you did it,
And why you felt so scared,
Because your Momma worked so hard

To get those apples pared.
If you peeked around the corner

And jumped at every squeak,
Then even in the Summertime
You must find the weather's bleak.

You ran into the parlor
And ran up to your room;
You hope your Momma won't get mad

And hit you with a broom.
I chided you to the closet
And likewise through the halls.
I stared at you and snickered
From woodwork and from walls.

I dug right in and punished you
For committing such a sin,
I finally you told your Ma
How sorry you had been.
She told you that she loved you,
That she knew it all the time;
And finally rewarded you
By giving you a dime.

TRACY STARS IN COMEDY

FATHER'S LITTLE DIVIDEND
—Next week's attraction promises a treat to those who enjoy such pictures as "Father of the Bride." Metro has come up with a direct sequel to that movie which promises to be just as hilarious as its predecessor. "Father's Little Dividend" stars the same cast with one addition—"The Blessed Event"—who comes just a little too late in graffather Tracy's life to be fully appreciated.

Spencer Tracy in his usual satirical manner more than does his share in holding the comedy to a high level. His air of pure disgust at junior while all the while he has nothing but love in his heart is done in the manner which has made him the great actor he is. Some of the slapstick scrapes in which he and the little one indulge seem to slow down the action at times but on the whole it fits into the comical mood of the movie nicely.

Elizabeth Taylor is on the screen too. She makes a half-hearted attempt to hold up the emotional and love affair, as was her part in "Father of the Bride," but she creates nothing new in its sequel except becoming a mother.

This type of movie, however, is definitely the down-to-earth heart-warming story of family life, the sort of thing people usually enjoy because it reminds them of their own life and its daily events.—Clifton Theatre.

Titans Only Team To Stop Tribe

The Indian teemen have swept four of their last five golf matches. They have beaten Gettysburg 7-2, Geneva 9-0, Pitt 6-3 and Dickinson 8 1/2-1 1/2. Westminster gave them their only loss 4-5.

Ideal weather was on hand as Coach Kiracofe's swingers downed the University of Pittsburgh golfers 6-3 at the Huntingdon Country Club.

Cherok, Korody Set Pace

Four of the Indian "fairway-men" shot scores in the low 70's. Ray Korody and Tom Cherok setting the pace with 71's. Bob Rhodes and Art Allen were close behind with 72 and 75 respectively.

Pitt's Jim Riley and Dave Figura carded scores of 71 and 73.

Summaries:

Korody (J) defeated Riley 1 up in 20 holes.

Figura defeated Bayer (J) 8 & 6.

Best ball, Pitt 3 & 2.

Best ball, Juniata 1 up.

Trounce D'son 8 1/2-1/2

At a match played over the rolling hills of the Carlisle Country Club Tuesday, the Juniata golfers downed the Dickinson team 8 1/2-1/2.

Ray Korody toured the Carlisle layout in 69 strokes, two under regulation figures. A record tying 31 on the front nine combined with a 38 on the back nine gave the Juniata "artist" medalist honors for the day.

Other Juniata scores were Art Allen 74 and Tom Cherok and Bob Rhodes with 77 and 78 respectively.

Jim George was the low Dickinson swinger with a 79.

Summaries:

Korody (J) defeated George 9 & 8.

Rhodes (J) defeated Arnold 6 & 5.

Best ball, Juniata 8 & 6.

Allen (J) defeated Barna 6 & 5.

Indians Lose 2 Diamond Contests

Indiana, Geneva Cop Victories

Juniata's diamond warriors went down to their fourth and fifth straight defeats at the hands of Geneva and Indiana State Teachers College during the week just past.

The Indians lost to Indiana State Saturday as Ed Feldkircher gave up a grand slam home run in the first inning which paved the way for a 13-0 JC loss.

Give Up Five In First

Indiana scored five runs in the first on four hits, an error and a walk. Two unearned runs came across in the third and fifth innings. Four hits produced two runs in the sixth and two more scored in the seventh.

Tommy Green took over after the home run and gave up nine hits and two earned runs over six full innings.

Earl Detrick pitched the last two frames and allowed one hit and two runs.

Geneva Wins

Lloyd Cable's two-out bloop double off Tommy Green in the seventh inning of Friday's game was Geneva's fifth hit, but it drove in their fifth run to give the Covies a 5-4 win over the Tribe. Green was the losing pitcher and Cable the winner.

The Indians outthit the Covenanters but couldn't outscore them. Nine men were left on the base paths as the Tribe pounded out hits including a double and triple.

LeFevre Starts

Dave LeFevre started and allowed three hits and two runs in six innings. One of the hits was a bunt that no one could field.

By bunting a walk, four hits and an error, the Tribe scored four runs in the top of the seventh to take the lead, 4-2.

Detrick Leads Bases

Earl Detrick started the seventh, replacing LeFevre who was taken out for a pinch runner in that frame. Detrick faced only three men before Green came in with the bases loaded.

Ray Tesi paced the Indian hitters with three singles. George Kensinger had a single and a double, while Jack Dickey got a single and triple.

Cindermen Beat L V In First Win

by John Dale

Juniata's track squad scored their initial victory of the season over the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley last Saturday at Annville. In scoring what was rated as an upset, the Indians racked up 70 points to 56 for the Dutchmen.

The team was again ineffective in the field, but Joe Hackman and Coy Hicks scored half of the team's total point output to keep the Tribe in contention.

Hicks High Man

Hicks was the individual high scorer of the day. First in the 100 yard dash, the pole vault and the low hurdles, a second in the broad jump, and a third place rating in the high hurdles enabled him to post 19 points.

Hackman finished close behind in the individual scoring with 15 tallies. He scored first in the high and broad jumps, and seconds in the high and low hurdles.

Flory Takes Two Mile

Jack Rothenberger and Bob Flory shared third place honors, each contributing eight points to the win. Rothenberger won the 220 and placed second in the 100, while Flory won the two mile run, and was runner up in the mile.

Other Indian scorers were Fred Stauffer who posted seconds in the 220 and 440, John Cook who won the 440, and Bill Blakely who was second in the 880 and third in the mile.

Fresh Finish Third

Four third places, all by freshmen, wound up the Juniata scoring. These were gained by John Thomas in the shot put, Wilfred Novis in the two mile run, Maurice Henry in the 440, and Don Ostrowski in the 220.

Although outscored 35-19 in the field, the Indian trackmen amassed 51 points to the Dutchmen's 21 in the track events. In the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, Lebanon Valley was only able to post one third.

Tribe Netmen Top Teachers In Shutout

The Tribe tennis team won its first match in four years last Saturday, swamping Indiana State Teachers 9-0.

Only Bob Frain was pushed. He had to go three sets before he polished off his opponent 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

The other five singles matches and all the doubles were won in straight sets.

Summaries:

Finckel (J) defeated Ostrowski 6-3, 8-6.

Hollinger (J) defeated Magner 6-1, 6-2.

Frain (J) defeated Majda 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Harrison (J) defeated Way 6-0, 6-1.

4 Clubs Plan To Meet Next Week

By JEANIE TAIT

Included on the club agenda for the next week are the Chemistry Club, IVCF, JCA and Sigma Gamma.

The Chemistry Club will hold a meeting Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. in room 134 of Science Hall. Dr. William Althouse, professor of Agricultural Bio-Chemistry at Penn State will speak to the group. Members of the Scalpel and Probe are invited to attend this meeting.

Mr. Paul Beckwith, who is in charge of music education of the National IVCF Organization, will discuss "The Use of Hymns in the Worship Service" at the IVCF meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. Mr. Beckwith compiled the Inter-university Hymnal which is used at these meetings.

"Beliefs about God" will be discussed by Pres. Calvert Ellis at the JCA meeting to be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. in Founders Chapel.

An analysis of Social Service Agencies will be given by Miss Betty Fleck of the Huntingdon Chapter of the Red Cross at the regular meeting of the Sigma Gamma. This meeting will be held in Room K Wednesday at 7 p. m.

The Alpha Beta Gamma will hold a business meeting Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. in Room B of Students Hall.

Last Wednesday evening at the meeting of the combined Spanish-French clubs, movies of Nova Scotia, Montreal and Cuba were shown.

Africa, '51, Commissioned

John Africa, who was graduated in January, is now an ensign in the U. S. Navy and a student in the new U. S. Naval Indocination School, Monterey, Cal.

This school is the first of its kind to be established since the intensive short-term training program for newly commissioned officers was terminated at the end of World War II. All of the students have recently received commissions as ensigns or lieutenants (jg) in the Naval reserve.

Africa was married shortly after graduation to Jeanine McDonald, Huntingdon.

To Study Budget

"Is the fire drill system here adequate?" will be discussed at the regular Senate meeting Tuesday. Other items on the agenda will include appointing the leadership conference committee, completing the Senate budget and approving the radio committee members.

JC Library Erected 1907

The library here was erected in 1907 through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie. Before that, Room C, Students Hall, was used as a reading room. The stacks were in Room D.

Fancy Yearbook Titles Listed

Early College yearbooks here bore such fancy titles as "Leaves of Industry," in 1897; "Blossoms of Life," 1898; and "Fruits of Virtue," 1899. The present title, the "Alfarata," has been in constant use since 1915. Originally it was the name of an Iroquois Indian maid.

Michael Barnes

'Male Animal' To Be Staged Here Tonight At 8:15

The Allenberry Players will present their third performance, "The Male Animal" tonight at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Students may get special tickets to attend by presenting their activity tickets at the information window.

In The Comedy Vein

The play will be in the usual comedy vein and the cast will be familiar to those attending the previous performances.

Michael Barnes, a young radical student, is portrayed by Hazen Gifford who played the part of the young Scotch boy in "Hasty Heart" and the son in "Papa Is All."

Brubaker Has Role

David Brubaker, who played Jigger in "Hasty Heart" and Papa Aukump in "Papa Is All," will play the role of Ed Keller, an alumnus of a mid-western university who thinks there is nothing more important in the educational world than a new stadium. Cleota, the maid, is acted by Lorraine Bagley who was the noisier neighbor, Mrs. Yoder, in "Papa Is All."

Gillette Leads Discussion

After hearing Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa lead a group conference on economic aid, Armacost and Rigg attended committee investigations of mines and mining and increasing postage duty.

The two had lunch with representatives of EFC and attended a conference of ECA leaders at which the progress and economic development of European nations was discussed.

Meetings And Sight-seeing

Events of Saturday forenoon included a meeting with a delegate from the Haiti embassy and discussions on armaments, food for India and the international monetary fund. In the afternoon Armacost and Rigg went sight-seeing.

A summary discussion was held Sunday on what the individual could do.

Debaters Finish Season With 10 Wins, 9 Losses

With the termination of the season for the Debate Club, the team is credited with ten wins, nine losses and a number of non-decisions.

Competing against teams from St. Francis, Elizabethtown, Messiah, Muhlenburg and Penn State, they debated the subject Resolved that the non-communist nations should form a new government.

Attended 3 Tournaments

The club attended three tournaments. At the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament held at Temple University in Philadelphia, Juniata's team placed sixth. In addition, they participated in the Pennsylvania State Debaters Convention and the Middle Atlantic Debate Tournament in which they won two out of six debates.

Active members of the club include the president, Galen Frynsinger, who is a sophomore majoring in chemistry and who has been a member for two years; manager Ray Fowler, a sophomore, also a chemistry major and a second year member; business major Ronald Cherry, a sophomore; Charles Kipp and Clem Rosenberger, freshmen pre-med students.

Proud Of Work

"Looking back at our year's work," says Frynsinger, "we are proud of our record."

Debate is one of the oldest forms of intercollegiate competition in which Juniata has engaged. The club is open to anyone who is interested in debating, and academic credit is sometimes given.

Tuition, Board Expenses To Increase Next Term

"Cost-of-living increases force us to raise board and tuition charges beginning with the Summer term," Pres. Calvert Ellis has announced.

Dean Of Women Granted One Year Leave Of Absence

Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women, has been granted a year leave of absence from the College next year.

When asked what she plans to do, Miss Spencer replied "I haven't made definite plans yet. However, I suppose I will devote most of my time to weaving." She plans to stay at her summer cabin in New York state.

Position Still Vacant

At present, no one has been named to fill the position for next year.

Before coming to Juniata in 1936 as dean of women and assistant professor of art, Miss Spencer was dean of women at Danbury Normal School, Conn. and assistant dean at State Teachers College, Trenton, N. J.

Received M. A. Degree

A graduate of New York State College for Teachers, she received an M. A. degree from Columbia University in 1927. Since that time she has done additional graduate work at Boston Lyceum School and the Universal School of Handicrafts, New York.

Miss Spencer's past experience included a head dietitianship, teaching music and art in public schools and two years as a Chautauqua artist with a Light Opera Co.

Masque Play To Be Given May 12

For the Spring Festival program May 12, The Masque will present a short three act play, "Winsome Winnie" by Stephen Leacock. Following the festival, the play will go on tour to the Huntingdon Rotary Club, May 16 and the Belleville Civic Club, May 17.

Taking place in 1875, "Winsome Winnie" is a typical melodrama starring Elly Formwalt in the leading role. Others in the cast are Wilfred Norris, Bob Champion, Glenn Felix, Peggy Barrington, Ron Cherry, Art Shriver and Judy Shanabrook.

By next year, the club hopes to have a repertoire of several such short plays to be produced off campus.

Women's League Tea To Be At Ellis Home

The Women's League of Huntingdon will be entertained by Mrs. Calvert Ellis, one of the members, at a tea Tuesday, May 8 at 3:30 p. m.

Honored guests at this annual affair will be the foreign students of Juniata. This is one of the times when the town of Huntingdon and Juniata together recognize those students who have come to study here from other countries.

Comp's To Be Discussed At Junior Class Meeting Tues.

There will be a meeting of all juniors Tuesday at 10 a. m. in Room C of Students Hall. Dean Morley Mays and Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. will explain the set-up on comprehensives.

Tuition has been upped from $12 to $13 a credit-hour, approximately an 8.3% rise. This added income will be used to "adjust faculty salaries and cover increased calls for student aid," the president said.

Food Costs Increasing

Board charges have been raised $10 to a total of $150 a term. The president said that this extra money would be applied toward increasing costs of food. He added that "according to the Bureau of Statistics figures, nation-wide food costs have gone up 14%."

Pres. Ellis pointed out that a survey published in the February issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine shows that before these increases Juniata's charges for room and board ranked among the lowest in the country for comparable schools.

Others Raise Charges

However, the same set of national circumstances is forcing other colleges to make similar or greater increases in their charges at this time.

Lebanon Valley has raised their tuition $50 a term and upped room costs. Westminster just increased tuition $5 a semester and raised other charges for a total of $34 a year. And the trend continues.

Little Working Capital

"Lately the College has been able to operate at a small profit," the president said. "But this has never given us sufficient working capital to tide us over the Summer, when outgo is greater than income due largely to the fact that we pay salaries on a 12 rather than nine month basis."

"Now," he added, "we expect to have to operate at a considerable deficit, which will be made up through borrowing."

The president pointed out that the students here never have paid the full cost of their education, and will not now. Endowment funds and contributions make up the difference.

Scout Staff Revision Made

George Crusier has been named business manager of the Scout. He replaces Art Allen, who has resigned in order to devote more time to the Senate and the golf team.

Mr. John Monti

Altoona High To Present Concert Here Wed. Night

Under the direction of John Monti, the Altoona High School Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in Oiler Hall, Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. Monti was graduated from Juniata in 1934 and is at present supervisor of music in Altoona schools.

Sponsored through the courtesy of Howard Lindman, director of music in Altoona schools, the concert to be given by the 83-member orchestra will be free of charge. The program will include the following numbers:

"Coriolan Overture," Beethoven; "Symphony in B minor" ("Unfinished Symphony"), Schubert; "Peter and the Wolf," Prokofiev; "Papillons," Schumann; "Double Concerto in D minor," Bach; "Gypsy Overture," Isaac; "Deep Purple," De Rose; and "Syncopated Clock," Anderson.

Among the soloists will be Sonya Bashore, who has been studying music since the age of six. She has received the National Piano Audition Certificate for five consecutive years.

Helen Wogan, violin soloist, has been playing for eight years and is now completing her third season with the Altoona Civic Symphony in the first violin section. Another violin soloist, Elaine Trotter, is finishing her second season with the same Symphony.

2-Piano Recital Is May 12

Mary Lou McKee and Lois Miller will present a two-piano recital Saturday, May 12 at 8:15 p. m. in Oiler Hall.

2 Plan Europe Trip Despite War Clouds

Miss Jane McCormick

With a sturdy "nuts" to potential war clouds, Jane McCormick and Edith Roberts are planning a two month "for-fun-and-education-too" tour of Europe this Summer.

Miss McCormick is physical education instructor for women here. Miss Roberts—"Beanie to most everybody"—will be graduated in June with a bachelor of arts degree in history.

"There are five of us going," reports Miss McCormick. "It all began when we met at a private girls camp."

"We planned our own tour. This, we felt, would be more fun than simply joining a cut-and-dried agency-arranged trip. Besides, we figure our program can be accomplished for roughly $1000 per person," Miss McCormick said.

June 22 they will sail from (See Trip—, Page 4)

Spring Festival Plans Nearing Completion

All last minute details in the organization of Spring Festival activities next Saturday are being completed by committee chairmen. Under the over-all direction of Renie Hebrank, Betty Longwell, club co-ordinator, and Phyl Baughman, breakfast chairman, are making final arrangements.

Club Booths

Plans for the club booths for the Spring Festival next Saturday are well underway. The booth program is being conducted on a competitive basis. A number of clubs have submitted their theme ideas to Betty Longwell, chairman of this phase of the program, but others are guarding their plans well.

WAA Plans Booth

Girls in old style gym suits will take over the WAA booth. The Outing Club is planning a display based on various phases of camp life.

Two theatrical productions are being planned for the afternoon. A 20 minute puppet show will be presented by the Alpha Beta Gamma, and the Masque will produce the three act play, "Winsome Winnie," which will last a half hour. The program will be arranged in such a way as to permit spectators to view both performances.

Display Home Ec Activities

A display on two phases of home economics, cooking and sewing, is being planned by the Lambda Gamma. Festival goers can be photographed at the Camera Club booth, while the Sigma Gamma will use a theme of social studies.

Old Bibles and hymnals will be exhibited by the JCA in the Library. The French and Spanish Club is working on a theme of folk dancing and a display of various material.

Other clubs planning booths, but not wishing to divulge their themes are the Sportsman, Chemistry, FTA, Scalpel and Probe, IRC and J Clubs. As of Wednesday, the festival was still uncertain of their plans.

5 To Take Part In Reading Fete

Five Juniata students are participating today in the third annual Penn State Intercollegiate Reading Festival, sponsored by the Speech Department. Under the direction of Harriet Nesbitt and William Hamilton, this activity is part of the Combined Arts Festival at State and is unique because it is not a contest.

Juniata's representatives, chosen on the basis of try-outs, are Mary Lou McKee, reading a narrative prose selection; Jeanie Tait, poetry; Connie Sherman, long poetry; and Janet Boland and Phyllis Link, drama.

Some of the other colleges taking part are Seton Hall, Westminster, Geneva, Slippery Rock State Teachers College and the University of Pennsylvania. Last night all the participants were entertained at a banquet.

Breakfast

Cotton dresses are in order for the Spring Festival Breakfast, according to Phyl Baughman, chairman of the breakfast committee.

Menu for the girls' breakfast, which is scheduled for May 12 at 7:30 is to be kept secret. Men students will eat at 6:30. Classes will begin at 8:30.

Queen To Be Presented

Following the invocation by Mrs. C. C. Ellis, the formal presentation of the Queen by the Maid of Honor will take place. At this time the Maid of Honor will place a garland of flowers on the Queen. Music will be furnished by the Girls' Trio.

After the breakfast, the girls will exit through the men's entrance of the old dining hall and line the path which leads to the front of Founders.

Prince To Claim Queen

Men students have been invited to witness the Prince claim the Queen at 8:15. There will be procession of the Queen, the Prince and the court along the path and up the front steps of Founders.

Women faculty and administration members have been invited to the breakfast. A list for reserving tables has been posted in Founders lobby. Seven girls may choose their table and a guest will be assigned to them. Special tables will be reserved for the Queen and her court.

Senate Budget, 2 Committees Are Approved

The Senate budget for 1951-52 has been approved by Pres. Calvert Ellis, Senate Pres. Art Allen announced at the regular meeting Tuesday.

Other items on the agenda were the approval of the radio and Leadership Conference committees, recommendations for the re-appointing of two doors, appointment of a committee to study the adequacy of fire apparatus and provision of lawn chairs for students' use.

Probation Is Discussed

Also the eligibility of students on probation to participate in extra curricular activities was discussed. The Senate then went on record as favoring complete compliance with the faculty ruling that no students on probation be permitted to participate in such activities.

As approved, the 1951-52 budget stands as follows:

Athletics	$ 25
General Activities	10
Men's House	10
Publications	5
Religious Activities	5
Secretary-Treasurer	75
Social Activities	215
Underclassmen	30
Women's House	33
Total	$448
Additional appropriations:
Junior Reception	$ 50
Commencement	50
Leadership Conference	50
Dance Band (2 formal)	100
Total	$250
Complete Total	$698

Upon the recommendation of co-chairmen Margie Alleman and Bob Champion, the Senate approved the following radio committee members: Peggy Barrington, Carole Hagen, Ruth March, (See Senate—, Page 4)

Dr. Brumbaugh, '79, Will Be 89 Monday

Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh will be 89 Monday.

In addition to still being a practicing physician, he is honorary chairman of the College board of trustees.

The doctor was one of the original three students here in 1876, and was a member of the first graduating class in 1879. His father, Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, was one of the three brothers who first conceived the idea of establishing a center of higher learning in Huntingdon.

Miss Edith Roberts

Ideas, Ideas, Ideas-- Festival's Got 'Em, You Should See 'Em

by the editor

FRESH IDEAS are the world's rarest commodity.

And so we tip our green eyeshade to Renie Hebrank and her crew of chairmen for the brightest handful of ideas we've seen on this campus in a long time. Their program for the Spring Festival has what it takes.

Two problems faced the group. (1) The old style May Day program, while colorful, had been done to death and interest had waned. Something new was in order, and it was up to this gang to develop it.

(2) An unprecedented set of circumstances left the planners without any athletic events scheduled for the afternoon of the Spring celebration. It was these activities which had held the interest of many students to the campus during previous May Days, and something had to be found which would replace them in student interest-drawing power.

The club booths were the answer. And from a glance at the list on page one of exhibits planned, we'd say it was the right answer.

EXPERIENCE MAYBE?

Somewhat Dr. Nye's medieval history class got discussing the pawn shops of medieval times. "Pop," Fulk immediately launched into a long and detailed description of the operation and management of the medieval pawn shop, describing it very completely and concisely. Upon the completion of his little spiel, Dr. Nye concluded, "We still do a little of that today. I notice you're acquainted with the scheme."

WILDLIFE PRESERVE?—The College dining hall seems to be taking on all the appearances of a genuine terrarium. The waitress (won't tell her name but her initials are Joan Lenhardt) of one table nearly sprayed dishes the length of the dining hall when she discovered, staring back at her from one of the tables, a large, green frog. And at the next meal it was a lost-looking turtle wandering aimlessly among a forest of legs—chair, table and human. Anybody got a spare pond?

Communism Exposed

Bull sessions have been kicking the subject around for a long time. And the misconceptions get bigger as the participants get hotter. So we looked the matter up in the most unbiased texts we could find.

Extreme Socialism

"Communism," the book said, "represents the extreme form of modern socialism." America is a modified form of the same socialism, which complicates the picture no end.

It might be said to have begun back in More's "Utopia" and Plato's "Republic," for these first talked of communal developments.

Began With Marx

The modern movement is an outgrowth of theories devised by Karl Marx in the late 19th century and described in his book, "Das Kapital." Essentially, his system is founded on economic determinism, a claim that economics determine history's course.

"History and economics have taken care of the wealthy and the middle classes. Now what about the poor?" he said in effect. These ideas, known as dialectical materialism, were inspired by the teachings of the German philosopher George Hegel.

Class Struggle

Class struggle is the chief tenet of this doctrine. Lenin and Trotsky picked up these ideas, and added to them their own ideas of world revolution to establish communism.

In 1924, Lenin died, and his international emphasis was replaced by Stalin's nationalistic ideas. Recently, two other modifications have been introduced, one by Tito in Yugoslavia, a second by Mao Tse Tung in China, you that they simply don't hold a candle to that fabulous sheik of the 20's, Rudolph Valentino. Darling, dashing and an actor immortal is this past hero of the screen, and Columbia puts his life together in a movie that honors the memory of his famous name.

The unusual thing about this film is the likeness in face, figure and vitality that Anthony Dexter is to the real Valentino. Eleanor Parker and Richard Carlson in the supporting roles do justice to their trusts.

"Valentino" is the life of a film star whose life is constantly being used for filmdom's public relations. Consequently the motion picture about his life will have gaiety, humor, tragedy, love, emotion. These, plus Technicolor, integrate themselves into a motion picture about a typical victim of public lime-light.—Grand Theatre.

Plagued by Work? Then Try These Methods

by Ray Siren

As I am writing this bit of foolishness, rather subconsciously I am seeking ways of getting out of work. With the weather like it is, and being an avid fan of that age-old sport of goofing off, I find it most difficult to do anything but loaf, play golf and relax in the traditional Junatian manner.

As long as we're on the subject, let's look at the various ways and means of attacking this dilemma: whether to work or not.

Objective Approach

First, and most easily done, there is the objective approach. By objective, I mean that if you consider this problem in its entirety, the easiest thing to do is a history final tomorrow, I would suggest a western movie tonight. After all, America's history was made in the plains and mountains of the Wild West.

In a similar manner, most of the subjects here at school can be related to the cinema—music to the musicals, literature to the fact that all movies have scripts, science to such epics as "Destination Moon" or "Bedtime for Bonzo," etc.

Are You Ambitious?

At this point, a word to the first year students is in order. Many of you have ambition. Let me admonish you, remember what happened to Caesar, and all the other ambitious characters in history! They're all dead. Above all, don't work too hard, you'll keep the average up and you know what that will do to the normal goof-off.

At any rate, something must be done about this school-work situation. What you choose to do is largely a matter of preference, but to those who have no way or means of getting out of work, all I can say is, "Ya hear that drip, Mac?"

Intramural Program Hits Stride

A great deal of activity will take place on the intramural scene during the next two weeks. The intramural golf tournament will be held, the tennis matches will round into full swing and softball will be played almost every day.

The golf tournament will take place next Wednesday and Thursday, 18 holes being played each day. Fifteen candidates will tee off for the 36 hole medal play. There are no pairings. Instead, the golfers will play in foursomes any four at a time.

Only two matches have been played in the tennis tournament, but plans are being made to speed up the event. In matches thus far, Dick Bowker defeated Bob Withey 6-4, 6-4 and Clem Rosenberger topped Dick Barefoot 7-5, 6-2. Chuck Needy forfeited to Marcos Eddi to round out the only action on the court scene.

On the softball front this week most action has been devoted to the playing off of postponed games. On Wednesday, all games had been played except one. Leading the pack were Bob Volpito's Blivits with a five win, undefeated record.

Yesterday at a softball managers meeting it was announced that the FJC squad had disbanded, and dropped from the league. This has resulted in all FJC games being declared forfeit.

All players who were on the team have been declared free agents.

This action makes it possible for all former FJC members to play on any team with which they chose to sign.

J C Athletes To Be Feted At May Dinner

The second annual athletic banquet honoring varsity athletes and members of the WAA is to be held in the College dining hall Thursday, May 17.

Those present will include members of the football, basketball, track, tennis, baseball and golf teams. Members of the WAA are also to be present.

At the banquet the letter awards will be given to those men who earned "them." The coaches will make the presentations—Bill Smaltz for football and baseball, Doc Greene for basketball, Mike Snider for track and tennis and Dr. Kiracofe for golf.

Juniata To Be Co-favorite In Own Golf Tournament

It is expected that Juniata and Lehigh University will be considered as co-favorites in the J.C. invitational golf tournament to be held next week. Lehigh tied for second place with the Indians in the tourney last year.

J C Finishes Fourth In Penn Relay Event

Juniata's entry in the Penn Relays, held April 27 and 28, ran to a fourth place behind Adelphi, Haverford and Albright. Nine teams were entered in the race.

Adelphi's winning time was 3:29.3 while Juniata was unofficially clocked at 3:37. Albright and J.C. finished in almost a dead heat for third place.

The contest marked the first time in three years that Juniata has entered a team in the relays. The Indians have not taken a championship since 1939 when the relay artists captured the mile event in the Middle Atlantic.

Juniata's runners were Jack Rothenberger, Joe Hackman, Fred Stauffer and John Cook. All of these men are expected to return next year and, according to Director of Athletics P. M. "Mike" Snider, their abilities coupled with those of some bright freshman prospects should give the Indian entry a good chance to win in 1952.

Indians Win 2 In Row From St. Francis Nine

Juniata's diamond Indians scored two wins over St. Francis of Loretto in their last two games. Ed Feldkircher pitched a five hit shutout Saturday and was winning the second game Tuesday.

However, he faltered in the ninth and needed relief by Dave LeFevre. LeFevre won the game with three runs in the tenth to win 10-7.

Ed Feldkircher had a five run lead as the ninth started. He then lost control and before LeFevre came in, five runs were across and the winning run was on second.

Run Scores On Walk

LeFevre walked the first man but got the next to fly deep to Jack Dickey in left field, ending the inning.

The Indians scored three runs in the tenth and then LeFevre held the Frankies scoreless to take the ballgame.

Ray Tesi beat out a hit to the second baseman and went to second on the overthrow. Hackett walked.

Hackett Scores On Throw

With men on second and third "Monk" Simon laid down a perfect squeeze bunt to score Tesi. Simon beating the play for a hit. Simon stole second and when the catcher threw wild went to third as Hackett scored. George Kensingler drove in the last run with a single along the right field line.

The Indians scored single runs in the first and fifth innings. Three runs counted in the fourth, while two more came across in the seventh.

St. Francis scored single runs in the fourth and eighth innings and five in the last of the ninth.

Tesi Goes 3 For 5

Bill Hawley, Frankie centerfielder led the hitters with a triple and three singles. Tesi paced the Tribe attack with three singles in five trips.

Fran Zimmerman and Dickey each got a double and a single, while Duke Schetrompf slapped out a three bagger and a single. Simon picked up two singles and two RBIs.

With Ed Feldkircher scattering five hits, the Indians beat St. Francis, 5-0 for their first shutout since Paul Peoples beat Dickinson in 1948.

Score Two In Fourth

The Indians scored two runs in the fourth inning on Fran Zimmerman's single, Tom McNeal's walk, Ray Tesi's double and a run producing fly by Feldkircher.

Single runs were scored in the fifth, seventh and eighth innings. Duke Schetrompf paced the hitters with a double and two singles. George Kensingler, Zimmerman and Tesi each contributed two hits to the Indian total of 11.

Golfers Score Sixth Victory Over F & M

Playing at the Conestoga Country Club, the home course of the Franklin & Marshall team, Coach Edgar Kiracofe's linkmen swept all six matches in their one sided defeat of the Diplomats last Saturday afternoon.

The Indians showed superiority from tee to green in chalking up their sixth victory of the 1951 season against only one loss.

Par on the newly constructed Conestoga layout was nearly matched by Bob Rhodes and Ray Korody, who fired two over par 72's. Both shared medalist honors for the day.

Low man for F & M was Sam Lobach who shot a 76.

Indian Golfers Beat Albright

Juniata's golf crew won their seventh game in eight tries last Tuesday when they beat Albright 6-1. The Albright team brought only five men along accounting for the total of seven points instead of the usual nine.

Ray Korody met up with his second defeat in losing to Don Battdorf 1 up. The remainder of the team won their matches easily with scores ranging from Tommy Sander's 1 up win to Art Allen's 8 & 7 win over Albright's number three man.

The summaries:

Battdorf defeated Korody (J) 1 up

1st Comps Were Given To Class Of 1934 Here

by Jim Streiner

Comps have grown through their 17 years of use here.

The first seniors to take an examination under the comprehensive plan were the class of 1934.

However, for several years these tests were specific rather than truly comprehensive; so specific in fact that in some departments individual tests were made up to cover only those courses which the student had taken.

1936 Catalog Consulted

According to a 1936 College catalog, "Each senior will be required to take a comprehensive final examination in the field of one major (then, a minimum of 24 hours) . . . At the end of the second semester, he will take the regular examination in courses outside the field of this major, providing his class grade is below 75%." The second semester examinations in the courses of his chief major will be merged with the comprehensive examination.

More All-Inclusive

In 1938 the faculty and administration revamped the entire curriculum structure. They introduced the integration program, and began a movement toward giving seniors a broader, more all-inclusive exam.

At present, this group is working toward division-wide comprehensives, rather than limiting the test subject to a single specific field of concentration.

Senate—

Dick Akers, Gene Felix and Jack Ulsch. Also in connection with the radio committee, Marj Seidel, chairman of publications, made a recommendation that the Public Relations Office be responsible for all expenses of that committee.

Other Appointments Approved
Appointments made by Joe Thomasberger, vice president, to serve under him on the Leadership Conference Committee were approved. They are Dottie Hummer, secretary; Betty Longwell, social committee chairman; and Kay Wright, chairman of general activities. Thomasberger also urged the Senators to bring with them to the next meeting issues they want discussed at Leadership Conference.

Recommendations to repair two doors—one in Oller Hall and the other, the men's room at the new Dining Hall entrance—were made. It was brought to the attention of the Senate by a letter from Jim Streiner, Juniata Editor, that the latter needs a different lock in order to make it accessible at all times.

Discuss Fire Apparatus

After a discussion of the adequacy of fire drills and apparatus on campus, it was decided that Jack Dickey and Connie Sherman, chairmen of men's and women's houses respectively, should study the situation in their individual committees. Jack Rothenberger, chairman of underclassmen, and Thomasberger were appointed to investigate fire apparatus in Science Hall.

Several lawn chairs which were once bought by Juniata students are to be set up on the Cloisters patio and the lawn near the home economics lab for students' use.

Male Quartet Travels To Ohio

Juniata's Varsity Male Quartet left this morning for a weekend trip to Ohio.

The group will sing this evening at an alumni banquet in Hudson, Ohio. Tomorrow the men plan to take in a baseball game at Municipal Stadium in Cleveland, which is located near Hudson. They will return to the College tomorrow evening.

More engagements have been scheduled by the quartet for this month. They will sing at the Marklesburg Church Sunday. A secular program will be presented for a P. T. A. group in Altoona Wednesday. Their next engagement is scheduled for May 16 at a meeting of the Huntingdon Kiwanis Club.

With their appearance at the Friends of the Library tea, the quartet will draw the season to a close June 2.

9 From JC To Take Medical School Exam

An all-day medical school examination will be given at Penn State May 12. "Those going from Juniata to take the test are Steve Dolak, Stan Wass, Fred Bratton, Wayne Meyers, Walt Bandurak, Charles Needy, Doug Martin, Galen Keeney and Earl Detrick.

The purpose of this examination is to see how individual students stand in comparison with other students desiring to go to medical school. Results of the test are sent to the schools of their choice.

"The Akron Buchtelite", Akron University, Ohio, reports a significant set of statistics. It seems that Yale graduates have an average of 1.3 children while Vassar grads average 1.7 children. All this, comments the Buchtelite, "merely goes to show that women have more children than men."

Another one from the Wilkes College Beacon—The U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics reports: the average income of the American working girl is about two in the morning.

Seniors Retain Best Scholastic Average

As a class, the seniors consistently make the best grades, a check of the registrar's records since 1948 shows. Juniors, sophomores and freshmen follow in that order.

Latest evidence of this appears in the quality point ratio chart for the Fall term which has just been released. According to this, the seniors last semester pulled a 1.60 average, the juniors 1.53, the sophomores 1.29 and the freshmen 1.14.

The all-College ratio average was 1.31.

Women nosed out the men last semester with a 1.43 average over the 1.23 made by the "stronger sex."

Veterans as a group averaged 1.29.

ON THE AGENDA

Club Season Nears Finish

By JEANIE TAIT

With the end of the semester near at hand, the clubs are rounding out their year's program with a variety of events. Highlighting this week's agenda are the Masquers dinner, WAA picnic and JCA hike.

The annual steak dinner for Masquers will be held Thursday at 6 p. m. in the Blue Room of the Hotel Penn Hunt. As part of the initiation ceremony, a short play will be given by Masquers Elly Formwalt, Jane Baker, Ruth Reid, Phyl Link, Chuck Allison, Bob Champion, Janet Boland, Jo Chiodi, Ron Cherry and Elaine Mock.

JCA members will hike to the cliffs Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. for a vesper service. Tonight the newly elected Council, will have their first meeting in the J Harvey Brumbaugh House when they will discuss plans for the coming year.

Members of the WAA will journey to Paradise Furnace Thursday for a picnic. Pres. Ginny Tyson invites all those interested in joining the club to attend this outing.

Gene Seese will be in charge of the regular IVCF meeting Thursday at 7 p. m.

According to Bill Carpenter, president of Sigma Gamma, Mr. Harvey Boorman, State Secretary of the YMCA, will be in the Social Rooms Wednesday from 1:30 to 4 p. m. to talk to anyone interested in YMCA work.

The Scalpel and Probe will hold its regular meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m. in Science Hall.

Today and tomorrow representatives of the Lambda Gamma are attending the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association Convention at York, Pa. Juniata's delegates are Esther Weaver, Ruth Armentrout, Trudy Griffin, Martha Petre, Jane Abel and Norma Jean Duff. The girls are being accompanied by Miss Helen Fisher, Miss Gertrude Butler and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby.

Senators Find Fire Equipment To Be Adequate

Reports on the adequacy of fire equipment at Juniata was the main topic on the agenda Tuesday at the last Senate meeting of the term.

The Senate will gather together once more, informally, for a picnic at Dr. and Mrs. Donald Rockwell's home Tuesday afternoon. Both the old and new Senates are invited to this outing.

Fire Reports Given

At the meeting, Joe Thomsberger and Jack Rothenberger reported that the fire equipment in Science Hall is adequate with the exception of showers. However, Dr. Rockwell informed them that they will be installed this summer. The Senate then recommended to the Science Department that a period of instruction in the use of the fire equipment be given to all science classes at the beginning of each year.

Jack Dickey and Connie Sherman reported on the equipment in the dorms and decided that more fire drills were needed in the girls' dorm. It was also decided that the problem of fire prevention on campus be brought up as a special issue at Leadership Conference.

Approve Softball Commission

The Senate approved the following names submitted by Bob Asan to serve as a commission for intramural softball: Jim Holsapple, Ray Korody and John Richman. Asan plans to have such a commission elected by team managers, for each intramural sport.

It was reported that Pres. Calvert Ellis has appointed, upon the recommendation of the Senate, J. Clyde Stayer as faculty representative to the Concessions Committee in co-operation with Dean Melvin Rhodes, Connie Sherman and Jack Dickey.

Each Senator signed the birth certificate which the Senate had made for Randall Morley Mays, son of Dean and Mrs. Morley Mays. The certificate was made by Howard Montgomery.

Choir Will Give Concert Sunday

Sunday evening the A Cappella Choir will present its annual Mother's Day concert. The presentation of the group's sacred program will be given in the St. James Lutheran Church in Huntingdon.

It will mark the thirty-third time that Prof. Charles Rowland has directed either the A Cappella Choir or a college glee club in the annual Mother's Day Concert.

This will have its last participation in an A Cappella church concert for twelve seniors in the choir. They are Audrey Campbell, Laura Hollingshead and Lois Wible, sopranos; Doris Mickle, Doris Orner, Edith Roberts and Beverly Williams, altos.

Clair Schaffner and George Kensinger, tenors; and Gerald Hartzel, Donald Robinson and Quayton Stottlemeyer, basses.

Ellis Dinner For Faculty, Administration Is Tonight

Members of the faculty and administration will attend a dinner given by Pres. and Mrs. Calvert Ellis tonight at 6 p. m. in the Bedford Springs Hotel.

They will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown of Washington, D. C. Dr. Brown, a member of the staff of the American Council on Education and chief liaison officer between higher education and the federal government, will address the group.

FESTIVAL FOURSOME—These four senior girls pictured above will appear in the first Spring Festival court to preside over activities tomorrow afternoon. They are (r. to l.) Queen Gladys Gehman, Maid of Honor Erla Mae Weist and senior attendants Phyl Baughman and Dolly Shaffer. Festivities will begin at 2:30 p. m. with the processional in front of Oller Hall.

Saturday Schedule Changed

Saturday classes will begin at 8:30 a. m. and will last the usual 55 minutes. Consequently, second, third and fourth period classes will start at 9:30, 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. respectively. Lunch will be served at 12:45 p. m.

Dinner Will Be Held For Honor Society

The tenth annual dinner for the Honor Society will be held Monday at 6 p. m. at Helfrick's. Dr. Harold Binkley, who is in charge of the dinner, and 12 other faculty members will be present.

Festival Show To Be Aired

Wednesday at 8 p. m. Juniata on the Air will feature a program on the Spring Festival. The script is being prepared by Peggy Barrington and Dick Akers.

Lambda Gamma Wins 2 Honors

At the Home Ec Convention held in York, Pa. last weekend, Juniata's Lambda Gamma received two honors. Ruth Armentrout, former president of the Club, was elected president of the College Clubs of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association.

Secondly, the Club was presented a certificate signifying that it has achieved the "standard of excellence" set up by the Association.

The theme of the conference was "The Contribution of Home Economics to World Understanding." Included among convention highlights were various tours through furniture, paint and decorating stores, a fashion show sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Company, a banquet and a demonstration on how to present a Home Economics television show.

Delegates from Juniata included Esther Weaver, Ruth Armentrout, Jane Abel, Martha Petre, Trudy Griffin and Norma Jean Duff. They were accompanied by Miss Helen Fisher, Miss Gertrude Butler and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby.

Special Edition Planned

The next issue of the Juniation will be the last for this year. A special freshman welcome edition will be issued Sept. 17, 1951 to start off volume 28 next year.

Registration To Be Held Tues.-Thurs.

Registration for the Summer and Fall terms will be held in Founders Chapel next week on the following schedule: juniors, Tuesday; sophomores, Wednesday; and freshmen, Thursday. All students are requested to register on the designated day between 1:45 and 3:30 p. m.

All home economics majors will register Tuesday from 1:45 to 3:30 p. m. In case of any class conflicts preventing a student from registering at the appointed time, Founders Chapel will be open for registration of these students Thursday from 10 to 10:30 a. m.

Consultations with faculty advisors or department chairmen should be arranged prior to registration.

Classes for the Summer term begin Monday, June 16 and for the Fall term, Thursday, Sept. 20.

Lois Miller

Mary Lou McKee

2-Piano Recital To Be Tomorrow Night

Both classical and modern music will be presented by Lois Miller and Mary Lou McKee in their two-piano recital tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Miss Miller, a junior sociology major from Tuckahoe, N. Y., has previously played at the North Hill School for girls.

The other performer of the evening, Miss McKee, also a junior, is from Johnstown, Pa. A home ec major, she appeared in a piano recital last year.

Their program includes: "Sonata in D" Mozart; "Variation on a Theme by Haydn" Brahms; "O God, Thou Holy God" Brahms; "A Rose Breaks into Bloom," Brahms; "Polonaise in A flat, opus 53," Chopin; and "Scaramouche," Milhaud.

Both Miss Miller and Miss McKee are students of Miss Marion Thomas.

Festival Begins Tomorrow, 2:30

Tomorrow is the first Spring Festival in Juniata's history!

Renie Hebrank, chairman, has announced that the main events for the day will include the Spring Festival breakfast for the girls, coronation of the Queen, a new type program in front of Oller Hall, club displays and a tea in the social rooms later in the afternoon.

Starting off the round of activities will be the traditional breakfast at 7:30 a. m. At this time the Maid of Honor, Erla Mae Weist, will place a garland of flowers on Queen Gladys Gehman.

Kay Wright will be master of ceremonies for the breakfast. Entertainment will be provided by the Girls' Trio.

Men To Meet Queen

The men are requested to come to the men's entrance of the old dining hall at 8:15 a. m. There Prince Consort Bill Korman will claim his queen and will present her to the men students.

This will be followed by a procession of the Queen, the Prince and the court to the front porch of Founders. Classes will be delayed until 8:30 a. m. for these events.

Beginning at 2:30 p. m., the afternoon program will open with the processional to the front of Oller Hall and the crowning of the Queen by Prince Consort. The Maid of Honor will present a gift to the Queen while the court will be seated against a background of gold and green.

Program Events Listed

Events on the program include music by the Orchestra and A Cappella Choir; a Mexican dance, "The Chiapanecas," by the Carfora twins; gymnastics by a men's gymnastic team; and a fencing exhibition by Chet Gromeriger and Dagmar Silldorff. The Orchestra will play the processional and recessional, "Symphonized Clock" and "Over the Rainbow." The A Cappella Choir will sing "Italian Street Song" and "Gianina Mia."

Ray Siren will act as master of ceremonies for the whole program in front of Oller Hall. People attending the program will pass into the festival grounds under large gates bearing the words, "Spring Festival—Welcome." The street between Oller Hall and the main part of the campus has been closed off for the afternoon.

On To Club Booths

Immediately after the program, the court will lead the audience into the club booth area in front of the old gym. From 3:15 to 4 p. m. the guests may visit the various club displays. Walt Bandurak will serve as commentator for the club displays. He will be heard over a loud-speaker system (See Festival—, Page 4)

Daily P. O. Load Is 200 Letters

Everyone will agree that the post office is one of the busiest spots on campus. Each morning at nine and each afternoon at two a crowd of Juniata's may be seen milling about outside the little room under Students Hall.

Supplementing the 200 letters which come in on the average day are laundry cases and approximately 100 second class items. Jay Benedict and Bob Rotz, stu-

Post office box deposits will be refunded May 21. Students must call for their mail once they have received their money.

dent postmasters, say they don't mind sorting this volume of mail, "but the constant questions do get annoying."

Both Rotz and Benedict are seniors.

The campus post office is officially open for one-half hour after meals except Saturday evening and all day Sunday. During hours students may buy stamps, and so many have taken advantage of this convenience that Juniata's mailmen sell an average of 800 stamps per week.

Bob Muchoney has been named post master of the College post office for the Summer term. J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of students has been made yet on student workers in this department for next year, he added.

IRC Award, Other Items

● HERE'S $200, and it can't even be given away. The IRC established a grant-in-aid fund last Spring of $100 to help finance any student on a trip to Europe, the only catch being that he return to report his experiences to the club. When this amount drew no takers, they added another hundred this Spring. Still no takers, because of "the shaky world situation, and the fact that inflation makes even $200 only a drop in the bucket," one interested person said. For what it's worth, our suggestion to the IRC is this: don't get discouraged; keep adding to the fund as you can afford it. It's a nice nest egg if some more worth while project ever develops; and someone will be sure to pick up your tab when the pot gets big enough.

● ADD ANOTHER PAPER to the list of those who like the Junatian's original features. The Keuka College (N. Y.) Keukonian has reprinted Fred Shamlian's original poem, "Conscience," published here recently.

● HOW MANY WAYS can you announce a baby's birth? First prof this year to be new and different about it was Dr. Raymond Davis, who issued a mock chemistry report. Then last week registrar Bill Engel came out with a doctored up grade sheet (see story elsewhere in this issue). But Dean Morley Mays beat him to it by a day or so when he issued a photo announcement showing his adopted daughter Beth leaning over an empty chair and declaring: "This is saved for my new brother, Randy."

● A NEW TREND in campus advertising has been sneaking up on us. Now it even has the sanction of the dean of the College. It works simply: you clear away a space on the bulletin board twice as big as your announcement; this you fill with a cardboard sign with a heading showing that this space is reserved for Schmoo Club announcements, or what have you. This keeps your memo from being buried under all the other old ones. We hate to buck such a progressive trend, especially when the dean favors it, but we do think a better idea would be that used in many other colleges: give some Senate or faculty member direct responsibility for keeping bulletin boards clear and readable. Then special bulletin boards within bulletin boards would be needed.

● AND FOR THE LOST and found items in the information office (see story elsewhere in this issue) we'd like to promote an auction. With a witty student auctioneer and some imagination, it could be fun. May 18 has been suggested as a good date, but we're still looking for a good cause to receive whatever income the venture might have. What do you think?

MACBETH—Opening today for a one night stand is a motion picture that you won't want to miss. If you had to struggle through this Shakespearean masterpiece in high school, as I did, you'll really appreciate it on the screen. Just how close Orson Wells, who produced and plays the leading role, follows the original story in his film adaptation of the great play I don't know, but I do know that he can be depended upon to do a superb job along the mystic line. It is my personal conviction that the screen is more capable of capturing the mystery and fantasy of Macbeth than any other medium. Today only at the Clifton.

YOU'RE IN THE NAVY NOW—Formerly named USS Teakettle, here's a comedy about the Navy which is a couple of notches above some of the cheap war pictures we've been flooded with lately.

The movie features Gary Cooper as a Naval Reserve no-sea-experience Officer and his crew of nine-day-wonders who have been called upon to handle a patrol craft and conduct an experiment. Their green backs show up and their struggle is the funny part, but the salt water finally washes some sense into them and they end up with citations. Clifton Theatre.

SAMSON AND DELILAH—If you missed it the first time it's well worth the regular price. Don't expect a complex plot because the Bible just didn't make it that way. Don't expect it to be just like the Bible because Hollywood didn't make it that way either. Don't yell "Sacrilege!" when you see Hedy Lamarr in her... well, you might call it a dress. Remember: Delilah was a temptress and although she might not have looked like Hedy does, Paramount gave us a creature that we'll think is a temptress.

Patrick Henry said, "Give me liberty or give me death." His descendants now just say "Gimme."

The thing to watch is the photography. Cecil B. DeMille spent close to three million dollars on this movie and believe me it shows. The grandeur and pageantry that the camera captures and the costuming of a cast of thousands will not be equaled for a long while.

Victor Mature is well cast in the part of this Biblical strong man. A little fantastic when he starts throwing chariots and a couple of dozen men around, but that's what the Bible says and who is Paramount to judge. Grand Theatre.

'Once Over Lightly' Given Life At Skips, Women, Cash, Profs

by Ray Siren

This morning, your omni-present columnist lent an inquisitive ear to the coffee-cup philosophers at Skip's, in hopes of hearing something worth writing about. As was expected, the talk ran from the coming exams to girls and other necessary evils.

With the passing of one Rudolph Valentino, it has become apparent that some of our gay campus caballeros are seeking to fill his most illustrious shoes.

Techniques Vary

However, technique under consideration varied from the closed door policy to the college equivalent of the Marshall Plan. That is, some seemed to think that the proper approach was to give the lady in question a slight sample of his potentialities and then close the gate, leaving them to fight among themselves over the future. Let them come to you, he says.

For three years now, I have experimented on this "let them come to you" plan, and needless to say, the world has not beaten a path to my door.

Shower 'Em With Gifts

On the other hand, the other disputant in the morning, Kaffeeklatsch, contended that if you shower them with gifts, expensive dates and your undivided attention, they will be overwhelmed and easily indoctrinated in your ethics.

However, I am sad to say, money is the necessary medium and as you well know, money is something sought for, dreamed of and coveted, but never quite acquired in desired quantities. The spending of same is therefore tempered somewhat by its absence.

Ask For 'Uncle Ray'

What then is the proper method? If any of you girls have any ideas on the subject and wish to demonstrate, call Hun. 9907 and ask for "Uncle Ray." Don't worry, I'll be in; just tell them to wake me up.

The other topic most often discussed was the advent of the final exams. Conversation as regards this work of the devil ranged from the defeatist viewpoint to the famous-last-words angle, "He can't flunk me, I got that course wired."

Well friends, little can or need be said on this subject. My only suggestion is that you leave everything up to the pros. Take the quizzes, but don't worry. They seem to have a way about giving out marks. Either they like you and pass you or you would fail no matter what you do.

Personality's The Thing

Above all, don't for a minute think that test scores or averages have anything to do with it. Personality, lads and lassies, personality is the idea.

In short, what you hear at Skip's is to be taken with a grain of salt. It's just idle talk and has one purpose, to keep you rational. If ever your minds are troubled about something over a cup of coffee, forget it. It's the coffee, not the problem, that's vexing you.

J C Rated Co-Favorite In Tourney

Juniata's golf team, victorious in eight out of nine matches this year, will enter the second annual Juniata College invitational tournament rated as co-favorites with Lehigh University.

The Indian linksmen, tied for second place with Lehigh last year. Both teams finished behind the University of Pennsylvania which finished strong during the last 18 holes of play to take the title.

Winner Cannot Compete

Last year's winning team will be unable to defend its crown this year because of a conflicting schedule. Both the Juniata tourney and the Eastern Intercollegiate championships are scheduled for the same weekend.

Juniata will field a comparatively experienced team. Bob Rhodes, Ray Korody, Art Allen and Dave Bayer all saw action in the tournament last year. Lehigh, perhaps the Indian's roughest opponent, will also return a veteran foursome.

Twenty-one Entered

Twenty-one colleges have accepted invitations to the tournament. They include Albright, Alliance, American University, Bucknell, Elizabethtown, Frostburg, Md., STC, Gannon, Indiana SCT, Juniata, Kings College, Lehigh University, Lycoming, Muhlenberg, Rutgers University, Scranton University, St. Francis, St. Joseph's, Susquehanna, Temple University, University of Delaware and Western Maryland.

Six trophies will be awarded during the course of the meet. Included among the awards will be a plaque to be given by the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Athletic Association.

AN EDITORIAL

I-M Ban On Athletes Seems Impractical

By JIM HOLSOPPLE

There are two sides to every issue. The current squabble over the eligibility of varsity athletes to compete in the spring intramural program presents no exception.

Not too long ago the athletic department issued an order barring participants in all spring athletics—golf, tennis and track—from intramural play.

Action Has Logic

The department had both logic and authority on its side in issuing the directive. Plainly, coaches should expect their players to devote their undivided attention to the work at hand.

Nevertheless a legitimate issue may be raised concerning both the timing and manner in which the order was issued. With the softball season at the midway point, certain teams found themselves facing the loss of a number of standout players, in some cases enough to cause the collapse of the team.

Directive Issued Later

Furthermore, at the organizational meeting of the softball league it was decided that baseball players should be the only ones banned from competition. If it was the intention of the athletic department to issue the directive, why did they not do so at that time?

Varsity athletes, apparently believing they can handle both programs, have been ignoring the order. Does it not seem that the action should be reconsidered in the light of this situation?

Netmen Lose To Lycoming

Juniata's tennis team dropped its third match in five outings last Tuesday to the Lycoming netmen by a score of 7-2.

Only Bob Rauch and Terry Harrison came through with victories for the losers, Rauch winning 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, and Harrison rallying to win 6-8, 6-0, 6-2.

Defeats in the singles matches were suffered by Steve Finkel 6-4, 6-3; Ray Hollinger 6-0, 6-3; Jim Marr 6-3, 6-0; and Bob Frain 6-4, 6-3.

JC also dropped all her doubles matches. Finkel and Hollinger lost 6-2, 6-2; Marr and Harrison went down 6-1, 6-3; Frain and Rauch were nosed out 5-7, 6-0, 6-4.

The tennis squad will face Elizabethtown away in their next match on the 19th and will wind up their season at home when they face Lycoming again May 26.

Schetrompf Leads In Specialized Batting

Pacing this year's baseball Indians in the specialized batting department is Duke Schetrompf. He is tied with George Kensing-er and Jack Dickey for the lead in doubles, each having three.

Schetrompf also leads in triples, runs batted in and runs scored. He is tied with two others in home run production with two for each man.

Fran Zimmerman leads the team in stolen bases with eight thefts to his credit. Schetrompf is second with seven.

Indians Down Lycoming; Lose To Pitt, Dickinson

Dickinson

Jumping off to a 4-0 lead at the end of the first inning, the Dickinson Red Devils beat Juniata 10-6 last Wednesday afternoon at Carlisle. Dave LeFevre, who allowed eight hits and eight runs in five and one third innings was the losing pitcher.

Duke Schetrompf drove in three Juniata runs with a home run to right field in the seventh inning. Jack Dickey and Tom McNeal each collected two hits of the Indians.

Hitting honors for the afternoon were shared by two Dickinson players, however. Shortstop Gene Oyler got four hits including a two run homer.

Catcher Steals Home

Bill Stark, heavy hitting backstop, collected two homers and a double for his days work. He also stole home for Dickinson's fourth run.

Dickinson grabbed off a quick four run lead on an infield single by Bob Beaver, a bunt single by Oyler and a home run by first baseman Joe Copeland.

Stark got on base via a walk and moved to third on a walk and hit batsman. He then stole home.

Three Runs In D'son Sixth

Three scored in the Dickinson sixth. Beaver got on base by way of a walk and scored in front of Oyler's homer.

Ed Feldkircher then took over the pitching chores. He got the first man out but the second, Stark unloaded his second home run of the game.

The Red Devils also scored two runs in the second on Stark's homer behind Oyler's single. Copeland's triple scored Beaver with the last Dickinson run in the eighth.

Juniata scored one run in the second, two in the fourth and three in the seventh.

Two Runs Score For Indians

After two were down in the fourth McNeal lined a single to right. Ray Tesi walked and Dave Hackett singled to left to score McNeal.

Walks to LeFevre and Bob Simon forced in a run and left the bases loaded. George Kensing-er ended the inning by grounding out.

A single and a hit on error followed by Schetrompf's four master counted the last Juniata runs in the seventh.

The Indians had one more chance in the ninth when Schetrompf got on base as a result of an error. Fran Zimmerman fouled to the catcher but Dickey got an infield single. McNeal forced Schetrompf and Tesi struck out to end the contest.

Bucknell Linksmen

Bow As Korody Stars

Playing at Lewisburg last Tuesday afternoon, Juniata's linksmen scored their eighth win of the 1951 campaign. With Ray Korody leading the way the Indians swamped Bucknell 9-0.

The next opponent for the golf crew is Rutgers. They meet the Indians at the American Legion Country Club course tomorrow.

Pitt

Dave LeFevre dropped his first ball game of the year last Saturday afternoon, as the University of Pittsburgh baseball team beat the Indians, 4-3.

The Indians jumped off to a quick three run lead in the first. Monk Simon reached second on the third baseman's error. Kensing-er then singled Simon to third and stole second.

Schetrompf Scores Two

Duke Schetrompf scored both men with a single to center and when the centerfielder booted the ball went to third. He scored on Jack Dickey's double to right center.

Pitt evened the count in the second. Joe Ross, the third baseman, singled to left and moved to second on Ray Murphy's walk.

Lewis Scores Two

Bob Lewis scored both men with a hit to right. Lewis moved to second on a ground out and scored on pitcher Bob Russell's single to left.

Russel opened the ninth with a walk. He was sacrificed to second and scored on Ray Tesi's boot of Bill Marhefka's grounder.

Lycoming

As Fran Zimmerman led the way with two home runs, a triple and a single, the Juniata Indians swamped Lycoming College, 21-2 last Monday at Williamsport. Tummy Green, making his first start, hurled four hit ball to register his first win.

The Indians jumped off to a three run lead in the first inning. By the end of the third inning the score read 16-0, Juniata.

Duke Schetrompf collected three hits, as did George Kensing-er. Schetrompf posted two singles and a four bagger, while Kensing-er got three singles.

Dave Hackett got his second hit of the season, and his second home run. This one was a grand slam blow in the third.

Albright Swamps Indian Thinclads

The Juniata College trackmen were swamped last Saturday by the Albright thinclads by an 83-38 count. The Tribe suffered a severe blow when Jack Rothenberger pulled a muscle and had to be retired early in the meet.

JC won only two events, as Fred Stauffer captured first place in the 440 and Coy Hicks won the pole vault. Hicks was high scorer for the Indians with nine points, scoring a second in the 220 low hurdles and finishing third in the 100, in addition to his victory.

Bill Blakely was runner up in the mile and the half mile to glean six markers. Stauffer and Joe Hackman each had five points, Bob Flory and John Cook scored four each. Rothenberger three, and Will Norris and Johnny Ostrowski each had one point to round out the day's scoring.

Juniata's trackmen will next see action in their only triangular meet of the year tomorrow when they travel to Gettysburg to meet Gettysburg and Bucknell.

138 Men Playing I-M Softball

Quartet's Trip Is 'Scintillating'

by Ben Newcomer

A "scintillating two-day pass" was spent by the members of the Varsity Quartet last weekend.

We traveled to Hudson, Ohio Friday, May 5 with Harold Brumbaugh. That evening an appearance was made before graduates of Juniata at the Cleveland district alumni banquet. Lodging was provided in the homes of alumni.

Saturday was spent in the city of Cleveland. In the morning, we were conducted on a tour by an obliging alumnus of the College, Mr. Brown Miller.

Lists Tour Stops

Interesting stops on the tour included the Mazda Lamp Research Institution at Nela Park, the impressive First Baptist Church of Cleveland, the elite residential section, Case Institute of Technology, Western Reserve University and the Cleveland Art Museum.

The most enjoyable part of the trip was our visit to Municipal Stadium, home of the Cleveland Indians. We were fortunate enough to get photos and autograph of Mr. Baseball himself, Connie Mack, and to talk with him for a while.

Air Baseball Views

In a pre-game broadcast over station WERE in Cleveland, we were given the opportunity of "airing our expert baseball views."

To top it off, the game was an exciting one, with Cleveland defeating the Philadelphia A's by a one run margin.

Leaving the city immediately after the game, we arrived at the College late Saturday night. Except for a flat tire, the return trip occurred without a mishap.

Six Girls Model In Fashion Show

Six girls from the College served as models in a fashion show at Danks Store Monday night. They were Janet Boland, Jo Chiodi, Pat Hetrick, Mary Lou McKee, Judy Rohm and Mary Seidel.

Misses Hetrick and Rohm posed in bathing suits as two girls choosing their vacation wardrobe from the various outfits modeled by the other four from Juniata and some high schools girls.

Daisies Are Popular

Miss Boland wore a blue and white tissue weight gingham dress, a black cotton blouse and white wool skirt, a "dew drop daisy" skirt and stole combination and a dark green linen dress with daisy trim.

Three outfits worn by Miss Chiodi were a romper style bathing suit, an aqua starched marquisette sheer dress and a pair of khaki fatigues with plaid shirt.

Still More Sheers

Miss McKee appeared in a yellow gabardine rain coat, sheer flowered organdy skirt with cotton blouse and a lavender dress with rhinestones.

Outfits modeled by Miss Seidel included a white rayon shantung suit, a white play suit and beach coat in red with white polka dots, a navy sheer dress and a reversible linen duster in beige and brown.

A committee of five judges, selected by Harold Brumbaugh will be conducted on a tour of the various booths by Betty Longwell, club coordinator. Judging will be based on a point system with co-operation, display, program and congeniality taken into consideration.

Queen Announces Winner

At 4 p. m. Queen Gladys will announce the winning booth. She will present a gavel to the winning club. The gavel was donated by Harold Brumbaugh. A metal band and the engraving "Spring Festival—1951" was done by the festival committee.

Concluding the day's events will be a tea in the social rooms from 4 to 5:15 p. m. It will be under the direction of Connie Sherman, chairman of women's house committee.

Co-eds Distribute Programs

Programs for the afternoon events will be distributed by co-eds Lois Wible, Lois Fretz, Sally Apel, Elaine Mock and Cecelia King. They will be dressed in colorful peasant skirts and blouses and will carry the programs in decorative wicker baskets.

Erection of club booths may start at noon today and must be finished by 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The booths must be cleared away by 8 p. m. tomorrow. Miss Hebrank, the over-all chairman, says that she will "just die" if it rains in the afternoon. "But, in case it does rain," she reports, "we plan to move the program and many of the club booths into Oller Hall."

Dinners, Picnics Highlight Final Club Activities

By JEANIE TAIT

This final week of club activities features the Lambda Gamma and ABC dinners and the Chemistry Club and Tycoon Club picnics.

The Chemistry Club has scheduled its picnic at Paradise Furnace for Sunday afternoon. Transportation will be provided by club members with cars.

Tuesday the Alpha Beta Gamma will conclude its year's program with a dinner at Helfrick's.

Holiday Hill will be the setting of the Tycoon Club picnic this Wednesday. Those interested in attending this outing should contact Don Howe, Hilton Hines or Fred Strait.

Thursday at 6 p. m. The Lambda Gamma will hold a banquet at Helfrick's. Pres. Esther Weaver urges all members to attend this club activity.

All the senior members of the IVCF will be in charge of the final program this Thursday.

The Camera Club will have a brief business meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. in Room 104 in Science Hall. A print analysis will be given.

Engels' Son Wins BA-BY Degree

Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. and his wife have sent out announcements of the latest addition to their family in the form of a grade sheet.

The sheet is filled out for James Rockwell Engel (Jimmy) and lists his birth as May 3, 1951 at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital. His preparatory school was the Engel Institute of Infantology from which he was graduated with a standing of third. (Jane Elizabeth was first and Thomas Edward second.)

He was admitted at 4:50 p. m. EST and made the following entrance test scores:

Weight, eight pounds, one ounce; height, 20 1/2 inches; shoulders, six inches; feet, three and a half inches.

According to the sheet, Jimmy obtained competences in several fields. He has competence in English and foreign language by his glibble, gabble and babel. Because of his squealing ability he was given competence in music and because of his reflexes, in physical education.

He passed his comprehensive examination with distinction and has a BA-BY degree with cum laud honors.

'50 Resolutions Are Acted Upon

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"All the resolutions from the 1950 Leadership Conference were acted upon by the proper chairman or committee," reports Vernon Showalter, president of the 1950-51 Senate.

Showalter said that while most of the recommendations had favorable results, there were two in particular which needed further action. "Investigation of English conference and a complete overhauling of the wiring in the old gym are still needed," he stated.

He pointed out that a new switchboard was installed in the gym but wiring renovations must await the completion of the new gym.

No Roller Skating

In the area of social activities the possibility of having roller skating in the gym was investigated. However, it was decided that the gym was too small. Records show that skates had been purchased for use in the gym several years ago. The following year the school was trying to sell the same skates.

The possibility of building a snack bar on campus was taken to the administration. The administration replied that it definitely has a snack bar in mind for future building.

Better Intramurals

In the athletic department, a program for better understanding and appreciation of football and a system of training intramural officials were inaugurated but neither proved too successful. Intercollegiate tennis was continued and rules were printed for intramural sports.

Spring Festival was the result of the recommendation that be (see Resolutions—, Page 4)

13 Seniors Will Do Grad Work

Thirteen seniors are definitely going to graduate school. Three of them—Fred Keene, Ed Marscha and Jack Baldrige—have been given assistantships. Keene has enrolled at Purdue, Marscha at Duke and Baldrige at MIT.

Other seniors going to graduate school are: Jay Benedict and Coy Hicks, Dickinson; Hilton Hines, Temple; Tom Gates, Jefferson; Walt Bush, Rutgers; Gerry Hartzel, University of Pennsylvania; Don Robinson, Bethany Biblical Seminary; Dave Armacost, Westminster Theological Seminary; and Lois Wagner, University of Pennsylvania.

Quayton Stottlemeyer is going to graduate school, but he has not yet decided which one.

3 Publications Positions Filled

Three major publications posts were filled this week by the Publications Committee. Dr. Harold Binkley, chairman has announced. These are the editor and business manager of the Alfarata, and the business manager of the Juniata.

Bob Wagoner, '53, will edit the yearbook next year. A Johnstown chemistry major, he succeeds Quayton Stottlemeyer. Wagoner is president of his class for the second consecutive year, after serving as vice-president during his freshman year. He is also a member of the J Club.

Assisting Wagoner will be Ron Cherry, '53, who was named business manager for the annual. Cherry is a business administration major who plans to become an accountant. He is a member of the Tycoon Club, IRC, Masque and the Spanish Club.

Business manager for the Juniata is to be Carrie Lou Greene, '52, a business administration major planning to enter foreign service. She is secretary-treasurer of the Tycoon Club and treasurer of the Masque. She also assisted with the Alfarata this year.

6 Seniors Get Distinction

Six seniors passed their comps with distinction. They are Jay Benedict, history and political science; Gerald Hartzel and Vernon Showalter, economics and business administration; Audrey Campbell and Ivan Washabaugh, music; and Lois Ann Wagner, Spanish.

Commencement Is June 4

3 Concerts Set For Final Week

Music will play a large part in this year's Commencement weekend program. Preparation is being made for a recital, orchestra concert and the oratorio, "The Messiah."

Members of the music department will give a recital Friday, June 1. Beginning at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall, the program will consist of classical and semi-classical numbers, both vocal and instrumental.

Participating in the recital will be Gerald Hartzel, baritone; Dotie Ann Humphries, pianist; Earle Grover, organist; and an instrumental trio composed of Prof. (See 200—, Page 4)

Seniors To Pick Gift Next Week

According to the senior class gift committee chairman, Beanie Roberts, the class gift to the College will be on of three things. These are flood lights for Oller Hall, a concrete walk to the new gym or a clock for the gym.

Pres. Walt Bush reports that the final selection will be made by a vote of the seniors sometime next week.

Serving on the gift committee under Miss Roberts are Bee Ann Hanks, Jack Baldrige and Jack Middour.

Auction Is Tonight

In the market for some fun?

Then stop in at the Juniata-sponsored auction which will be held after supper tonight outside the old entrance to the dining hall.

Don "Sold American" Robinson and Phil "Silver Tongue" Norris have been engaged to put on the block all the unclaimed lost and found items collected during the year at the information window. All proceeds go to the JWSF.

170 Will Take 1st Draft Test

One hundred seventy students have been assigned to take the selective service college qualification test at Juniata May 26, according to word received by Dean Morley Mays, local supervisor of the test.

Students assigned to take the test May 26 will report to the old gym at 8:30 a. m. Preliminary procedures, including fingerprinting, will last from 8:30 to 9 a. m., with the test proper beginning at 9 a. m.

Tests will also be administered here June 16, June 30 and July 12. Deadline for application to take the test any of the three dates is May 25.

Women resident students gave a surprise party Wednesday night for Dean Edith Spencer, who has been granted a year's leave of absence. At that time, the Women's House Committee presented a gift

Music Prof. To Deliver Address

Rounding out the variety of Commencement events centered around the theme of music will be the address by Paul Lang, professor of musicology at Columbia University. He will speak at the Commencement Exercises to be held in Oller Hall Monday, June 4 at 10:30 a. m.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, Mr. Lang studied at the Royal Academy of Music at Budapest and at the University of Paris. He received his Ph. D. from Cornell and since 1932 has been at Columbia. At present, he is also serving as editor of the Musical Quarterly and musical editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

First on the schedule of final events for seniors is Miss Edith Spencer's breakfast for resident women Sunday morning.

Picnic Will Be May 31

May 31 will find the seniors relaxing after exams on their class picnic at Paradise Furnace. In case of rain, it will be held June 1.

Formal induction into the Alumni Association will take place Saturday, June 2 at the alumni luncheon. Dr. Raymond Sollenberger, '25, will preside and Dr. Miles Murphy, '23, will be the guest speaker.

Saturday afternoon activities will include the Juniata-Frostburg, STC baseball game and the Friends of the Library Tea. At the latter, Pres. Will Judy, '11, will speak and the Varsity Quartet will sing. That same day, all classes graduating in years ending in one and six will hold reunions.

June 2 Is Class Day

Senior Class Day exercises will be held Saturday at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall. Following the exercises (see Commencement—, Page 4)

College Gave 10 Degrees Till '38

by Jim Streiner

Until 1938, when Juniata's curriculum underwent a thorough revision, the College granted ten different degrees. Now only the bachelors of science and arts are being offered.

The Catalog of 1936 lists these degrees then offered: Bachelor of Arts; Bachelor of Music; Bachelor of Science in Economics; BS in General Science; BS in Pre-Medical; BS in Elementary Education; BS in Home Economics; BS in BS in Home Economics; BS in Foods and Nutrition; and BS in Public School Music.

In the same catalog is the statement that "a candidate for a degree is required to complete one major and two minors, or two majors . . . Each department reserves the right to decide what courses shall constitute a major and what correlated minors will be accepted."

Under the heading "Requirements For Graduation," the 1936 Catalog says 120 hours is the minimum for graduation, although only one curriculum of the ten offered listed less than 124 hours worth of required courses.

Academic Dress Dates Back To Monks

By NORY EDWARDS

The origin of academic dress according to an English writer is stated thus: "The scholars are supposed in their dress to have imitated the Benedictine Monks, who were the chief restorers of literature."

Institutions of higher learning in the United States before the year 1895 used any style robe that fitted their needs. They often imported robes from England. In 1895 an Academic Code was formulated to standardize American style.

Colleges Adopt Black Robe Every college and university must adopt a black robe. Each Bachelor's robe is the same, every Master's robe is identical and each Doctor's robe has a velvet trim each institution of higher learning.

The Bachelor's robe has long flowing, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns are made exactly like the Bachelors' only the sleeves have square ends with an arc of a circle near the bottom. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow of the sleeve. Doctors' gowns are worn open, and the sleeves are loose and bell shaped.

Real meaning is provided to the academic costume by the hood. Originating with the begging friars of the Middle Ages, the hoods were designed to provide a sort of pocket for alms.

Velvet Indicates Degree

While velvet on the edge of the hood indicates the degree, the color specifies the department. The reading of the degree rather than the area of major work governs the color. Lining colors of a hood represent the university or college conferring the degree. A scheme has been devised to represent each institution of higher learning.

Doctors' degrees are indicated by the following colors: blue for philosophy, gold for science, white for letters, red for divinity and purple for law.

In 1769 the present mortar board caps were adopted. The tassel is always worn over the left front quarter of the cap, and sometimes colored tassels are used to represent degrees.

Books, Songs, Mothers, Etc.

• BOOK PRICES this semester showed a rise of 15 to 50 cents per unit. Prof. J. Clyde Stayer, bookstore manager, has revealed. This means that even though ragas, etc., have been frozen, it is still likely that you will have to pay more for texts next Fall term than the same tomes cost last September. Used book exchange under the direction of the Senate might help solve this problem. On other campuses it works thus: you deposit a book with the exchange, listing your asking price; if it is sold during the 2-4 week period of the exchange, you collect your money, less a certain percentage for operating expenses; if the book is not sold, it is returned and there is no charge. The advantages are obvious.

• A LITTLE KNOWN FACT is that the hymn "Farewell Junia" which was sung today was dedicated by the authors to Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women. Composers Ralph Harbry, '47, and Lee Miles, '46, called their song "a personal offering in return for (Miss Spencer's) friendship toward us and (her) faithful service through the years at Junia."

• ATHLETICS are expensive. For example, the present budget calls for more than $5000 worth of travel. And $1180 is budgeted for officials. Then there's $1000 set aside for care of fields and gym. But it's worth it.

• IT WAS WITHOUT a doubt the most impressive Spring-Greeting ceremony we've ever seen. There were the usual behind-the-scenes worries which straightened themselves out in the end, as such things usually do. Aside from that, two things were learned from the Spring Festival: (1) on the positive side, it proved to be the finest trick yet tried for getting the most people into the act; (2) negatively, the judges found (and docked points for) a surprising lack of courtesy shown by many of the booth attendants.

• A NEEDED INNOVATION was that used on the schedule of classes issued Monday for registration; for the first time, courses requiring prerequisites were marked. Thanks.

• THE MOTHER of Prof. G. Wayne Glick was named Virginia's Mother of the Year last week. The honor stems from the fact that her 12 children have been busy: 18 degrees, including a Ph.D. and an M.D., are held by 10 of them, and the other two are working now for theirs. All are alumni of or students at Bridge-water College, Va.

SOLDIERS THREE—Another one of Rudyard Kipling's adventurous stories such as we saw recently in "Kim," will be the screen's focus of attention next week.

The subject matter deals with the British Army and is definitely comedy. Led by Stewart Granger, the plot gives us the exploits of three rugged fighting men and their attempt to break every regulation that the Crown could have possibly made. Walter Pidgeon (Colonel) and David Niven (Captain), their superiors, tolerate them only because of their record and... does their patience run out?

Well, we'll see, but anyway with those names on the marquee and the author's record, MGM just might have some entertainment in these "Soldiers Three." Grand Theatre.

FOURTEEN HOURS—Reports on this film drama are all good, so expect a little more than meets the eye. The idea is simple: Richard Baseheart has a mental disturbance and stands on the ledge of a high building contemplating suicide.

The movie revolves completely on what goes on around him with no flashbacks. Everybody is doing their darndest to convince him to "come in off of that ledge man; life can't be that bad." Paul Douglas (cop) and Debra Paget (sweetheart) support nicely and it ends in the usual film fashion. Clifton Theatre.

After 31 Years Of Teaching, 'Prof' Looks Ahead To Hobby

"I haven't any bunions," generally revealed Charles Rowland when asked for an interview. In a more sober mood he added, "(But) I do have the privilege of having worked with some very wonderful people in my 31 years here."

Now in his retirement year, the 65 year old A Cappella Choir director can look back on a song book full of memories—memories of a lifetime devoted to music—and wood working.

Father His Inspiration

Both interests began when "Prof" was a youngster on a farm near Hagerstown, Md. "My father was interested in music. We all learned to sing at home," the professor says. His father also operated a blacksmith and woodwork-ing shop, and it was here that "Prof" produced his first wood creations.

Prof. Charles Rowland
• Retiring Musician •

In 1908 he was graduated from Blue Ridge College, Md. Later he received his bachelor's degree in music from the Brandon Institute School of Music... an institution he never attended! "A number of my former teachers had gone there, and so I was able to get credit for work I had done elsewhere," Prof. Rowland explains.

Directed Two Glee Clubs

In 1902, "Prof." became one of the two members of the College music faculty. Until 1932 he directed two separate musical groups, the men's and women's glee clubs. Both of these "sang a Cappella a great deal" he recalls.

An increasing trend toward this singing without accompaniment began among Colleges in the early 1930's, and in 1932 Prof. Rowland formed Junia's first mixed A Cappella Choir. "And it's been my baby ever since," he asserts, happily.

Heavenly Discourse

Two thoughtful angels all alone
Sat on a billowy cloud.
They were discussing the human race
And they weren't exactly proud.
The bigger angel said with ire,
"These humans are all of them bad."
"They thrive upon their fellow friends,
"And take what can be had."
The little angel said, "Not so,
"The humans are just growing.
"They're only a million years of age,
"And still too young for know-ing."
They went to the Supreme Commander
And spoke of their joint dispute.
The Big Man said, "At heart they're good,
"But their Grace they tend to refute."
"It was a gift of the Great Di-vine
"To make folks full of love,
"But its something—they all think the same—
"Which needs only be used here above."

Juniata Cops Second Annual Tourney

Bud Kreider Wins I-M Golf Tournament; Bob Fahrney Second

The Intramural Golf Tournament, held May 9 and 10 at the Huntingdon Country Club, ended with Bud Kreider gaining the championship. Second honors went to Bob Fahrney in the 36 hole medal tourney.

Kreider played the local lay-out with three 44's and a 46 for the four trips around the nine hole circuit, or a total of 178. Fahrney's card showed 43-47-90 and 44-45-89 for a 36 hole total of 179.

Kreider, a senior, has been associated with college golf for the past two years, while Fahrney is a freshman.

Leader at the 18 hole mark was Ray Siren with a 44-43-87. Erratic play the following day led to his withdrawal from the competition.

Other scores:
Gould: 98-96-194
Howe: 106-100-206
Mervis: 107-105-212
Rocco: 114-110-224
Forward: 94-withdrew
Rosenberger: 109-withdrew

Softball Playoffs Proposed

Playoffs are being planned for the top four teams in the intramural softball league.

The first and third teams and the second and fourth place finishers will play each other, and the winners of these games will meet for the championship.

Awards will be given to the team winning in regular season's play, however. No special recognition has been planned for the playoff champ.

Juniata's golfers covered the course in only 627 strokes, 19 less than their closest competitor, as they walked away with the title in the second annual Juniata College Invitational golf tournament at the American Legion Country Club in Mt. Union last Saturday.

Art Allen, Tom Cherok, Ray Korody and Bob Rhodes toured the greens for the Indians. Tom Sanders and Dave Bayer also played, but their scores were not added to the team totals.

Korody Paces Indians

Korody was top man for Juniata and second among all the individual scorers as he carded a 38-39-38-38—153. Other JC entries, their rankings and scores, were Tom Cherok (3) 155; Allen (8) 158; Rhodes (10) 161; Sanders (30) 176 and Bayer (32) 177.

Lehigh Takes Second

Lehigh University, pre-tourney co-favorites with the Indians, finished second with a 646 total. Temple, Muhlenberg, Rutgers, St. Joseph's, St. Francis, Indiana STC, Alliance and Western Maryland rounded out the top ten.

Six of the 21 colleges entered in the tourney withdrew at the last moment while three others did not post cards.

The tourney was held in unseasonably cold weather. Threatening skies hung over the course in the morning, but no rain fell.

Rutgers, whom Juniata defeated a day previously, finished fifth in the meet. Susquehanna University, the Indians' traditional rivals withdrew from the tourney.

Feldkircher Wins 2nd As Indians Beat Susquehanna, 8-4

The Indians again evened their 1951 baseball record by scoring their sixth win of the season. They beat Susquehanna 8-4 at Selinsgrove last Saturday. Ed Feldkircher won the distance in recording his second win of the campaign.

Juniata jumped off to a two run lead in the first inning. Bob Simon lead off with a single and Ken Leonard scored two men with the first of three singles.

Leonard drove in another run in the third with a two out single.

Tribe Bats Around
Three runs scored in the fourth when the Tribe batted around. Feldkircher singled and Simon drew a base on balls. Successive singles by Kensing and Schetrompf then drove in two runs.

Leonard drove in his fourth run with a single after Tom McNeal got hit with a pitch. Tom Green scored the Indians seventh run and Feldkircher the eighth in the seventh inning.

Two For Crusaders
Susquehanna scored two runs in the eighth inning on a walk to "Moose" Menapace, a double to Don Berninger and a single by Gene Fesmacher.

Two walks, two singles and a long fly produced the last Crusader runs in the ninth.

Netters Face E-town

The Indians tennis team will take on E-town tomorrow at Elizabethtown. Possessors of a 2-3 record the netmen hope to bring their record back to .500.

According to Ray Hollinger, team captain, "the chances are about 50-50 to finish the season with a 4-3 record."

Indians Equal To Pitt Panther

According to Pitt News, "One of America's GREAT Student Newspapers," the Panther baseball team met a diamond squad of their own caliber when they took on the Indians.

Most Valuable Player Awards Presented; Letters Awarded To Athletes, Cheerleaders

Ray Hollinger, a senior from Westminster, Maryland, received the Stan Mickle award last night at the second annual Athletic Banquet.

The Most Valuable Player awards were also made at the Banquet to the following men: football back, Mike Mervis; football lineman, Coy Hicks; basketball, Karl Park; track, Hicks, and golf, Bob Rhodes.

The baseball award will be made at the last game of the year, June 2.

Varsity letters and stars were also given out at the dinner, as were the WAA award letters.

Football awards went to the following men: Phil Bartola, Ron Clapper, Ed Gould, Burt Hackett, Fred Hamor, Charles Knox, Dave LeFevre, Lundy Loschiavo, Harry Martin, Bob Muchoney and Rocco Ortenzio.

Don Patricelli, Bob Reese, Tony Segalovich, Bill Waryck, Trev Davis, Bill Campbell, Phil Chabody, Hicks, Mervis, Bob Mornamed. They will get their letters at the end of the year.

Tennis lettermen include Steve Finckel, Hollinger, Jim Murr, Frain, Terry Harrison and Bob Brumbaugh.

Leading the track letter winners were Hicks and Joe Hackman. Other track lettermen included Jack Rothenberger, Stauffer, Cook, Bob Flory, Bill Blakely and Dick Myer.

Golf letters are to go to Korody, Art Allen, Tom Sanders, Tom Cherok, Bayer and Rhoades.

Men who have earned their baseball letters are Feldkircher, Green, Dave Hackett, George Kensing, LeFevre, Tom McNeal, George Schetrompf, Bob Simon, Fran Zimmerman and Bob Asan.

Hollinger Is Third Mickle Award Winner

by Bob Asan

Ray Hollinger is the third man to win the Stanford Mickle Athletic Award. The first two were John Henderson in 1949 and Squeeze Long last year.

This award is the most coveted sports award that may be had on Juniata's campus. The purpose of the award is to recognize that graduating senior male who, like Stanford Mickle, loved athletics, participated and manifested in sports and contributed to the promotion of athletics at Juniata College.

Stan Mickle drowned while he was still in College. His parents, however, wanted to have a memorial to him and so instituted this award. It was established June 6, 1949.

The award itself is a loving cup with this inscription:

Stanford Mickle Athletic Award
Juniata College

Awardee's Name and Year
A plaque will hang in the physical education building which will bear the names of all the winners.

In making the selection for the award the selection committee considers the person who has made an outstanding contribution to intercollegiate athletics and/or outstanding contribution to intramural competition and/or outstanding contribution to the administration of athletics in general at Juniata College.

On Other Campuses

by Joyce Bernard

La Vie Collegienne of Lebanon Valley College printed this classic, entitled Eight O'clock Classes. Eight o'clocks are an awful thing.

You never can tell the trouble they'll bring.

You over sleep and miss a few, And half you make, you sleep through too.

You sit in class and try to think, You start to nod, you're on the brink.

And then the prof. will call on you, You answer wrong, this makes you blue.

The rest of the day does not go well, And when you hear the final bell.

You grab your books and with a sigh, You leave the place with no "good-by."

When next year comes you can be smart, Pick classes by the time they start.

Make sure that none begin 'til ten, Then get some rest, some sleep, Amen.

Home Ec Club Wins 1st Festival Prize

An estimated crowd of 1500 witnessed the crowning of Queen Gladys Gehman at Juniata's first Spring Festival last Saturday.

Following the coronation and entertainment, various clubs presented their programs and displays. The Lambda Gamma took top honors for the best booth while the Spanish-French Club received an honorable mention.

Judges for the booths were the Rev. A. Alderfer, Robert Anderson, Mrs. Cuppett, Mrs. Carl Schmittel and Mary Ono.

Pres. Calvert Ellis will preach the Baccalaureate sermon in the Stone Church Sunday, June 3 at 10:30 a. m. That afternoon at 2 p. m. Swigart Hall will be dedicated. (See story on page 4.) From 3:30 to 5 p. m. graduates and their parents are invited to a reception at Pres. and Mrs. Ellis' home in Taylor Highlands.

Traditional Sing Planned
The traditional step singing will take place that day at 6:15 p. m. on Founders' Porch. From there the seniors and visitors will go up to Round Top for Senior Vespers. The Rev. Robert Croyle, '31, will represent the alumni as speaker on this occasion, while Vernon Showalter, '51, past president of the Senate, will represent this year's graduating class. Climaxing Sunday's program will be the presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," directed by Prof. Charles Rowland.

Costs $115 To Cross Atlantic

Students who wish to travel to Europe this summer will be able to cross the Atlantic for as little as $115 one way, on either of two American-built C-3's. Reserved by the Council on Student Travel, each ship will accommodate 1,350 students.

One unique aspect of the student ships is the free orientation program to be conducted by college professors and other student leaders. The daily schedule will include educational movies, language classes, lectures and roundtable discussions on American foreign policy and European culture and problems.

The ships will leave for Le-Havre and Bremerhaven from a North American port, probably New York, June 8, June 25 and July 6. Returning students will leave Europe August 25 and Sept. 27.

Any students interested should contact the Council on Student Travel, 53 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

Resolutions—

May Day Committee "make every effort to obtain maximum participation in planning and staging May Day exercises."

Table heads were selected by an appropriate committee, individual service was continued and waitresses were instructed concerning proper procedure as a result of a resolution concerning dining room program. The administration approved the suggestion that waitresses should only be required to pay individual breakage provided that an effective method of reporting breakage could be developed. So far, such a method has not been devised.

The elections committee established procedures for class elections and rejected the suggestion that unsuccessful Senate presidential candidates comprise a slate from which the vice-president would be chosen.

Audible grace was instituted at the main meal as a further direct result of Leadership Conference.

Six Juniata Alumni Attend Party Given By Miss Doyle

Thurman Grossnickle, '50, reports from Harvard that he attended a get-together last Friday sponsored by Miss Esther Doyle. Others there were these alumni: Betty Ruth Hess, '49, Jack and Kitty Padgett, '50, Howard Long, '50, and Al Crease, '50. Gunther Ruff, '49, also joined the group via telephone.

Dedication Will Be Held June 3

A gift of the late W. Emmert Swigart on Nov. 25, 1949, Swigart Hall will be dedicated June 3 at 2 p. m. as one of the Commencement weekend events.

Mr. Swigart, a graduate of Juniata in 1906, past president of the Alumni Association and trustee, specified that the building, purchased with his gift of $28,000, be given in honor of the Swigart family.

Formerly the residence of Francis McSherry, the building was vacated Jan. 1, 1950 and in use by the College as the new music hall by Feb. 1, 1950.

Extensive remodeling and repairs have been made to the building and it now contains a large recital room, faculty offices, music classrooms, private studios and vocal and instrumental practice rooms.

Manners Guide For Frosh. Awaits Administration's OK

A guide for incoming freshmen to aid them in developing proper attitudes and manners at college has been prepared. The material now awaits the action of J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of men, and the administration.

Working on the committee headed by Chuck Allison and Prof. Alfred Goetschius were Don Bracken, Diane Bramhall, Marian Brightbill, Dottie Hummer, Jack Rothenberger and Connie Sherman.

200 To Sing In Oratorio June 3

Jack Brammer, Jean Bailey and Mrs. John Strait. The complete program has not yet been announced.

Preceding the candle lighting and mantle ceremony Saturday, June 2 at 8:15 p. m. will be the College Symphony Orchestra Concert.

Program Is Listed

Numbers on the program are "Coronation Concerto in D major," Mozart, with Helen Rosenberger at the piano; "The Synagoga," Anderson; "The King of Yvetot Overture," Adam; "Over the Rainbow," Harburg and Arlen; and "Running off the Rails," Richardson.

Under the direction of Prof. Charles Rowland, Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" will be presented Sunday, June 3 in Oiler Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Since 1928, with the exception of three war years, an oratorio has been presented each year under Prof. Rowland's direction. This will be the sixth presentation of "The Messiah" over that period of time.

To date, 101 alumni have accepted Prof. Rowland's invitation to sing in the oratorio with 100 campus singers, including the A Cappella Choir and Chapel Choir, students and faculty members.

9 Alumni Soloists

Nine of the returning alumni will be soloists for the performance. They are Evelyn Springer Kriebel, '44, and Hazel McMunn, sopranos; Peggy Buck, '42, alto; Philip Holsinger, tenor; Greer Bailey, '41, Philip Fletcher, '48, Franklin Perkins, '49, William Blough, '36, and Robert Brashear, '48, baritone.

Soloists from the campus will be Joan Weaver, '52, and Audrey Campbell, '51, sopranos; Helen Wentzler, '51, and Doris Orner, '51, altos; Clair Schaffner, '51, and Charles Redenberger, '53, tenors; and Gerald Hartzel, '51, baritone. Accompanists will be Prof. Donald Johnson, organist and Doris Mickle and Joanne Shelley, pianists.

Mike Christie, a sophomore business administration major, and Katherine Plank, a former student at JC have announced their engagement. They plan to be married this summer.

Ray Kann, a senior from Huntingdon, became engaged to Carol Ann Brubaker, a senior at Huntingdon High School, April 21. Kann is a physics major here.

Rhoda Clemmer, sophomore music major from Souderton, Pa., recently became engaged to George Gaugler, '50. Gaugler is from Port Trevorton, Pa.

The marriage of Betsy Wright, '50, and Dick Young, a former student here, will take place in Mt. Union June 5.

'49 Graduate Writes Organ Composition

"Canticle of Comfort" an organ composition by Franklin Perkins, '49, was played April 29 in St. Bartholomew's Church, Park Ave. and 51st St., one of New York City's largest churches.

The composition was also played May 7 on the Alumni Day program of the School of Sacred Music, Union Theological Seminary, N. Y., where Perkins is doing graduate work.

While at Juniata, Perkins studied organ under Prof. Donald Johnson and was organist at the Stone Church. He is now minister of music and organist at the First Baptist Church in Asbury Park, N. J.
